Father Francis P. Kilcoyne

"It was a rare event, but then rare events happen in Brooklyn." So said Bishop Mugavero at the conclusion of the Rite of Ordination for Rev. Francis P. Kilcoyne in St. James Pro-Cathedral on October 4, 1980. My sister and brother-in-law, Mary and Jerry Shea and I were present and I would like to share the soul-stirring events of that weekend. Let me start at the beginning.

From 1928 to 1948, Mr. Kilcoyne was a teacher at St. Joseph's. I was one of the many students who admired him very much, and I kept in touch through the years, mainly through greeting cards. I remember a Saint Patrick's Day card from him:

*When you are thinking on this day
Of one who is a saint,
Spare a friendly thought or two
For someone else who ain't!*

We rejoiced in the happy news of his marriage to Eleanor Dunn; in the birth of his son, Francis P. Kilcoyne Jr.—now pastor of the church of St. Gregory the Great; in his elevation to the presidency of Brooklyn College; and in the many other honors that accrued to him in his parish, community and diocese. We sorrowed at the news of the death of his beloved wife in 1979.

Then, one September morning, the mail brought an invitation: "With happiness and joy, Rev. Francis P. Kilcoyne and Mr. and Mrs. August Botta invite you to the ordination to the priesthood of their father and brother, Francis P. Kilcoyne, Sr." Our surprise and joy were great. The surprise soon disappeared, the joy lingers. The same qualities that made him a good husband, father, brother, teacher, citizen and Catholic would make him a wonderful priest. His lifelong service to God was to continue on another level.

On October 4, golden sunshine filtered through the rainbow-hued windows of St. James as a fanfare of horns and trumpets heralded the procession of bishops, priests, brothers, sisters and lay men and women. Mr. Kilcoyne took his place beside his sister in the front row. "The Holy Sacrifice" began to the accompaniment of the melodic choir. After the Gospel, Mr. Kilcoyne was called to the altar, and presented by his son to Bishop Mugavero. The Cathedral echoed the beautiful promises of the priesthood, and now, at age 78, Francis P. Kilcoyne was continuing his life as Father Kilcoyne. A rare event indeed! He is the only man in the Diocese of Brooklyn, with the express permission of Pope John Paul, to be ordained a priest without any formal seminary training.

The new priest was clothed by his son in vestments lovingly made by two women of his parish, Our Lady of Refuge. His hands were anointed by the Bishop, and he was embraced by fifty or sixty of his brother priests. I was among those privileged to receive Communion from his newly anointed hands. I cannot begin to describe the deep emotion I felt when he said, "Body of Christ, Catherine. God love you." Throughout the entire liturgy, the congregation was deeply moved, on occasion to spontaneous applause, and then to eloquent silence.

I was very happy to hear Sr. John Baptist Hull share in the reading of the Word, to see Sister Alice Frances Young take part in the Presentation of Gifts, and to recognize many other Sisters of Saint Joseph in the congregation. In his Mass of Thanksgiving Father Kilcoyne made special mention of his gratitude to the Sisters of St. Joseph, a sentiment echoed in the hearts of many present.

On the beautiful Sunday morning of October 5, Father Kilcoyne offered a Mass of Thanksgiving in the church of Our Lady of Refuge, the parish which he has served so long and well, and which he will continue to serve. With his son beside him, and in the presence of many priests, brothers, sisters, family and friends, he offered the Holy sacrifice for the first time, sharing his joy with his parish. His son delivered a most inspiring homily on the priesthood. At the conclusion, the new Father Kilcoyne thanked all who had helped him to realize this day: the Bishop, priests, religious, family and friends and expressed his loving gratitude to his parents, son, sister, brother-in-law, and his beloved wife, Eleanor, whom he had married at this very altar. He laughingly remarked that Father Kilcoyne, Senior, was junior to his son in the priesthood.

At the hospitable reception in the school hall, we were all blessed by the new Father Kilcoyne. We felt that we had spent a week-end pretty close to heaven, and that if Mr. Kilcoyne was not a saint when he sent that greeting card, he had made considerable progress in the intervening years!

We join with all the members of our St. Joseph's family in a prayer of thanksgiving for the newest priest in our diocese, Father Francis P. Kilcoyne, and in wishing him every blessing as he continues his life of devotion to God, country and fellow-man.

Letter from Moscow

When I left St. Joseph's, sixteen years ago, I never anticipated that the year 1980 would find me living in Russia. I doubted that I would ever leave New York. Fortunately, life has provided far more stimulation than I ever imagined.

In June 1980, my husband, daughters and I arrived in Moscow for a two year assignment with the U.S. Embassy. Don is the Assistant Army Attache and I am the Community Mental Health Program Director. Sharon and Kristin attend the 7th and 4th grades at the Anglo-American School. Don has been a Russian Area Specialist for many years now and languages seem to come easily to him. I am not as gifted and although I can read the Cyrillic alphabet, my four months of study only enable me to speak the essential survival phrases.

We live in a 9th floor apartment in one of several buildings reserved for foreigners—diplomats, businessmen and correspondents. Like many Moscow apartment houses, ours looks like a block-long tenement. There is no play whatsoever for the fifty children who live here. Most of our neighbors are from the Third World, but there are two other American families in our stairwell.

There is a guard shack in the parking lot manned 24 hours a day by one of several Russian militiamen. Their job is to keep tabs on us and also to keep Russians from having contact with us. We face one of the main avenues of the city and look down on eight lanes of traffic. The center lane in each direction is reserved for party officials who whiz along at speeds up to 70 MPH while the rest of the traffic is limited to 40 MPH. The number of private automobiles grows each year in spite of the long waiting list to buy a car.

Like most large cities, there is much congestion, pollution and traffic snarls. Moscow is far more dirty and primitive than most other capital cities, however. Standards of workmanship are appallingly low. Frequently, the walls and floors of buildings do not meet, pipes are left exposed and concrete crumbles. Many construction workers are women between 40 and 60 years old. One has to wonder whether there are any incentives for performing a job well.

Surprisingly for a society which claims to have "full employment" the streets are jammed all day and half the night with citizens searching for food and other goods to buy. Every adult seems to carry a "maybe" bag. Maybe you might pass a store where they will have cucumbers or oranges and if you have your maybe bag and can wait on the long queue, you can carry them home in your bag. Many jobs appear to be part-time so that two or three people are actually filling one job. This is one way of spreading employment. The other way, of course, is to put people on the public payroll. The Soviets accomplish this by putting people in uniform either as militiamen, soldiers or as citizen patrols. There is a militiaman on almost every street corner. Six of them patrol the entrance to the American Embassy. Instead of being there to protect us, they are there to intimidate Russians who may try to enter to seek permission to emigrate, and occasionally they hassle us.

There are no commercial billboards or advertising. Rather, party slogans, political monuments and portraits of Lenin are everywhere. We very much miss having free access to information and news. Radio Moscow broadcasts over all other transmissions including Voice of America, so that it is the only station that can be received. It offers a few hours of music each day in between political commentary and a very slanted version of the news. Foreign events are reported in such a way that it appears as if the United States, the Western Allies and China were poised and ready for attack on all of Russia's borders. The riots in Miami were reported as if they were still continuing a full month after they had actually stopped. Newscasters also report that Russian troops were invited into Afghanistan to protect that country from the U.S., China and Iran! In June, the Russian media reported that they had evidence that the U.S. was behind efforts to poison children's milk in Afghanistan.

All Russians must carry internal passports and all diplomats and their families must carry diplomatic cards. We are denied access to entire cities and regions of the USSR. We cannot travel freely and must submit a travel note request at least 48 hours in advance of each trip, even for a picnic outside the city limits. Often permission will be denied. Recently, my husband was refused permission to visit a certain city because "all of the hotels in that city are full". During the Olympics, Moscow was closed to all Russians except Moscow residents, and many old people, alcoholics and children were sent out of the city to "camps".

Also, during the Olympics, the city was overcontrolled by several hundred thousand troops and militia brought in to keep tourists and citizens in line. The city had benefitted from a massive face-cleaning prior to the opening of the games. Stores were suddenly well stocked, but food became scarce again as soon as the games ended.

How does our daily life here differ from life in the U.S.? Getting enough food for our family is difficult. Food is scarce and very expensive even though we have privileges that the average Russian does not. We planned for and purchased a two-year supply of canned goods prior to leaving the States. We are also allowed by the Russian government to shop in a special "hard currency" food store. I pay 3 rubles ($4.50) for one pound of ground meat, $1.00 per liter for Finnish milk and $3.50 for a bottle of liquid. On the few occasions when fresh produce is available, I have paid $3.90 for 8 oranges and $1.00 for a tomato. In fairness, I have to mention that Russian bread which is subsidized, is plentiful, delicious and inexpensive—40¢ -60¢ per loaf.

There are two state run food stores on my block, each as large as a small NYC supermarket. Frequently they will only have a few different food items for sale: bottled juice, jars of tomato sauce from Bulgaria, tins of fish, cabbage and potatoes. Lines spring up if someone spots a few cucumbers or mushrooms, or as fate smiled on us during the Olympics, a few crates of bananas.

We boil our drinking water to protect us against intestinal parasites. This requires a fair amount of time each day, since this includes water for drinking, ice cubes, juices, etc. Our water is frequently and inexplicably turned off for hours at a time. At the end of every summer, the hot water is shut off for three weeks on a district-wide basis around the city while the pipes are flushed. We were without hot water from August 5th to August 21st of this year.

Doctor Cecelia Trunz Dies

When Dr. Cecilia Trunz died on August 31st, the Class of '27 lost a beloved classmate, a true friend and a marvelous inspiration. The College lost a past teacher, a friend and benefactor and a very illustrious alumna.

Cecilia A. Trunz was born on February 14, 1906 in Brooklyn, the second of three children of Maximilian and Amalie (Herold) Trunz. Her father began a butcher business in Brooklyn in 1904. This soon grew into Trunz, Inc. with a manufacturing plant and sixty stores by 1950.

Cele attended St. Cecilia's grammar school and St. Agnes Seminary. During this time she was active in her father's business, working as a cashier at the age of ten. She earned a B.A. degree from St. Joseph's with a major in Mathematics and minors in Education and History. In 1930 she received her Master's degree in German Literature and Language from Columbia University. Cele pursued her studies in Germany at the Albert Ludwig University and earned a Ph.D. in German Literature with minors in History and English, in 1933.

Dr. Trunz was professor of German for 20 years at St. Joseph's College and was head of the Modern Language Department from 1940 until 1950. At that time she moved to Millerton to manage and operate Trunlan, her parents' 680 acre dairy farm. She had already prepared herself for this work, participating in home study courses from the Meat Institute in Chicago and studying accounting at St. John's University for two years. When she arrived in Millerton, Cele enrolled in home study courses in animal husbandry from Cornell University. After more than a decade, Cele sold the farm in 1966, and moved into the village of Millerton.

The following year, Cele Trunz was elected a town Trustee and was subsequently elected Mayor of Millerton, holding that office from 1968 to 1971. Once more Cele moved, this time to Garden City to help her brother and his sons in the reorganization of the Trunz Foods Stores. She was active in the business as Director and Vice President. In 1973, because of illness, she retired and went back to Millerton.

Throughout her years in Millerton, Cele taught classes in religious education to parish teenagers and was responsible for many conversions. In addition to being President of St. Patrick's Altar Society, she held memberships in Modern Language German Teachers' Association, British Institute of Philosophy, Visitor's Board of New York State School for Girls at Hudson, New York,

Dr. Cecilia A. Trunz '27

National Catholic Philosophical Association, Catholic Lawyers Guild of Brooklyn and Association of German Teachers. She has lectured on Germany and Its Culture for Modern Catholic Women and has spoken at various commencement exercises.

Cele was listed in the following: Who's Who in the East; Who's Who of American Women; The World's Who's Who of Women; Dictionary of International Biography; Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans and One Thousand Women of Achievement.

Many of her classmates have written beautifully of her, one saying "she mothered me all through college"—indeed, she mothered us all. She began her teaching career informally during her undergraduate days by giving us frequent "corridor coachings" in German vocabulary.

At her funeral Mass in St. Patrick's in Millerton her pastor, Mons. Joseph Gallagher, compared her to Mr. Chips— with countless pupils being "her children". He told of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, which is a memorial to its architect, Sir Christopher Wren, and said that Cele had been responsible for nearly everything we saw in the Church we were in.

Two other eulogies were given—one by Mons. James Asip representing the Brooklyn Diocese and one by Father Thomas Reardon representing the New York Diocese. Both spoke of her untiring devotion and her endless generosity, the extent of which we can only guess. She was buried in the little churchyard in Millerton.

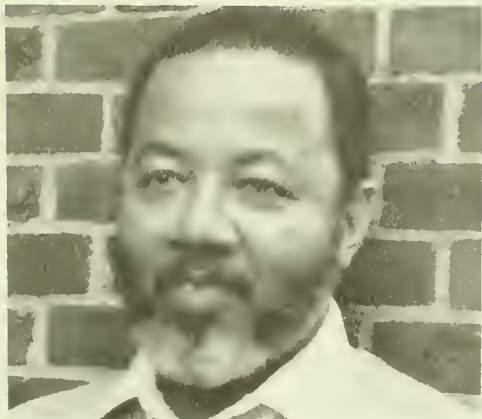

Our last class reunion with Cele was in 1977 when, in spite of severe arthritis, she delighted us by joining us for our Golden Jubilee celebration. She also gladdened the hearts of her former students who gave her a very special reception.

In looking back, it does seem that her entire life was devoted to helping others—and toward the end of it, she united her intense suffering with that of her beloved Lord.

And so—Vale, dear Cele, be happy in your well-earned Heaven—and once in a while please mention us to the Lord.

Lucky Day

Joseph Batchelor '78

Joseph Batchelor considers it his lucky day when a mutual friend introduced him to Wallace Peace, Director of Student Services of General Studies of St. Joseph's College. They both love classical music and they attended operas and concerts together. Through Wallace's persuasion, Joe matriculated at St. Joseph's in 1977. Mr. Peace assessed his previous college experience, his years of work in various fields, and they discussed the prescribed courses needed for a bachelor's degree. Joe devoted a year of intensive study at SJC to earn the credits, and he received a BS in Public Administration in 1978.

Born and raised in Manhattan, Joseph Batchelor attended public schools and started work at 16. After high school he enrolled in City College as a day student working evenings in Carnegie Hall. Later he worked only on weekends, full-time, in the Admitting Office of Lebanon Hospital, Bronx, and continued his education during the day at NYU, where his interest was in math and science.

From 1954 to 1956 Joe served in the Army in Fort Dix. When released, he returned to Lebanon hospital for full day-time work and to NYU in the evenings. However, seeing no future there, he soon left Lebanon, and also stopped attendance at evening school. He held other jobs as Personnel Consultant, Office Manager and he served in the Domestic Peace Corps as Dean of Men in the Anti-Poverty Program where he coordinated programs for personnel who came from all over the country and who were trained and sent out to depressed areas, many to serve in Central Harlem in various programs. He also tutored English in evening classes of the Adult Extension Division of New Rochelle College.

Joseph started to work for the Board of Education in 1969 and was a provisional employee until last year. It was a dead-end position with no raise and no promotion. Joe "blames" St. Joseph's College for changing all that. His degree qualified him to take a test for Systems Analyst and he scored extremely well. He received permanent employee status and was called to work at the Central Office. He will be a systems analyst and take more intensive training for the position. Already familiar with much of the work involved, Joe looks forward to being part of the development of the Department of Education's Systems Organization.

Receives Catholic University Award

Dorothy Bird Daly '30

Dorothy Bird Daly '30, former dean of the National Catholic School of Social Service at the Catholic University of America, received the university's 1980 Achievement Award in the field of Social Service. It was conferred at the annual Homecoming Awards banquet on November 8, 1980 at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington.

With the exception of a year of graduate studies at Catholic U., Dorothy worked for Catholic Charities in Manhattan until she married Charles Daly in 1940. They had four children: John, Vincent, Margaret and Dorothy. Her husband died in 1958.

Dorothy's interest is in Social Service and she received a Master's degree from Fordham in 1942. She taught this subject at New York University from 1956 to 1964.

In 1964, she joined the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and also served as project director for the Task Force on Social Work Education and Manpower for the Office of the Under Secretary. She received HEW's Superior Service Award for her role in the production of the report Closing the Gap in Social Work Education, which led to the passage of a new section of the Social Security Act, authorizing $15 million to develop new schools of social work and to expand existing ones.

Dorothy was professor and dean at Catholic U. from 1968 to 1974. She retired as dean of the National Catholic School of Social Service in 1974, continued to teach until 1976, and then returned to HEW to head the social work education program under Title XX. Dorothy has been president of the Council on Social Work Education and associate director for Social Services at the National Conference of Catholic Charities since 1978. She served two terms as president of the National Conference of Catholic Charities and has been a board member of that group and of the Council on Social Work Education.

Her sister, Mary Bird, was a member of the Class of 1928 and was Principal of a New York City elementary school in Queens. Mary died in 1967.

Mary Phelan Retires

Mary Whelan Phelan '32

Mary Whelan Phelan '32, retired last August from her part-time position as Alumni Fund Secretary, which she began in 1967.

As such, she received, recorded, deposited, processed and acknowledged the gifts you so faithfully contribute each year to Alumni Fund. Being very busy meant the fund was growing, so she tolerated the many hectic days the job generated.

Early this year, Mary surprised us with the announcement of her pending marriage to William Phelan which took place in May. She also announced that she would retire in August, after the 1980 fund report was finished, proof-read and ready for the printer! She never did things half-way.

The Alumni and Development offices miss Mary Whelan Phelan—her cheerfulness, her sense of humor, her patience, her kindness, her dedication. We wish her many happy years.

W H O Panelist

This Fall, Eileen Lanigan Nickoloff '64 was invited by the World Health Organization to be a member of their Expert Panel on Immunoassay, and to consult with them for the purpose of writing a monograph on the subject of Proficiency Testing in the Clinical Laboratory. The panel met in Geneva from September 16th to 18th. Eileen left a little ahead of time in order to stop in Paris where she took a seven-hour whirlwind tour, visiting all the famous tourist attractions. She then went on to Switzerland and spent one day visiting the Mont Blanc area near Italy. After the WHO meeting, she went to Zermatt, a lovely little Alpine village in the Swiss Alps. She took the cog railway ride up to Gornergrat at dawn and watched the unforgettable sight of the sunrise over the Matterhorn. After attending a scientific meeting in Brussels, Eileen travelled to London to evaluate some technical expertise for Squibb, and visited St. Bartholomew's Hospital for a day, consulting with their Chemical Pathology Department.

Dr. Nickoloff is Director of the Clinical Assay Research and Development Department of E. R. Squibb & Sons Inc. in New Jersey. She misses her lab in Johns Hopkins where her specialty was the evaluation of kits to measure thyroid function. Her new job is overwhelming but never boring and she uses every bit of the skill and experience she accumulated over the years. Eileen is the first woman director of any department in the history of Squibb. Her job requires travelling about a week a month, throughout the United States and Canada. Working on a variety of projects which are almost ready for market introduction is challenging and exciting. Eileen now lives in Plainsboro, New Jersey.

Former Biology Teacher Dies

Sister Francis Antonia Fay, CSJ, died in October at Maria Regina Convent. She was a member of the faculty of St. Joseph's College Biology Department from 1925 to 1938.

Sr. Francis entered the novitiate in 1916 and after final vows taught in Transfiguration and St. Mary's elementary schools. Her bachelor's and master's degrees in science were received from St. John's, and further graduate studies were pursued at Columbia and Catholic University.

Sister also taught biology at St. Angela Hall and Mary

Louis Academy. She was principal and superior at Transfiguration and Holy Child Jesus Schools. From 1956 till 1978, she combined service on the council with other assignments, some of which were community supervisor of schools in Rockville Centre diocese, superior of St. Joseph's Convent, Brentwood, and coordinator of CCD programs in the diocese of Rockville Centre. Because of failing health, sister retired to Mary Regina Convent. She is survived by her brother, Thomas, and five nephews.

Sister Isolina Ferre '59

Sister Isolina Ferre '59 has received two significant honors this year. In July she was selected to be one of the delegates from the U.S. to the World Conference of the United Nations on the Decade for Women. In November, she was named winner of the $10,000 Rockefeller Public Service Award for revitalizing communities and neighborhoods.

The story of Sister Isolina's activities from the time she left St. Joseph's, her years of work in La Playa, where she brought an impoverished Puerto Rican barrio to life and helped its people to help themselves, was published in the Winter 1975-76 Alumnogram. Of this work, social critic Charles Silberman, in his book Criminal Violence, Criminal Justice, called the Center at Ponce Playa "the best example of regeneration" that he had seen in the United States. He wrote, "El Centro's greatest contribution has been its most subtle: it has given large numbers of people the sense of dignity and worth that enables them to accept help—to use help as a means toward self-sufficiency rather than dependency. For help comes . . . as a result of their own efforts, rather than through charity."

Sister Isolina is a member of the American Society of Criminology and has presented a number of papers on delinquency prevention at the association's annual meetings.

A World Delegate

Sister Isolina, now Executive Director of the Dispensario San Antonio in Puerto Rico was chosen as one of the 37 delegates from the United States to the Conference in Copenhagen, where 2,300 delegates from 152 countries convened from July 14 to 30, 1980.

In remarks delivered at the Conference, Sister expressed her hopes and ideals:

Being elected as a U.S. delegate to the Conference in Copenhagen in the Decade of the Woman was a pleasant surprise for me, and a significant experience in my life. The members of our delegation represent the diverse interests and activities in the lives of women. I have been most proud to be a religious and a Puerto Rican, and to work and live in a community of disadvantaged persons.

Doubly Honored

The great goals to which we aspire have given us the strength to struggle with the frustrations of international politics but I believe the meeting of people from so many nations and the exchange of ideas will continue to help us toward the three objectives of the Decade for Women: equality, development and peace. In the words of the Honorable Sarah Waddington, President of our delegation, "We are convinced that the rest of the decade should pave the way for "The Century of Peace," a century that will assure equality among all people." But we must do more than demand, seek out, and pray for peace. We ourselves must construct peace, step by patient step. There is a song in my country that begins, "Let there be peace on earth and let it begin with me . . ." Our conference will have been an even greater success if we put so noble a sentiment into practice . . . here and now in Copenhagen. We shall demonstrate to the world in our deliberations our will to work in a spirit of compromise, to arrive peacefully at agreements based on principle, and to respect honest differences of opinion. Let there be peace on earth and let it begin with us.

In her report on the conference published in El Playero, the official magazine of Central de Orientación y Servicios Playa, in Ponce, Sr. Isolina summed up some of the concerns of womankind in today's world which were discussed at the conference: illiteracy, discrimination in educational opportunities in many countries, the need for greater health facilities and personnel in various areas throughout the world and the inequities in employment opportunities and practices worldwide.

However, before the conference convened, there was anxiety among some delegates that its noble goals would be overshadowed by political hostilities. There were many women whose expertise lay in pushing political interests. As a result, these interests often dominated the conference. Rules and protocol were abused, workshops subverted, walkouts staged. Anti-Western sentiments were obvious. Women's issues of sisterly concern, Sarah Waddington complained, "were pushed aside and became victims of those who chose instead to focus on the political polemics of the Middle East situation."

Nevertheless, the majority of the delegates signed a document urging the elimination of every kind of discrimination against women, stating that: "The complete development of nations, the well-being of the world, and the cause of peace require the full participation of women on terms equal with men in every field."

*Marjorie Parker Smith '37
on Opening Day at Rockefeller Center Rink*

During her performance at Rockefeller Ice Skating Rink in October 1980, Marjorie Parker Smith '37, recalled the one and only other time she skated there. It was on the opening day of the rink in 1933. Marge was among those skaters from the New York Skating Club who had been asked to perform on that special occasion.

This year the United Hospital Fund asked the Club to put on an exhibition to kick off their Annual Hospital Week. Marjorie had only lately returned to the club after an absence of twenty years, but she was asked by Charles Rizzo, a professional, if she would be his partner in a pairs dance. Always one to serve a good cause, yet with some misgivings, she consented. With much practice, the movements and skill of former years came back and she was in good form. John Gambling, who was Master of Ceremonies at the skating exhibition, announced that Marge, who was the first National Dance Champion winner for pairs dancing in 1937, was on the ice today with this year's winning couple.

When she was thirteen, Margie was given a pass to the Brooklyn Ice Palace, but had no skates. A Norwegian woman, friend of the family, lent her a pair which were excellent figure skates. She was unaware of their quality but it wasn't long before she was imitating the best figure skaters at the rink. A professional skater who observed her aptitude asked her if she would practice pair dancing with him. He was to be in a show and his partner was not always available. In this way she became skilled in the movements and intricacies of dancing on ice.

An Encore

Marjorie Smith and Charles Rizzo skating in Benefit performance

Classmates at St. Joseph's will remember Margie's participation in amateur skating competitions throughout her college years. She performed everything in the dance line, fours, girls' pairs, mixed pairs, group dancing, and single shows. She also performed in the New York Skating Club Carnivals in Madison Square Garden long before professional troupes were formed. All services were donated for charitable causes.

Marjorie believes that ice skating is a sport and enjoyment for all ages. She credits her ability to return to strenuous dance routines to the fact that she regularly works out at Alex and Walter Physical Fitness Studio in Manhattan under her son, Christopher, who coaches there. Chris counts among his clientele many prominent television personalities, business executives, blue collar workers and family groups who wish to keep physically fit.

The United Hospital Fund graciously acknowledged Marjorie Smith's performance which helped to generate interest in Hospital Week in New York City.

James Gigliello '78

The decision to drop out of high school at fourteen was probably the easiest one I've ever made. I didn't hate school, but I wasn't learning a thing. I became a statistic in 1968; one of a growing number of high school dropouts which has now risen to almost epidemic proportions. For one reason or another, be it peer pressure to conform and act like the rest (the reason I left), parental neglect, lack of motivation, or what have you, millions of teenagers literally "dropped out", not taking into consideration the consequences or what course life would take without an education. I know, because I didn't care. When you're so young, the only thing that matters is the present. Reaching twenty-five years old was a million years away—so why worry about it?

Most people have misconceptions about dropouts. We are not all ignorant, nor have we caused trouble and been forced to leave. In many instances, teenagers are afraid of what they see going on in the classrooms, halls, lavatories, stairwells, and schoolyard. The learning experience of high school is reduced to a game of survival. After a while of this, the individual gets disgusted, decides to quit, and doesn't give it a second thought.

On the other hand, the ones who are causing these problems also leave, and become involved in crime, drugs, and gang wars. Living in a ghetto, I can attest to this fact; seeing many teenagers I know from the area who were shot, stabbed, murdered, or put in jail. Almost without exception, they were those trouble-makers in school.

As for me, high school was a lousy experience. Fighting in the class, smelling glue in the empty classrooms and stairways; but the worst of it came when the other guys threatened to kill me if I didn't start acting like them. Appealing to the principal proved fruitless. It didn't leave me with much of a choice, did it? So I left; not caring about my future or anything else.

Lines From A Dropout

One of my friends, also a drop-out, signed up with a home study course. After enough goading from him and my parents, I reluctantly signed up too. The two years of teaching myself the required courses for college paid off. I managed to maintain my grades in the 90's, whereas in high school I received 60's and 70's. I was fortunate enough to have my parents encourage me when I became discouraged. In 1971, the year I would have graduated from high school, the home study course was completed. During that summer, I took the S.A.T. and was accepted into St. Joseph's.

Divine guidance must have put Sr. Irene Veronica in my path. At that time, she was the Admissions Director. I explained to sister, during the interview, my "unusual" situation: I had no diploma but had completed a home study program. Sr. Irene accepted me, relying solely on her intuition. Although I became very ill and was forced to drop out of college for three years, I always knew that one day I'd be back!

In the summer of 1975, college life resumed for me, and by December 1977 I completed credits for a B.A. in Psychology, an undeclared major in English, and the State Education Department in Albany sent me my high school equivalency diploma; waiving the ten hour exam. Words could never express how grateful I will always be to Sister Irene for giving a drop-out one more chance to be somebody.

At that point, I had already decided to dedicate my career in helping young people cope with the numerous problems and difficulties of their lives, and not simply to throw away the most important gift they already possess—life!

With that in mind, I entered St. John's University and attained my Masters of Science degree in Rehabilitation Counseling. Presently, I'm at St. John's, studying for my Professional Diploma in Child and School Psychology. I hope to continue for my Ph.D. in the same field.

In looking back, if my life has any meaning up to this point, it would be to show the countless other drop-outs that there is a way up and out. It's not an easy road: but then, nothing worthwhile is. Ultimately, failure is not the inability to achieve success; rather, it is the unwillingness to try for fear of not succeeding.

Dorothy Kane McCaffery

First Woman to Serve on Labor Relations Board

Dorothy Kane McCaffery '39 who was Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture in Connecticut, died suddenly last September in her office in Hartford. She was the wife of John K.M. McCaffery who taught English at St. Joseph's College for ten years starting in 1938. Mr. McCaffery was widely known for his 11th Hour news broadcasts.

The McCafferys moved to Washington, Connecticut in 1946 with their three young children. Their youngest child was born in Connecticut. Dorothy was active in town affairs. She gained her first major position in state government in 1955 when she was appointed to the Labor Relations Board by Governor Abraham A. Ribicoff. She was the first woman ever to serve in Labor Relations in the state and also the first in the United States. She served for nearly 17 years. In 1975, Dorothy was named executive assistant to the State Labor Commissioner and two years later she was appointed Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture by Governor Ella T. Grasso. She emphasized the importance of farms to Connecticut's economy and environment.

In Washington town affairs Dorothy was a past president of the Redevelopment Commission, a member of the Conservation Commission, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, the Governor's Clean Water and Clean Air Task Forces, and the Commission on the Reorganization of State Government.

In addition to her husband, Dorothy is survived by four sons, Richard of Greenville, Ohio; Peter of Somerville, Mass.; Sean of Los Angeles; Padraic of Litchfield, and three grandchildren.

MINI - GRANT

Last Spring, Jayne Scansaroli Lo Porto '77, a teacher in P.S. 50 South Jamaica, saw a notice on the school bulletin board regarding Mini-Grants. She submitted a proposal entitled: A Multi-Sensory Approach to Phonics. To her surprise and delight she was granted $2,600 to spend for the implementation of the program in her classroom, where she has been teaching neurologically and emotionally impaired students for the past two years. Jayne used the money for materials, books and equipment for her pupils, and now has the best equipped classroom in the school. Her pupils have benefitted and their parents are pleased.

In September 1980, Jayne was a workshop leader at the Annual Special Education Conference given by the Division of Special Education, Queens Regional Office. At the conference, held at Queens College, she spoke on "Phonics and a Creative Approach to Reading." Jayne holds a Master's degree in Special Ed from Fordham awarded in 1979.

Jayne's husband, Frank Lo Porto '75, is enrolled at Adelphi University for a Master's in Business Administration.

Loved Alumna Dies on West Coast

Loyalty and dedication were the hallmarks of the quiet, meaningful life of Marion Teaken, '24. She was highly important to a wide range of people. Marion was gifted intellectually, artistically and socially and she shared her talents generously.

She entered St. Joseph's on a Regents' Scholarship and maintained honors through graduation. As an alumna, she was elected to membership in Delta Sigma Epsilon, the national honor society. Her M.A. was earned at Fordham University.

From freshman year on, drawings and artwork, initialed M.E.T. enhanced yearbooks, programs and favors. Her dancing skill was evidenced in solo work and choreography for plays, especially Shakespearean performances and Greek Dramas.

A friend was important and her friendships were deep and long-lasting. Her circle included persons from every school attended, personnel with whom she worked in her teaching career, pupils she assisted in guidance or financial ways and people of the art, literary and mission worlds.

For years Marion taught CCD and helped in parish and mission activities. She was devoted to her family and was always accessible to them. St. Joseph's was her special joy. Marion always attended and supported all projects with special attention to the Great Books Sessions.

Although Marion had been ill and out of contact with us for several years, the tributes and love shown at her death attest to a warm vibrant woman. We will miss her.

Artifact Donated

Sr. Joan Ryan receives artifact from Marjorie Murphy '29

Marjorie Murphy, Class of '29, visited the Local History Center of Saint Joseph's College, Patchogue Campus, on October 23, 1980. Although she now lives in Saxton's River, Vermont, Marjorie makes periodic visits to Mount Sinai on Long Island where she spent a portion of her childhood.

While at the Patchogue Campus, Marjorie donated two books to the newly established Local History Center. Both volumes are the work of her deceased brother, Robert Cushman Murphy, former head of the Department of Ornithology at the American Museum of Natural History in New York. In addition to the two books, Marjorie donated an artifact, an eighty year old molasses jug used by her father for drinking water while he fished off Long Island's north shore.

The Local History Center is presently showing a photographic exhibit of Sayville and Bayport. We welcome visits from members of the alumni. We also encourage donations which will help us to preserve the rich history of Nassau and Suffolk Counties. Please think of us before discarding books, periodicals, pictures, and memorabilia of Long Island. Contact S. Joan Ryan at 212-654-5723 for further information about the Center.

Because of the representational nature of my husband's job we attend frequent diplomatic receptions. This cuts into family time which we have learned to guard jealously. We try to schedule at least one family special event each week, whether it be a picnic, tour of an old Russian Church, ballet, or just a game of cards. We expect to ice skate and cross country ski this winter as we would do if we were back in Virginia.

We have a subscription to an English language newspaper published in Germany which comes to us with a 3-day delay. We also get the Washington Post two weeks later than stateside. Mail comes in and goes out in the diplomatic pouches twice a week. So you can imagine our mail day is eagerly awaited. It takes 10 or 11 days for one of our letters to reach the U.S. We often feel as if we are in a time warp.

Our contacts with Russian people are limited by factors beyond our control. Most of my experiences with individual people have been positive. My impressions of the society and political structure are that there is much more unity of purpose and expenditure on military personnel and weapons than I ever had believed. I have felt limits to my personal freedom very keenly since coming here and the experience has been painful and sobering. Every day the newspapers Pravda and Izvestia describe the U.S. as an enemy who is preparing to destroy Russia. Every week, people are sentenced to exile or to "psychiatric" treatment because of their dissident beliefs. Soviet families continually inquire at the Embassy about the possibility of emigrating. Two years ago, seven people from two Siberian families rushed past the Russian guards into the Embassy courtyard seeking to emigrate. The Soviets continue to deny them exit visas and the families are still living in a cramped basement apartment in our Embassy.

As some of you or your friends register for the draft, threats like these to your freedom and safety seem very remote. Unfortunately, threats like these exist even though we would all prefer that they did not. We cannot wish them away.

Although I prefer life in the U.S. to living anywhere else, I appreciate the opportunities I have had to experience other cultures. If any of you are interested in careers in the Service or military area studies analyst we wish you encouragement.

CLASS NOTES

Deadline for Summer Issue: April 25, 1981

1921

We had a note from Helen Campbell, who was the second president of the Alumni Association. She expresses her thanks to the college family for prayers during her illness and three months' hospitalization last spring, which she confidently feels contributed greatly to her recovery. Helen lives in Washington, D.C.

1924

On September third Marion Teaken died in Paso Robles, California. She was one of the solid links that bind together in love and friendship the members of the Class of 1924. During the summer George and Rita Fearon Bryan attended their annual family reunion at the Redemptorist Mission House at Ephrata, Pennsylvania. They flew to California and Colorado to visit two of their sons and their families. Alice McGrane Feeley and her daughter, Sister Alice Feeley, toured Canada in August. Theresa Dolan Janton came north to attend a grandson's wedding in New Jersey. We offer our sympathy to her on the death of her aunt who lived with her in Florida. Mary St. John Murphy attended the second conference for the laity on Evangelization, held in Washington, D.C. this past summer. Christine Gibson Dougherty is recuperating very nicely after more eye surgery. Vincent and Mildred Hayes Donohue are in Ohio visiting their son and his family. In October we attended our annual Mass offered for the repose of the souls of our beloved deceased members and enjoyed the luncheon afterwards. Alice McGrane Feeley and Mary St. John Murphy work together on Happenings, a quarterly issued by Catholic Charities to Golden Age Clubs of our diocese. I am glad to say that all of us keep in close touch with one another and hopefully will meet again in December.

Kathleen Dugan, 8802 Ridge Blvd., Brooklyn, NY 11209, 238-0293.

Eileen Murray Heaney had a delightful visit, this summer, with Sr. Dolores Maria (Margaret Kelly) who still works in the Brentwood Academy Transportation Office. They reminisced about school days at Nativity School and SJC. Margaret sends love and prayers to all the "girls" in '26. After returning from a trip, Katherine Kilgallen Rooney had a busy summer with her family, on the Jersey Shore. In August, Bernadette Garvey and Margaret Crowley visited Lucerne, Vienna, Salzburg, Graz and Cologne and saw the Passion Play at Oberammergau. Loretta Colborne, too, attended the Passion Play in July while on a tour of Europe with the Franciscan Fathers. She visited Switzerland, Austria and Germany. Helen Stewart Jameson loved the summer heat because it meant enjoyable days in the pool. Helen had several long enjoyable weekends and a trip to Vermont, as well. Mary Mirabella visited her friend, Sylvia, in August, at her country home in Newton, New Jersey. She also was in Long Beach at the home of her sister-in-law, Irene, and saw her niece who had come from Seattle to visit her mother. Then Mary was off to Baltimore to see her friend Susan and also her brother who is moving to Oregon to be near his daughter and family. Mary phones Doris Leavy regularly and reports that Doris is feeling better. Agnes McShane Madden and John flew to Milwaukee to meet their newest grandchild (Jane's daughter), Marion Elizabeth. They also visited Mary and family in Albany and Agnes and family in Fort Wayne. In August, the Maddens invited Irene Lent and her sister to lunch with them in Jamesport which was followed by a pleasant visit in Laurel. Genevieve D'Albora Phillips and Sal celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary with relatives and friends. I saw Bernadette Garvey and Peg Crowley many times during the summer in Mattituck. One day a car stopped beside me while I was walking my white poodle, Angel, on Peconic Bay Boulevard. In it were Bernadette, Peg, Mary Greene and Helen Jameson. We had a brief visit at the side of the road. Helen Welden McCarthy and daughter, Roselyn, spent several days with Sister Robertline Weiden '23 who is confined to bed in the infirmary at Emmitsburg, Maryland—home of Mother Seton. In July, her son Bill, Jr., an attorney, and family flew from Hawaii to spend two weeks with Helen. One of Helen's eleven grandchildren will be in College next September. Please write in March—if only to send greetings. Happy Spring!

Since the last issue we have lost two very wonderful classmates, Cele Trunz and Irene Lavin, and we are much poorer for the loss. May they rest in peace. When this writer moved to New Jersey this summer many notes were received and many had bits of news. Claire Pleines vacationed in Ogunquit this summer . . . Mary Cunningham Mulcahy and Dan are still enjoying life in Crestwood and welcomed me to the Garden State . . . Dot Rowland and John spent their vacation in Sag Harbor . . . Helen Reynolds and Grace had a good summer in Sheffield. They were able to attend Cele's Mass and burial. Anne Schrage and her sister, Dorothy Abrams, visited relatives in Germany last summer. We offer sympathy and prayers on the death of their sister, Celestine Farber. Mary Kemp Schilte and Paul are enjoying the year round joys of Northport, and Mary sent delightful articles from the local press about the new Father Kilcoyne . . . Gertrude Gerety McGauley says her life is not very exciting but she makes life better for others—she makes regular visits to lonely shut-ins in her neighborhood. Her sister lives in North Adams, Mass. and she gets to see her two or three times a year . . . Miriam Cleary McNeill and Arthur had a delightful September vacation in Palm Beach. Emma Bergen is singing the praises of Catskill, N.Y. where she spent a happy two weeks . . . Lalla Rowan Morris sent good news about Tommy's great improvement. He is now well enough to go out walking with her and to go out to lunch once in a while—"all due to prayer". And, judging from all the visits they enjoy from all the Rowans and Morrisses, Hanover cannot be too far away. It just seems far . . . Katherine Normile Mylod and Charlie have received word from son, Robert, that he is now on the Board of Directors of the Detroit Symphony. All other children and thirty-three grandchildren are doing many things and doing them well . . . Eileen McNamara is back in Manhattan and it seems to agree with her. Please send more news. God bless you.

Margaret Normile McLoughlin, 201 Webb Ave., River Edge, N.J. 07661, (201) 261-2942.

Evelyn Dotzler Felber reports from Chula Vista, Ca. that she and Joe are well and enjoying visits from relatives and friends as they cannot travel as much as they used to. Regina Peppard Fitzpatrick and Jack had a quiet, restful summer in Amityville. Interesting news came from Genie Cormier Ahders. On October 12th, she left for a three week tour of China. She was home in time to have her usual family gathering at Thanksgiving. This celebration gets bigger and bigger every year and wouldn't be missed by the many relatives of all ages, some of whom come a good distance to be at Genie's. Of Genie's two daughters, Fran was the only one to be there as Kate lives in London, where Genie plans to spend Christmas with her three grandchildren. Mary Kelly Hoerman is busily occupied taking care of a large house in Centerport. Mary has fourteen grandchildren, seven are in college and seven are preparing to go. One granddaughter won a scholarship to Georgetown U. She had been an exchange student in Germany. Mary Manning Doherty and George are still involved in the Lions Club in San Diego. They drove recently to Carmel Valley and visited Mary's sister, Margaret. Emily Pleines and her sister Claire, '27 are active in their parish church in Lakewood, N.J. They missed the cold winter by traveling to Mexico and Yucatan. Jeannette Farrell Amery and Ted hope to spend some time this winter at Coral Gables, Fla. Sean, their son, was transferred from New York to Miami, where he is head of the Morgan International Bank of Miami. In Brooklyn, Jeannette and Ted can be seen at Little League football games now that grandson Ted plays on a team and son Ted coaches. Agnes Kelly Bryan and John got away from the heat of the city by taking a few bus trips—to Virginia and Cape Cod followed by a drive to Manchester, Vt. The Fall found them in Roxbury, N.J. staying with their grandchildren while the parents were in California.

Eileen McLoughlin Magilligan, 540 Third St., Brooklyn, NY 11215, SO8-7446.

Jeannette Farrell Amery, 1 Prospect Park SW, Apt. 4F, Brooklyn, NY 11215, 499-5262.

The Class of thirty enjoyed their semi-annual luncheon in November attended by those in the metropolitan area. We missed Teresa Schrelber Kelly who moved to Sandpiper Bay, Florida. Sarah Crowley and Eleanor McLoughlin '31 escaped New York's heat this summer by spending three weeks in Ireland, touring the country and visiting relatives and friends. Eileen Cox and Bernadette Hughes Carroll travelled on the Continent and spent some time in Vienna. They were fortunate enough to see the Passion Play at Oberammergau. Clara Stanton Sweeney was happy to have a visit from her daughter and family, who live in St. Louis.

Isabelle Donahue FitzGerald, 319 Webster Ave., Brooklyn, NY 11230, GE8-7744.

The Class of '31 is the Golden Jubilee class. We will be honored at the Spring Luncheon which will take place on May 2, 1981 at the Diocesan Seminary in Douglaston. Make plans now for our jubilee reunion on that date. You will be hearing from us.

Geraldine McMahon, 750-99B Lido Blvd., Lido Beach NY 11561, (516) 431-1968.

Janet Prendergast Vickrey, 430-84 St., Brooklyn NY 11209. 836-0855.

LOST: Class of 1931. Please send information to the Alumni Office.

1932

A Mass for deceased members of our class was celebrated at the Fort Hamilton Chapel on Monday, September 29th at noon. Attending the Mass and luncheon which followed at the Hamilton House, were: Christine Barton, Marle Berry, Anne Burns Meehan, Margaret Cooney, Helen Coughlan Worthley, Edna Dawkins McDonald, Frances Dieckert Rebele, Catherine Eppig Murphy, Mary Hopkins Engelskirger, Katherine Kelly Carlin, Mildred Martin Donnelly, Anne McCormack Fennessy, Josephine McKeon Broad, Winifred McMahon, Catherine McShane, Irene Parker Parks, Claire Smith, Mary Whelan Phelan and Mary White Kearney . . . Kathlyn Ansbro Wurts, Helen Curran Flynn, Sister Anne Loyola (Mary Dwyer), Sara Gannon St. Pierre, Mildred Hines Ryan, Lucille Jacobson Augenstein, Madeline Kendall Friel, Margaret Kenny, Katherine Krebs, Marie Manno Mullins, and Gladys Worthley responded to our notice, but were not able to attend. And now for news: Kathlyn Ansbro Wurts and Ed had a great get-together with Josephine McKeon Broad this summer at Jo's home on the Jersey Shore. Anne Burns Meehan left in October for San Francisco for a ten day stay. She plans to spend Thanksgiving in Chattanooga, Tenn., with one of her daughters, a Clinical Psychologist at Valley Psychiatric Hospital. Margaret Cooney enjoys her Breezy Point home, but during the winter prefers life in Florida. Helen Coughlan Worthley's son, John, is running for State Assembly (14th District) on the Democratic ticket. Son, Donald, was married June 21st and lives in Stamford. Sister Anne Loyola enjoys being organist at the St. Francis Residence in Tampa. Katherine Kelly Carlin left in October with friends from Breezy Point, for a week's vacation in St. Maarten. She will spend the four winter months in Cocoa Beach, Florida. Madeline Kendall Friel left in October for Mexico where her husband will study Anthropology. Katherine Krebs lives in a retirement home in West Palm Beach. Marie Manno Mullins' son works for Northrop Aviation, teaching English to their Saudi Arabian pilots and mechanics. Her oldest daughter teaches aerobic dancing and has won many trophies in tennis matches. One of her twins is President of the American Dietitians Association of Connecticut and the other works in Marshfield, Mass., having returned from a two-year job in Alaska. In May of last year, Mildred Martin Donnelly spent three weeks touring Ireland, Scotland, Wales and England. In June she was named "Woman of the Year" by the Merrick Chamber of Commerce and honored at a Dinner-Dance on September 6th, which was attended by 240 people including her three children and their spouses. Irene Parker Parks, our ornithologist, enjoyed two weeks in Arizona and New Mexico where she saw twenty species of birds which she had never seen on the West Coast or in Alaska. Mary Whelan Phelan retired from her job at St. Joseph's Alumni Office. She just welcomed her fifteenth grandchild, son of Marcella Maher Freisen, '73. Her husband, Buddy, also has fifteen grandchildren. In November, Gladys Worthley left for Fort Myers Beach, Florida, where she has spent the last five winters. We extend sympathy to Tina Barton on the death of her sister last March and to Lucille Jacobson Augenstein whose son also died that month. We received a lovely acknowledgement from Fr. Francis Kilcoyne, for the Mass enrollment which we sent at our reunion meeting. Think ahead to 1982. It will be the year of our Golden Jubilee and we're hoping that all our class members will plan to attend our reunion Luncheon in the Spring of that year, especially those we so seldom see . . . or hear from.

Anne McCormack Fennessy, 2 Horatio Street, New York, NY 10014, 691-8484.

We wish to convey our deep sympathy and prayers to the family of Serena Hynes McCormick. Serena, who retired from Erasmus High School, was the mother of Serena, Kathleen, Jane and Lawrence, and grandmother of nine children. Margaret Kilboy, of Wantagh, sees Kathleen Vaughan Fitzgerald and Elizabeth Gegan Mattes who live nearby in Ridge. She is also in touch with Mary Huschle; they have been friends since Margaret was Registrar at the college and Mary was head of the Social Studies department. They had dinner together in Garden City before Mary left for Europe this past summer. Margaret also suggests a "mini-reunion" sometime in the city—anyone interested? Perhaps we should also start looking forward to our 50th and thinking of some plans for our golden jubilee. It's coming faster than we think! . . . Kathleen (Ceedie) David has news of several of our classmates. Muriel Steinbrecher Moody and her husband, John keep busy in their retirement. When they are not having family reunions at their home in Greenbrier, Bricktown, New Jersey, they visit their three daughters and one son, taking trips to San Diego, Hawaii, Rochester, New York, and Florida . . . Jo Ford Scanlon is still very active. She and three other "girls" had a camping vacation in Maine as well as a tour through the New England States. Her three grandsons also keep her in action . . . Kay Carroll Whitely and her husband Jack are very pleased with their selection of their retirement home on Cape Cod. Their town of Yarmouth has many pleasant activities . . . Now that Rose Brown Clarke and her husband, Allen have retired, they spend their winters in Florida and enjoy the remainder of the year in Middle Village . . . Ceedie David entertained Sister Mary Germaine (Grace Finlay) and Sister Jane Cecelia (Mary Cullen '34) before they left for their assignments as teachers in Catholic University in Puerto Rico. She has heard from them frequently since then; both write of the many changes in Ponce since their prior assignments several years ago . . . Sister Ann Loyola (Mary Dwyer '32) also is in touch with Ceedie from her residence at St. Francis Home in Tampa. She was on a brief vacation in Virginia; she is also "brushing up" on her liturgical music, as she is the organist for the residents and the nuns . . . Why not bring us up to date on your activities?

Mary C. Dolan, 130 East Lincoln Avenue, Valley Stream, N.Y. 11580.

Marie Schluter, 45 Prospect Ave., Crescent Beach, Niantic, CT 06357, (203) 739-6661.

1934

In October, Catherine Cooke, with her sister and brother-in-law, Mary and Jerry Shea, visited Sr. Eucharistia (Rita Dougherty) in Terryville, Conn. Rita and three companions live in a lovely white house, one of many built by Mr. Terry for whom the town was named. The townspeople gave the sisters a gala reception. The sisters do social service and catechetical work, volunteer in the library and teach remedial reading. Sr. Eucharistia lived in California for 32 years in Maryknoll Missions. She was 15 years in Guadalupe where Catherine, Mary and Jerry often visited. All three became god-parents to Mexican children there. Catherine's namesake is a junior in high school. The group usually would visit Lee and Gertrude Roberts Delworth '23 who live nearby in Lompoc. Sr. David Xavier and Anne Connolly Burns visited Catherine recently. In Brentwood, Catherine met Sister Clare Imelda Ruane and Beverly Moran originally a member of 1934. Sister James Cecelia (Mary Cullen) is now in Puerto Rico. Al and Dolores Ansbro Gerathy had a hectic week during the big apple marathon. Their son, an Air Force dentist, and a group of friends came to New York to run in the great event and stayed with them. After other feverish activities, they took off for their Indiana base, leaving Al and Dolores to recover! Gina Latorraca and her sister Mary vacationed in the Canadian Rockies, an area they love. Eucharistia Mulligan took a Fall bus tour to New Orleans and fully enjoyed the countryside in Autumn. Marie Lilly and her cousin, Roseanna Fity '39 visited Germany, Austria and Switzerland. Signs to St. Gallen made Marie think of Mary Harron Hupczyc, but on a bus tour there's no chance to detour for a visit. The highlight of their trip was the Passion Play in Oberammergau—what a wonderful experience! Ada Scully Cahill called to say that she wasn't receiving mail. Sure enough, the post office was returning it. Why? They no longer would deliver to "7200 Ridge Boulevard" and so she changed her address (but not her abode) to 190 72nd Street. Ada has 6 grandchildren.

Marie Lilly, 8201 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, NY 11209, 680-2069.

Catherine Cooke, 9956 Ft. Hamilton Pkwy, Brooklyn, NY 11209, SH8-9866.

Margaret Bier, 6 Brooklands—4A, Bronxville NY 10708, (914) 793-0243.

On this beautiful late fall-into-winter day I received a note from Betty Zangle, telling about her trip last summer to Arkansas, where it didn't go under 105° during her entire stay! She was surprised to find this state "southern" in its social life. Betty visited her brother and his family at Lake Chatagua this summer; her youngest nephew Richard is a freshman at Slippery Rock State College and her niece Beth is a junior at Mt. St. Mary's in Newburgh. A newsy card from Helen Schwarz Owendoff tells of her church work, including participation in the annual church shows, as well as taking courses in education and religion. Her husband, Harold continues teaching at a junior college, although "retired" . . . shades of Jane McLoughlin O'Connor's better half! Helen's youngest, John, graduated from Notre Dame and received his Master's degree from Carnegie Mellon. Helen and Harold are expecting their 13th grandchild in January. Their leisure time is spent reading, walking, swimming, and enjoying short vacation trips. Virginia Conran Cheasty is living in an apartment in Stamford, Conn. and gradually getting accustomed to it; she is enjoying the Nutmeg State. Her daughter, Virginia lives nearby and is teaching. She has a master's degree in Special Education. Her son, Jack, has his master's in Biology and lives in Boston. He has two children. Daughter, Patricia is in Stewart Manor, Long Island and also has two children. Her daughter, Mary, was married about a year and a half ago. Virginia was just recovering from a bout with la flu . . . Catherine Wills who is Vice President for Retarded Infant Services attended a Mini-Benefit at Belmont Park—a very enjoyable affair. Agnes Rafferty Stadmeyer and Frank spend most of their time in their new home at East Hampton, Long Island. They are the very proud grandparents of their first grandchild, a little girl, born to son, Frank, and his wife. While shopping in our local supermarkets, I ran into Grace Flannery Morris whose daughter, Meg, and her husband just returned from a six week visit to Norway and Denmark, and other European stops. Daughter, Beth lives in Hockessin, Delaware, and has been made a Supervisor in her school. Her husband Ron teaches English in senior high school. They had a great family reunion in the "First State". Ed and I enjoyed a great visit from Jack Metzler, Jr., Bernadette (Moroney) and Jack's second son, who has been transferred to Calverton, Long Island. Jack, Sr. who recently had back surgery is on the mend. Ed and I had a wild summer-fall season, journeying to Pittsburgh for the wedding of his nephew, Jim, and then to Wilmington, Delaware, for the wedding of one of my many cousins down there. After all of this, we managed to stagger to Maine for a nice vacation and were joined there by Kay Allen and her sister Eileen. I had a nice chat with Marie Blaber and Kay Loftus after the 11 AM mass. Florence Kemp Carberry and I hope to meet Anne Scannell Smith for lunch one of these days but Anne's husband has been quite ill . . . do say a prayer for them both. I have been working as a volunteer in the remedial reading program at the local Catholic school and I find it quite different from senior high school. I can now, at last, appreciate what grade school teachers endure! Anne Hennessy O'Rourke who keeps her address on Vanderbilt Street, phoned the office to ask about any special class meeting this fall—which had been discussed at the luncheon. She left for Florida in October. Grace Duffy Kearney moved from New Hampshire to Vero Beach, Florida, over three years ago, and loves it. Their son is still in Keene, N.H. where he is news editor and also teaches in Keene State. The Kearneys go north for a month or so in the summer and their friends come south to visit them in the winter. We extend our sympathy to Charlotte Dermody Guerclio and family, on the death of her mother last St. Joseph's day just before her 81st birthday. Charlotte's father was 92 in August. Marie, Charlotte's sister, is in the Class of '34. I hope you found our class listing in the annual report. It was a little out of order, but we are there, and we had a most respectable figure of 68% giving . . . perhaps next year we could make it an even 70% . . . please keep in touch . . .

Anne Seitz Smith, 8201 Ridge Blvd., Brooklyn, NY 11209, 238-5118.

Anne Hennessy O'Rourke, 120 Cypress Club Dr. #213, Pompano Beach, Fla. 33060, (305) 781-6607.

Alice Enright, a Californian, has withdrawn as Class Agent to spend her time taking care of a dear friend, who is ill. Rosemarie O'Reilly, discouraged at lack of response of 36-ers has also resigned. Rosemarie "hung in there" and the editor is very grateful for the efforts of both agents for their service to classmates. We are very pleased that Betty Pyne Dunleavy, though she has time consuming commitments, will take over the duties now. She reports that Kathleen Holland Janson's Susan was married and lives in Portland, Maine in a Victorian landmark house that's older than we are (1845). Her son, Michael, is the father of Brian, Matthew and Christopher; younger son, Stephen, is married and lives in Manhattan. Kathleen is an editor of language arts textbooks at Prentice-Hall. A small reunion is planned in November with Dorothy Delay, Isabel Farrell, Alice Hagan Finnerty and Betty Pyne Dunleavy at Dorothy's home in Rockville Centre. Miriam Crofton has been in Huntington, West Va. since 1976 and is an attorney with the Office of Hearings and Appeals for Social Security. She and Joan Schaefer '41 visited Nancy Ruddy '41 in Littleton, Colorado where they met Margaret Manning '41 who had come from California to join them. Miriam will spend Thanksgiving and Christmas with her sister-in-law, Terry Manglard Crofton in Long Beach, N.Y. We offer our sympathy to Betty Pyne Dunleavy on the death of her sister, Victoria, on November 16, after a long illness.

Betty Pyne Dunleavy, 335 E. 32 St., Brooklyn NY 11226.

I am beginning to feel empathy with the late Jack Benny. Every time I announce my retirement, someone sends latest statistics or calls or writes . . . so I feel obliged to come out of retirement. Sister Mary O'Halloran (Betty O'H.) made a trip to Minneapolis and also visited Cardinal Carberry in St. Louis. Ed and Betty McMahon Corrigan are grandparents of a new grandchild, born in of all places . . . Kuala Lumpur. Betty's son, wife and 2 children will be there a few years on an assignment by the Chase Bank. Grandparents plan a trip to visit them and see the new baby. Otto and Margaret McGillivray Seldel have a new granddaughter. The Seidel's are planning a trip to Bermuda with Tony and Kay Heffernan Steffany in November. Joe and Mary McGrath Verville, now settled in Leisure Village, New Jersey, will soon be joined by Margaret Laux O'Reilly who was so impressed when a group of us visited the Vervilles last Spring, that she has picked out a house. However, she must sell her Boonton home. Tom and Gertrude Neufeld Walsh are also there. Hilton Head, NC is another St. Joseph mecca. Annette Robinson called to relate the wonderful visit she had with Mary Twigg Connors, Isabelle Anderson Miles and Madeline Noonan O'Neill. Annette spent nine days with Mary and Frank and praised the climate, the convenience to Savannah (45 minutes) and the beauty of the homes. With moss hanging from the balconies, sounds like scenes from Gone With The Wind. Isabelle is doing fine, her daughters have been to visit her and she planned a beach party for some 35 people. Mary gave a big dinner party just for SJC alumnae. Tom and Madeline O'Neill left for a trip to Manila. Annette attended Father Kilcoyne's ordination with Fran Jacobsen Bennett. They judged attendance at about 1,000 and at least 50 priests. Annette is still with Stone Webster. She drives to the LIRR and takes the train to Penn Station. Jim and Frances Young McCarthy will spend two to three weeks in Switzerland. As for me, I had the unique experience of turning back the clock. In 1933 I had the pleasure of appearing at Rockefeller Center Skating Rink to skate at the opening ceremonies. Now in October, 1980 I skated a pair exhibition at that rink for the benefit of the United Hospital fund. John Gambling—WOR—MC'd the program giving these statistics, leaving the audience to figure out the math for themselves!

Alice Kennedy Correa moved from Red Bank, NJ to Manhattan in September. In August, Chet and Fran McLoughlin Reilly drove to Becket, Mass. for a visit to the McLoughlin summer place and then went on to see their daughter, Peggy '71 and son John, both working in Bondville, Vermont for the summer. In August, they welcomed the arrival of daughter, Mary's first baby, Ruth Elizabeth. Rosalyn Manfredonia Mangano has a new grandson, her daughter Marguerite's first child. We wish to extend our sympathy and prayers to the families of our classmates who died recently: Florence McBreen O'Leary, Eleanora Bartley and Margaret Fay McFadden.

Cathleen Farrell Walsh's son, Bob is a Lt. Col. and lives on an air force base in England with his family. Son, Quentin, was married in November. Ellen is a speech therapist in the Brentwood School District. Cathy is at Brown U. for her Ph.D. All but Bob were home for the wedding, and Terry and her baby will stay until after the New Year so Cathleen will get a chance to watch her granddaughter grow. Cathleen visited Marcella (Canale) and Bill Reid while in Alexandria in September. Ruth Drucker and Isabella Foster Knight went visiting in Chicago together, Ruth to her niece and Isabella to her sister-in-law and a family wedding. We offer sympathy to Agatha Walsh O'Brien whose son, Mark, 33, was struck by lightning this past summer. Agatha and son, Peter went to Colorado to bring him home for burial. They also travelled to Oregon, and saw daughter, Monica's new baby. Daughter, Suellen Glashausen also has a new baby, and lives in Manhattan with her husband. Agatha writes to the New York State Theater, at Lincoln Center, for reserved seats for performances, and usually drives in from Westchester. I joined her one Sunday for a very enjoyable operetta, The Student Prince. I received a postcard from Vence, France, from Mary Birmingham Ponset where she is spending three months at the Kavoly Foundation for Artists and Writers. "The Cathedral here is beautiful," she says. "It has something in it from every century from the tenth to the twentieth. Chagall, who lives here, has just done a mosaic for the baptistry wall. The Matisse chapel is here too, but Mass is only open to the public twice a week. I'm working hard at trying to write." Marie also writes of the wonderful reunion day last Spring. She was amazed at "how young we all are—how much ourselves we stayed through a dazzling variety of experiences."

Our 40th Anniversary Reunion will be held on Saturday, May 23, 1981 on Long Island. Several Classmates plan to travel long distances to attend. This early notice may enable you to reserve the date. Details will be mailed later. We have lost track of the following:

Eileen Sullivan Brady
Mary Raciigan
Marie Shea
Rose Scilippi Vitale
Geraldine Powers
Irene Novak Bromka
Eleanor McManus Palermo
Eileen Madigan Horan
Ethel King
Cecelia Kelly King

Eileen Hanley Keenan
Jane Hagan Taggart
Mary Haffey Winters
Mimi Follmar Bower
Frances Dwyer
Grace Dooling
Josephine DiGeronimo Parisi
Virginia Clark
Mary Broekman Griffin
Mary Beglin

Anyone knowing the addresses of the above, please send them to me so they can be apprised of our reunion. Terry Gough De Tar and Jack left Sun City in May, flew to New Orleans and took "The Delta Queen" up the Mississippi to St. Louis and finally arrived at their summer home at Torch Lake, Mich. Later they came to New York and hosted a pool party at her son, Tiger's, home in Pearl River. Among the guests were Mary McDonough Wlesnet and Bill, Gerald and Peggy McDermby Shea, Joe and Mary McMahon Davis '39 . . . Elvira Goddard Jahn had to cancel at the last minute . . . Marjorie Andresen Breedis and Charles have a new address in Upper Darby, Pa. . . . Agnes Connelly Huether sent news of Hortense DiGeronimo Laterza who died May 22nd. Hortense left a husband, son and daughter and two grandchildren. She had taught in Elementary School in Belleville, NJ for 22 years and had received her M.A. from Seton Hall U. . . . Fran McDonnell Doyer and Leo are enjoying his retirement from N.Y. Telephone Co. . . . Edith Mullen Bolal and Jim are anticipating the graduation of their youngest, Eileen, from Wheaton College next May. . . . When I talked with Peggy Wolfe at Eileen Gaffney's wake, I learned that she does income tax preparations for senior citizens in Virginia; that she received a Law Degree from George Washington U. years ago; that since she retired from Federal Government service, she enjoys using tools and I've been told she is adept at making all kinds of home repairs. In the Spring, Margaret Manning enjoyed a three week tour in Europe which included the Passion Play at Oberammergau and an audience with Pope John Paul. Early in July, Margaret had a quick visit with her sister, Mary Manning Doherty '28 and her husband, to celebrate Mary's birthday. Their home in San Diego is only a 3-hour drive away. Margaret is looking forward to next spring to celebrate our 40th. Agnes Connelly Huether who lives in Clifton, New Jersey, retired in August, 1978 from the New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services, a child welfare service of the State Civil Service. She wanted to be available to take her sister Anne Connelly Burns '34 to her medical appointments. Anne had a laryngectomy in March '78. Before the D.Y.F.S. job, Agnes had worked for over 12 years in the Adoption Department of Paterson Catholic Charities. The Huether's three children are grown and on their own. Daughter, Anne is an R.N. and lives in Hackettstown, Sara is also an R.N. employed at Tulane University Hospital in New Orleans. Youngest, Joe, studied architecture at Rhode Island School of Design, graduated in 1978 and works in an architects firm in Cambridge, Mass. Agnes keeps house, sings in the church choir, swims at the local Y and travels about with her husband who is a national officer of the Piano Technicians Guild and a piano technician. Some years ago he retired from his banking position at Emigrant Savings Bank. Last August, Warren and Eileen Heenan Caswell of Mentor, Ohio, enjoyed a visit from her sister and brother-in-law, Ann and Joe Acer of Staten Island. Later that month they joined Warren's sister, Doris and her husband, Joe Fitzgerald, for a few days vacation at Niagara Falls. Eileen was a teacher in Catholic Elementary School in Mentor, Ohio for 7 years and taught remedial and enrichment courses in Mentor Summer Schools. She took a course at Cleveland State in teaching LD students and plans to continue in this field Irene Butler Lozano phoned her from Los Angeles on Thanksgiving and they both plan to come to our reunion in '81..

Margaret McDermby Shea, 78 Yale Place, Rockville Centre, NY 11570, (516) RO6-7966.

Helen Fennelly Reilly's son, Kevin '76, is in his 3rd year at St. John's Law School and is also enrolled in a doctoral program at CUNY, working in American History with famed historian, Arthur Schlesinger. Doris Price Johnson resigned as class agent and we wish to thank her for the many years of service she gave to '42.

Margaret Rausch, 62 Pierrepont St., Brooklyn, NY 11201, MA5-6927.

Helen Fennelly Reilly, 333 83 St., Brooklyn, NY 11209, BE8-2016.

1945

Sister Mary of St. Aurelia was very distressed, as were the members of the Alumni Association, by the death of Dr. Cecella Trunz '27. Sister had kept in close touch with Miss Trunz since her graduation from St. Joe's. She had fond memories of her days in German Class! Patricia Brown Schoen and Betty Dudley are serious advocates of Aerobic dancing. Seems Marie Maddock Turner started things rolling with her demonstration at our reunion in May. How are you doing, Marie? Eileen McDermott Ott's daughter, Patricia, was married to Bill Scharbash on June 28. Frank, Eileen's husband, who is a permanent deacon, officiated at the ceremony. St. Joe's was well represented at the wedding. Kathleen Ott Reemmer '70 was the matron-of-honor. Among the guests were: Janet Blessing, Virginia Hughes Sweeney and Margaret Connors Welgand of our class and Amella Abagnalo Kreltsch '70 and S. Bernadette Downes '67. Eileen's son, Stephen is in his Sophomore year at Georgetown University, while his brother, Michael, is in his senior year at Cathedral High School in Elmhurst. Your class agent has officially retired and now can be found in the Development Office at the College two days a week—Tuesdays and Thursdays. Why not drop me a note or call with your news. I'd love to hear from you.

Upon receipt of a letter to the Registrar's office from Jeanne Wilbert, we learned that she is Mrs. Concannon. Mail had been returned in 1975 and we are glad to "find" Jeanne who still lives in Ronks, PA. Next year will be the thirty-fifth anniversary of our graduation from St. Joseph's. The following classmates are "lost". If you know their whereabouts please write the alumni office.

Jeanne Alvino James	Muriel Henderson
Elise Bensi Blasi	Eileen Rensing
Alice Casey	Geraldine Ryan Graffum
Lorraine Cribbin	Mary Schmuck Nordenberg
Helen Divine Monks	Margot Schulte Kandah
Rita Gilligan	Edith Torreson Jublan
Marian Harvey Higgins

You will be hearing from us about a reunion early next year.

Marion Quealy Zoll, 165 Greenwood Drive, Millington, NJ 07946, (201) 647-2434.

Peter and Lucia Jurek Varholy vacationed in Florida. Their Cristine served as a counselor in a summer Girl Scout Day Camp in Fort Tilden . . . Nancy Rogan Perri is grandmother to seven boys and girls aged four and under. Nancy's oldest, Anthony, is a negligence attorney with an office in Garden City and a home in Bayville. He has one son. Ralph and James both live in Rockville Centre and each has three children. Ralph has two daughters and a son and James, three daughters. Christopher, the youngest of Nancy's four children, majored in philosophy and is now a musician in Santa Cruz, California. . . Mary Kapper Barry's mother passed away over a year ago. She had moved from Brooklyn to Akron about four years ago to be near Mary. The youngest and oldest of the ten Barry children attend Kent State University. Maureen is a freshman and Mark has resumed his studies while "single parenting" his daughter, Melissa, who at age five already resides on a college campus. Jeaneen is a sophomore at the University of Akron. Tom and his wife live in Lake Charles, Louisiana. John and his wife live in Seattle where John is a respiration therapist and his wife is a nurse. . . Marion Sullivan has sold her mother's Flatbush home and moved to a Manhattan apartment. Mrs. Sullivan is in a nursing home on Long Island near her son. . . Muriel McGowan anticipates retiring from the New York City Board of Education at the end of this school year. She spent her entire teaching career in the same Flatbush school. Muriel will become an all year round resident of Spring Lake upon retirement. . . Bobbie Maguire Martin's Clark has retired from the United States Army. Their Barbie, also married to an Army career officer, recently had a baby in Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Their son is a ski and golf "pro" in Colorado Springs. . . Eileen Brophy Rossman's Maura spent the summer in Anchorage, Alaska as a counselor in a camp conducted by the Cook Inlet Native Association. Michael studied biology at the University of California, Davis, in a National Science Foundation program for high school students. Susie and Anne have Manhattan apartments. Eileen Jr., who has completed all requirements for a Master of Science degree in Microbiology at Long Island University, will receive that degree in February. She is now enrolled in a post Master's course in Administration at the Bank Street College of Education. . . Jeanne Mullen is a gourmet cook.

We offer our deep sympathy to Elfrida Gogolick Riordon and family on the sudden death of her 22 year old daughter on September 30th. Eleanor Miller O'Connor's son, Chris, works in Greenville, SC; Mary Ellen is in Denver and last summer travelled 4700 miles coast to coast on her bicycle; Patrick is in Atlanta selling commercial real estate; Tom is a soph at Notre Dame and Mary Beth is a soph in High School. Eleanor expects Mary O'Keefe McGahan to live in Atlanta for a couple of years, starting in February. Mary's husband will be working on Atlanta's MARTA-Progressive Transportation. Kathy Conlon Conboy is also in Atlanta. We extend sympathy to Kathy on the death of her brother last fall.

Bernadette Cassidy Fitzpatrick, 2608 Voorhies Ave., Brooklyn, NY 11235, 646-1001.

Along with a Sigma gift to Alumni Fund 1981, John Maher wrote of his wife's (Joan Dawley Maher) having received her J.D. from Dickinson School of Law in June 1980. Joan clerks for Judge G. Blatt of Pennsylvania's Commonwealth Court. Joan matriculated with our class but, as John writes, their marriage "intruded" in 1951. They have five children. Maureen Duncan Fraser is teaching in the Special Education field at Hillcrest High School and pursuing her Masters in that field at Adelphi.

Maureen Duncan Fraser, 123 Wayford Terrace, Garden City, NY 11530, (516) 294-6241.

Dorothea Casey Gleason, 116-05 217th Street, Cambria Heights, NY 11411, LA8-2785.

1954

John and Virginia Bradley Connolly spent their Spring vacation in England. This summer, Virginia was pleased and surprised to meet Mary Shea Pawlowicz '55 in Washington D.C. Virginia was visiting her daughters, Kathy and Mary and also her brother. Jim and Pat Van Inwegen Conaty celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary in October.

Patricia Finn McDonnell, 46-27 Glenwood Street, Little Neck, NY 11362, FA1-2142.

Rosemary Corbett Hannon, 89-39 207th Street, Bellaire, NY 11427, HQ8-2671.

Mary Wing Tucker has been named Chief Counsel to the New York Board of Education. In 1973, Mary started the study of law in Brooklyn Law School and received her J.D. in 1977. She worked in the Corporation counsel's office in educational law. This involved rights of the handicapped, questions on termination of teachers' services, denial of tenure, Title 6 complaints, and so forth. Mary has four children, Elizabeth, Maryann, Laura and Raymond, ages 12 to 22. Mary's sister, Marjorie Wing Black '58 lives in Texas. How about some news from the Lone Star State?

Mary Shea Pawlowicz, 5308 Del Ray Drive, Dallas, Texas 75229, (214) 691-3716.

Irene Breen, 1370 East 26th Street, Brooklyn, NY 11210, BE8-1458.

A note from Virginia McGulre Fortsch, giving her new address in Bernardsville, NJ, was most welcome. She's interested in our coming Silver Anniversary and in the plans we are making. We extend our sympathy to Doris Jacklitsch and Elaine Jacklitsch Sheehan on the death of their mother last summer. Sr. Miriam Lucille Montella who just finished her stint as a principal at St. Athanasius in Brooklyn, is now principal of Cure of Ars in Merrick.

Last Summer, Bob and Joan Selbert Sprague went to Italy for a sixteen day tour. They spent four days in Rome and then visited Pisa, Milan, Florence, Capri, Sorrento and Pompeii. They especially enjoyed Capri and the side trip into Switzerland. Pat McCarthy Bradshaw is enjoying the stimulation of teaching adults in a night school class at Connetquat High School, on How to Pass a Civil Service Exam. She also teaches Social Studies in St. John of God School, Central Islip. Her oldest son, William, a Bucknell graduate, works for Grumman Aerospace and is attending Brooklyn Polytech for a Master's degree. Daughter, Colleen, is in animal husbandry at Iowa State and Alicia is a high school senior, very active in the Campus Life Movement. David is in his first year at Fort Schuyler Maritime College. Don and Dolores Bryan Magulre, in a week-long vacation, travelled the California coast highway to Bodega Bay and south to Los Angeles. They visited Dolores' brother, Chris, and some friends they had met during their stay in London. Son, Kevin, is a freshman at the University of Pennsylvania, studying Chemical Engineering. Jeanne is in high school and Joann an eighth grader. Andrew is the youngest. Some members of the class see each other frequently: Dick and Barbara Morrison Marlborough, Gene and Edna Gibbons Andreassi, Paul and Kerry Sullivan Courtois, Jack and Gloria Johnson Talty, and Bob and Diana Bonetti Simeone '58. Gloria has returned to school for a Master's in Special Ed at St. John's. She works part-time in Rockville Centre Schools. Four of her children are in college, Kevin and John at Delhi, Paul at St. John's and Kerry in her second year at Nassau Community. Diana Bonetti Simeone works for the Caphrese Travel Agency in Smithtown and is looking forward to her first trip to Paris this month. Her husband, Bob, is Assistant Professor at SUNY, Farmingdale. We would like to hear from more members of '57. Roseann Connolly Hubbard has resigned as class agent. We are very thankful for her years of service. If any one of you would like to try a hand at class reporting, please write to the Alumni office or phone me.

Never thinking to send us the good news of her marriage to William Roberts in 1965, Sylvia Burton has been on our "lost" list ever since. Last week, she and her son, 17, who is interested in looking at colleges, ran into our recruiter, Bill Lent. Through him, she's back on our list. The Roberts live in Englewood and also have a daughter, age 13. Hank and Pat Henry Torres have been living in New Canaan, Connecticut for the past two years. Davis is a freshman at Middlebury College, Vermont. Maria will graduate from New Canaan H.S. in June and Paul and Kate are in school in New Canaan. Pat received a Master's in Special Ed from Fairfield in May and works as a Resource Teacher for the elementary Bilingual Program in Stamford. "We'd enjoy hearing from any alumnae in our area," says Pat.

Ann Ryan O'Brien now lives in Fairfield, Connecticut at 525 Galloping Hill Road and would enjoy hearing from any grads in that area. Joan Tierney Carney moved this summer from Valley Stream to Matinecock, LI, and Carol Trivosonno Lamblase moved to another section in Rockville Centre. Gerry Pisklak Mannion moved to the lone star state, to 14236 Kellywood Lane, Houston. Charlie and "Pat" Coleman Campbell vacationed for two weeks in Ireland, discovering their roots. Jean Baumgarten Guglielmo stopped into SJC last summer with daughter, Gemma, to see Sister Joseph Damlén and to show off her teen-age daughter. Jean and family who had been in California a few years, are now living in Brookeville, Maryland. Joan teaches in Immaculata High School in the English Department. She happily recalled memories of Lit classes and Sister Joseph Immaculate. We'll be 20 years out of college in '81. How about a reunion? Any ideas? Send them to me and I will be in touch with you early next year. That's all for now.

Very best wishes to Fran Sullivan on her marriage to John Brennan. Frank and I attended the reception and what a great Irish party it was! Glnny O'Rourke McLaughlin and Bill, Maureen Treanor Donohue and Steve were also there. Ginny still teaches Speech in Huntington Schools and Maureen is part-time librarian at a local library in Suffolk County. Congratulations to Fran's brother, Fr. Joseph Sullivan, who was recently consecrated an auxiliary bishop of Brooklyn. Judy Perry Cleary enrolled in Adelphi's Masters Program in Special Ed and hopes to receive her degree in about 2½ years. Tom and the five children have encouraged her in this. Anne, a HS sophomore, won first prize in a local student Art Exhibit. Mary, a freshman, is a great track star. Jeanne, sixth grader, and Tommy, fifth grader, are skilled swimmers. Nancy, the youngest, is in the third grade. During the summer, I chatted several times with Rosemary McDonald Ahern.

She, Tom and their six children enjoy Breezy Point each summer. Oldest son Tommy is a high school senior and Rosemary, Tom and Tommy are searching out prospective colleges. Joan and Margaret are in high school and Billy will enter next September. Kate is in kindergarten and Elizabeth in nursery school. They are a super family! Rosemary is enrolled in a Masters Program in Special Ed. in Brooklyn College. Early in the Fall I attended a seminar at SJC Patchogue Campus where I ran into Pat Sweeney who teaches kindergarten in P.S. 170, Bay Ridge. She told me that Joan Tagliatiero Zangre and family moved to a new home in Stony Brook, LI. Pat keeps in touch with Peggy LaSalle Nicora who, with husband and two children, lives in Colonia, New Jersey. Judy Kilfoyle Ferguson teaches 7th and 8th grade religion classes at St. Clare's in Rosedale. Cathy Davis McKeon recently left her position as a kindergarten teacher at P.S. 207K to become a guidance counselor. Catching up on the past two years, Gen Orandello Phillips writes that the family enjoyed a trip across the country in the summer of '78. During Christmas week of the same year, they had a whirlwind tour of the East Coast spending Christmas in Atlanta, Georgia with Bill's mom, then down the coastline towards Florida and swinging west into New Orleans. The return trip was through the breath-taking Blue Ridge Mountains, then through Washington, D.C., arriving back home 11:30 P.M., half an hour before the new year. Oldest son, Matt is an exchange student, through Rotary International, and is in Bromma, Sweden, a suburb of Stockholm, where he is spending his junior year and loving it. Connle Alevoll, Hank and Dianne Maffel Maturi got together with the Phillips one Saturday in May for the first time in years. Last May, Gen received the Pius X Medal in recognition of her ten years service in her parish, St. Patrick's, Bay Shore. Bill and Gen are in the lay Eucharistic ministry and this year she will be teaching a Bible Studies course to 6th graders. Joanne, 11, will take part. Bill, who has a Master's in Religious Education from Immaculate Conception Seminary, is teaching a four-week Adult Education course on the New Testament. Gen was glad to see and talk to Robert and Meg Williams Schroeder, Joe and Lorraine Herbert Mund, Connle Alevoli, and Hank and Diane Maffel Maturi, who had come to her mother's wake. Jacqueline Vlvona married Richard Rice last May and they live in Ramsey, N.J. That's it from the grapevine. Happy New Year! and why not add to your list of resolutions to send some news to me . . . even a little will do.

Pat Corrigan Kopplinger is teaching 5th grade at St. Joseph Benedict. It's great but so much work and planning! Pat is also back in school—Adelphi—for her Master's. Has taken two reading courses so far—very informative and very involved. Tommy is a Junior and Michael a Freshman at Molloy. Tom Sr. has almost finished his MBA at St. John's. He was made an officer in North American Reinsurance Co., Assistant Secretary-Assistant Manager in Facultative Claims. Richard and Anne Millen Schrage with Karen and Richard Jr. spent a week in Colorado visiting Anne's brother and touring the state. Anne continues to teach at Our Lady of Mercy Academy. Bob and Eileen Stutsky Shlgo and family enjoyed a vacation trip through Pennsylvania, Boston and Lake George. In August they had a Sweet Sixteen party for their oldest daughter, Barbara. Eileen works part time with emotionally disturbed children. Charles and Nancy Meskinns Ehrhard and family enjoyed a trip to the Poconos this summer. The boys had fun swimming, fishing, boating and making the rounds of local points of interest. Susan (now 2) is a real joy and the boys are great with her. Richard and Sandy Cyzewski Miller and their six children spent two weeks in California with Sandy's sister, Marlon Cyzewski Doerr '67. They especially enjoyed a visit to Disneyland. Sandy teaches kindergarten part time. Her five oldest children are in school, only one left at home. Sandy was surprised when her second-grade daughter told her that her teacher is Sheila Halligan Ferguson. Parent and teacher met at Meet-The-Teacher night. Sheila lives in Babylon and has four children. The twins must be about 13. Class of '63 has lost both agents. Maryann Gentile Norcott regretfully resigned this fall. She accepted the Presidency of her Catholic School Board. Also . . . August to November are the busiest months for her crafts business. Her son, Thomas, is an eighth grader and the Norcotts are looking into high schools for him. Camille Papasodero Coulbourn also sent her resignation, which leaves the class of '63 with no leader. We offer many thanks to Maryann and Camille who have done a good job over these years in reporting the news. Will someone else volunteer to serve '63 members for a few years? Please write to the alumni office, and a class list and information will be sent to you.

Carol Meade Barkovsky was "lost" during a succession of moves, but has written from her latest address in Rancho Palos Verdes, California, that she'd like to keep up with alumni news. She lives in the same area as Angela Zuccarelli Leone and Cathy Vesey O'Neill. Rita Reilly Selbenaler's husband is Assistant Army Attache in the Embassy in Moscow and she has written her impressions. Mary Petillo has opened her own store. Barbara Kempczinska moved last May from New Jersey to Oakland, California where she does consulting work in the health care field on the West Coast. Her schedule allows more time to become involved in some of the local and national women's projects . . . ERA, health care and drug abuse etc. She finds it a nice change of pace. Barbara met Gerl Thompson Sokol who moved to San Francisco about a year ago. She was transferred by her company, a computer organization, where she has a managerial position. Geri and Barbara went roller skating, with Geri's younger son, Peter, in Golden Gate park. Barbara met Mary Hilgeman Meyers before she left for the coast. Mary has been practicing law for eight years and is presently working for the Attorney General's Office in New York City on a special consumer affairs project. Mary invited Barb and Mary Noberini Heller to dinner and the latter arrived with her one-year-old daughter, Catherine. Mary N. has been teaching courses in psychology at Manhattan College—her specialty is geriatrics. Rosemary Mayer, who started SJC with us, was also there and Barbara went back to her studio that evening to see some of her new works. A book is being published this Fall with her sculpture and paintings. Mary Hilgeman Meyers attended Clara Rodriguez's wedding to Michael Megan last summer in Iowa. Clara has her own law practice there. Marge Penney was also at the wedding and has been living in Iowa for a number of years. Barbara would love to hear from her. (If anyone knows her address, please send it to us.) Barbara met Peggy Candee Jacobs while she was living in Princeton. Peggy was preparing an impressive dissertation at the Institute for Advanced Learning.

The Lovejoys (Gerry Smith) have moved back to New Jersey and are living in Hillsdale. Gerry has returned to teaching and loves it. Joanle McCourt Lillis has also returned to the classroom, subbing in the Rumson, NJ school system. Annamarie Malne Carrlino moved to Waterbury, Vermont. Rudi and Jane Jacobson Biraln welcomed #4, Delancey, last summer. Justiana and Rudi, Jr., are enrolled in advanced programs in the NYC Public School System. Jim and Mary Beth McNerney Lamond, with children Jimmy, Claire, Matthew and Elizabeth, visited Disneyworld for a week in October, for a really great time. In August the Lamonds entertained Roger and Margaret Testagrossa Garay and family at their new summer home in East Hampton. Bob and Rosemary Collins Zink vacationed in California last July, which included a stay in San Francisco and a drive down the Coast highway. Joe and

Jo Ann Conti Kneafsey with son Daniel Patrick, enjoyed a pleasant stay with the Roger Canals (Helen Lynch '66) last summer in their vacation home in Lake Willoughby, Vermont. Donald and Patricia Power Peterson returned to the States after a two-year stint in Saudi Arabia, and are living in Mantua, Ohio. The Class of '65 has the following lost members. If you know their whereabouts let us know:

Catherine Barone Fitzpatrick	Evelyn Lynch McTiernan
Mary Ann Barry Stevens	Sr. Ann McCarthy

During her visits to her obstetrician, Dr. Viscardi, Kathy Tierney Sandt wondered whether he had any SJC relatives. As she was being wheeled into the delivery room, she finally asked him. Yes, he is Joan Viscardi Coppola's brother. Kathy had her 4th son, Christopher Michael . . . We have two more classmates living abroad: Clare Kelly is in Dublin since September attending secretarial school while seeking a job. Ann Rochford is in Munich, studying German at the Goethe Institute and gradually making herself at home . . . Joanne Danaher Shea returned to teach at John Jay HS just for the Fall Semester . . . Megaly Lopez Lohnes, Bob and family interrupted Brownie and Cub Scout activities to visit Beth Evans Guarnieri and family in their new home in Richmond, Virginia . . . Barbara McDonald DiGiovanni, busy with her two sons, still jogs often and is active in her parish including running the church bookstore. She met Mary Lou Reilly Comer who just had a baby girl to add to her family of three sons . . . Elleen Jones Lavln and family have a gorgeous home in Belle Harbor, a few doors away from the ocean. Built in the early 1900's for the Levy bread family, the house boasts of its own billiards room, much stained glass and great tiled bathrooms . . . Mary Connolly Cava recently moved from the Bronx to Roslyn, LI . . . Frank and Janet Cornella Fabiano have just adopted their second little girl, Blythe Cornelia, and, says Janet, she was worth waiting seven years for! She looks just like her big sister, Hope. The Fabianos live in Elmira, New York, where Frank works for Corning Glass . . . Joe Marone, husband of Joan Connolly Marone has been appointed Principal of IS 27 on Staten Island. Joan has been teaching two years at IS 24, now that Kerrie, 9, and Marissa, 8, are becoming more independent . . . A second son, Peter, was born on November 7th to Jean Stephens Maffel and Neal. 1981 marks our 15th Anniversary. Our 10th reunion was very successful and we've had inquiries about getting together in '81. Please send us your ideas regarding this or if you would like to contact others for a reunion.

A luncheon-reunion hosted by Mary Ellen Freeley in September was enjoyed by twenty members of the class of '67. It was a delightful afternoon that ended all too quickly. Some news from those who attended— Bea Flynn Nocerino and her husband Anthony and son Christopher (12) met Judi Wenzinger Freler and her family at the Holiday Inn in Bermuda in August. Bea started teaching Kindergarten at St. Hedwigs in Floral Park and she and Anthony do In-Home Pre-Cana at St. Boniface in Elmont. Sue Peters Jaeger moved back east (N.J.) from Minnesota in February and is very happy! A second son, Erik, was born in Minnesota. Douglas, 5, just started kindergarten. Sue is reunited with her pal Angela Izzo Murphy, also a Jersey resident. Angela and Ed are on the Board of Directors of their son's nursery school, Renew leaders in their parish and have recently returned from a cruise to Bermuda. Their three sons Scott, 7, Gregory, 4, and Brian 3 also keep them busy. Judy Conlin Pickel spent the summer setting up a pre-school program in her parish in Massapequa Pk and teaches four year olds. Judy's son, Damien, 11, started seventh grade and daughter, Christina, 9, is in fourth. Her husband Jim will be ordained a Permanent Deacon in June. Margaret Courtney Gargiulo's son, John, 12, spent last Christmas in Scotland with a family friend. He enjoyed the experience of seeing how another family spends the holidays. Gena, 9, enjoyed going to Girl Scout Camp this summer. Kathy McCarten McCaffrey keeps busy with Pat's Cub Scout Pack and PTA work. Kathy and husband, Neil work with teenagers in the Antioch program in their parish. Mary Gail Bradley Monaghan lives in New Milford, CT and works as a nurses aide in Danbury Hospital. She is planning to go back next year for her nursing degree. Mary Gail visited Mary Jane McGoe Cosulich in Allston, Mass. where Mary Jane is teaching at a nursing program, and Janet Olekson McLeavey is in Kingston, R.I., where Janet and her husband Dennis teach at the Univ. of R.I. Mary Gail also brought news of Barbara Wall Banks who lives in New Haven. Her husband, Randy has a visiting fellowship at Yale. Joyce Marchetta Bisso and Richie spent three weeks celebrating their 13th anniversary in Europe. Lainie, 7, Peter, 4, and Diana, 11 months, stayed home. Joyce's new sidelines include Oriental and French cooking as well as aerobic dancing. Terry Patella Mannix unexpectedly met Agnes Boyle O'Leary this summer after their husbands befriended each other while attending Brooklyn Law School. Mary Anne Annuccl Williams and family spent two weeks in Southampton, L.I. this summer and is now taking classes in Aerobic dancing and Medical Office Management. Terry Perrone Bozza is still teaching 2nd grade CCD and plans to visit family in Florida for Christmas. Marie Anderson Provanzana teaches four year olds and will be moving to Columbus, Ohio next summer. She extends an open invitation to anyone passing through. Janice Mirabile Rao began a new job as Supervisor of Elementary Education for the Mount Vernon Public Schools, working with new teachers as well as developing a program for gifted students. Daughter, Jessica, 8, is in the 4th grade and very busy with gymnastics and dance lessons. Diane Fields Iannuzzi has been invited as a guest speaker at a Social Work Conference at Yale. Anne Santich Cullinane attended our reunion with her brand new daughter and was accompanied by Kathy Tighe Clark who came all the way from Massachusetts. Also present were Helen Kustowska Hefler and Priscilla O'Connell Franzese. Mary Ellen Dubiel Freeley and family are enjoying their new vacation home in Elka Park, N.Y. about 5 miles from Hunter Mt. We have news of Marge Flynn who is a speech pathologist and lives in Madison, Wisconsin; and Jackie Smith Herchenroder who is a junior high school Math teacher in North Merrick. This year she is participating in a special program for the gifted. During her non-working hours, Suzy, 3, and Eddy, 1, keep her and Jerry very busy. Helen Zillich Parker, Chuck and their three children are living in Ocean, N.J. where Helen has an insurance broker's license. We also have letters from those unable to attend: Ann Allison Murphy wrote from California where she is employed by Mason McDuffie Realtors and offered to help anyone moving out west, or internationally. Call her at home (707) 745-9080. Carolyn Krama DelGaudio who still lives in Rochester with her three children is doing very well. She enjoyed a visit from Ellen Kleasel Gallagher, Ed and Elizabeth in June. A letter from Charleen Nicolosi Peterson, now living in Columbia, S.C. told of her activities with Billy, 6, Rich, 2, and Catherine Mary, 6 months. Jean Mirenda Landaker wrote from Marietta, Georgia of her imminent move to 901 N.W. 37th Ave., Delray Beach, Florida. She enclosed a newspaper clipping with a photo of Christine, 8, Eddie, 5, and Nicole 19 mos. in a neighborhood parade. Alice McKenna Kelly wrote from Westfield, N.J. of her recent trip to Toronto for a soccer tournament her 8 year old was in. Best wishes are in order for Julia Vahey on her recent marriage to Martin Shea. Both Julia and Martin are officers for Morgan Guaranty Trust Company. We seem to have lost touch with Mary Kelly, Mary DelGalzo Noto and Monica McEnroe McCabe as their invitations were returned because "undeliverable". Please let us know where you are. Any other '67ers who have not heard from SJC lately, do help us update our mailing list. Jennifer, daughter of Susan Daly Glamundo has begun her 8th consecutive year of progressive swim classes at the Easter Queens YMCA. She has achieved the rank of "Flying Fish"—truly Olympic material. Elizabeth Giordano Shambach writes that the family has been enriched and blessed with twin boys, Michael and Philip born January, 1980. They join Mary, 9, and Chris, 6, for a lot of fun, confusion, and love. Sr. Alice Byrnea, O.P., sister of Peggy Byrnes '63 has been made principal of St. Ignatius in Hicksville. Alice attended SJC for a year and was a bright, resourceful public relations assistant to Sr. Joseph Damlen in her short stay. Alice has her MA in English from Catholic U.

Mary Alleva Belli and Peter welcomed their second child, Jennifer Anne, on August 21st, who is sister to Michelle Marie age 5. Michelle is in Maureen Quinn Scherer's kindergarten religion class at St. Louis Church in Sound Beach. Dr. Frances Panchok Berry and John welcomed their first child, Andrea Marie on November 11, 1980. Delighted Panchok grandparents flew to Texas for a fortnight's visit. Toni Tatta Ohle's Louis, 7, and Allison, 2, are child models. They've appeared in catalogues: Spiegel, J.C. Penny, Montgomery Ward and magazines: American Baby, Parents and others. Allison is in a Johnson & Johnson commercial on TV. We'll be looking for them, Toni. Louis is in 2nd grade at St. Helena's, Bronx, where Toni substitutes and assists in the school library.

Catherine Colgan Stanton, 1134 East 27th Street, Brooklyn, NY 11210.

Ingrid Balady moved to West Street in Brooklyn. She was promoted to Associate Staff Analyst in the Police Department and is involved in labor contract negotiations and grievances in the Police Department. She loves this fascinating work and her office staff is wonderful. Ingrid would like a get-together with classmates for "chat and chow." A most important day for Steve and Denise O'Donnell Trynosky was April 2nd, 1980 when John Paul and James Andrew were born. They join big brother Stephen who was four in August. The Trynosky family live in Fairlawn New Jersey. Ann Margaret was born February 13 to Margo Murphy O'Brien. Patrick is still in the clouds somewhere. Marcy Boyle has just been appointed director of real estate for the Metropolitan Transportation Authority.

Winifred Radigan, 479 75th Street, Brooklyn, NY 11209, 680-2742.

Jeannette Stanbrough McCarthy, 204-37 9th Avenue, Rockaway Point, NY 11697, 634-4847.

Judi Kuhn Pregot's two daughters are growing so quickly—Suzanne started Nursery School in September and Kristine is nearing two. Judi and Michael live in Holden, near Worcester, Massachusetts. Barbara Ridzi Yovine just finished a year as President of the Board of Trustees of Tri-Village Nursery School in Delmar, but still has to finish a year of a 3-year term on the Board. Barbara is a volunteer at Homagrad School, working in 6-year old Michael's classroom as Room Mother and doing small-group instruction. Pat Nolan Synan began her 11th year of teaching at P.S. 31, Brooklyn. Julie Reilly Kennedy is on maternity leave from the same school. Pat Worsdale Malo's son, J.V., who is five, started kindergarten in September. Marilyn Indelicato D'Antoni lives on Staten Island but teaches languages in Elizabeth High School in Elizabeth, New Jersey. Fred also works in NJ and is chairman of the Science Department in Cranford HS. Anthony, who is seven, is in second grade at St. Joseph Hill Academy. Marilyn would love to hear from old friends. She is in touch with Maria Parascandola Bua who also lives on Staten Island. Brian Edward was born to Tom and Barbara Ridzi Yovine and joins his six year old brother, Michael who started 1st grade. Tom has been appointed Account Vice President of Institutional Sales at Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis in Albany. Bill and Pat Sullivan Schnelder returned to L.I. after living in England for 18 months. There they were visited by Marc and Carol McGlenn Anders, while in Britain. Carol, an English major, visited all the literary high-points. Marc is in Japan on an 8 months' language fellowship and Carol hopes to visit him in the Spring. Pat received her Ph.D. in Biology in January 1979 from CUNY.

Barbara Ridzi Yovine, 150 Winna Road, Delmar, NY 12054, (518) 439-2062.

Kathleen Flanagan Brolly, 3 Keswick Lane, Plainview, NY 11803.

Mary Mona Dorney, 141 Park Avenue, Williston Park, NY 11596.

You probably remember Patricia Kustarbeck Steinberg who matriculated with us in 1967, but later withdrew. Patricia lives in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania with her husband, a corporate lawyer, and Ricky who is "the big two". Pat received her BA from Queens College and her MA and MSLS from Villanova. Over the years she has been a math teacher, staff administrator and training director of Fidelity Bank. She is now an Educational Consultant in Swarthmore. Pat joins the Alumni Association as an associate member. Rosemary Pesce, who teaches third grade at St. Rita School, L.I.C., is taking courses at Queens College for certification as a Paralegal. Dorothy Comparato Francis teaches Special Ed. in P.S. 185, Brooklyn. She's in touch with Rita and Betty Bartoloma '73, both of whom teach English in McKinley Jr. High. Marilyn Jaeckel works for the Telephone Company in Maintenance and Repair. She makes in-house repairs for the company. Marilyn resigned as class agent and Pat Garvey could use help. Here's a challenge to English majors to use their journalistic skills! Write the alumni office. Last December 27th, Melissa was born to Sol and Carole Palumbo Anelli which delighted Stephanie, who was three at the time. Peggy Fennell Schiebel and Linda Schmid McMahon '72 and families went to Vermont this summer to visit Peggy Reilly. It's now the end of November and they haven't left yet! More converts to life in the lush Green Mountains! Annie O'Rourke was up to visit all of them not long ago. Vermonters were thrilled to get snow early in November! Ellen Collins has been Mrs. Michael Belfiore for several years, but we just learned of her new name and address in the early part of the year. They live in Valley Stream. Remember! Next year will mark our tenth year since graduating from SJC. The following is a list of classmates who are lost. If you know their whereabouts please write or phone the alumni office.

Once again the urge to travel seems to overwhelm us. Cathy Steinman and Dianna Plwinski found themselves in England again and revelling in the unbelievably beautiful English countryside. They travelled from London to the tomb of Henry VII at Windsor, to the quaint village of Stow-on-the-Wold (Church on the Hill) in the rolling green cotswolds and they returned to the land of Robert Dudley and his Elizabeth. Brian and Mary Ellen Gaffney Kenny and Mark and Paul, are resting after finishing the renovation of their attic into a lovely bedroom. Election day saw Mark dutifully recording his vote on the model voting machine set up at the polls. Home hunting on LI are Bob and Mary Monaco Pozarycki who are looking for a spot to try their hands at growing plants. (Our classmates are always looking for the different way!) They welcomed Robert Michael II into their home on June 11th. Diane Kelfy O'Connor teaches 2nd grade in Sacred Heart Elementary school in Dover, NJ. Elizabeth Tracy O'Brien also teaches 2nd grade—in Corpus Christi, Queens. Steve and Lorraine Deslano Faughnan have a new addition, Stephen, born in September. Julia Feraudo married Ernest Mann in November 1979 and honeymooned in San Francisco and Hawaii—really beautiful. Julia teaches 2nd grade at P.S. 180. Diane Wojszwilo Mulhern now lives in East Northport where her family was increased to four with the arrival, in March, of blonde, blue-eyed Karen Elizabeth. The Mulherns took a relaxing trip through Amish country and plan making one into Connecticut. Linda Schmid McMahon has moved to Vermont with her three children. Anne Gregory and Miriam McMahon continued their survey of Americana, thoroughly enjoying a summer trip to Nashville, Tenn. and the Ole' Opry House, Henry Clay's home at Ashland, Kentucky and of course the blue grass Kentucky Horse Park and Jackson's Hermitage. Ann has been teaching at St. Augustine Grammar school since graduation. Sister Josephine Ollimpleri professed her perpetual vows as a Sister of St. Joseph on August 23, 1980. In 1974 Therese Camack moved to North Carolina to work for the Dept. of Social Services where she met Kevin Collins, also a New Yorker. In 1976, she moved back to the Big Apple and is working for Charter Publishing, as manager of Human Resources Development. In 1978 Therese married Kevin who is a therapist at Bellevue. Therese asked about Linda Castellano, Ellen O'Donnell and Lena Maxline Bailey. The first two didn't finish SJC. Lena went back to Jamaica, but mail to her there has been returned. If you have any news let the Alumni Office know and we'll forward it. Chris Guardia Kopyt's new arrival and first child, Lauren Beth, has Chris putting her Child Study skills to work. We wish to thank Cathy Fay for her years of service as class agent. Cathy resigned this year.

Dianne Piwinski, 188 Java Street, Brooklyn, NY 11222, EV3-6847.

Christine Guardia Kopyt, 77-10 Pitkin Ave., Ozone Park, NY 11417, 845-4352.

Catherine Holzmans Stein, 763 Carroll Street, Brooklyn, NY 11215, 638-1483.

Kathleen Lavin, 860 East 37th Street, Brooklyn, NY 11210, GE4-1644.

Marie Nogan Desiano, 9 Rose Avenue, Glen Cove, NY 11542, (516) 671-1395.

Celeste Rebecchi Kaden and Steven purchased a home in Floral Park. They hope to be moved in by November. Diane Scagnelli Malanowski still lives in Spring Valley, Ohio. Al, a captain in the Air Force, is pursuing a PhD there. Jean Marie was born to Diane on November 1st to the delight of Susan, 4½. Last spring Diane taught Introduction to Business Math at Sinclair Community College and hopes to teach again next spring. If anyone is in the Dayton Area Diane would like you to call and stop by. Barbara Marlin Glebel decided to take a year's leave of absence from teaching at St. Margaret's to spend more time with her son, Brian. Barbara Ortner Punzl and Vito moved to Havertown, Pennsylvania. Vito is teaching Chemical Engineering at Villanova. Linda Borelli Ridzi has a new baby, born August 22nd, named John Paul. Linda spends a lot of time helping little Frank get off to a good start in the Dillon Center. "It is so wonderful being back to St. Joseph's on a regular basis," she writes. Frank Sr. starts a different position with the Telephone company. Evelyn Pape Laurenceau, who lives in North Miami, Florida, is a full-time French and English teacher at a Catholic High School. She, her husband, Gul, and three children enjoy boating every weekend in their 22 foot boat. Mary Lou Hiller is still raving about the glorious beauty of Lake Louise and Banff, part of her summer junket to the great Northwest. Nick and Karen Macri Truncellito had a delightful cruise to Caracas, Venezuela this summer. Carol McBride Luckam finished her year as an intern in Government with the commonwealth of Virginia and is now a State Job Analyst at the Central State Department of Personnel and Training, Office of Compensation Management. Carol will work with all the Human Resource Agencies: Health, Welfare, etc. Carol is also half way there with an MBA while husband, John, attends Dental School in Richmond. They both love the social life in Richmond, Virginia. Michael and Teresa Ryan Sefchek are settled in their home in Woodbridge, New Jersey. Michael is now 4 and James was born last year. Kevin and Dorothy Enny Michels '73 have been in London since 1978 where Kevin works for the Irving Trust Company. Because his work takes him to Germany and Italy, Dorothy applied for and received a teacher's license for the British School System. However, she presently teaches in the American Community School where a variety of nationalities attend. "I thank SJC and the teachers there who really prepared me for these challenges," Dorothy writes. The Michels have travelled throughout Europe and England on holidays. Dot misses home but loves hearing from classmates and keeps in contact with Marcella Maher Frelsen, Beth White McCue and Maureen Woods Blesly.

Joan Denauski Halpern, 94-19 85th Street, Woodhaven NY 11421, 441-8946.

Linda Borelli Ridzi, 72 Windsor Place, Brooklyn, NY 11215, 499-5540.

Catherine Forgione Zaic, 1 Kingsmere Lane, Marlton, NJ 08053, (609) 983-7494.

Maryanne Carrino Besheer, 1632 East 36th Street, Brooklyn, NY 11234, 627-8967.

1974

Denise Tierney is living in Mt. Sinai, New York and working in Vocational Rehabilitation. She is also studying counseling. Sr. Vicky Castagna, CSJ, moved into a house in St. Mary's Parish, Manhasset which she shares with a small group of sisters of St. Joseph. Vicky will be responsible for forming a guidance program at the parish elementary school. Betty McCullough has a new position with the Board of Ed. For the past few years she taught Math at Tilden HS, as well as holding a position of Dean. In her new assignment Betty will be involved in instruction and counseling at a center for high school drop-outs in Greenwich Village. Betty attended Monmouth College last summer and was in San Francisco for a Convention for Math Teachers. Diane Romano has been a member of NOW, Ridgewood Chapter, for two years. She has attended Feminist consciousness raising and hopes to run a session in their Adult School if women are interested. Sr. Linda Pero has resigned as class agent and we want to thank her for the years of service she has given us. Janet Labuda left the halls of academe (teaching high school history) for the more broadening experience of Customs Official at Kennedy International Arrivals! Having tried it out for a summer stint (it would take a few hours to hear her hilarious and grim stories about the world's varied peoples and customs) Janet was accepted on a permanent basis and is now at the training center for United States Civil Service, Glynco, Georgia. She is taking Federal Constitutional Law, court systems, behavior science, as well as target practice (watch out!), karate and various assorted phys ed. Weekends find her exploring Florida, Georgia's famous swamps, Jekyll Island and so forth. Janet is due home in December when she will take a short cruise with Margaret and Joan Vincent on the Queen Elizabeth II. She'll then report back to Kennedy for full duty. Dolores Costello spent her September-October vacation in California this year—going to San Francisco, Yosemite Park, Carmel, Big Sur, Los Angeles, San Diego—in short "doing-up" the west coast. History majors are always thorough! Kathy Renck enjoyed a brief respite last spring in Bermuda . . . but alas, 'twas a rainy spring. Sister Mary Jane Kelly, O.P. is a Spiritual Director at Christ the King High School.

1974 Brentwood

First of all I would like to apologize for not keeping up with anniversaries, births and such information. I am sure we have all come a long way since 1974. The news I am about to report is somewhat dated, but still interesting: Charlene Miele Palmer, Christina Hamluk Norton and Sue Lyon Kane are all married.

Chris and Sue are currently teaching. Joe and Regina (O'Donnell '75) Royal are living in Virginia. I ran into Peter Saal a few weeks back and he tells me he is still with C.W. Post, Main Campus. Penny Pepe is working as a youth counselor and is director of a Youth Service Program in Oakdale. As for me, I am currently employed by National Bank of North America, Melville. Keep in touch and send some information.

We miss Nancy Solomito who moved to Florida with her family and could not attend graduation. If anyone knows Nancy's new address, please send it to me (Maria Shehi). Maria Gaudio Shehi is a Charge Nurse (Newborn Nursery) at Nassau County Med Center. At the beginning of her last year at St. Joseph's Maria did an independent study in Community Health. It consisted of post-card and telephone contact—beginning at the time the parents and new baby are discharged from the hospital. This type of community health service has become permanent at Nassau County Medical Center in East Meadow and has the full support of the Division of Perinatology. Maria is also active in the Music Division of Parents' Association at the high school in Levittown. She helped to start that organization ten years ago, maintaining a full-time job and attending school at the time. With more time now, she has accepted the presidency of the Association this year. William Ortiz was married on September 6th to Susan Young of Islip, a Clinical Programmer for St. George's University, School of Medicine. William works for a custom brokerage at JFK International Airport and is getting a lot of valuable experience in World Trade. However, he continues to take Civil Service tests dealing with law enforcement. Mary Ann Curti is Patient Care Supervisor in Home Health Agency. She is working on an alumni committee for the Middle States accreditation.

OF THE CLASS OF 1921

The Class of 1921 received degrees at the Brooklyn Academy of Music on June 16th of that year. On that date this year, we will have a Mass offered for the classmates who have gone before us. Verum ad Finem is our class motto and it is but fitting in this, our 60th anniversary year, that our prayers be our expression of fidelity and affection for Maureen Bingham Brady, Helen C. Caulfield, Dr. Helen A. D'Albora, Sr. Consuela Marie (Mildred Duffy), Agnita Duffy O'Connor, Helen Livellara, Marian McKenna Doyle, Florence C. Newman, and Catherine Shannon. In prayerful gratitude we will also have a Mass offered for the priests, sisters, and laity who were our teachers during our college years.

We could write reminiscences of our days at St. Joseph's, but this is not our true purpose. Our purpose is rather to give an objective overview of the doings of the members of the Class of '21 for the period of sixty years — not to credit us individually, but rather to present a mosaic of our collective accomplishments.

We enrolled in a new, struggling and little known institution — St. Joseph's College — and it became very dear to us. Our teacher of history was Dr. Molloy (later Bishop). It was one of his delights to tell us, now and then, a thrilling, haunted—house type of story and then laughingly to leave us without disclosing the much awaited climax! Father Dillon (later Monsignor) began his teaching career at the College with our class, and the Sister Registrar who advised us of his coming, described him as the handsomest priest in the Diocese.

We had a Literary Society which honored Agnes Repplier, Aline Kilmer, and many others; we held dances with decorations bought at and carried from Wallabout Market. One such decoration, a Christmas tree, poorly set in a pail, fell during the dance with no injury (Deo Gratias!) except to our pride! Before some other social event the College custodian quit and, along with other household tasks, we carried small rugs down the elegant staircase to beat them clean in the great outdoors! For our exclusive use in Senior Year we were given a small room which we called our "Sanctum" — and no two by four area was ever more revered. These are memories, but to reveal more of them is not, as we have said, the purpose of this article. We want rather to tell with pride and with gratitude of the accomplishments of the Class of '21. (If any is not mentioned, it is due to forgetfulness, and that is very understandable!)

Three of our members entered the religious life: one as a Religious of the Good Shepherd, another a Sister of the Blessed Sacrament, and the third as a Grey Nun of the Sacred Heart. Their work for God has, as of this date, totaled well over 150 years. One worked for the Home Missions and wrote a book on the life of Katherine Drexel, the foundress of her Order. Another, as Chairman of the English Department and Dean, did most of her work at D'Youville College; and the third has been for over fifty years a missionary in China and Hong Kong.

Our class at the start numbered eighteen. One of our original members left to attend Trinity College; one left for other pursuits; and one transferred from Hunter College to St. Joseph's in our sophomore year. Eight of our number married and are honored in their children. Nearly all of us have lived in the city and its environs. However, we did have one who has worked in Washington, D.C.; one had lived in Canada for some years; and one, as already mentioned, has served in China and Hong Kong.

Two of our classmates have become successful business people, one of them in Government. Many of the others with M.A.'s in the fields of French, English, Latin, History, and Economics, entered the teaching profession and taught in the New York City high schools. One studied Library Science and served for many years as librarian in the public school system. An M.A. in Theology was, for one, of assistance in teaching and in publications and other works connected with Home Missions. We were the first class to have an alumna earn a Ph.D. It was awarded in English by the Catholic University and was used in the field of college teaching and administration.

In other professions, we had an M.D. who served St. Joseph's in student examinations and in the Child Study Department. Another member, an attorney with a Doctorate in Juridical Science, worked exclusively with youth. She was appointed by the Mayor to the New York City Youth Board, on which she served as representative of the Catholic Youth Organization.

We had the first Alumnae Trustee on the College Board; we had a winner of an International Women's Award for Community Activity; we had a speaker at the College Commencement; and we had a member elected to Who's Who of American Women. Under the auspices of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, a member of our group chaired a course on the "Techniques of Communism" given by the late Louis Budenz. Can we not say, with modesty, that we have served our Alma Mater well?

On her recent visit from Hong Kong, Sister Francis of Assisi had a visit with all but one of her classmates. This required travel to Washington and to Sheffield, Massachusetts, as well as meetings in the New York area. Unfortunately, a visit to Sister Mary Geraldine at her Motherhouse in Yardley, Pennsylvania, could not be arranged.

The members of the Class of '21 who are enjoying a 60th anniversary are: Sister Mary Geraldine (Agnes Byrne), Grace Byrne Hill, Helen Campbell, Sister Mary Francis of Assisi (Eva Flinn), Eleanor Howard O'Leary, Ruth McCormack Schneider, Catherine O'Hale Dwyer, and Grace A. Reynolds.

We remember our former teachers with gratitude and affection; we hold the College and its present faculty in pride and esteem, our deceased members in loving remembrance, and one another in a bond — a resolve to remain Verum ad Finem.

Sr. George Aquin and Dr. Bernadette Garvey '26

Salute to Bernadette M. Garvey, Ph.D.

In the midst of this celebration of the achievements of our students, alumni, and faculty, there is one person whose personal accomplishments and devotion to St. Joseph's College merit a very special mention. St. Joseph's College and Delta Epsilon Sigma, in particular, have for many years been the recipients of the generous and enthusiastic support of Dr. Bernadette Garvey. Today, St. Joseph's would like, in a small way, to say thank you for all she has done to further the goals of the College and of Delta.

During her busy and highly successful professional career in the New York City Board of Education, Bernadette has always exemplified qualities of excellence, dedication to scholarship, and service. These values have characterized her life and her work, from her days as an active, involved undergraduate at SJC, to the present.

Bernadette's achievements are numerous and impressive indeed. After receiving her B.A. in Math from St. Joseph's, she went to Fordham where she earned her Master's degree. Bernadette revealed the range of her intellectual interest and competence by continuing her graduate studies at St. John's University, where she received a Ph.D. in English Language and Literature.

This interdisciplinary background was an excellent preparation for the challenging position of Administrative Assistant of Gompers Vocational High School, which she held for a number of years. Her exceptional talents were early recognized by the New York City Board of Education, and she was invited to serve as Assistant Administrative Director of the Office of Instruction, and was then promoted to the position of Executive Assistant to the Deputy Superintendent of Schools. In each of these pivotal posts, Bernadette sought to approach the problems and challenges of administering the public school system with the commitment to excellence and Christian values which has characterized all her endeavors.

Although her professional responsibilities were numerous and demanding, Bernadette found ample time to share her talents in many other areas. For many years, Bernadette was a key member of the Catholic Teachers' Association, and also participated in the Academy for Public Education. Her volunteer work for the Propagation of the Faith has been tireless — it is well known that she has travelled from Long Island to Brooklyn once a week for a number of years to fulfill her commitment to the missionary work of the Church.

Bernadette has been an outstandingly loyal alumna of SJC, serving as President of the Alumnae Association for two years, and participating in countless alumnae activities. Not only the Alumni but the Board of Trustees has received bountifully of her talent and resources. A trustee emerita, Dr. Garvey's active trusteeship covered the period of rapid growth of the College and the concomitant period of self study. She was a distinguished member of the 1973 Middle States Self-Study Committee. Her knowledge of both the New York City educational system and the College has been invaluable in the development of College policy.

Bernadette has always been an indefatigable supporter of Delta Epsilon Sigma on campus. She was elected National President of Delta Epsilon Sigma, and the grace and efficiency with which she served redounded to the honor of her alma mater. She has encouraged the growth and development of the Epsilon Chapter. She has never stinted in sharing her time, her energies, and her many gifts; and our presence here today is, in no small measure, attributable to her patient and generous interest.

I wish to take this occasion to express my personal thanks and sincere affection for her constant availability not only to St. Joseph's, but to me as President. A patient listener, a keenly intelligent analyzer, Bernadette has responded with warmth and cogency to questions I have raised.

By her own achievements, and the example she has given of loyalty, commitment to principle, and dedication to values, Bernadette M. Garvey has truly earned the gratitude and admiration of all members of the St. Joseph's community. It is our hope that this small token will serve as a visible symbol of our very deep affection and esteem.

PAPAL AWARD

Rosemary Sheridan '31 receiving award from Terence Cardinal Cooke

The highest Papal honor a laywoman can achieve, the award Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice, was conferred on Rosemary Sheridan, of the Jubilee class of '31, by Cardinal Cooke on December 10. Rosemary's leadership abilities in the field of Family and Child Welfare earned this unusual distinction.

Rosemary Sheridan graduated from St. Joseph's with a major in Mathematics and a minor in Education. In 1935 she received a Master's degree in Social Work from Fordham, then continued her studies at the New York School of Social Work. In 1978 she completed the Not-for-Profit Management Institute of the Columbia University School of Business and School of Social Work.

Rosemary served as an Administrative Consultant and Assistant in the Department of Child Care, Archdiocese of New York, and was the Director of Home Finding at the New York Foundling Hospital. She was at one time District Supervisor of Family Service and Supervisor of the Catholic Guardian Society, Brooklyn Catholic Charities. She held the position of Director of Catholic Child Welfare in Omaha, Nebraska.

In 1957, Rosemary received professional recognition as Supervisor of the Year from the New York State Welfare Conference. This was for the development of an innovative and creative program as Director of the Child Placement Prevention Unit.

The Papal Award was given on her retirement as Executive Director of St. Cabrini Home, a position she had held since February 1972. During her tenure she established psychiatric programs for severely disturbed adolescent boys and girls at the institution, and was instrumental in the founding of the East Park Union School District.

Clare T. Bauch '45

New ALUMNI FUND Secretary

The Alumni office was very fortunate to have Clare Bauch step into Mary Whelan Phelan's place as Alumni Fund Secretary. Clare works two days a week to handle the contributions which you send in response to our appeal. Although it is quite a change from her position as Assistant Principal of Richmond Hill High School (1965-1980), she has been taking the vagaries and pressures of the job in stride.

Clare has served the college and the Alumni Association in many ways as member of the Executive Board, President of the Association, and Chairman of the Queens Chapter and chairman and member of numerous committees.

Miss Sheridan serves as Member of the Board for Cardinal McCloskey School and Home, the Pius XII Youth and Family Services and the Board of Education West Park Union Free School District. She has served on the Child Care Advisory Committee of Dutchess Community College, the Advisory Board of St. Joseph's School for the Deaf, the Technical Advisory Committee of the Arthur Lehman Counselling Service and the Board of Education of the Rhinecliff Union Free School District.

Rosemary is a member of the National Conference of Catholic Charities and the National Association of Social Workers. She is a New York State Certified Social Worker and a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers of NASW.

Rosemary's niece, Eileen T. Sheridan, who holds the Blanche A. Knauth Scholarship, is in the Class of '84 at St. Joseph's College.

An Acting Career

Catherine Jacobsen Bruno '71

In a midday interview, Catherine Jacobsen Bruno, '71, found time to talk of her career as an actress. It is a life full of uncertainties; built into every job is the certainty that it will end.

The past few weeks have been unusually hectic, for Catherine has had parts in two different short-run shows. The first, an Argentinian play, has an eight o'clock curtain in St. Clement's Theater on 46th Street. When it is over, she has to rush to the West Side Arts Theater on 43rd Street for a 10:30 P.M. curtain on a comedy revue entitled Serious Bizness. This show has been well received, and may possibly have an additional run.

Catherine Jacobsen matriculated at St. Joseph's in 1966. After her Freshman year, she entered the novitiate of the Congregation of St. Joseph, and there found her vocation — for the stage. The novices put on plays for recreation, and Catherine acted in all of them. She loved it! After two years, she left the novitiate and returned to St. Joseph's College. She received a B.A. in English Literature in 1971. She particularly loved a course in Shakespeare given by Sister Mary Florence. In it she received her first exemption.

But it was Sr. Grace Marie in the Theater course at St. Joseph's who was the most encouraging and positive influence on her growing desire for an acting career. While at the college she had roles in the Drama Club productions of "U.S.A." and "Member of the Wedding." During rehearsal for "U.S.A.", a young assistant director approached her with, "I know you from somewhere". A line, of course — she had never seen him before. Or so she thought. Later that evening he remembered that they had both taken part in a forensic competition for high school seniors, she from Our Lady of Perpetual Help, he from Xavierian. He won the contest. In 1972 he won Catherine. She married him, Richard Bruno, also an actor and a talented director.

Serious about acting, Catherine joined a theater group that worked out of a loft in SoHo. They were a dynamic, radical "doing our art" group, using their own material for their short-run off-off Broadway productions.

Eventually, of course, the group began to break up. Catherine knew she had talent but needed some serious training. She enrolled at NYU for a three-year program in Fine Arts. In her last year she did some teaching there, and earned her Master's degree in 1978.

Three weeks out of acting school, Catherine lined up to audition for Edward Albee, who was producing seven of his one-act plays to go on tour. Incredibly, she was chosen for the cast. The show went on the road with this group, and travelled throughout the United States, and to Canada and Hawaii. They played on university campuses and in small towns, in well-equipped auditoriums and on improvised stages, before large and small, sophisticated and simple audiences. Catherine feels that the opportunity of being directed by Edward Albee and the experience of touring were tremendously valuable. The challenge of working with people under varied conditions and the exposure to varied audiences truly developed her art.

Catherine is considering film work for a time, because of the greater exposure it offers, and the greater remuneration. Although she has no desire to enter the field at present, television is another option. But her first love is the live stage.

The outstretched neck is a greeting

In 1974, I became the owner of a gaggle of geese. My husband, Lew, gave them to me for Easter, just as he had given me eighteen ducks some years before. If this sounds like grounds for divorce or mayhem please understand that I am an animal lover and always have been.

We live on fifty-five acres of land in the Township of Westerlo, Albany County, N.Y. Our acreage includes woods, open fields, a stream and a large pond. Our mailing address is Greenville, a popular resort town for many New Yorkers.

My Easter gaggle came in two species of geese, Chinese and African. Chinese geese are pure white while Africans have grey or beige breasts and necks with barred white, black and grey wings and tail. Chinese bills and feet are orange while African bills and feet are black. The Egyptians are supposed to have developed the African geese. China has long been a center for a variety of ducks and geese. Both species have long slender necks, unlike domestic geese.

My new little friends were two weeks old and were balls of fluff. Naturally, they had to be kept warm and the best place was a cage in the living room. Geese are intelligent and indicated this by lining up nightly to watch the evening news on TV. They loved to be picked up and exposed to body heat. I fed them starter mash, grit for digestion and lots of water. Within weeks, they had outgrown their enclosure so we rigged up another in the basement until their feathers grew in completely and they could go into an outdoor barn.

On a warm day in June, we loaded the cage on a trailer and towed it to the pond. As I picked up each goose or gander and placed him or her on the ground, the bird ran right to me. They were imprinted with the idea that I was mother.

The geese are fully grown now and are large and beautiful. Each has a name and knows it. I did slip up on my choice of names once. Mai-Ling turned out to be male but he doesn't care as long as I carry him to the pond.

Geese stay together and are unhappy when separated. When a goose decides to lay an egg in the barn, the whole bunch trot in to wait until she has laid her egg and then off they go to graze or swim. They love to be clean and every feather must be pruned and in place. When they sleep, their webbed feet are tucked up under their wings while their long necks swivel around so that the head is protected by the wings also. They eat grass, insects, water plants, corn and bread. Each night I give them fresh water and corn in the little Dutch barn. They eat the bread out of hand.

We had several weeks of windy, bitterly cold weather this past winter and it was the first time I observed the geese to be uncomfortable out of doors.

I stain the barn yearly with a wood preservative and as soon as I am on the ladder, Kubla Kahn and Mai Ling spend their time untying my shoelaces and chuckling about it. It is an annual game.

Geese can be hostile and should not be bought as pets for small children. Care, understanding and caution provide happiness and safety to both creature and human.

Lew and I share another interest and that is Amateur Radio. In the 60's, we became interested in the 11 meter Citizen's Band for base to car communication. In the early years, CB was a pleasure to use, but it has deteriorated badly.

As our interest in CB decreased, our interest in Ham Radio increased. We took the code and theory tests and received our licenses. My call sign is WB2BWT or Whiskey Bravo 2 Bravo Whiskey Tango. We use Icom radios (2 meter) and use the frequencies represented by repeaters on Mt. Greylock, Mass., Chatham, Beacon, Cobleskill and Troy.

Some of the radio groups have emergency services in case of storms, road conditions etc. These services or "Nets" relay information and try to assist in every way when emergencies exist.

We have monitored on other radios in our "Shack" a conversation between a father in Massachusetts and a son in the Gulf of Tonkin. A priest in Peru talking to his father in Boston was another long distance call we have heard.

Geese or radios — one gives information and the other love. Take your choice or take both.

Customs Official

Janet Labuda '72

In search of a new career, after four years as a History teacher at Stella Maris, Janet Labuda '72, was encouraged by her sister, who works for the Treasury Department in Washington, to seek Government employment. "To me, the atmosphere of the Airport was always exciting," Janet said, "so I sought employment there first." Janet had successfully taken the PACE-Professional and Administrative Career Exam — so she was hired.

As a candidate for the law enforcement position of Customs Officer, Janet was sent to the "West Point" of Law Enforcement Training in Glynnco, Georgia, where she underwent training in law, crime, narcotics, firearms and self-defense.

Janet is stationed at Kennedy Airport and works by turns in the International Arrivals Building or the terminals of TWA, Pan Am, American Airlines or British Airways. Each week her shift changes and so does her location. Janet examines luggage brought in by international passengers. First, the passport and Customs Declaration form are checked for authenticity, accuracy and completeness — with the aid of computers. She questions passengers about foreign goods, examines luggage — looking for narcotics, excessive merchandise or prohibited products.

"Honesty is the best policy," says Janet. "There can be stiff penalties for those who get caught trying to bend Customs Laws and we catch a fair share of people who do this."

In her job, Janet has processed luggage of Sophia Loren, Princess Grace of Monaco and her son Prince Albert, Cheryl Tiegs, Piper Laurie, Jacques Cousteau, Tony Curtis and the entire string section of the New York Philharmonic. Some day, it could be you!

MEDICAL TEXT

Maria DiLorenzo Kearon '73

How does a doctor, a nurse or a therapist communicate with a patient who speaks only Spanish? A textbook, Medical Spanish — A Conversational Approach, compiled to deal with this problem, was published early this year. The authors are Maria DiLorenzo Kearon, an alumna and now full professor of Spanish at St. Joseph's and her husband, Thomas P. Kearon.

Maria received her bachelor's degree, summa cum laude, in 1973. She attended Fordham University on a teaching fellowship, earning a master's degree in Spanish in 1974. She continued at Fordham as an adjunct professor, and taught at City College, Medgar Evers and St. Joseph's as well.

While pursuing further studies for a doctorate at CUNY 42nd Street, Maria was asked by the Albert Einstein College of Medicine to teach medical students enough Spanish to enable them to communicate with their patients. As she began coordinating a program, she and her husband, also a doctoral candidate in Spanish, saw the need for a book, using materials they had developed. Given a six months' deadline, they worked feverishly to produce a text that would be helpful to all health practitioners.

The book, published in January, is not merely a manual or phrase book for "handy" reference, but a complete textbook, with emphasis on medical and technical terminology. With the growing Spanish-speaking population in many sections of this country, health-care professionals will welcome this valuable tool enabling them to speak Spanish at least on an elementary level in the areas they need. The Kearons have made a significant contribution to the very foundation of medical care — understanding.

Intrepid Traveler

"If my teachers accomplished nothing else, they turned me into a gypsy", writes Wilma Kohler of the class of '50. "I have been wandering for thirty years."

Wilma is not always a coddled deluxe tourist. Her trip last year to South America, her fourth, with her photographer friend Rose Mary Bader, was an exciting mixture of hardship and beauty, misery and delight —the kind of trip that fascinates and rewards the adventurous traveler.

After a seven-hour delay in New York, their Pan Am flight to Rio, translated them from summer to winter. But, though the beaches were empty, a sweater was adequate in the cool of the evening. The irritation of delay and waiting were soon forgotten in sightseeing tours, especially the breathtaking cable ride to Sugarloaf and Corcovado.

Paqueta Island could be reached by a charter cruise costing $35 or an hour-and-a-half ferry ride for 70¢. Our friends chose the latter and found that the ferry was escorted most of the way by playful dolphins. They hired a horse and carriage (there are no cars) and rode around this island of clean beaches and bright-colored houses. They found the Brazilian people gracious, friendly and helpful.

Next, they flew to Igassu Falls. They enjoyed the spectacular beauty of the falls from vantage points reached by walking on well-marked paths — and were caught in torrential rains. They recommend ponchos and plastic bags if you make the trip. But the views were worth the discomfort.

Another flight delay, then cancellation, and they took off for Posada, not by plane, but by bus. For hours they hurtled through the rain and the dark, with water running in the windows on to the sawdust covered floors. At the dinner stop (at 1:00 A.M.) the menu was cold ham and cheese sandwiches and Fanta. They survived another four hour ride to Posada and flew from there to Buenos Aires. Very little could be said of this city because they found it dull and expensive. On to Lima, which was noisy and crowded, but with many interesting churches: Santo Domingo, the Cathedral, San Pedro and San Francisco, with its mysterious catacombs.

On the flight to Cuzco, seats on the left side of the plane gave them thrilling views of the snow-capped Andes. The many Indians of Cuzco, who are descendants of the Incas, wear picturesque native dress. This interesting city is 11,200 feet above sea level and many of the travelers were unable to adjust and became ill. Wilma had no problems, thanks to Vitamin B15.

A four-hour train ride from Cuzco to Machu Picchu, at 8,000 feet, provided magnificent views of the Urubamba River and gorge. At Machu Picchu they climbed about the ruins, trying to absorb the beauty and recapture the spirit

Preschool Program

Mary K. Buckley '70

Mary K. Buckley '70 who is Reading Coordinator of the Public Schools in District 20, had been designated to organize and put into effect a comprehensive curriculum designed to give valuable preschool training to underprivileged youngsters. By offering experiences in mathematics, social studies, language arts, music, art and science at this early level, the program will attempt to lay a foundation for success throughout the school years. The work will be done on an individual basis wherever possible, and in small groups.

"Parent participation is the key ingredient for the success of the program," Mary says. "Parents will be oriented in health, nutrition, education, social services and other areas, so that they may learn how best to serve their children's developmental needs. Parents will work in the program in monitoring and guidance."

Mary points to the 18-year study conducted by the Carnegie Commission, of the Michigan Preschool Program. The study concluded that underprivileged children who have experienced quality preschool programs have a number of advantages which result in lower delinquency and dropout rates, better employment opportunities, less likelihood of committing crime, and less dependence on welfare.

Mary's training and experience qualify her for this challenging opportunity. She possesses two Master's degrees, one from Brooklyn College in Reading, and one from Pace University in Educational Administration and Supervision. At the Dillon Center, on a graduate assistantship, Mary worked for two years with four and five-year-olds. She has taught in the city school system in elementary and junior high schools. During the past year and a half she has served as an adjunct lecturer in Reading on the graduate level at Brooklyn College.

In 1978 Mary served a year as president of the Brooklyn Reading Council. She is active in numerous educational organizations, and is on the executive boards of Phi Delta Kappa at Pace and the Emerald Society of the Board of Education.

Elected President

Nuala McGann Drescher '58

Early in May, Nuala McGann Drescher '58 was elected to the Presidency of United University Professors' Local 2190 AFT. Nuala had campaigned hard for the office and was jubilant over her victory. She will represent 17,000 professors and academicians of the State Universities of New York on 32 campuses.

Dr. Drescher is a professor of 20th century history at Buffalo State University, where she started teaching in 1965. Her only regret is that she will have to give up teaching. The office of President demands working full time and Nuala sees a busy, demanding schedule ahead.

A graduate of St. Joseph's Class of 1958, Nuala continued to study at Delaware University and earned a Master's degree in American History in 1960. While teaching at Nassau Community College, she continued work towards a doctorate in the same subject, which she received in 1965.

This June, a book by Dr. Drescher entitled Engineers for the Public Good in the Buffalo District from 1775 to 1979, will be published by the Government Printing Office, Washington D.C. Nuala is also president of New York State Labor History Association.

Sister Mary Joseph

Sister Mary Joseph Flandrau SSND '62

It was the suddenness and untimeliness of Sister Mary Joseph's (Betty Flandrau) death that stunned her family and friends, her congregation, her students, her fellow classmates of the class of 1962 and the college family. We can't look to others for consolation. We must console ourselves that God drew her to Him after her short life which she lived to the fullest in His service and in service to others.

Betty Flandrau was a gifted, dynamic person whose call was to the religious life which she sought immediately after graduation. Entry was denied by several religious communities because of diabetes, but in 1964 she was received by the School Sisters of Notre Dame. She has been a valuable mathematics and science teacher for thirteen years in St. Peter's in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and for the last two and a half years in St. Saviour's in Brooklyn. Sr. Mary Joseph worked overtime with her students, not only in their studies but in their extracurricular activities as well, particularly in music and sports.

Betty's mother regrets that she cannot find her daughter's copy of the 1962 FOOTPRINTS with its many personal notes from classmates and friends. If it turns up, will you please forward it to the Alumni Office of the College, Brooklyn 11205?

COAST GUARD OFFICER

One of thirty female officers in the United States Coast Guard, Lorraine Penfold Appleton is presently on a three year assignment in Training Development.

After receiving her Bachelor's degree in History from St. Joseph's College in 1966, Lorraine attended Wayne University for a Master's degree in History. In 1968, she went to Hawaii and joined the teaching staff of St. Augustine's, a school run by Maryknoll sisters where she taught English to Junior high students. In her free time she attended the University of Hawaii and ultimately earned a Master's degree in Educational Psychology.

In 1973, she enlisted in the Coast Guard Reserve program and was sent to Yorktown, Virginia, for a two-weeks' training period. She was glad for this chance to visit family and friends. Lorraine returned to her teaching job in Hawaii and to yeoman duties with the Coast Guard on weekends. After two years, she asked for and received a commission as Ensign. Aware of her capabilities, the Coast Guard assigned her duties in the development and implementation of various training courses. She had many other interesting experiences such as cleaning up oil spills, boarding a Russian ship, inspecting water-front facilities, and supervising the loading of explosives.

When a long-term assignment was offered her, in 1977, Lorraine took a sabbatical leave and went to Alameda, California, where she taught two-week leadership courses to groups of 25 male reservists, both officer and enlisted. She thoroughly enjoyed this duty. After completion of the assignment, she returned once more to the classroom in Honolulu.

Looking for new challenges, she visited Coast Guard headquarters and asked for duty in Washington. She received a year's assignment which, after six months, was extended to three years, her current duty. In addition, under Coast Guard sponsorship she is enrolled at Catholic University for a doctorate in Educational Technology. These courses will be taken in off-duty hours.

Lorraine was married in February 1981 to Lt. Kenneth Appleton, USCG, and they bought a house in Washington. Ken has been in the Coast Guard for ten years and will soon be promoted to Lieutenant Commander. He will spend the next two years as a full time student in George Washington University, studying for a Master's degree in Public Administration.

that inspired these buildings. The hotel had made up a picnic lunch for them, much needed refreshment, for the return trip took five hours. The train had to climb back to Cuzco, at 11,000 feet, using a series of switchbacks which provided thrills as well as spectacular scenery. Wilma found the people of Peru friendly and quick to please, for they like North Americans.

After the excitement of Cuzco, the return trip to the U.S. seemed uneventful. Less avid travelers might have been sated, but Wilma and Rose Mary hope to return soon to Brazil and Peru, prepared to endure discomfort and hardship for the sake of the fantastic beauty and warm hospitality they found.

Ann Sokolowski '66 and Michelle Marye

Held in the loving arms of her mother Ann Sokolowski, four-month-old Michelle Marye was christened in April by Father Raymond Leonard in the Church of the Holy Child Jesus and was welcomed into the Christian community by a group of more than thirty relatives and friends.

Ann first met her adopted daughter when, on March 10th, she was carried off the plane at Washington airport. Michelle and an infant boy had started the long trip to their adoptive parents from Salvador, Brazil, that morning. They flew to Bogata, and from Bogata to Miami, then on to Washington where Ann waited. Within a few hours mother and daughter took the last flight of the journey to New York and to their home in Rego Park. "The poor little infant had jet lag," Ann says, and it was a few days before she became the smiling, alert, lovable baby she is.

For some time Ann had thought of adopting a child, but was hesitant about single-parenting. One of her co-workers told her of an Adoption Seminar. Ann attended it and her thinking changed to acting. She was referred to an agency in Washington and after some time and many disappointments was told of the baby in Brazil. Adoption procedures were a matter of course.

The little girl has come into a close and supportive family. Godmother for Michelle is twelve-year-old Catherine Mary, the adopted daughter of Ann's sister, Joan Sokolowski Comerford '54. After the baptism, relatives and friends returned to Ann's home to celebrate. She had prepared a sumptuous menu of international foods, Korean, Brazilian, Italian and Polish, and an exquisite, colorfully decorated four-tiered cake she herself had made.

Baby From Brazil

The many-sided Ann Sokolowski graduated from St. Joseph's in 1963, continued her studies for a year at Fordham and became an enormously popular teacher of Speech and Dramatics at John Adams High School.

Taking a break from teaching in 1967 Ann went to Korea where, under the Department of Defense, she ran a service club for enlisted men, coordinating U.S.O. tours, concerts, shows, dances and other recreation which were provided out of the earnings of the Post Exchange. While there she shared the anxiety and tensions of the "Pueblo Incident". She took the opportunity to travel to Japan, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Lampur and other exotic places.

In 1968 she returned to teaching at John Adams. The next year she added the duties of Assistant Dean and then Dean. Last September, to fulfill her plans of adoption, Ann took sabbatical leave.

Little Michelle is considered a resident alien until a year after her adoption is finalized, when she will become a U.S. citizen. "But she can never be president," Ann says.

Mother and daughter are doing well.

Guest Lecturer

Steven Cody '75

Steven Cody '75, returned to St. Joseph's College as guest lecturer on March 18, 1981. His lecture on Hypnotherapy and Psychotherapy, was sponsored by the Psychology Club and was open to the college community. The interested audience was absorbed by the subject and fascinated by the demonstration on hypnosis. Steven is a doctoral candidate on a research fellowship in Clinical Psychology at the University of Connecticut. In June 1977, he was married to Evelyn Pupplio '73.

MOVING?

If it's moving you are
Whether near or far
Let us be the first to know.
Our records we'll change
And we'll duly arrange
That your mail will continue to flow.
This will save us frustration
Will save us vexation
Will save us from pulling our hair.
It will save us from guessing
"No," "maybe" or "yes"ing
As to whether you're here or you're there.
So move all you need to
Just be sure that you feed to
Our office your latest address.
We'll get on the ball
And spring, summer or fall
Or whenever we go to press
You'll get all your mail
Unless the P.O. should fail
And that would be anyone's guess!

Spoke on Science Careers

On March 18th, Dr. Eileen Lanigan Nickoloff '64 visited the Chemistry Department and spoke to the students about careers in science. Eileen's experience has been very diversified. With a doctoral degree in Organic Chemistry, she has worked in biochemistry and clinical chemistry in university, hospital, and industrial settings. The students enjoyed her presentation of the work she is currently doing as director of the research and development in the immunoassay laboratory of Squibb & Co. in Princeton, New Jersey, and they appreciated her suggestions concerning career possibilities for science majors.

MIDDLE STATES STUDY

The Commission on Higher Education requires that members of the Middle States Association make an intensive study of its educational endeavors every ten years. By doing so, an institution appraises its educational effectiveness and looks for means to strengthen its work — primarily its intellectual work — and improve its institution.

St. Joseph's College has been in the process of self-study since Spring 1980 and has involved all components of the college, through the establishment of a steering committee, work groups and a timetable for their activities. Reports of the groups are now being examined and evaluated systematically.

Part of this self-study involves a survey of its alumni. In March a questionnaire was sent to every fifth member (alphabetically) of the classes of 1960 through 1979. The results of returns from this mailing are being computerized and will be included in the total self-study, and will ultimately be reported to you.

The aim of the study is to understand, evaluate and improve our institution and present our findings and constructive plans for improvement to the Middle State Evaluation Team for judgment on the educational effectiveness of the college in light of our stated objectives.

EASTER WEEK 1982

So many alumni have asked for a trip to England "like the students'", that we are making this Alumni Year. It will be a nine-day trip with five days in Oxford (bus trips through the country) and three-and-a-half days in London. If you would like to receive a folder with definite arrangements early in October, please mail this slip by September 1st to: Sr. Joseph Damien Hanlon or Sr. Margaret Jennings, St. Joseph's College, 245 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11205.

Please send more information on the trip to England.

CLASS NOTES

Deadline for Winter edition: October 25th

1920

Two of our members attended the Alumni Luncheon on May 2 in Douglaston, Adaline Canning and Dr. Amalia Simonetti. Dr. Simonetti heard from a Passionist priest, in Rome, that our classmate Annunziata Scibilia Anderson, passed away on September 4, 1977, and that her sister, Concetta, followed her one month later on October 4th. Please remember them in your prayers. We offer our sympathy to Adaline on the recent death of her sister, Florence Moore.

1924

Our last get-together was a luncheon just before Christmas. At that time, Theresa Dolan Janton was visiting her dear ones in Arizona and California. She will soon be coming north which is always an occasion for a meeting. George and Rita Fearon Bryan are staying with their daughter in Pennsylvania this summer. Their son, Rev. Paul Bryan CSSR will come to celebrate their wedding anniversary Mass. It was a happy day when our Alumni attended Mass concelebrated by Father Kilcoyne and Monsignor Diviney at Cathedral College on May 2nd, and the delightful luncheon thereafter. We extend to Monsignor Diviney our most sincere congratulations on his Fiftieth Anniversary in the priesthood. Mary St. John Murphy was one of four recipients of the Ubi Caritas award in our diocese, for her outstanding dedication and untiring efforts on behalf of the diocesan Golden Age Club; Alice McGrane Feeley and I attended the Mass which was celebrated by Bishop Mugavero. Recently, Mary attended the three-day Governor's Conference on Aging, in Albany.

Kathleen Dugan, 8802 Ridge Blvd., Brooklyn, N.Y. 11209, BE 8-0293

We were shocked and saddened by the sudden death of Helen Weiden McCarthy on April 21. Helen's sister, Sister Robertine Weiden '23 of the Sisters of Charity had died on March 2nd and Helen felt badly that she was unable to make the trip to Maryland for the funeral. Classmates attending the May 2nd luncheon were Marita Rockefeller Ryan, Margaret Crowley, Genevieve D'Albora Phillips, Agnes McShane Madden, Mary Greene, Helen Stewart Jameson, Bernadette Garvey and Barbara Eckles Catoggio. It was our fifty-fifth anniversary. Eleanor Dolan Reardon attended the Sigma Circle Reception on May 17th with Joan Reardon Dillon '56, her daughter. In February, Bernadette Garvey and Margaret Crowley stayed at Singer Island in Florida. Bernadette bought a condominium in Boca Raton, but will spend her summers in Mattituck. On May 3rd, Bernadette was presented with the Delta Epsilon Sigma key enclosed in lucite, by Sister George Aquin, in gratitude for her devoted service to the society of which she had been National President, then President of the S.J.C. chapter. In June, Mary Mirabella will go to a family reunion at her brother's home in Eugene, Oregon, where she will see her sister-in-law, Irene from Long Beach, her nephew and family from Denver and nieces from Canada and Washington. Loretta Colborne spent the winter in Ft. Lauderdale but is now in her Long Beach apartment which has a view of the ocean. St. Ignatius Martyr Parish in Long Beach recently honored Loretta, a former principal in the N.Y.C. Board of Education. She is a member of the Long Beach Catholic School Board, the Parish Council and the Rosary Altar Society. Eileen Murray Heaney had a good winter. Her children were in Florida Easter Week and visited Disneyland. One day in the laundry she was talking to a "delightful person" who, after conversation of Brooklyn and SJC, identified herself as Mildred Hynes Ryan '32. Sister Dolores Maria (Margaret Kelly), is well and sends love. In a welcome note from Gladys Reardon Hughes, Blairstown, N.J. were best wishes to all. Thank you, Doris Leavy, for a lovely spiritual bouquet at Easter. Barbara Eckles Catoggio's daughter Barbara Kullen, a lawyer, has been made a trustee of Manhattanville College. Husband, Richard, is a partner in Townley & Updike. They have four children. Daughter, Anita Trainor, has three little girls. Eloise is a buyer of junior sportswear for Avon Fashions. John and Agnes McShane Madden had a good winter. Easter was spent in Albany with Mary, Tom, Katie and Timmy. Before going to Laurel, I look forward to lunching with my highschool friend Sr. Thomas Francis, CSJ, Administrator of St. John's Queens Hospital. A Consulting Engineers' meeting took Hal and Marita Rockefeller Ryan to Chicago for a week followed by a visit with their daughter, Roberta, in Grosse Ile, Michigan. Roberta teaches Marine biology, at the University of Michigan. A meeting in Denver gave them a chance for a long visit with daughter Barbara, in Arvada, Colorado. She teaches in a nursery school, where her youngest child is a pupil. They all enjoyed dinner and a visit with Jossy Schrellan Eyre '54. Son Philip, from Port Washington, is President of Coap Planning, Inc. Marita's first grandchild, Patricia, entered Wheeling College this year. Last fall, Marita and Teen strolled along Fire Island Beach to Father Dillon's church and rectory. All around the buildings, paths and yard were the beautiful trees and shrubs that Father had planted, growing in fond memory of him. Forty-nine years ago, Father Dillon crossed from Saltaire to Baysshore, where he was met by Hal, who drove him to St. Francis de Sales in Patchogue, where he said Marita's and Hal's nuptial mass.

Many of the members of '28 are still making living worthwhile for themselves and for many others who are happy to have their help. Mary Keller Lawler has been helping Nyack Hospital achieve its 25 Million Expansion goal. She is Chairman of the Journal to be published in conjunction with their Annual Spring Ball. She spent Easter Week in Winnetka, Ill. with her son Traugott's family. In June she will attend the weddings of two of her grandchildren. Mary Manning Doherty and George celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary in March. This year they produced an abundant crop of oranges, and were successful in growing Clivia which is native to India. Mary is taking part in an AAUW group which studied California's history. Our other Californian, Evelyn Dotzler Felber complains of back breaking weeds, but finds solace by participating in a Holy Spirit Seminar. She and Joe are rejoicing at the arrival of their first great-granddaughter after seven great-grandsons. Kathy came with her parents to visit them when she was only a month old. The Felbers are also happy that their grandson Brian, who will be married in June will be living near them. Ethel Perkins Lee had a taste of California at Christmas when she spent the holidays there with her son, Frank. When she returned she resumed her volunteer work at Sayville Hospital. Back East, in Yorktown Heights, Tom and Mary Kelley Smith are enjoying the "empty nest". Their children and grandchildren live "all over". The Garden City Antique Show was previewed recently by Terry Devoe Creem and Dorothy Devereaux Ryan, two experienced collectors. Allie Ludder Martz is still doing the Long Island Circuit, writing and directing her well known plays. Ray Wilson Murphy retired and lives in Tom's River, N.J. Her sister Margaret Wilson Hemlin '29 has moved to Hawaii. This Spring Regina Peppard Fitzpatrick was the guest of the Class of '54, Bushwick High School where Regina had been Chairman of the English Department. The almost-impossible in this day and age was achieved by Monique O'Loughlin, Virginia Slack O'Loughlin's granddaughter who received 100% in the Math Regents. Marie O'Shea and Mary Lawler attended the Alumni Luncheon on May 2. Marie spent part of the winter in Fort Lauderdale where she met Margaret Berkery '39. Many members of '28 live in Florida. Recently Jeannette Farrell Amery and Ted visited Coral Gables to attend the First Communion of their granddaughter, Elizabeth. Jeannette attempted to stage a reunion there but distance, illness, and previous commitments prevented the Floridians from getting together. She was able to contact Dorothy Thompson Purcell at Tequesta. Dorothy is well now after a bout with virus. Rhoda Magnor Fitzpatrick had a visit in Boynton Beach with their son, Tom and his wife who will be leaving soon for a tour of Ireland and Scotland. Marge Hertel Cassidy and Joe are enjoying their retirement home in Ocala, Fla. Agnes Kelly Bryan and John visited Fort Lauderdale last winter, however they had left Florida before Jeannette and Ted arrived. Peggy Sullivan Fitzgerald is enjoying her new home in Fairhaven, Maryland.

We extend our sympathy to Mary Howard Parker whose sister, Katherine, died on March 13th.

Jeannette Farrell Amery, 1 Prospect Park Southwest, Brooklyn, New York 11215, 499-5262

Eileen McLoughlin Magilligan, 540 Third Street, Brooklyn, New York 11215, 768-7446

Allene Frase Newins was in Florida, as usual, this winter. Dorothy Moran Meeker and Eleanor Surpless O'Rourke spent a week with them. Margaret Wilson Hemlin moved to Honolulu to be near her daughter, Peg.

Marie Keegan, 109 Irving Ave., Floral Park, N.Y. 11001, 516-FL4-2182

Zita Hawkins Stoddart reported from Fla. that she had enjoyed many mini-reunions last winter with Betty Blake Campbell, Clare Stanton Sweeney, Margaret Reilly Parker, Mary Whelan Phelan and Mary Minor O'Halloran. Mary O'Halloran is doing very well after last year's serious operation and is enjoying the literary success of her daughter Kathleen who teaches in the Communications Dept. of Glassboro State College and writes for Cricket and Seventeen. She also had a book "The Beast in the Bathtub" published. Granddaughter, Barbara Ann, 17, has been accepted at Notre Dame. She has sold several articles to Seventeen including "Frankly Speaking" in the April issue. Classmates at the luncheon on May 2nd were Margaret Cosgrove, Elleen Cox, Sarah Crowley, Isabelle Donohue FitzGerald, Ruth Hagen Pette, Bernadette Hughes Carroll, Margaret Parker and Sister Ruth Willmann. A class luncheon is planned for early October.

Seventeen of us were present as jubilarians at the Alumni Mass and Luncheon on May 2nd and had a wonderful time: Marie Rickerby Blake, Mary Hodgins Clarke, Marlan Baltes Duncan, Margaret Murphy Johnson, Jeannette Kilpp, Julla McDonnell Kuehne, Laura Brennan Loughlin, Eleanor McLoughlin, Geraldine McMahon, Marlon Myers, Marle O'Connor, Amy Fraas Rogers, Rosemary Sheridan, Edith Stanley Smith, Marlon Willmott Thom, Janet Prendergast Vickrey, Marle Ward. We wish everyone could have been there to share it. Every year, Colonel John Condron sends a short note with a contribution to the Alumni fund in memory of Catherine Coughlan Condron—a beautiful tribute to his wife. We were particularly mindful of Catherine and all our deceased members on this Golden Anniversary occasion. A note from Marlan Baltes Duncan announced the arrival of a new grandson, William.

We are saddened at the death of our classmate, Lillian Kelly, whose fortitude and wit remained with her through several years of physical pain and disability. As Helen Curran Flynn said, "She touched all our lives so deeply and so long." 1932 members at the luncheon were Mary Hopkins Engelskirger, Anne McCormack Fennessy, Madeline Kendall Friel, Rosemary Kennelly Gwaltney, Winifred McMahon, Anne Burns Meehan, Irene Parker Parks, Mary Whelan Phelan and Clare Smith. We are looking forward to our jubilee next year. Catherine Eppig Murphy's bout with the flu kept her at home and we missed her. We were glad to see Rosemary Kennelly Gwaltney after many years. She is grandmother to two talented girls each of whom won a prize in the drawing contest of Green Giant's Birthday. Irene Parker Parks plans to attend the National Audubon Convention in Colorado and do some sightseeing. Irene is Trips and Tours director for the Senior Citizens of Huntington. John and Mary White Kearney were in Savannah attending the Diocesan Attorney's Conference May 2 weekend, browsing around in that delightful southern area. February was SJC reunion time in the Stewart-Jensen Beach area, Florida, with much socializing among Kathlyn Ansbro Wurts, Dolores Ansbro Gerathy '34, Zita Hawkins Stoddart '30, Margaret Langan McDermott '34, Alice O'Reilly '34, Betty Blake Campbell '30, Mary Whelan Phelan and long-time friend, Marle Berry. Some were down to Lantana to visit with Tom and Marie Manno Mullins, who has been ill. Meanwhile on Florida west coast, Gerard and Anne McCormack Fennessy had lunch with Dick and Laura Brennan Loughlin and spent an evening with Bob and Sara Gannon St. Pierre in Venice. They missed Bert and Lucille Jacobson Augenstein who were off to Georgia to help their daughter and family get settled in a new home there. Lucille is active in St. Ann's parish, Naples, as sacristan, lector, Eucharistic minister—every day at 8 o'clock Mass. She also teaches Yoga in the parish hall. We are happy to report that Bob, husband of Josephine McKeon Broad and Steve, husband of Kay Frey Lynch are both making good progress after surgery. Our annual Mass for deceased members and the luncheon following will be at Fort Hamilton Officer's Club on Monday, September 28. Mark your calendar. We hope to see many more this year and to start planning for our golden anniversary for which Mary Whelan Phelan has consented to coordinate. Has anyone a clue to the whereabouts of our lost?

Creedle Davis tells us that John and Muriel Steinbrecher Moody were surprised by a celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary at the home of their son Jack, in Rochester, New York. . . . Kay Carroll Whitely has been pleased and cheered by the well-wishes of her friends from St. Joe's during her hospitalization at Cape Cod Hospital and during her rehabilitation at a therapy center near her home in South Yarmouth. . . . Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton, Evelyn Harris Martin, Geraldine Young Murphy, Marle Schluter, and Mary Dolan enjoyed a get-together at the Alumni Luncheon. We offer our prayers and sympathy to Mildred Donohue Fitzpatrick on the death of her husband, Walter, last November.

Since moving to "Fairgreen" in New Smyrna Beach three years ago, Muriel Kiernan Colligan has become an avid golfer. There were only six of us at the luncheon this year. Catherine Cooke, Fran McGovern Delany, Marge McCormick Donoghue, Eucharla Mulligan and Marle Lilly. Mary Shea, Catherine Cooke's sister, was at the Mas and luncheon also. Margaret Langan McDermott, though unable to stay for lunch, joined us for Mass and a toast. Gina Latorraca and her sister are heading for Charleston this month and Colorado in the summer. Eucharla is already off on a trip with the Franciscans. Catherine Cooke is heading for California to visit her adopted family in Guadalupe and Marle Lilly will be visiting her family in California after three weeks in Alaska this summer. Fran showed pictures of her grandchildren. Sister Eucharla (Rita Doherty) is now in Connecticut. Anyone going to Puerto Rico? Sister James Cecilia (Mary Cullen) is now in Ponce. We had a letter from Angela Mazzoli Rosa who told us of her husband's death last year in July. Be assured of our sympathy and prayers, Angela. Margaret Bler writes that in the year that has passed since the sudden death of her Jesuit brother, she has had time to realize how blessed we all are in the friendships made so long ago in St. Joseph's. "Faculty and alumnae alike reached out to me in love and sympathy. '34 is a great class; I heard from 15 classmates, some of whom I had completely lost contact with since graduation. God surely comports us in times of great sorrow not only through the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, but also through our human loves. My deep thanks to all of you who were such willing instruments of His healing." She reports that Katherine Reilly McHugh was looking the New Jersey school system in 1976, had twins, and wonders how many twins, in addition to hers and Marle Dermody Brodbeck's were born to members of the class of '34. James and Mary McLernon Loughlin, fleeing rigorous Long Island winters, have bought a condominium in Bradenton, Florida. In late April, Mary Bler and her sister, Anna '46, flew to New Orleans where Anna attended the International Reading Association Convention as Harcourt Brace Jovanovich's children's book editor.

Latest to join the ranks of those in the Sunshine State is Catherine May who moved down to Miami in December. She bought a condominium not far from her brother, Frank, and family. Catherine continues to work for Merrill Lynch—Miami branch. Ed and I enjoyed a visit with Bernadette Maroney Metzler, Jack and their youngest son, Peter, who live in Merritt Island, Fla. Prior to this we had a great sojourn with Frank and Mary Twigg Connors '37 in Hilton Head, South Carolina. . . While there we also saw Isabel Anderson Miles '37 and Madeline Noonan O'Neil '37. Our ties in the Nutmeg State are Betty Devlin Lockwood and Virginia Conran Cheesly who had lunch together recently. I spoke with Kay Sheehan Hambrecht who keeps busy taking care of her home in Lakeville, her retired husband and her faithful dog. Daughter Peggy keeps busy too. In Staten Island Gilda Datri Nisco is enjoying the many activities of her Senior Citizens Center. Her husband, now semi-retired, is able to join her on vacation trips. Steve and Sylvia Goerlitz Myers had a fabulous trip from their Florida condominium to their Long Island home. They boarded a cruise ship at Fort Lauderdale which took them through the Panama Canal and they disembarked in California, flying home from there. Mary Wiest Hoxie's brother, now a Monsignor, is pastor of St. Mary's Church in Manhasset. Two of Mary's children are in California and one in Connecticut. Her daughter, an alumna of Fairfield, will be married in August. Jane McLoughlin O'Connor's daughter Josephine plans to be married next January. Florence Kemp Carberry had a long week-end in Boston, where she was visiting her son Frank and his wife. She also enjoyed a visit from her son John, his wife and their little boy, who make their home in Chicago. Kay Allen had lunch with Mary Lavery who lives in Lakehurst, New Jersey. I had lunch with Kay before seeing a matinee performance of "Evita". . . I also had a "fun" luncheon with Anne Scannell Smith after which we saw "42nd Street". . . pure nostalgia! Anne's husband seems a bit better these days. Ethel Fitzsimmons Kennedy is in Nassau Hospital and we all wish her a speedy recovery. Grace Flannery Morris saw Annette VenderPullen on a bus the other day but the crowds prevented their getting together. Grace's daughter Meg and son Jerry live near her in Bay Ridge so they visit each other frequently. A while ago, Grace, Florence Kemp Carberry, Bernadette Maroney Metzler, and I enjoyed a delightful surprise reunion dinner here in our Bay Ridge apartment with Jack and Ed. . . it was a non-stop talking and mutual catching-up evening! On her return from a visit with her cousin in Greensboro, NC, Cathleen Cahill Durkin found our appeal for Alumni Fund '81. With her check she sent a note telling us that she attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau last year and spent a week in Naples visiting Navy friends, then a month in France, rounding out a six-weeks jaunt. Cathleen will also be found on trips run by the Smithsonian Institute. On April 30th she left for a ten-day trip to Iceland. Back home, she is a volunteer at Woodlawn Plantation, the house of Nellie Custis, Washington's adopted granddaughter. She takes lessons in knitting, needlepoint and French, and spends much time gardening. Once again, please keep in touch. . . we need you and your notes. . .

Claire Brennan Suchan belongs to the SJC Sorority which is a group of girls mostly from '36 and '37 formed some forty years ago. Jersey residents meet monthly at various homes. The Suchans are proud grandparents of Joseph Charles, son of daughter, Regina, who lives in North Dakota. Claire recently had lunch with Loretta Lopez at her home. Loretta, who has been working in a law firm for many years, hopes to retire soon. Last June Claire and Charles toured California, Yosemite and Lake Tahoe. Madeline Larkin Hennessy is living in the "ancestral mansion" in Hauppauge. Jack whom we all remember from St. Joe's days, died in 1975. Madeline retired in 1978 from U.S.S.D.#5, Levittown. She has a Master's degree and Professional Diploma in Reading from Hofstra. Her son, Jack, lives in Missoula, L.I. and two daughters, Sue and Judy live in the Boston area. Madeline shops in New York and also takes in the theatre, opera, ballet and museums. Don and Grace Buckley Shepherd celebrated 42 years of marriage. They live in Westfield, N.J. and Don who is employed by Sterling Drug Inc., commutes each day to NYC. They have two married daughters and four grandchildren. Besides volunteer work at the local hospital, Grace golfs and gardens. Last year, she joined her husband on a business trip to New Zealand, Australia and the Far East. She has maintained friendship with Marian Billies Heaney and Madeline Clark McLoughlin. Betty Pyne Dunleavy had a note from Claire Brennan Suchan informing her that our classmate Miriam Bralthwalte Ford died a few years ago, having suffered from cancer. Virginia Norton McSorley one of our "lost" members has been living in Albuquerque, New Mexico for many years. She has four grown sons. Her mother died recently and was brought home to Brooklyn for burial. Virginia is the Administrator of the Catholic Hospital in Albuquerque. Josephine Fitzsimmons Faulkner left May 1st for a long awaited trip to Europe—and so missed the luncheon. Josephine retired two years ago and the Faulkners sold their home in Valley Stream and moved to upper Westchester. Their son and family live in Bedford Valley, so they're close to the grandchildren. Jo keeps in touch with Mary Urquhart Toomey, Pat Sommer, Rita Mackey Risdel and Terry Mangiardi Crofton. We were disappointed that only Isabel Farrell, Mary Pinter Brandes and I turned up at our 45th reunion at the luncheon. . . but we enjoyed our talk of old times. After leaving St. Joseph's Ethel Chambers Meldon taught on Long Island for many years. On the advice of her doctor, she moved to Florida after her son's birth. Her husband died in 1971 and her son Greg, again on the doctor's advice moved to Colorado. Ethel stayed in Florida where she taught. She then took a nursing course and devoted her time to taking care of old people. Last April, she was severely beaten by robbers in Miami. Every facial bone was broken, as well as arms, wrists and shoulders. Through a miracle brought about by prayers, she survived. Her son insisted that she leave Florida, and she now resides in Glendale, Pa., where her family had formerly lived. She is apparently making a wonderful comeback. Found at last is Rita Kiernan Devine who moved to the Washington DC area when her husband Jack was transferred there. Rita was so busy with her family (3 sons and a daughter and now 8 grandchildren) and with selling real estate in Wash., Md and Virginia since 1954, that she has been out of touch. Rita was married again to Walter Oehrke but he died in 1973 soon after their marriage. For real estate purposes, Rita uses the name Devine. She is a life member of the Million Dollar Sales Club.

Grace Coscia is on a visit home from Jatai, Brazil—her first in two years. Her brother, Most Reverend Benedict Coscia, is the Bishop there and Grace runs the Training Center for the Diocese. Grace figured originally on one year in Jatai, but has remained for fifteen. Her mother, Angelina, who also lives in Jatai with the Bishop, is here too. The Center served 11,000 people in 1980. Grace also supervises the running of two day nurseries and two "mini-creches", for the care of about 400 children of the poor families in Jatai, the See city. Rosalyn Manfredonia Manganaro's son, Dr. Andrew J. Manganaro, will complete a fellowship in Cardio-Vascular surgery at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester in June and will begin private practice as a cardio-vascular surgeon in Youngstown, Ohio. His father, Dr. Joseph A. Manganaro, is Director of Surgery and a member of the Board of Trustees at Victory Memorial Hospital in Brooklyn. Marie and Edgar Debany spent Easter in Gainesville, Florida, as a part of a two-weeks' stay as the guests of Marie's sister, Adelina.

The Class of '39 was well represented at the luncheon by some who are regulars: Arlene Anderson Walsh, Marge Berkery, Pauline Cavagnaro, Eileen Daly O'Shea, Roseann Flty, Connie Glampietro Annuci, Marge Gillen Hurley, Jane Kearney, Florence Kennedy, Frances Kopp Schwerdt, Mary Nally, Carmela Napoli Lolzo, Betty O'Keefe, Clair O'Neill Selz, Grace Selms Fennell, Eleanor Van Wagner Nace, Sister Mary Corde Tymann. We were delighted to see Joanna Venezia Zinno of Roslyn Heights and Jane Walsh DiPaoli who has been living in Wyoming near her daughter Jane. She spends winter months in Florida. Dr. Di Paoli continues her activities in Mathematics occasionally teaching at the University. Lately retired are Marge Berkery and Marge Gillen Hurley. To hear them report on their activities, they merely changed from one job to another. Some of those present expressed the desire to get together in the fall for another reunion. Anyone interested? Please write to me. . . We extend our sympathy and prayers to Peggy Bolton Barsin on the death of her son Christopher in February. He never recovered from an accident of last summer. John and Jeanne Gorman Tokarz moved from Tennessee to St. Michael's Maryland, two years ago this May. Their married children (three daughters and a son) live in the Washington area just two hours away and they see their six grandsons and one granddaughter frequently. Jeanne wants to know whether other alumnae are near. We sent her a Maryland list. Our classmate, Sister Marla Regina Sullivan, died last December. We extend our sympathy to her family and to the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Lillian McCloskey reports from Connecticut that Doris Whelan Coneys is living in New Milford with daughter Kathleen. We extend our sympathies to Doris after the recent death of her 88 year old mother. Lillian, Doris, Helen Skead Fowler and Florence Herbert McGoldrick knew each other from Brentwood Academy days as well as from college years, but what has happened to Helen, they ask? (Helen lives at 8527 Mobud, Houston, Texas 77036.) Agatina Carbonaro and Lillian were to attend a Chamber Music performance at the New Milford High School on a Sunday afternoon. Father Kilcoyne and Monsignor Diviney concelebrated the Alumni Mass on Saturday, May 2nd and 11 of our class were there. That weekend, Isabella Knight Foster took the minutes at a N.Y.C. meeting of the Gold Star Wives & Mothers, and Ruth Drucker attended the wedding of her niece, Eileen Drucker. Virginia Mannebach Cleary's son is a surgeon, Dr. Joseph Cleary, in private practice in Manhattan. Virginia plans to be hostess to those at her table some time this summer. Liz Connolly asks for prayers for her brother, the priest who is ill. Marcella Canale Reid came again from Fairfax, Va, for the Mass and Alumni Luncheon, with the news that their parish will host families from Scotland, England and Ireland for a summer visit. Daughter Marcella is moving from Mt. Kisco to Virginia only 10 minutes away from her parents. Janice Ahearn (Sr. Mary Regina), Sr. Alice Frances Young, Cathleen Farrell Walsh, Ursula Gerty, Anna Sullivan, Virginia Owens, Margaret Mack all were there and made up two tables from the Class of 1940. Ursula Gerty plans to visit a friend in Bogota this summer. Cathleen Farrell Walsh enjoyed a trip to Louisiana to visit her granddaughter Ventana Therese. The news from Oceanside is that Paul Farrell, husband of the late Maude Whitbread Farrell, will remarry. The Class of '40 welcomes a new member, Helen Byrne McCabe, who matriculated with us. Helen lives in Manhasset. Three of her children, Patricia, John and Thomas are married, the other three, James, Virginia and Robert are in college. Helen enjoys tennis, bridge and art. Vincent, her husband, is with E.I du Pont de Nemours & Co.

On Saturday, May 23rd, we celebrated our 40th anniversary at the home of Edith Mullen Bolsi in Old Brookville, L.I. Forty-two members of the class came together to share in the Eucharistic celebration offered by Monsignor Diviney and to hear the homily by Father Kilcoyne about the Early Church which was most applicable. Our twelve deceased and deceased faculty members were remembered at Mass. Afterwards we shared a most delicious meal and memories and stories of the past that seems so very recent. Margaret Manning and Irene Butler Lozano came from California; Terry Gough de Tar and Eleanore Sullivan Smith from Arizona. Eileen Heenan Caswell (who has two of her seven sons still at home with her and Warren in Mentor Ohio) made a long journey, too. A vision of old times: Terry Gough de Tar blowing the horn as she arrived with a car full of passengers which were assembled one by one as she plucked up Elvira Goddard Jahn from Suffern, Margaret Mary Stankevich Bolen from Paramas and Lorraine Schutels Vaccari and Gertrude Manuel Evans in Forest Hills; and the car was tan just like the '37 model we all knew so well years ago! Marjorie Andresen Breeds had sent regrets because of her son's wedding set for May 24th and then we received news of the sudden death of her husband Charles a week or so before. Charles had been an M.D., Professor of Pathology and had recently retired. They had moved into a smaller home in Drexel Hill, Pa. recently. Our sincere prayers go out to Marjorie and her children to the end that God will give them strength to cope with their great loss. Nancy Ruddy had flown in from Aurora, Colo, to which town she moved recently from the Denver area. Margaret Mary Wolfe came from Annandale, Va., Mary Leahy Cleary (whose Ph.D. is already 10 years old!) arrived from Thornton, Pa. She enjoys teaching English at West Chester State College near the home to which she and Ed moved three years ago. Margery Murphy Lynch traveled from upstate Delmar. She and her old Freeport crone, Irene Mitchell Weber, had lots to catch up on; and would later dine out with their husbands of yore. Ann Greene Macmillan drove out from Bay Ridge, a feat in itself considering her recent long hospital stay because of water on the lung. Keep improving, Ann! We located Rose Scilleppil Vitale in del Ray Beach, Fla. Her many friends asked for her new address so they can keep in touch with Roe. There will be news of the local attendees in future columns. Helen Kenny Owen who lost her husband, Ernest, in February after a three-year bout with cancer, was welcomed by many old friends whom she had not seen for many years. Bette Whalen Bonsall completed requirements for M.A. in Education from C.W. Post. She's been teaching at St. Mary's, Manhasset for 16 years. Her program at Hostra involved annual trips to the United Kingdom to inspect and compare British education with ours. Jane Hagan Taggart was on our lost list and we received a call from Madeline Hagan Larsen '49, her sister, who told us that Jane died of cancer in 1977. Her husband predeceased her and she left six children, including a set of twins, who recently graduated from College. The youngest will be a college senior. Remember Jane and her family in your prayers. We thank God for such a beautiful reunion and we thank the Boisis for their generosity in providing us with such a beautiful setting for the event. The memory will linger on for a long, long time.

Edna Cunningham Hughes' daughter, Janice Cully, has been appointed Director of Medicine at Staten Island Hospital. Edna has a sixth grandchild, daughter of Pat. Missed Winnie Reilly Gaffney at Phonathon. She was sick for a while, but her trouble was finally diagnosed as severe diverticuli. Larry has a knee problem, but is getting helpful treatment. We are planning our 40th anniversary party for Spring of 1982. Please contact Helen Fennelly Reilly, 333 83rd St., Brooklyn, 11209, BE8-2016, if you would like to help with planning. Please help us find our lost members:

Pat Brown Schoen's daughter, Mary, graduated from the College of St. Elizabeth with a Business major. Marie Maddock Turner was enthusiastic about her contacts with many of you during Phonathon. It's a long time since we heard from Rosemary Schwerman O'Connor who told us of her visit with her daughter and family in West Germany. Rosemary lives in Upper Darby, Pa. Eugenia Urbanek looked great as she directed the activities at Ma Bell in Garden City. Both Eileen Scanlon and Barbara Kuehn of Catholic Charities, New York, are thinking of retirement. Barbara's mother is still as active as ever. Barbara called the Alumni office when she received word of the death of Lillian Doohar Seaton. It was so unexpected. We offer our sympathy and prayers to her family. Margaret Jokiel Joyce volunteered to participate in a class memorial gift if there is one. Lillian, the fourth deceased member of '45, joins Virginia O'Brien Mathews, Joan Goubeaud Daverin and Mary Jo Freese Bennett. We'd like to have your opinion—please call or write us. Margaret usually plays the organ at the luncheon, but a wedding this year took precedence. We extend our sympathy to Dorothy Dolan Hartig and Joan Cory Erhardt whose husbands died last year. Dorothy has a daughter and a son, who is in Chaminade. Joan has a teenage daughter. Eileen McDermott told us of the ordination of the son of John and Virginia Hughes Sweeney on April 11th at St. Pius V where he had served as a deacon. Father Jim said his first Mass at his home parish, Holy Innocents on April 12th. Janet Blessing, Margaret Connors Weigand, Joan Cory Erhardt, Mary Daniels Dee, Catherine Hennessy and Eileen represented SJC '45. Father Jim's brother played the organ. Other SJC alums, Mary St. John Murphy, '24 Rosemary Byrne Cashman '48, Anna Sullivan '40 and Jane Hawkrigg Handal '51 also attended. Magda Crowe Boylan is going again this summer to Elderhostel and urges everyone to try it. Write and tell us how you feel about the memorial to our deceased members and also of class get-togethers. Helen Golden Brown suggested one up her way—Greenville, New York. . . for a weekend. Let us know what you're thinking.

We extend to Catherine Kaufman Siegel's husband and six children our sympathy and prayers. Shortly before her death Catherine had received the Saint Pius X Award for outstanding service in religious education from Bishop John R. Mc Gann . . . Having served first as a teacher and then as an administrator Pat Leshner Hedges' husband, Harold, has retired from public education after thirty years of service and is now an Associate Professor and Coordinator of Education at Mater Dei College, Ogdensburg. Daughter Anne is a nurse in St. Peter's Hospital, Albany. She lives in that city with her husband and year old daughter, Rachel. Genevieve is a child care worker in a girls' group home in Potsdam . . . Eileen Brophy Rossman's Regina is studying for a M.B.A. at the University of Alaska, Anchorage. Maura vacationed from her bio-medical studies at the Sophie Davis School by touring Italy with a group from St. Saviour High School where she was a member of the class of '79. Susan is with Bergdorf Goodman. Eileen Sr. studied Computer Science at City College last semester in a program sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Jack and Molly Sheehan Donohue enjoy Florida sunshine year round. Molly has taken up shellcraft, along with her bridge and gold and just "peddled" $1000 worth of her new hobby as a donation for brother Tom OP and his missions.

Dorothy Allison McKee travelling with her husband on business, had the opportunity to visit quite a few countries in the past three years. There is so much poverty, she writes, that we in America cannot even comprehend it — especially in Peru, Argentina and the Phillipines. It is overwhelming. The priests in these countries need every little bit of help we can afford to give — along with our prayers. Mothers are sleeping in the streets with tiny infants and beautiful little children in rags beg for a few pennies to see them through the day. Dorothy recently accepted a second term as President of the Triune Columbiettes and is filling in for several months as director of a nursery school. Barbara Maguire Martin moved recently to Arlington, Virginia from East Lansing, Michigan where she had lived since 1975.

Barbara Gustafson Moore works in Boston as a software engineer for GTE Laboratories. She has authored a paper to be presented this July at the I.C.E. Conference on Telecommunications Software in Warwick, England. The Title is: The CHILL Compiling Systems. We extend our sympathy and prayers to Suzanne Gannon Murphy on the death of her father Florence Bockus Dalig and her son Billy, visited Joyce Hartey Scavullo in Augusta, Georgia last Thanksgiving. Billy attends Pratt Institute. Jim and Mary Drab McCormack (who attended SJC for 2 years with us) moved from Stony Brook, L.I. to Henryville, Pennsylvania. Daughter Mary graduates from college in June, Jim is a freshman and Beth is in grammar school. Eileen Fitzgerald Noone's ('50) daughter, Frances, is a freshman at NYU, Michael, a good actor in the plays at Xavier. Joyce sent to the Alumni Office for six prints of the 245 watercolor and mailed copies to Terry Duenzl, Florence Dalig, Fitzl, Mary Drab McCormack and Jo Elsner Kieswetter. She kept one for herself and framed it for the family room!

We are happy to welcome two new Class Agents for '52. Carolyn Taylor Anner and Jeanette Mazzuka Sombrotto. Carolyn teaches in the Jericho school system. Her daughters Catherine, graduated from SUNY at Stony Brook last year and received a special award in Germanic Studies; Carolyn is a major in Nursing at Molloy College and her son, Robert, will graduate from High School in June. He will attend Nassau Community College in the fall. We offer our sympathy and prayers to Carolyn on the death of her father Jeanelle is also a teacher — in the Herricks school system. She has three children — all boys, all musical. Vincent plays the piano at The Gazebo, in Roslyn. John is recovering well from burns suffered in an accident in '77. Joseph works on Wall Street.

Frances DeMeo Russo lives in Brooklyn where she plays the organ at St. Columba's Church. Frances has an adopted son and daughter, both pre-schoolers. Rita Rutigliano Kagawada's daughter Christine was married last year. Rita's family lived in California for a while but are back East again. Phyllis Leo Pagano is a grandmother — after four sons, she has a granddaughter, Stacy Lauren.

We had a newsy note from Dorothy Herte McKenna who lives in Rockville, Md. She works near Washington as a convention planner for a professional organization, the American Speech and Hearing Association of Rockville Md. Her daughter Kathy and her husband are both Army officers stationed in Colorado Springs. Son Joe is a senior at SUNY at Buffalo and daughter Ginny is studying at Chestnut Hill. The McKennas travelled to California for the graduation of daughter Margaret from The College of Notre Dame at Belmont. While there they visited Mary Ellen Boyling Ph. D. who is Chairman of the English Department at that college. Pat Dennen Dunne's daughter Mary was married last fall - she is a schoolteacher in Boston and a graduate of Boston College. Anne, a New Rochelle graduate, is completing a degree in Nursing at Columbia University. Barbara graduated from Villanova and does paralegal work. Kathleen is graduating in May from Saint Bonaventures. Eileen Almon Bishop had two graduations last year - Kevin is now a freshman at St. Agnes Cathedral HS and Noreen is in St. John's University on a scholarship. Ruth Hall Carey's son Danny graduated from Notre Dame last year; son James receives his degree from Middleburg this spring.

Mary Anne Nagle Hurley, who teaches in St. Francis Prep., has a son and a daughter married, son Francis completing his Masters Degree in Finance at Hofstra University; son, David, a senior at Cathedral College in Douglaston. Youngest child, James, will enter eighth grade in the Fall. Her daughter, Betty, is a certified Speech Pathologist.

Mary O'Shea Keelen sent a cute picture of her adopted sons Paul and Mark to Mary Shee Pawlowicz '55 and a delightful newspaper account of Mark's naturalization as a U.S. citizen. He was born in Columbia. Alice Mcardle Kennedy's daughter, Kathleen, will graduate from St. Joseph's, Brooklyn in June 1982.

Janis Eltz and her sister had a big celebration for their parents golden wedding anniversary. Janis returned to her former job as Reading Supervisor. The Board of Ed job, while challenging, was administrative and "we teachers love the stimulation of working directly with the children." Janis' round of events this year included trips to Raleigh, NC, Myrtle Beach, VA, the Saratoga Arts Festival, as well as a few weeks in Europe, travelling through Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. In Poland, Janis saw long lines of people pushing and shoving just to be able to buy a piece of meat! Another long line was waiting endlessly to buy a piece of cheese. Janis wonders how the people keep warm when she saw the price of even a light weight coat. However, Dr. Arnaz will be cheered to hear Janis loved Yugoslavia, especially the resort Dubrovnik. Kathleen Teague who has been living in St. Thomas VI since 1975 will deliver the commencement address there this June.

Irene Breen is now home recuperating from surgery. She wishes to thank all who sent her prayers and best wishes for a complete recovery. Sister Margeret Buckley, Assistant Academic Dean at SJC since 1976 has been promoted to Associate Academic Dean. Whit and Ann Fallert Knapp enjoyed a summer tour of the Southwest, including a rugged pack trip in Colorado. Roy and Fran Abbruzzino Farra and Vicki took a Rhine River Cruise, spending time also in Amsterdam and Zurich. Fran broke her leg last year! Her niece, Joan, has just finished her first year at SJC. Pat McGovern received her Real Estate Sales license and was elected by the homeowners to the board of managers at her condominium. With her Youth Committee work, teaching job and social life, she's kept "hopping". Angle Crociata Rodin and her two daughters enjoyed a grand trip to Disneyland, Cal., San Diego, L.A. and San Francisco. Sheila, daughter of Peggy Kruse Mooney, is at Syracuse U. Jen will graduate from H.S. and Kate is finishing 8th grade. Jack retired from Union Carbide and is doing consulting work. Peg is active with the youth ministry in her parish. Evelyn Freese Freeman is living in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. I didn't hear from many at Christmas time. PLEASE keep the cards and notes coming.

It was wonderful that thirty five of us attended the Alumni luncheon—a marvelous reunion after 25 years. Joan Marren Brennan came from Virginia and Betty Regan Melxner from Maryland for the day. Betty has four children and recently returned to teaching. Marguerite Wulf Dorney, Merle Lydon Heidelberger and Peggy Heidelberger were there from Jersey. Marguerite has six children the oldest graduating from college and the youngest graduating from kindergarten. Marie's oldest son will enter the U. of Pa. in the Fall. He was selected for a National Merit Scholarship and hopes to major in Math. Peggy is still teaching kindergarten. Martene MacGregor, now in the secular state, has her Ph. D. from St. John's in Special Ed. which she teaches in a JHS in Brooklyn. Sr. Mirlam Lucille (Montella) teaches English in Sacred Heart Academy, Hempstead. She was Supervisor of schools staffed by the sisters of St. Joseph in Nassau and Suffolk counties and also a principal of St. Athanasius School in Brooklyn. It was good to see Doris Jacklitsch who is on sabbatical and is taking computer courses at NYU, with Marilyn Dowling O'Reilly '49, also on sabbatical from Ft. Hamilton. We missed Doris' sister, Eleine. Mary Emilio Stack teaches English at Lafayette and Anna Costello Stellwag teaches H.S. Math. Anna, in her 15th year as Guidance Counselor, is very involved in her community in Blauvelt N.Y. and in her parish where she is a CCD teacher and a Eucharistic Minister. Mickey Burke Eldon recently went back to work as a bilingual tutor in her local elementary school in Floral Park. Eileen McGuire Esposito lives on Staten Island and teaches 4th Grade at St. Ann's. Her oldest son attends St. Johns on S.I. Angele Cilnes Mooney is busy at home with husband and seven children. Angela is active in her community and parish—is on the Parish School Board and she received the St. Pius X Award in 1980 for 10 years work in religious education. Angela was one of the Eucharistic ministers at the luncheon Mass. Carol Cahill Gordon and Joan Flannery Leo shared the day, as did Betty Savino Acerre. Joan now has two grandchildren. Carol is an English teacher in John Adams H.S. where Betty's husband is now principal. Betty is Acting Supervisor of Guidance of the Borough of Manhattan—H.S.

Division. Mary Feeney Dwyer is in the parish renewal program as a "Renew" leader at St. Aidan's. Mary has six children; oldest, Tracy, will receive a bachelor's in Communication and Rhetoric from SUNY Albany, Kathleen, an Art Major at Buffalo State, junior year; Mary, a freshman at Albany and interested in Computer Science; Thomas, Sean and Megan are in Wheatley H.S. in Old Westbury. Ninfa Trani Garen is a teacher at Letchworth Village Dev. Center, B.O.C.E.S., Parochial Schools and has done counseling. Ninfa is six months away from an R.N. degree. Robert, oldest son of Winnie Cavanagh Malone will graduate from Catholic U and plans to go to law school; James is a soph at Manhattan and Noreen, a freshman at Academy of Holy Angels in Demarest, N.J. Winnie teaches 6th grade Reading and Language Arts in Old Tappan. Others at the reunion were Ann Bauch who teaches kindergarten in Floral Park and travels a great deal to Europe and Hawaii with the physically handicapped every summer. Jackie Taaffe Coleman's son John is in the Air Force in Las Vegas and Danny will graduate from Holy Cross H.S. Daisy Bodon De Lara has graciously invited the class to her home in Lawrence for an informal reunion. She has a son graduating from high school too. Perhaps after this gathering, we'll have more for the next Alumnamgram. Ginny McGuire Fortsch, Connie Gibilisco and Anna Mae McCabe Killard enjoyed the luncheon as did Angela Alexander Maher, Anne Marie Amadel McCartney, Regina Miller and Anne Porter Molanphy whose oldest daughter will graduate from St. Agnes H.S. in Rockville Center and will attend Fairfield in the fall. Ann Malloy Murphy, Eileen Hale Peters, Dorothy Nokes Sanchirico, Marie Saraniero Sauerbrun and Lucille Waters Grantfort were there too. Lucille and Sal were to leave shortly for Costa Del Sol to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

Terry McManus McQuaid sends her regards from Michigan. Her son's confirmation was on May 2nd, so she couldn't be with us. Terry is involved in Team Couples for Worldwide Marriage Encounters and has given two Marriage Encounter weekends in Ireland. Lucille Lullo Russo and her two youngest went to Italy last summer to celebrate her parents' 50th wedding Anniversary. Theresa Pellegrino Nерger is Secretary-Treasurer of Marisol, Inc., the family's own Chemical Recycling business in N.J. She is busy with her six children and parish and community activities. Lèn and Betty Dennen Moss are involved with teenagers in their parish and with engaged couples. Oldest daughter, Carolann graduates in May from U. of Scranton and was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities". Tricia is a soph at SUNY Genesee, majoring in Special Ed. and the two youngest are in High School. Jean Haslam Darnowski was sorry to miss the reunion. Vinnie, Jean and son, Douglas live in Milford, Conn. Vinnie is President of Housatonic Community College in Bridgeport. Also received a letter from Jane Maher Catron from Herndon, Virginia. She has been teaching English in McLean H.S. At Convocation 1980 she was named McLean High School Outstanding Teacher. Patricia Maguire of the class of '58 writes: "While reading the current issue, I noted the name of Joyce Oxley, Class of 1956. I knew Joyce when we were both members of the Modern Dance Club. I later met her in Rome, Italy, where she had made her home. She danced, dubbed films and tutored children in English. Later, I heard that she had returned to New York after discovering that she had incurable cancer. I don't know just when she died, but it was some years ago. I share this information with the class of '56 knowing that they will be glad to learn that she had traveled and grown as a human being. She lived a full life before her early death." We were very sorry to hear of the death of another dear classmate, Virginia Yackel Critelli, and extend our sympathy and prayers to her family. Just learned that Mary Buschi Day has moved to Scottsdale, Arizona. I hope by the next issue, I will have received news from other members not mentioned here.

RoseAnn Connolly Hubbard tells us of the death of the mother of Brenda Buckley Johnston in November and we extend to her our sympathy and prayers. Brenda and her daughter, Marianne, flew to the funeral in Ireland. Marianne is applying to colleges for entrance in the Fall. Her first choice is Lafayette. Frances Bracken McCauley queries: "Whatever happened to Pet Gili Albergo, Leonore Ragusa Pirotti, Connie Runkle Lockwood, Anne Buckley McAssey and Brenda Buckley Johnston? Frances' daughter, Anne-Mary is now fifteen and a sophomore, Andrew is thirteen and in the 8th grade with mostly basketball and ice hockey on his mind. He plays on a CYO team. Anne Buckley McAssey's oldest son, Ed, Jr., graduated from Villanova this year. Daughter Mary is also at Villanova studying Electrical Engineering. Anne takes graduate English courses. Bill and Eileen McGrath Freda and their girls live in Chatham, N.J. Their oldest, Elizabeth was recently married. Kerry Sullivan Courtois works as manager in the Children's Department at Saks Fifth Avenue. She, Paul and their four children live in Port Washington. Peggy Coughlin Kearney with her dad and daughter took a trip to Ireland where she spent two weeks and attended the wedding of a cousin in County Derry in the north. They also visited her mother's family in County Cork, down south. Peg's oldest, Michael finishes his first year at Buffalo University, an Engineering major. Bob and Joan Slebert Sprague and Barbara spent Easter vacation in Florida. Joan teaches kindergarten in Ronkonkoma and takes graduate courses at Southampton College. I hope the class of '57 is looking ahead to our 25th anniversary next year. Any ideas for the celebration will be welcomed. Please help us find these "lost" classmates.

Patricia Maguire wrote in January that, although the Class of '58 "tends to be reticent" (no notes), she enjoys reading about members of other classes especially those she knows. She noted that the name of Joyce Oxley '56 was in the lost column and reports that Joyce died some years ago. (See '56 column). Pat has volunteered to be a class agent for 1958 and we appreciate her generosity in assuming this service. We recently heard from Carol Boasi, who on May 2nd, married Bruce Brown. Carol and family live in Rockville, Maryland. Daughter, Pamela, 21, was valedictorian of her class May 16th at St. Mary's College, Maryland; Mark, 20, will be a junior at Virginia Tech, majoring in Industrial Engineering, Caroline, 18, majoring in Recreation at Frostburg State College, Md, will be a soph and Paul, 13, will enter H.S. in September. He plays a mean trumpet!

Pat Henry Torres enjoyed a pleasant evening last February with Kathy Kendrick Rehnberg and Jack, who live a short distance from her. She had met Kathy in a local supermarket last summer — the first time since graduation . . . but they recognized one another immediately. "Time does fly," writes Phillomena (Nancy) Nicoletti Fiorello, "As of September, I'll have two sons in college and a daughter who will be a senior in high school!" We offer our deep sympathy and prayers to Doris Healy Petrocelli on the death of her seventeen year old daughter, Deborah, who had asthma.

Many thanks to Kathleen Walsh Fallon and Marcella Dupuy Maynard for the years of service they gave as Class Agents. Shella McCarthy Maher has volunteered to do what she can to keep the news rolling in. Sheila recently drove east from her home near Akron to attend a 25th year reunion with alumnae of Bishop McDonnell Memorial High School. Among the familiar faces were several of our classmates from St. Joe's. Betty Trust Conlon, able organizer of this remarkable reunion, is an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Pace University in Pleasantville, N.Y. and Psychologist for the City of Yonkers. The oldest of her four children will attend Williams College in the fall. Terry Duffy Best is working towards her Master's Degree in Religious Education. She is Chairman of the Religion Department at Franciscan High School, Mohegan Lake, N.Y., and Principal of her parish CCD in Peekskill. She has four children aged 16 to 11. Joan Bambach McCann now of Monroe, Conn., retired from volunteer work to become an advocate of team sports, especially after seeing 12 year old Elizabeth, the oldest of her five children, become a basketball star. Joan took of a reunion of sorts at the home of Gail Leonard Nellis in Kent, Conn., which included friends of her elementary, high school and college years. Gail's fourth child is now six months old. She also has a four year old, 12 year old twins and her oldest will begin college this year. Catherine Regan Fetherston and her husband, Martin, have three children and live in Cedar Grove, N.J. She is a school volunteer there and a Math Tutor at the high school. Although she is attending Keane College to attain her certification to teach English, and is a volunteer at the Freehold (N.J.) Regional High School, Helen Barhi Kelly manages to swim a couple of miles a few times a week. She also writes the Newsletter for the high school Parents Organization. Her three children are in high school and the oldest will graduate in June. Teenagers with problems are a familiar sight to Maureen Welsh Leopold who is a Crisis Intervention Counselor at Danbury High School in Conn. Maureen's husband, Jack, is a member of the History Department at Western Connecticut State College. Before arriving in N.Y., Sheila was able to make a stop-over at the home of Barbara Maher McConville in South Orange, N.J. Her two oldest girls, Laura and Clare, attend Seton Hall University and Kate will be headed for Notre Dame in the fall. John is a sophomore at Seton Hall Prep; twins Tom and Peter, 12, and Margaret, 10, attend their parish school. Sheila also stayed a night in Flushing with Fred and Dorothy Gilmore Meler and their seven children. Kathleen is a freshman at St. John's and the others range in age from 15-4. Fred and the children have developed a keen interest in running, but Dorothy pursues quieter interests, has quite a collection of ceramic pieces she has painted and fired herself. Marie Leno Gilmore also attended the Bishop McD. Gala, and before going on to her sister's in Amenia, N.Y., Sheila stayed a night with the Gilmores in Purdys. Marie and her husband, Matt, were preparing for a trip to Ireland, taking orders for knit sweaters and Belleek China, and hoping that cool heads will prevail in that strife torn country. After talking non-stop for a week, Sheila headed west to her husband, Russ and four children in Stow, Ohio. She is a part-time Secretary/Girl Friday to the Director of Religious Education in her parish, after being a professional volunteer in many areas. She is a member of the Education Commission of Parish Council and has been active in a parish renewal program. Her daughter is a part-time student at Kent State University, two sons attend Walsh Jesuit High School, and the youngest son is in third grade. Russ's job as a sales engineer brought them to Ohio almost 20 years ago. Another country heard from! Eileen McLean MacRorie could not leave her family in England to attend our 20th luncheon last year, nor the Bishop McD's reunion this year, but she sends greetings. Norman, is a doctor in private practice in Brighton, and their oldest of four children is a pre-med student — she calls him The Yank at Oxford! Dr. Geraldine Keating Powell lives in Galveston, Texas and has two sons, 15 and 13. Gerry teaches Research and Patient Care in the area of Pediatric Gastroenterology at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston. She is an Associate Professor. Margaret Owens Daab enjoys the Florida sunshine in their home which is 10 minutes from the Tampa Airport, 20 minutes from Busch Gardens. Her five children are Liz, a freshman at the Univ. of Florida; MaryRose, a senior in Catholic High School in Tampa, Bill, in the 8th grade and Matt in the 2nd grade at Incarnation. Leo is a very busy one year old! We'd like to hear more from a lot of you out there, so please drop a line to either Grace or Sheila. We'll print all the news that fits! In bringing our records up to date, we asked Sr. Mary Fidells Tonra MSBT about her doctorate. She received it in Clinical Psychology cum laude from the University Ottawa, Ontario. Sister lives in Philadelphia.

We had a poor turnout at the Alumni Luncheon considering it was our 20th anniversary. Those that came had a super time and found it was well worth it. Gaby Tinley McDonough returned to teaching in a parochial school in Queens. Sue Ann Glenn McCabe is guidance counselor in a Long Island Junior High. Gerry Pisklak Mannion flew up from Houston for the occasion and has been in touch with Marle Funke Tobin who lives down there. Mary McLaughlin Regan put us all to shame looking as good if not better than she did 20 years ago. As a matter of fact our group all looked darn good. Joan Tierney Carney has a beautiful new home in Matinecock. She takes great pride in Billy who won a Regent's scholarship and has been accepted by Brown U. Mary Lenihan McHugh made it from Parsippany, N.J. Her oldest will start Notre Dame in September. Carol Trivisonno Lambiase moved to a new home in Rockville Center. She and I got ourselves lost trying to find Cathedral College. Next Time we'll know enough to follow the well-dressed ladies. Liz Hussey Jennings looking very fit, resumed her career by tutoring in the Port Washington area. Henrietta Salpietro is on sabbatical and has finished internship for Administration and Supervision. She has written a handbook on Calligraphy which she hopes to publish. Henrietta received an Impact/II grant for teaching calligraphy to early and middle grades and she will be using her text. Cathy Sweeney is still teaching in Brooklyn and Paula Kahwaty plys her trade informing and cultivating young minds in Mill Basin, Brooklyn. Later that evening, Pat Balducci Iacono and Eileen Fitzgerald Troy and husbands joined the gang at my house. Pat was in her usual form. She teaches on Staten Island and is known as the Henny Youngman of New Dorp High. Fizzie was proudly passing around pix of newborn John William. In fact, during the luncheon we saw more pictures than your local FOTOMAT. Sue Ann's three year old twins were standouts. Energetic Ada Tracey Stankard took a Youth Group from her parish in Lenexa, Kansas, on a weekend skiing trip to Winter Park Mountain in early Spring. Her daughter Cathy will graduate from Notre Dame de Lion H.S. and will deliver the valedictory. Just to keep her hand in, Ada took two courses this spring at Donnelly College in The History of Christianity and New Testament Biblical Literature. Ada and Bob spent three weeks in England last winter visiting old friends there and taking a car ride tour of Cornwall and Devon.

We were saddened when we received the news of the sudden and untimely death of Sister Mary Joseph (Betty Fiandrau) on April 2nd but there is joy in knowing that Betty has found eternal happiness and that we have a special friend putting in a good word for us. We have the happy news that Jeanne Foley was married in December to Carl Edwards and they are living in Florida. Let us hear from you Jeanne. Eileen Fitzgerald Troy welcomed another son, John William on November 10. He joins Elizabeth, 16, Michael, 13, and Daniel, 12. Rosemary McDonald Ahern is proud that her oldest, Thomas, was awarded a full scholarship to St. Joseph's College. Mary Gallagher Alban is also beaming. Her oldest daughter Kathy, 17, a junior at Mercy Academy is a finalist in Cosmo Magazine's Cover-girl contest. Mary's younger daughter, Eileen, entered Kathy's name. I met Trina Botti Hoffman at a social function at P.S. 229 where she is librarian, having previously taught there for 19 years. Howard and Trina are active in Encounter. The Hoffmans bought a condominium in Florida where they spend most of their leisure time. Several classmates and spouses celebrated St. Patrick's Day with dinner at Gargulio's Italian restaurant in Coney Island! Present were Fran Sullivan Brennan and John, Alice Sheridan D'Anna and Tony, Ginny O'Rourke McLaughlin and Bill, Pat Jesinkey Palmer and Donald, Anne Byrnes Concannon and Tom, Frank and me. We all had a wonderful time. Ginny mistook fried calamari for onion rings, while John Brennan ordered espresso with canoli. We girls hope to get together for a night out in June. '62 was represented at the Luncheon by "old faithfuls": Ginny O'Rourke McLaughlin, Alice Sheridan D'Anna, Noreen Dougherty, Penny Cahill Colome, Rosemary McDonald Ahern and me. We were delighted to see Pat Sweeney for her first luncheon in Douglaston. She had a great time and promises to be back next year for our 20th anniversary. . . . Tentative date: April 24, 1982. Missing from this year's event was Mary Ann Welndler Horan. She and Anthony moved to California. Judy Perry Cleary is enjoying classes in Adelphi's Graduate program. She was given Adelphi's Graduate Achievement Award for having a B+ average at St. Joseph's. Judy is maintaining a 3.5 average (needed to keep the fellowship). Daughters, Anne and Mary are at Dowling close by and are very capable of taking care of everything when Tom is working and Judy is at school. Both have been chosen for Suffolk's All-County Bands and will be playing in concerts with the best musicians in the country. Judy is on the Committee of the Handicapped, a great experience and helpful in school. She was asked by one teacher where she had learned to "write so well" and "I could picture Sister Teresa Marie smiling . . ." Judy looks forward to Patchogue's next Open House. Marietta Stevenson, school librarian in Deer Park Public School, moved to Syosset. Marietta sent in magnificently framed brass rubbing done in England two years ago to Sr. Joseph Damien for the Tudor-Stuart Class Exhibit. She had given them as gifts to her family. Special thanks to all the Stevensons for helping make the exhibit so beautiful and professional. Do you know where our "lost" members are?

You will be pleased to know that Nancy Meskinnis Ehrhard has assumed the duties of class agent. Her report: Donald and Elizabeth Grieco Burns live in Smithtown with their three children. Don was promoted to Battalion Chief for the N.Y.C. Fire Department. Lori is 16 years old and contemplating college and Michael, 14, and Patrick, 9, are very active in sports, especially soccer. Betty worked for six years at St. Patrick's Pre-School Program. She helped organize it and is presently Co-Administrator. Kathryn Klernan O'Mally's long awaited dream came true. She visited England last summer! Kathy and Ed have been living in White Plains for the last 4 years. Ed has his own business, a securities firm. Their children are Deirdre, 9, Edward, 7, and Siobhan, 5. Kathy is a Girl Scout Leader and works in the parish CCD program. She is in touch with Stephanie Kozuch Horst whose oldest child is in high school. Laurie Sklorowicz Cavallaro and husband John are very active in their parish — St. Gerard Majella. She teaches 5th grade CCD and they are both RAP leaders for a teen group. They are both involved in Cub Scout activities with their son John, 10. Son James, 4, attends nursery school, where Laurie also does volunteer work. John works for N.Y.S. Division of Substance Abuse Services. Laurie keeps in touch with Grace Marie Laiella D'Erizans. She and husband Richard live in Staten Island with their two children Richard, Jr. and Alexandra. They had been living in Venezuela for some time. Shella Halligan Ferguson will have three children at St. John the Baptist Diocesan High School this September — Kevin, 15, and twins Kara and Brian, 13. Thomas, 10, attends St. Joseph's School, Babylon. Penny Madden Moroney teaches first grade at P.S. 207, Brooklyn. She and Jack are planning some camping trips for the summer. Johnny, 15 years old, attends Xaverian. Daughter Tricia, 13, begins St. Saviour's in September. Jimmy, 9, is in fourth grade. Penny visited with Cathy Dearle Nygren and Andy in Connecticut. She assists her husband in his own business as Traffic Consultant Engineer. Their children are David, 10 and Julie, 6. Penny also sees Noreen McMahon Merz who works for GM. Bob and Noreen have one son, Christopher, 11. Elizabeth Williams Aulicchio is a psychologist working at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital. Daughter Laura, 12, attends Hunter Elementary School, N.Y.C. Peggy Nolan Paddock lives in Littleton, New Hampshire, "business center" of the White Mountains. Husband Bob is Vice-President of the local bank. Their children are Robert, Jr., 13 and Erin, 10. Peggy has been a substitute teacher in the elementary school. She has been teaching CCD for eight years and is presently conducting the First Communion program for her parish. Peggy has been interested in the pro-life movement which led to an active involvement in politics. She managed the local campaigns for two U.S. Senators and for the President. Peggy is in touch with DeEtta Shields Breitwieser and husband George and their children Helen, 12, George, Jr., 11, DeEtta, 7 and Julie, 5. DeEtta completed her M.A. in Social Work at Adelphi and worked for Catholic Charities. Mary Alice Larkin Simonson teaches a S.E. Readiness Class on Staten Island. Her husband, Art has sold his business and they, with their five children will take an extended vacation traveling cross country to California. Dr. Michelle Priscandaro Gallagher taught American Literature this Spring in the English Department of Iona College. She and James plan a month's trip to Italy this summer. Please send me your news.

This Spring, Peggy Candee Jacob's book: The Radical Enlightenment, Pantheists, Freemasons and Republicans was published by George Allen & Unwin. It followed close on a text book on Western Civilization, The West. A Concise History published by Houghton-Mifflin, which she co-authored with other historians, among them, Jim Jacob. Peg also delivered lectures at the University of Wisconsin and more recently at the University of Pennsylvania. Last November, Peg and Jim ran a conference on "The Origins of Anglo-American Radicalism" sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation. In her leisure time, Peg cooks a lot, having just finished a course in nouvelle cuisine: Virginia Humes Mastondrea hopes to receive her MSW this May. She is a supervisor for the New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services, a child protection agency, heavily involved in child abuse detection and prevention. Virginia, Bob and their 8-year-old son, Christian, are building a 36 foot cement sailboat. We extend our sympathy to Jane Mahon Farrell who writes of her father's death, saying that he was so proud that his only daughter graduated from college. Jane teaches at P.S. 102, Brooklyn, with many fellow SJC's: Margaret Ansbro, Mary Ganley, Barbara Gillao Gabel, Maureen Butler, Margaret Perrotta, Rita Maganelli, PTA President, Veronica Pawson. They had ambivalent feelings at the retirement of their "leader", Mary Twigg Connors. Madelyn Comlskey Potter was sighted in the building en route to a course being given at 102. Mauriel O'Riordon Ward can be found in the supermarket at Breezy Point on a warm summer day. Cathy Vesey Reeves and family have moved back from California to New York City where Cathy is Director of Corporate Affairs for RCA. Richard, her husband, is a Syndicated Columnist and is currently researching a book on De Tocqueville for Simon and Schuster. Deirdre Connelly Galvin is looking forward to the summer in Rome, Maine, with John and their two sons, George, five, and J.P., going on three. She hopes to see Tom and Vivian Marchese Adamo and their children Noelle, Paul and Christina. Patrick and Frances Geiger Curtin live in Middletown N.Y. with their three daughters, 14, 12 and 9. Frances teaches 3rd grade at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel and Patrick is a supervisor at Camp La Guardia, a city-run center for homeless men.

Kay Murphy Goldmann is now licensed in Speech Pathology in Texas and is working toward a certificate in language and learning disabilities. John, Kay and their children Sean and Meghan enjoy camping and roller skating. Kay volunteers in her children's school and is teaching herself computer programming. Len and Anne Cahalan Kingsley took a vacation in South America. Their tour included a tropical storm on the Amazon, a forty minute walk through the jungle with no flashlight to a hotel that had no electricity, soap, towels, or hot water. They look forward to Australia and New Zealand this summer. Anne ran the New York City Marathon in '80 and finished in 4 hours 27 minutes. Hopes to cut this time down in 1981. Eugene and Christina McCullagh Cronin are proud parents of twins, bringing the total to five children. They enjoyed a skiing vacation in February in the Poconos (not the twins!) The Cronins had a dinner party for Peggy McCartney Leder, Nora McGowan Haggerty, Margie Marrow Bechl and spouses, in January. Chris and Gene are also very active in Rowayton, Connecticut Youth activities, setting up Basketball and soccer programs as well as Cub Scout work. Heard that Bonnie Sekula Waldron lives in Massachusetts but we don't have her address. She does substitute teaching and cross-country skiing.

There were 14 of us at the Annual luncheon for our 15th and we had a great time. Joan Miley Danehy came from Chittenango, N.Y. where she teaches Computer Science at SUNY Morrisville. The big news was of Clare Kelly's Dublin marriage to Francis Noel Linnie. Clare is now settling in Bay Ridge and job hunting. Ann Mulryan Gralton teaches kindergarten in NYC Public school. Joan Gaudin Ryan is Director of Religious Education for Our Lady of the Lake parish in N.J. where she lives. Margaret Currie Alcuri teaches four year olds in nursery school. Judith Collins, looking great, teaches Bi-lingual Reading in NYC District 32. She was awarded an Impact II Replication Grant and was recently elected Secretary of the Spanish-American Cultural Link. Jean Stephens Maffei's son Neal, 3, and Edith Lechleitner Foley's daughter Elizabeth, 2½, went to dancing school together this spring. Baby, Peter Maffei, is six months old. Evelyn Martin practices dentistry in Huntington. Mary Lou Herndon LaLone is director of a Nursery School and attends C.W. Post in Southampton for Special Ed Certification. Joan Connolly Marone is a teacher in a Junior High School. Mary Devlin, Pat Buckley Mullaney, Helen Lynch Canal and Joanne Danaher Shea were also there. We all agreed that we enjoyed ourselves and we all looked well!!! Carol Ann Wright Sasso is renovating her house in Douglaston. Mary Ellen Dugan Quilstroff and family are back from Taiwan and living in the state of Washington. Agnes Walsh entered Maryknoll in August. Our condolences and prayers to Marianne Duffy McSharry on the death of her husband, Jack. Dr. Peggy McHugh has three titles: Director, Adolescent Ambulatory Services, Bellevue; Assistant Professor, Pediatrics, NYU School of Medicine AND Mrs. Richard Schulhoff. Carole Tracey Neumann learned she was "lost" and sent her Tappan, N.Y. address. Mary Connolly Cava moved to Roslyn last August and in the process her diploma was lost. Sr. Amata replaced it. Mary finished her doctoral work at Teachers College, Columbia and was awarded an Ed.D. in May 1980. Her dissertation was a comparative study of two systems of teaching reading to first-grade students. Mary is staying on with the Valley Stream Public School system because she wishes to have contact with young children. She has an eye to the future for a college position. Joan Fitzsimmons Keeler and family will move to Los Angeles this summer because Billy was offered a new job in Lakewood. While out there, the Keelers spent a few evenings with Jean Coleman Duffy in El Toro, whose three sons are quite a handful. Jean and family will soon move to Washington State.

Lorraine Smith-Phelan is a science editor (physics/physical science) in the School Department of Hold, Rinehart & Winston, Publishers. Lorraine recently saw "Star Wars" with Anita Majetich and Judi Raikowski Joyce. Maureen, 1½ year old daughter of Marilyn Allen Mierzwa, now has a baby sister, Kerry Ann, born April 9th. Maria Del Galzo Noto graduated from Seton Hall Law School in June 1980 and was admitted to the N.J. Bar in November. Presently she is serving a judicial clerkship to Judge Shebell in Freehold, New Jersey. Husband, Michael, is an Assistant Prosecutor in Middlesex County. Their sons, Christian, 9 and Brian, 4 now have a pony named Elizabeth. Mary Anne O'Boyle Leary had a great trip to California this winter. Son Charley has finished Kindergarten and awaits first grade. Aside from minding two active young sons, Mary Anne is doing free lance work for the Special Libraries Association and Howard University Press. Judy Nevadunsky La Roche stopped for the night at Mary Anne's en route to Williamsburg. In March, Judy's first baby, Caroline, arrived. Anne Noberlin Ginkel and family who had been living in England the past few years, are back in the states. Five of our members enjoyed a reunion at the Luncheon: Terry Palella Mannix, Helen Kustowska Heffler, Sr. Helen Kearney, Janice Mirabile Rao and Mary Ellen Dubiel Freeley. Terry talked of her two-month-old Kathryn Therese and of her recent visit with Terry Perrone Bozza. Janice was in Syracuse for a conference on Social Studies and in March vacationed in Florida with daughter Jessica, while Sal stayed home with the dog and cat. Sr. Helen Kearney, director of the Dillon Center told us that Barbara Barbieri Perini's children were Dillon students. Helen Kustowska Heffler spoke of the Queens Chapter activities as well as news of Jim and daughter Margaret. Mary Ellen Dubiel Freeley has had a busy semester as a doctoral student at St. John's and teaching supervisor at St. Joseph's. She continues to present workshops on "Children and Loss" to parent-teacher groups — gave 13 of them during the semester, one to Bishop Kearney H.S. seniors at the invitation of Sr. Helen Hanley, another at PTA in Floral Park, invitation from Margaret Courtney Gargiulo and a third to Dillon parents at the invitation of Sr. Helen Kearney. Judi Wenzinger Freier and Fran Farinacci McGrath were present. Eileen Kiesel Gallagher sold her home in Chicago and is building one in Dallas. Ed, with American Airlines, has been transferred there and they will move in August. In a call from California recently, Judy Campbell Donnelly was telling of the fund raising she does for Stanford University. Judy who has been very successful talks in the millions! She recently ran a Business Management Workshop for National Fund Raising executives. Although a History major and an Art History student in Paris for a couple of years, Judy credits her overall education at SJC for being able to attain success in her present position. Mary Anne Annucci Williams will host our fall reunion at her home in Maplewood, New Jersey. Watch your mail for date and time. Next year will be our 15th anniversary. Let's celebrate together at the 1982 Spring Luncheon.

Maureen Quinn Scherer is a home-teacher of English for the Connetquot District in Bohemia and also substitutes in junior and senior high. She was pleasantly surprised to meet Barbara Bracco Christina while substituting in Miller Place J.H.S. A year ago Barbara was in a car accident which hospitalized her for a while. Youngsters playing hockey collided head-on. Carol still feels the effects of, among other injuries, the broken knee caps. Barbara has been teaching French and Spanish since 1980. Her twin sister, Carol Bracco Fish, Don, and one year old Stephen are settled in an historic home in Setauket. Carol is on leave from teaching Pat Bigini Quinn, M.D., is in a program for learning disabled children in Stony Brook. Erena Cicero De Rose is busy at home with her son and toddler daughter. Maureen Madden McDonnell and her husband Rev. Richard McDonnell, an ordained Anglican minister, have been living in Canada since September 1979, with Richard 8, Edward 6, and William 4. They expect a fourth child in June. Maureen loves the rural community although she found it quite an adjustment from Jamaica Estates at first. Maureen met Ann Burke Szulwach when she was in N.Y. in October. Anne has given up teaching and works in a Union Health Office. Her husband, John, is assistant headmaster of Horace Mann school in Westchester. Rosemarie De Rogalis who bought a home on Staten Island has been teaching at P.S. 102 since graduation. She has a Master's in Early Childhood from Brooklyn college and a degree in Supervision and Administration from Richmond. She is now a part-time student at Brooklyn Law school. Cathie Colgan Stanton and family spent Easter vacation in Washington DC. The big attraction was not the regular monuments but the DC subway system and staying at hotels with indoor pools so they could swim. The Air and Space Museum got a pretty good reception too. Peggy Smith, who lives in Albany, travels throughout the state for the State Social Services Department. Marissa, daughter of Marie Elena Gluttari D'Angelo, is in the 3rd grade and Janine is in kindergarten. Marie Elena substitutes in a nursery school, is a Brownie leader and helps out at the girls' school. She saw Frances Panchok in January and was godmother to the Berrys' first child, Andrea Marie. The Berrys came from Houston to Brooklyn to have the baby baptized. Marie Elena and family hope to visit Perry and Maryanne Fontozzi Orshan in their new home in Ridgewood, New Jersey. Rose Farrell is living in San Francisco for about six months. Her husband Joseph Lowe, is trying an Anti-trust Case in Federal Court.

Dannie and Ettie Piccini Malderi are planting their vegetable garden including tomatoes and herbs. Ralphie now 2, helps out in transforming their city yard. Effie gave us the address of Rita Verri Scalzo who moved to N.J. from Staten Island with her three daughters, the newest addition, Danielle Elizabeth. She reports that Dennis and Gilda Piccini King moved into a Shore Road home with a magnificent view of the Verrazano Bridge. Gilda teaches Math to Juniors and Seniors at Fontbonne Hall which is within walking distance. Rob and Rosemary Pendola Daetsch spent their April vacation in Bermuda. They were there for the strikes and the hotel asked them to leave as soon as possible. It was their first visit to Bermuda and they came home with unpleasant memories. Rosemary's daughter, Jennifer, 4, goes to nursery school with Melissa, daughter of Linda Riccobono Ciaccia. The four of them are good friends. They live in New Jersey. Margaret Larkin revisited her favorite haunt, England, this winter; and got to Warwick Castle and the Covent Garden ballet in London, among other sights. Gulseppl and Loraine Mazzella Malola moved from Italy to Montreal, Canada, with young son, Ilaris. Diane Kelty O'Connor's two children, Kristen and Michael are in grades 2 and 1 respectively. Diane teaches in a Catholic School in Dover N.J. and loves it. Please help us to find our "lost" members:

Victoria Taylor was disappointed at not being able to get a teaching position after graduation. In the past four years she has held three positions at various Wall Street firms. Weary of overtime and train travel, Victoria went to a White Plains employment agency and was interviewed for an operational assistant position at ACLI International, a commodity trading firm, where she's been since March 1980, and loves it. However, she misses working with children and volunteers with elementary school children in her parish. She belongs to a tennis club and has travelled to California several times, also has toured most of Italy. Victoria was married on May 23 to Arthur Harrison, an engineering Supervisor at AT&T in White Plains. They look forward to a honeymoon cruise to Bermuda. Jackie Reisert writes that the Arctic Art Exhibit at the Museum of the American Indian is being held over until September 31, 1981. May 10th marked the 65th year of the founding of the museum and Jackie is coordinator of a six-month exhibition of its archives and memorabilia of the museum. She hopes to see SJC student and alumni at the free guided tours, lectures, historic film series, etc. Jackie has been travelling to reservations in the Southwest. In June she will deliver a paper on Ethnicity and Its Role in the Development of Museums. Cheryl Solster works for the Manufacturers Hanover, training platform Personnel. Debbie Stevenson Nelson and Charles' daughter, Michele Elizabeth was born last December 27th. Bill Gorman teaches 7th and 8th grade Social Studies and 8th grade Religion at St. Francis Xavier. Bill reports that property he bought a few years ago on DeGraw St. is sky-rocketing, because of an overflow from Brooklyn Heights. Great pains are taken now to preserve and restore these nineteenth century doorways, windows, etc. Garry Stegeland is in the DA's office in Brooklyn and has his own pad in Park Slope.

NEW CHAPTER IN SUFFOLK

Do you live in the Southwest Section of Suffolk County?

... then you are automatically members of our new Alumni Chapter. Join us at future meetings and events.

At a meeting on September 15, 1981, in the West Islip Library, the Southwest Suffolk Chapter was officially launched, with the purpose of serving St. Joseph's College and its alumni in the area. Twenty-one classes were represented - graduates of the Brooklyn, Brentwood and Patchogue campuses - and officers were elected.

Co-Chairmen:	Nancy Henry '79 Margaret Lemp '79
Secretary:	Marge Gillen Hurley '39
Treasurer:	Madeline L. Hennessy '36
Historian:	Evelyn Smith Greenli '47

After an attempt to start a group in the 50's, and again in the 70's, the '80's planning committee is to be congratulated on the formation of this chapter which had been requested by many alumni over the years and especially by Suffolk County grads. Hardworking members of this committee are Marge Gillen Hurley '39, Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton '33, Catherine Eppig Murphy '32, Evelyn Smith Greenli '47, Ann Moore Burns '40, Nancy Henry '79, Jane Bell Norton '39, Marion Salgado '78 and Jean Spina '80.

ARE YOU A SHUTTERBUG?

The Photography Club of St. Joseph's College has scheduled an Exhibit in Room 101 from April 21st to April 28th. The Club invites alumni to exhibit their work. If you are interested write now or phone the Alumni Office for more information: 245 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, 11205 (212 622-1656).

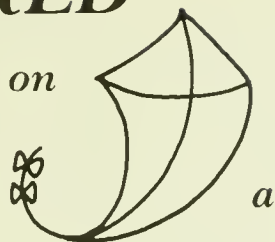

A MESSAGE FROM THE CLASS OF 1979

On 26 June 1981 a reunion for the Class of 1979 was held in the Rec Room at the college, to present its members with their copies of FOOTPRINTS '79.

Heartfelt thanks are extended to Cathy McKenna and Angela Poccia for their concern, time, effort and dedication in seeing FOOTPRINTS 1979 through to its publication. The Class of 1979 is eternally grateful for their efforts to keep our memories of SJC alive in our yearbook.

St. Joseph's College complies with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, Section 501

STRING

The Szabos and their five children have been kiting enthusiasts for years. When Dorothea took an early retirement from teaching, she turned this hobby into a small business and called it WORLD ON A STRING. She and Chuck opened a kite store in Northampton, Massachusetts.

It is a delight to step inside — into a room filled with colorful and varied shaped kites on all four walls and ceiling. Looking around and listening to the enthusiastic kite talk, you know you could get hooked on this exhilarating and challenging sport. The kites range in price from fifty nine cents to eighty dollars, and come from India, China, Japan, England, Germany, Thailand and our own USA. Kites on the walls in the shapes of dragons, butterflies, birds, fish, saucers, diamonds and stars are all in bright varied colors.

Hanging from the ceiling was a kite which has made a major impact on recreational kitemaking, a non-rigid air foil that assumes different shapes depending on changes in wind velocity. It was designed and made by Francis Rogallo of NASA who was developing the drogues used to slow down the returning space capsule. The flexible winged kite is made of heavy guage mylar and has no frame and Dorothea assures us that it flies well. Another radical development is the Parafoil which was a spin-off from a parachute developed by Domina Jalbert of the U.S. Navy. It is made of nylon but instead of using sticks to give it shape, it has four pockets which fill with air to give it an airfoil shape which some might say looks like a flying mattress. This is a favorite kite with wind prospectors — those scientists and engineers who study winds for the development of new energy sources.

Just starting her second year in business, Dorothea is pleased that the store is doing well and that there is a growing interest in kiting. There are five colleges in the area, Smith, Mount Holyoke, Amherst, Hampshire and the University of Massachusetts. Students love the colorful kites for wall decorations as well as for an afternoon's fun. Kite contests and kite flies are becoming more and more popular with them.

Last Spring at the New England Artists Festival and Showcase at the Three County Fairgrounds in Northampton, where 200 artists and craftsmen showed their work, Dorothea gave a lecture on Kites and Kitecraft and conducted a Kite Contest. Entrants brought kites which they had made and they were judged for artistic design, craftsmanship and ability to fly well. Awards were made for the smallest, the largest and the most beautiful.

During the Summer, Dorothea conducted a Kite Race at the Berkshire Balloon Festival in Cummington, Massachusetts. Two exciting events were the Down Wind Race in which the contestants had to get to the finish line while trying to get their kites flying higher than their opponents. The Timed Altitude Contest was won by the person who flew the kite to the greatest altitude within a specified period of time. One of the highlights at the 250th Anniversary of the town of Brimfield was Dorothea's lecture and display. Schools throughout the area request Dorothea's lecture as an educational supplement or for special programs.

WORLD ON A STRING also sells books written by experts on the history and art of kite making and kite flying. Kits for making your own kites are very popular. Dorothea advertises in local newspapers and college papers throughout the area and over local radio.

Dorothea Droesch was a Child Study major and graduated in 1946. She attended Columbia on a fellowship from St. Joseph's — working in the Nursery School a few hours a day — and received her Master's in 1948. She was married in August of that year and taught the first grade in Franklin Square for a year, when Stephen was born. The family moved to New Jersey six years later where Chuck, an industrial engineer, was working. In 1961, his work took him to New England and the Szabos moved to Hardwick, Massachusetts where Dorothea went back to the classroom, teaching in elementary school. Four of their five children, Stephen, Elizabeth, Andrew and Margaret have pursued careers in science and technology. Catherine, a senior in high school is planning to major in music when she enters college next year. She plays the French Horn in Young People's Symphony, under the auspices of the Springfield Symphony Orchestra, as well as in the University of Massachusetts' Wind Ensemble.

Dorothea's "extra-curricular" activities are Lector, Extraordinary Minister and 8th grade CCD teacher. She is president of Quabbin Community Arts Council, Treasurer of both the Gilbertville Library Association Trustees, and Quabog Valley Business and Professional Women. Chuck keeps busy too as Lector, Extraordinary Minister, Chairman of the Rescue Squad Board of Directors and Chairman of the Planning Board.

Vacationing in the Berkshires? Step into Dorothea's store on Main Street and step into the colorful, delightful World on a String.

ELDERHOSTEL

Vincent and Magda Crowe Boylan '45

"Studying there is half the fun!" This is the slogan of Elderhostel, a network of over 400 colleges, universities and other educational facilities in the United States and overseas, which offer inexpensive, short-term academic programs for older adults. It is open to people over 60 or to those whose spouse qualifies. Singles, widowed and divorced also attend. Most sessions begin on a Sunday evening and end the following Saturday morning and are limited to 30 - 40 persons. The weekly charge per person is $140 for room, board and classes, as well as many extra-curricular activities.

This brief description, excerpted from the Elderhostel catalog, cannot begin to convey the variety of experiences - educational, social and recreational - made possible by this program which was inspired by the youth hostels of Europe. Lectures are scheduled so that hostellers may take advantage of the three classes that are offered each day. There are no exams, no grades, no homework but lots of class participation by "students" from many walks of life.

My husband and I first attended the program in the summer of 1980. We picked a prep school in Maine which offered courses that appealed to both of us: American Foreign Policy Issues, Introduction to Astronomy and a hands-on course in Sculpture a stimulating curriculum. The nightly extra-curricular activities at Hebron were outstanding. We were school-bused to a Shakespearean Theater and a Chamber Music Festival in nearby villages. On-campus entertainment was equally enjoyable. And there were always a couple of bridge games to join or kibitz and, of course, happy hours in the "dorms". Accommodations were simple but comfortable and the meals were surprisingly good.

Summer '81, we returned to Maine to attend an environmental studies college in a relatively rustic setting. There were courses in science and ethics, forestry, drawing/painting and oral history. The latter class was particularly interesting since participants had been video-

Kathleen Dugan

Kathleen Dugan died on November 6th after a protracted illness. Though she was a single woman with few relatives, the church was filled with alumni and friends who came to celebrate the Mass of Christian Burial at St. Patrick's, in Brooklyn.

Many memories of Kathleen were exchanged. She came to the college in the second semester of freshman year from a large high school, Bay Ridge, where she had been a leader. She was perplexed by the small classes at St. Joseph's and the informal atmosphere, but soon responded to the friendly efforts of her classmates to integrate her into their freshman unit.

From the outset, Kathleen was among the first to offer to help in any activity. In those days, uniforms for the athletes were hand made as were costumes for the drama club. Kathleen was both seamstress and participant in sports and drama — Shakespearean and Greek plays. All her classmates recalled an incident in Professor McEntee's History class. Kathleen was settling into her seat, when a bag of candy she was clutching, broke, scattering the small pieces all over. Prof. McEntee asked about all the commotion and Kathleen exclaimed, "Oh, my pearls!" With that all the girls dived to retrieve the sweets.

Fiercely loyal to St. Joseph's, Kathleen made many friends among the students and faculty. This trait was a part of her life in her career as a teacher, in her many contacts in volunteer work and in her travels. How many trips did she make to Ireland?

Kathleen helped in the Valois Guild as an Auxiliary and she belonged to a group at the Visitation Monastery which made vestments for the missions. At phonathons and all alumni functions, Kathleen could be counted on to serve with cheerfulness and a great sense of humor. We recall particularly her work with the Golden Jubilee celebration of the college. In recent years, as class reporter, she faithfully produced a column for '24 for every issue of Alumnagam. Kathleen didn't like to work for big organizations, but she never ceased to do a lot for small events and for many individuals. We remember!

taped as they recounted their life experiences during the World War II era. Again, we met a very gregarious, vital group of people, a number of whom were travelling around New England attending several Elderhostels in succession.

To get a catalog listing of next summer's courses, write to Elderhostel, 100 Boylston Street, Boston, MA 02116. Base your decision on the area of the country which you would like to visit, as well as course content. Return your application promptly; Elderhostel is growing by leaps and bounds. Second choices are advisable. Certain well-known colleges are always deluged with requests, for example Williams had 5,000 applicants for 120 slots this summer!

Elderhostel has begun to offer some very exciting courses in England, Denmark and Scandinavia. But this will be someone else's story to tell. Since we now have a son in California, the Boylans will be very pleased to be accepted at California State University at Sacramento in 1982 for the best possible combination - Elderhostel, vacation and a family reunion!

BANKER

Christine Giangreco

On November 7th, at the end of the Alumni Luncheon at Windows on the World, Christine Giangreco doffed her chairman's hat, touched home to pick up her suitcase and caught the 7:00 P.M. flight to Sweden. She assumed her business role as Assistant Vice President with the Nordic American Banking Corporation. NABC provides services to those companies, both Nordic and American, which are investing in or trading between the United States and Nordic countries. The significant growth potential of this bank is obvious as we see about us the Volvo, Saab, Swedish Crystal, cutlery and many other Nordic products, all of high quality and in demand. Christine, an experienced commercial banker of NABC bridges the Nordic and American markets.

While in Bishop Kearney High School, Christine won an award in the New York City Science Fair with a project in Astro-photography. This required a six-inch F8 Newtonian Reflecting Telescope which she made, painstakingly grinding the 6" mirror to near perfection. With an interest in math and science in high school, it seems strange that she took dual majors in History and German with an Economics Political Science minor at St. Joseph's. Yet this reveals her broad interests and capabilities. Christine received her Bachelor's degree, summa cum laude, in 1969 and she accepted a full fellowship from John Hopkins University in the School of Advanced International Studies. She spent the 1969-70 year at the John Hopkins Bologna Center, Italy, majoring in International Economics with courses in International Law, Western European Studies and International Politics. She continued her second year in Washington D.C. and received a Master of Arts Degree in June 1971. She has taken some post-masters evening courses in Finance and Economics at New York University.

Christine Giangreco worked for the Marine Midland Bank from 1971 to 1976, as an International Banking Officer, managing various country and regional desks within Western European territory. This involved annual travel to the countries involved, visiting corporate and government clients as well as correspondent banks. She developed loan opportunities both overseas and domestic, presented loan packages to internal credit committees, working with a variety of country groupings because of language fluency. Christine is proficient in German and Italian, has a good knowledge of Swedish and French and a working knowledge of Spanish.

In 1976, Christine was recruited by the Nordic American Banking Corporation to initiate business development effort, targeting and visiting U.S. multinational corporations and Swedish subsidiaries. Now, as corporate calling officer for the U.S.-Swedish desk, her major clients include U.S. subsidiaries of Scandinavian multinationals, and Fortune's "500" companies with Scandinavian

The Hoe Chair

In September 1981, Teachers College of Columbia University appointed Frances Partridge Connor to the endowed professorship, as Richard March Hoe Professor of Education. Professor Connor has had major impact in charting the course of education for exceptional children across the United States. She is widely known for her scholarship and research, leadership in initiating legislation, efforts in the establishment of professional and parent organizations, and active participation in policy-making bodies on the national, state, and local levels of government.

Frances has been Chairman of the Department of Special Education at Teachers College since 1962, serving also as director of the College's Research and Demonstration Center for the Education of the Handicapped and the Research Institute for the Study of Learning Disabilities. She has served as president of the Council for Exceptional Children, Chairman of the Commissioner's Advisory Council for Children with Handicapping Conditions (N.Y. State Education Department), and as a member of the National Advisory Committee of the U.S. Bureau for the Education of the Handicapped. A member of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, she also sits on the New York State Advisory Committee on the Disabled, on the Board of Trustees of the National Hemophilia Foundation.

Professor Connor was editor of the Teachers College Bureau of Publications Series in Special Education from 1961 to 1973, for which she wrote Education of Homebound and Hospitalized Children (1961) and An Experimental Curriculum for Young Mentally Retarded Children (with Mabel Talbot, 1964). She was co-author of three U.S. Office of Education reports developed at Teachers College: Professional Preparation for Educators of Crippled Children in 1970, Professional Preparation for Educators of Crippled Children: Competency Based Programming in 1971, and Leadership Preparation for Educators of Crippled and Other Health Impaired-Multiply Handicapped Populations in 1973. Her most recent book is A Program Guide for Infants and Toddlers with Neuromotor and Other Developmental Disabilities published by Teachers College Press, 1978, with J. Gordon Williamson and John Siepp.

Frances Connor is a member of the Board of Trustees of Mount St. Mary College in Newburgh, N.Y., and serves on the President's Advisory Council at the College of New Rochelle. She received her B.A. from St. Joseph's College in 1940 and her M.A. and PhD from Teachers College in 1948 and 1953 respectively and an honorary doctorate from the College of New Rochelle in 1974.

operations. This entails frequent travels throughout the United States, contacting prospective and existing clients, as well as annual travel to Scandinavia to visit parent companies and U.S. subsidiaries there.

Since January 1976, Christine Giangreco has been on the faculty of the evening division of St. Francis College teaching one evening course per semester. These have included Macroeconomics, Microeconomics, International Economics, Money and Banking, Contemporary Economic Issues, and Personal Finance. She serves in St. Charles Borromeo, her parish, as lector and Eucharistic minister, and also in St. Rosalie's in Hampton Bays, where she has a home, an ideal place to retreat from the pressures of a banker's life.

MTA Director of Real Estate

Marcy Boyle '69

Late last year, Marsilia A. Boyle became the new Director of Real Estate for the Metropolitan Transportation Authority which operates the NYC Transit system, ConRail, the Long Island Rail Road, the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority and Stewart and Republic Airports. All real estate matters must be approved and guided by the MTA Board for which Marcy develops, manages and implements policy. She hopes to make MTA's real estate management complementary to and supportive of the transportation function. In addition to producing revenue for the system, Marcy hopes to incorporate development of retail opportunities into station enhancement. For example MTA's Adopt-A-Station program, in conjunction with "Sweet 14", a development corporation of private merchant and community groups, renovated the 14th Street Union Square subway station. The MTA and Sweet 14 are now working together to develop retail opportunities at the station which reinforces the station renovation. This approach can be used in conjunction with the station modernization efforts of MTA's recently enacted 5 year capital improvement program.

Marcy believes that concessions in subway and commuter rail stations can benefit from the heavy pedestrian traffic which passed through stations every day. They can be an asset to the transit system similar to Montreal's vast underground shopping network.

Duties of the Real Estate Director include more than subway and commuter rail station real estate. Marcy and her staff of 25 also handle the rental of private property for MTA use, the administration of transit advertising contracts, and the leasing of railroad property by outside concerns. They also make decisions on property rights and acquisitions.

The job is a challenge and Marcy hopes to see positive improvements, under the able leadership of MTA Chairman, Richard Ravitch.

In her previous position as Deputy Commissioner of the New York City Department of Ports and Terminals, Marcy headed the city's waterfront development program, with emphasis in administration of real estate and development. It entailed the planning, engineering and economic development programs, as well as coordination with overlapping jurisdictions. Manager of a 70 member staff, Marcy was responsible for a $50 million capital budget program for waterfront and terminal market properties.

NEW LAWYER

Richard Sparaco, a graduate cum laude of the class of 1978, was accepted by four law schools at that time. He chose Rutgers. With the aid of a student loan and a part-time job, Richard finished his studies and received a J.D. from Rutgers in May 1981. He passed the bar in both New Jersey and Pennsylvania and now works in the Office of Administrative Law in Trenton, New Jersey.

When he graduated from Xaverian High School, Richard chose St. Joseph's College because of its small classes and its friendly atmosphere. He enjoyed the close relationship with fellow students and faculty. The education he received at St. Joseph's, he asserts was excellent in preparing him for his arduous law studies and for his law career. Richard moved from Brooklyn to Camden, New Jersey, to attend law school; he loved the Philadelphia South Jersey area and decided to begin his practice of law there.

At St. Joseph's College, Marcy majored in Social Science and received her degree in 1969. In August 1970, she received a Master's of Public Administration degree from the State University of New York in Albany, Graduate School of Public Affairs. She was in the New York State Senate Internship Program from 1970-71 when she became a Research Assistant to the New York State Senate Committee on Health. Continuing as a Research Analyst Marcy researched, wrote and edited four reports on New York City's Housing and Development Administration. She then worked with Governor Rockefeller's Commission of Critical Choices for Americans which studied problems facing the nation as it entered its Third Century.

The following year, 1975, Marcy was a member of Governor-Elect Carey's Transition Team researching state agencies and producing reports as background information for him. Her next year's experience in working with the Commissioner of New York State's Department of Social Services included directing the Title XX Program. Another highly significant position was Marcy's year as special assistant to the Executive Director of New York State Emergency Financial Control Board.

In 1978, Marcy began her affiliation with New York City as Special Assistant to the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection, where she formulated a reorganization plan to consolidate bureaus under centralized control.

When she was a student at St. Joseph's, Marcy was active in the Political Affairs Club, serving as its president and was also on the Student Senate. From September 1977 to June 1981, Marcy was a valuable member of the Alumni Executive Board.

A committed Brooklynite, Marcy lives not far from St. Joseph's in Greenpoint where she is active in community affairs serving as a member of Community Board 1 and as its chairperson from 1974-76, the youngest chairperson in the City's history.

White Hart Inn

John and Elyse Deublein Harney '52

Salisbury, Connecticut, is a quiet town of typical New England charm, and charming, too, is the White Hart Inn nestled at the crossroads. For the past twenty-one years, John and Elyse Deublein Harney have been managers and part owners of this "Inn for All Seasons." It was originally owned by Henry Ford, whose sons attended Hotchkiss, one of the five prestigious preparatory schools in this beautiful countryside. The Inn is attractive and homey with a gracious dining room and its popularity attests to its excellent cuisine.

When a student at St. Joseph's Elyse thought nothing of commuting from New Jersey to Brooklyn, with Nancy Billings Brazill, another Jerseyite. She recalls with enthusiasm, the faculty, the courses and her fellow-students, and regretted only that her commutation time curtailed more involvement with extra-curricular activities. She graduated in 1952, and in February 1953, Elyse married John Harney who had received his B.S. Degree from the Hotel School of Cornell University.

Having worked in several establishments, the Harneys became part-owners and managers of The White Hart Inn in 1960. They and their children, John, Michael and Keith became New Englanders and Lyse, now 16 and Paul, 13, were born there.

White Hart Inn was named after a White Hart Inn in Salisbury, England. The Harneys exchanged greetings and felicitations with that Inn on its 300th Anniversary which also marked the 100th anniversary of its American counterpart.

As you step from the spacious porch of the Inn into the large living room, you see a Country Store on the left. During the World's Fair it had been set up in the New England Pavillion by the Dunphy family, long-time New Englander store owners. The Harneys acquired it at the close of the fair and brought it up to the inn, "lock, stock and barrel." Among the many items you find as you browse through the room, are Sarum Teas, The Sarum Tea Company is owned by the Harneys and packaged by John Harney, an expert tea taster and blender. "Sarum" is the old Roman name for Salisbury.

Elyse has been active in her community. She was Vice-Chairman of the School Board and a selectman for the town of Salisbury. She has taught catechism in St. Mary's parish for twenty years and is involved in a pilot program

GOAL REALIZED

Emilia Longobardo Govan always wanted to be a lawyer, but circumstances delayed that dream for nearly seventeen years. In 1975, a friend of hers was applying for the Law School Admission test, and urged Emilia to apply also. The deadline was the next day and with no time to procrastinate, she secured the application, filled it in and ran to the post office to mail it. In 1976, Emilia was accepted by Georgetown University Law Center, from which she was graduated four years later with a J.D. cum laude. On June 19, 1981 she was admitted to the D.C. bar.

How did she manage to hold down an important daytime job, attend classes at night, work on the law review, care for a husband, two sons and an invalid mother and do household chores? "I'm certainly not a 'superwoman.'" she replies. "There was no way I could have done it without the support of my family. Each person contributes to the household and each has a sense of mutual responsibility to the family unit. If I didn't have a family that shares responsibilities, I could not have managed."

A graduate of the class of 1958, Emilia earned a Master's in Political Science at Columbia. Then followed a variety of experiences: from teaching political science at Trinity College, to public interest work, to project director at the Congressional Office of Technology Assessment, then to senior staff positions with the U.S. Department of Energy, and to her last post with DOE before joining Pepper, Hamilton & Scheetz, a law firm in Washington, D.C. as Acting Director of Environment & Safety, Office of Fossil Energy.

In an earlier edition of Alumnogram, was an account of the arduous work done by Emilia and her husband, Jim, to oppose construction of I-66 highway in Arlington resulting in the favorable decision, "certificate denied" and in an award as "Washingtonian of the Year" by Washington Magazine.

The Govans still reside in Arlington, Virginia. Jim is with the Office of Legislative Affairs at the Agency for International Development (AID). Their sons, Michael 18 and Stephen 16 show no interest in the law as a profession. Michael attends Williams College and intends to major in Fine Arts and become an artist. Stephen is a junior at O'Connell High School in Arlington and is sports editor of the school paper.

Emilia has little time for hobbies, but Jim and she enjoy going to the opera. She is happy to be working for Pepper and finally to practice law, her long-desired goal.

of sponsoring George Noonan, a graduate of Yale Divinity School as Youth Minister to serve the young people in the private schools and parishes in the area. This is supported by five parishes and by private funding and has the permission of the Archdiocese. Elyse is also an extraordinary minister to patients in the Sharon Hospital.

Elyse drove down from Salisbury early on Saturday November 7th to attend the luncheon at Windows on the World, and enjoyed meeting again with alumnae and faculty. She was to join her sons later: Michael who is manager of a hotel in Chicago, and Kieth who is in real estate renovation in N.Y. City. They planned to attend the Hotel Show starting Sunday.

In Public Affairs

Lillian Abrahamsen Del Seni

Lillian Abrahamsen Del Seni, summa cum laude 1978, is working for the Board of Education of New York City as Executive Assistant to the Executive Director, Division of Public Affairs. This division is responsible for communicating the policies and programs of the NYC public school system to the public through news releases, informative material and reports and through personal assistance to the public. In her role as Records Access Officer, Lillian administers the Freedom of Information Law, under which an average of 250 requests of various complexity are received each month. Her responsibilities also include helping 400 to 500 people a month in locating their old school records which might be needed by employers, by registrars, or for passport or welfare agencies to provide information and assistance in compliance with the Federal "Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act". Lillian is in charge of staffing the Centrex Telephone System which handles approximately 40,000 calls a month, and she handles the budget, business and personnel operations of the division.

Lillian Abrahamsen had just turned sixteen when she received her diploma from Ft. Hamilton High School. She had no prospects of going to college. Equipped with secretarial skills, she took a position with the Hotel New Yorker in July 1959. As executive secretary, she assisted the Director of Sales in Administration of Trade Shows. By phone and personal contact, she developed new clientele, and successfully aided the director in securing several major clients, notably Lufthansa Airlines. Lillian left this position in 1964 when her first child was expected.

While raising her family, Lillian had part-time and summer positions with Telefeatures, as Administrative Assistant; with Coopers and Lybrand where she was Administrative Assistant to a senior partner, working at all levels of management; and with Coty, a Division of Charles Pfizer Co., as Executive Secretary.

The family moved to Rocky Point, in Suffolk County, in 1968. Suffolk Community College was fairly accessible and Lillian started back to school in 1971, taking one or two courses a semester. She received her Associate degree with honors in 1976. While at the college, she took an immensely popular course in Bible Literature given by Sr.

Beloved Doctor

At the Annual Merit Award Program for employees of the Queens Children's Psychiatric Center, on May 6, 1981, the following statement was read.

No loss so overwhelming as much as the death just a few weeks ago of a truly beloved staff member, Dr. Lillian Dooher. Lillian possessed in full measure all of those qualities we are honoring today in her fellow employees. In 1964, she left a busy pediatric practice to join the Children's Unit and became a psychiatrist, and worked with us since then.

Two years ago, Dr. Dooher was presented the Director's Award to honor her work, which she received with typical humility and unassuming gratitude. Outstanding work was standard practice for Lillian and she worked to develop such excellence in other staff.

After her death, we searched for a way to honor her memory and to keep her with us, a way that could be shared by all employees and friends. We decided to substitute for the Director's Award, The Lillian Dooher Memorial Award, as an annual memorial to her, an award to be given to each year's outstanding employee who best demonstrates Dr. Dooher's qualities of love for the children, competence, loyalty, dedication, a person loved in turn by the children and respected by fellow employees and the children's families.

Dr. Dooher was very much interested and involved in the planning of a new unit which expands the Center's Early Childhood Program to include children from 5 to 8 years of age as well as from 3 to 5. When Dr. Dooher died in April 1981, it seemed a natural progression to honor her memory by naming this new unit for her. The Lillian R. Dooher Unit was opened on July 1981 and is a most fitting tribute to a doctor that everyone loved.

A Science major, Lillian Dooher graduated from St. Joseph's in 1945. She attended Long Island College of Medicine and received her M.D. in 1949. She practiced as a pediatrician. Lillian married Arthur J. Seaton. Their daughter, Beth, is studying medicine in Mexico.

Grace Dolan, CSJ. She also attended a Meditation Session given by Sr. Grace through the Newman Club. Both were of profound influence.

Lillian joined the PTA of the school her children attended, and with some very successful programs, built up a tremendous enthusiasm among the parents of Rocky Point School. She was liaison between the school and community and as co-chairman, helped to build the new K-3 school. Lillian continued her involvement in education in the summer of 1975 when she worked for the Children's Television Workshop Research Department. As Administrative Assistant, she researched children's education material for media purposes and also acted as hostess, on behalf of the company's director, to business associates, dignitaries and government officials. In this job, Lillian contributed to new studies on Teenage Interests and on Pre-Schoolers Who Read.

After the family moved back to the city in 1976, Lillian Abrahamsen Del Seni enrolled in St. Joseph's College and majored in Social Science with emphasis on Political Science. She received her degree summa cum laude and was chosen by the class to be Valedictorian. (Coincidentally that year, her daughter, Dawn, was Salutatorian of the 8th grade and son, Don, was the 6th grade valedictorian!) She loved St. Joseph's for its small classes where everyone

Museum Director

Jacqueline Reisert

Jackie Reisert '75 came in to see Sr. Joseph Damien on November 10th to go over some details of an Exhibit on the American Indian which will be shown at the college beginning February 18th next year, and which she is coordinating. She told us that she had just accepted a position as Museum Director of the State Historical Society of North Dakota, in Bismarck.

This modern, dynamic museum opened its doors last February and was successful beyond expectation. The master plan, prepared with the help of a Boston museum consultant, projects a ten-year period of constructing permanent museum displays. Jackie is well qualified for the challenge.

Jacqueline Reisert graduated from St. Joseph's in 1975 with a B.A., cum laude, in History. She continued studies at St. John's University as a graduate research assistant and earned a Master's degree with honors in American Political History in 1977. Jackie also holds a Professional Certificate from St. John's in African Studies. She was an adjunct professor of American History there, from February to September 1978.

What can you do with a degree in History? Jackie heard that question so often, but was determined to use history in her life work. She looked for "history" jobs and applied to several museums. The Museum of the American Indian interviewed her. She followed her instinct to start there as assistant to the Development Officer (in April 1979), for there was the possibility of getting into research and exhibition work. The opportunity was not long in coming. She became Exhibit Coordinator/Curator of "Our Hearts Swell with Pride: A Legacy of Great Indians" in January 1980, and in April was made Administrative Assistant to the Director. 1981 marked the 65th anniversary of the Museum and Jackie was Project Coordinator of "Glimpses at 65" — an exhibit which ran from May to December, as a 65th Anniversary Celebration. The Museum currently has an exhibition "The Ancestors" which is on tour opening in Peking, China on November 19th. It will be in Shanghai for a month, next February.

A true history buff, Jacqueline has active memberships in New York Historical Network; American Association of Museums; New York Women's History Conference; Conference on New York State History; Regional Conference of Historical Agencies; New York Historical Society; National Historical Society; Organization of American Historians; Long Island Historical Society; National Geographic Society and American Historical Association. She invites Alumni to visit her in North Dakota.

REGINA AWARD

Most Rev. John R. McGann presents Regina award to Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton

Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton, '33, of the Southwest Suffolk Chapter, is one of seven women to be given the Regina Award in 1981 in the Diocese of Rockville Centre. This award is presented by the bishop to women who have performed outstanding volunteer service, while maintaining the integrity of their personal and family responsibilities.

voiced an opinion, for its concerned faculty, its social aspects and for her fellow students who, though younger, were congenial and friendly.

Since moving to Starrett City, Lillian has extended her activities to the surrounding community by serving with the East Brooklyn Churches Community Group. About thirty churches of all denominations, work together in an attempt to turn the area around. The group deals with community problems - improvement in sanitation, insistence on quality food, traffic needs, housing improvement and more. In October 1980, Lillian was sent to the Industrial Area's Foundation (IAF) Training Course in Chicago, to acquire knowledge and training with similar groups throughout the nation, who are successfully wrestling with urban problems.

Lillian's three children are Dawn, 17½, a senior at Edward R. Murrow, preparing for college, Donald, 16, a sophomore at Edward R. Murrow and Karen, 14, an 8th grader at I.S. 227 Brooklyn. Lillian is a Eucharistic Minister at St. Lawrence Church and was recently asked by Sr. Theresa Agilardi to help start a Divorced/Separated Catholics group at her parish. On November 21st, she attended the first diocesan Conference for Divorced/Separated Catholics held at Cathedral College where Bishop Mugavero stressed the church's role of healing and bringing everyone into the community.

Marketing Expert

Maria Falconetti '70

Maria Falconetti joined Compton Advertising Inc. in 1979, as Vice-president, Associate Research Director. She is responsible for consumer, marketing and strategic research for many of its clients, notably Procter & Gamble, Thompson Medical Company, Buitoni, Johnson & Johnson, McNeil, some of whose products are Tylenol, Sine-Aid and Pediatric, Norcliff-Thayer - a division of Revlon, Austin Nichols, IBM, Sotheby Parke-Bernet Auction Galleries and the Suffolk County Department of Health.

Maria studied sociology at St. Joseph's College for a Bachelor's degree received in 1970. She has taken advanced courses at the New School, NYU and the Babcock School of Business at Wake Forest.

Maria's first job was project director with Consumer Response Corporation. She worked with their clients in researching their advertising effectiveness, media expenditure tests and in new product development. In 1974, Maria moved to become Project Director with Rosenfeld, Sirowitz & Lawson. The following year she was associated with the Sherman Group, Inc. as a Research Executive. When the Sherman Group moved to Long Island, Maria decided to remain in New York City. However, she made an even bigger move - to North Carolina to become Advertising Research Manager for R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. in Winston-Salem. She was also consultant to RJR Foods and RJR International.

When Compton Advertising, Inc. lured her back to New York City in 1979, Maria's parents had moved to Florida and her sister to Texas. She opted to live in New Jersey where she represents the homeowners of her condominium community on the Board of Directors. She helps to raise funds for Hand In Hand, a New Jersey effort to establish businesses for mentally handicapped citizens. Meanwhile, she is serving St. Joseph's alumni as co-chairman for their 1981 Fall Luncheon in Windows on the World.

For recreation, Maria plays racquetball and enjoys bicycling. She likes to collect antiques. The future? It is well known in the advertising field that there is a continuous turnover of qualified personnel. After her experience with the southern living style, Maria has thoughts of returning to the South.

Eileen Cox

Eileen C. Cox '30

Six days before her planned departure for a few weeks' visit to Ireland with one of her classmates, Eileen Cox '30 died suddenly on August 30th at her home in Brooklyn where her family had lived for three generations.

Following her graduation from St. Joseph's in 1930 and the attainment of a Master's degree in mathematics from Columbia, Eileen successively taught at Notre Dame Academy in Manhattan and worked at Catholic Charities in Brooklyn. During World War II, she worked for the War Department Ordnance Division at Picatinny Arsenal in New Jersey as an Assistant Statistician and Quality Control Engineer. It was a demanding job and not without danger, and Eileen lived in New Jersey for the duration, visiting her parents on Sundays.

In October 1945 she joined the faculty of New Drop High School, Staten Island, and served in the Mathematics Department for twenty-seven years, first as teacher then as chairman. For over twenty years, she was Faculty Adviser of the Newman Club at New Drop and she made a significant impression on many of the students who belonged.

Eileen retired in 1972. She travelled extensively to Italy, Ireland, to London during the 500th Anniversary of St. Thomas More and to attend the Oberammergau Passion Play.

One of the teachers, also an alumna, who taught under her wrote, "She guided and helped me professionally; personally she was a good and loyal friend and a source of inspiration for doing good. She embodied in her character and leadership the college motto 'to be, not to seem.' Eileen will always be to me an exemplar of a St. Joseph's graduate."

THE ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Alumni scholarship aid, in amounts ranging from $200 to $700, was given to twelve sons and daughters of St. Joseph's College graduates for the 1981-82 year.

This fund depends on donations and bequests, and in addition 5% of the Annual Alumni Fund, up to $5,000, is contributed to it.

A son or daughter of an alumnus/a who plans to attend St. Joseph's College, should write to the Alumni Fund Scholarship Committee, St. Joseph's College, 245 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11205, for an application for Alumni Scholarship help. This application must be filed no later than March 15th.

IN BERMUDA

Annette De Salvo Di Rocco '68

Since July 21, 1979, Annette De Salvo Di Rocco '68 has been working in Bermuda as a U.S. Customs Officer. She is the first woman ever to receive such a transfer. Annette had worked at JFK Airport for two years, but she prefers her Bermuda assignment. "It is lovely here," she writes, "My five room house is surrounded by sweet-smelling orange and grapefruit orchards, and I have a wonderful view of Hamilton, the capital of Bermuda."

A History major, with a Master's degree from NYU in that subject, Annette taught in Grover Cleveland High School for two years, as a substitute. In 1970, she began teaching 7th grade English and Science at St. Leo's and also started to work for U.S. Customs during the summers. Program changes found Annette teaching N.Y. State History, Reading, Religion, etc. Some of her students won essay contests in various subject areas, such as fire prevention and energy conservation. After seven years of teaching, Annette switched her career to work full time at JFK as a Customs Official. She took the P.A.C.E. exam and passed several interviews and background investigations before she was even considered for this position.

In 1978 Annette attended the Customs Academy in Washington, D.C. for an in-depth course of study on Customs laws and regulations. Upon successful completion of this six-week training course, she continued to examine passengers, luggage, and cargo entering the United States from overseas. She has encountered numerous stars and singers such as Henry Fonda, Glenn Ford, Peter Falk, James Darren, Melba Moore and the Platters.

In 1979 Annette was pleased to be assigned temporarily to U.S. Customs in Bermuda. She has assimilated easily into life there. She was Bermuda's first female Santa Claus in 1979. Annette has been called upon as guest speaker at the Sandys Lion Club and the Hamilton Lions Club on the subject of "Customs and the Travelling Public." Annette delivered this speech over ZBM radio and appeared in a news article in the Royal Gazette newspaper. She has also spoken at the Altrusa Women's Club. Annette is very happy that her transfer to Bermuda has been renewed for another two years.

RETURNS TO NEW YORK

Dr. Viola Macroë Wiegand Gordon of the class of 1941, a physician and psychiatrist has been practicing in Puerto Rico since 1973. Since 1980 she has been Supervisor of Residents in the Puerto Rico Institute of Psychiatry. She is a specialist in Transcultural Psychiatry.

At St. Joseph's College, Viola majored in Psychology. Following graduation in 1941, she attended Columbia University and received a Master's degree in General Psychology in 1942 and in 1959 her doctorate in Education. Her doctoral dissertation was an investigation of visual perception in children of normal, brain-injured, retarded and emotionally disturbed, through a specially constructed test which was later used to investigate and diagnose microscopic brain injuries in children to four years of age.

Viola had received her teacher's license in 1942 and taught mentally retarded children. She became a New York State certified psychologist in 1957. She was an instructor at New York University Medical School, Department of Otolaryngology, and in the summer of 1955 was an instructor at Syracuse University, in Psychology.

In 1958, Viola married Horst Wiegand, M.D., and they moved to Germany. Dr. Wiegand died in 1960. However, Viola had begun to study medicine at the University of Hamburg, Germany and she received her medical degree in 1962. After a year's internship at the University of Hamburg, Eppendorf, she became a resident physician at St. Georg's Hospital in Hamburg for a year.

Returning to the United States, Dr. Wiegand received a New York State Psychiatric Fellow Award. She worked in the Children's Unit at Creedmore State Hospital. She then received an appointment to the Department of Psychology at Downstate Medical College and later became a Research Fellow in Neurology at Mt. Sinai Hospital with Dr. Morris Bender, Chief of Neurology. Throughout the 60's, Dr. Wiegand continued research aimed at aiding mentally and physically handicapped children as well as working in the field of geriatrics.

Viola's latest investigations are in the use of Subliminal Suggestion. In July 1981, she delivered a paper on The Use of Subliminal Suggestion in Music Therapy in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and on September 29th read a paper to the Psychiatrists of the Caribbean on Techniques of Subliminal Suggestion in Psychiatry. Dr. Wiegand is eligible for the Specialty Boards in Psychiatry.

Dr. Wiegand is returning to Mt. Sinai to work with Dr. Morris Bender in the field of Perception in Neurology. She will have a staff appointment in the Department of Psychiatry. Viola was married in 1977 to Thomas F. Gordon, who is a retired lawyer.

A Letter From Germany

Dear Winnie,

I just finished reading the Summer 1981 Alumnagran and realized how much time has gone by since I "touched home plate." So rather than put it off until tomorrow, I thought I'd sit down and bring you up to date on another '69 classmate.

We find ourselves still living in Germany, only now we have changed our location to the Northern area around the city of Bremen. When we first came to "Deutschland" in the Spring of 1977 we came as a military family and settled in Bavaria, about an hour from Nurnberg. Our daughter Kristin Anne, was only 2 1/2 years old then, and yesterday she celebrated her 7th birthday! Our son, Brian Patrick, was born in Nurnberg on June 19, 1979, and he just celebrated his 2nd birthday in June.

While in Bavaria, Pat and I used every available moment to absorb the cultural opportunities and traveling expertise from our German friends and neighbors. We polished our downhill skiing techniques on the Austrian and Bavarian Alpine slopes and managed to visit several countries, among them: England, Italy, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Spain, East Germany and Turkey. In addition, we travelled about southern Germany, sampling the regional beers and wines and enjoying the freshly baked breads and Bavarian grilled "wursts." We came, in time, to feel quite at home with the particular Bavarian way of life and their special relaxed enjoyment of it. The music of Oktoberfest, and the singing the tinkling of liter-size beer steins still rings in our ears.

Then, just as we had come to feel we had the Bavarian dialect down to semi-perfection, we found ourselves moving northward to Garlstedt, twenty minutes from Bremen. This turn-about came last year when Pat resigned his Army position in order to enter a Civil Service position as an Education Counselor. For some time, we had realized that Pat would have little opportunity to utilize his Master's Degree in Guidance and Counseling as an Armor Officer in the Military. So we decided to take the leap here in Europe and see the sights in Northern Germany and Scandinavia.

Pat and Kate Graves Mestes with Kristin and Brian

As an Education Counselor, Pat advises soldiers and officers and civilians as to their educational opportunities in Europe. There is a network of schools and colleges throughout Europe assisting people in completing high school and college degrees.

As for myself, I have kept very busy as a Field Representative for Boston University's Graduate Overseas Programs, and as a substitute teacher in the American Elementary Schools. I've also taught a Basic Skills Program in Math to soldiers who needed to upgrade their math abilities in order to enter a high school completion program or take the G.E.D. (high school equivalency test). At the present time, I am substitute teaching in Kristin's Elementary School and teaching five-week evening courses for Big Bend Community College of the State of Washington. These courses are in English Literature, English Composition, Advanced Communications and Basic Grammar. (Thanks to all those electives I took with Sr. Mary Florence and Sr. Grace Marie!) I've also recently become certified by City Colleges of Chicago to teach college courses in Education, Psychology and Social Concepts. (Thanks to my Master's in Education: Counseling & Guidance!)

Now you may think all work and no play makes the Mentes a dull family. Not so. We are about to disembark "mit kinder" for a two-week vacation in Mallorca, Spain. You see, the one thing other than family and friends and an occasional Brooklyn pizza that we miss most around here is - the sun! Contrary to popular opinion, Germany and most of northern Europe is normally cool, damp and often foggy. All tans must be imported!!

"Hi" to alumni and friends. Drop in, if you're in the neighborhood. Or write to me.

WINDOWS ON THE WORLD LUNCHEON

The Fall Luncheon at Windows on the World drew a response from 401 alumni, who with their guests totalled 461. Flyers were mailed to the metropolitan area which included Long Island, Connecticut, Westchester and New Jersey. Alumni who wish to be included in such mailings can use the convenient postcard on the back cover. It requires a 13¢ stamp.

CLASS NOTES

Deadline for Spring edition: April 28th

1922

Next June we will mark the 60th year since graduation from St. Joseph's. Let's try to get together at the Alumni Luncheon on April 24, 1982 in Douglaston. If you know anything about our "lost" classmates, write or phone the alumni office — 622-4656.

Notes for the class of '24 are conspicuous by their absence—for our class agent is no longer with us. Kathleen Dugan's loyalty and faithfulness to us and to this task is but a small reflection of her magnanimous spirit in the performance of all the tasks, big and small, which she undertook. We shall miss you, Kathleen.

On October 15, 1981, Sister Baptista (Emily O'Mara) celebrated her Golden Jubilee at the Carmelite Convent in Schnectady. To quote from Sister's words, "It would take all eternity to thank God for my holy Vocation to Carmel. I have shared all we offered to God these past fifty years with you, and in the Golden days that lie ahead, you will be in my heart and prayers always." Sister was deeply grateful for the Spiritual Bouquets, gifts and gold embossed Mass enrollment from the Class. Harry and Marlon Aubert Oak had a wonderful visit with Sister Baptista several days after her Jubilee. Franciscan pilgrimages are made by Marlon and Harry every year with the high point the trip to St. Anne de Beaupre. Beatrice Rick Richards was a model at a Fashion Show at St. Simon's Church and as a result was asked to model at future fashion shows by the shop. Unfortunately, a month later she was rushed to the hospital with cardiac arrest. Beatrice spent two months in the hospital. Happily she is home now recuperating and doing needle craft and knitting for Indian Reservation children. Our deepest sympathy to Ruth Lavin on the death of her sister Irene of the class of 1927. John and Gertrude Dilworth Rossworn have had a difficult year. In Sept. 1980, Gertrude had open heart surgery. She has recovered beautifully. In Sept. 1981, John was in the hospital with viral pneumonia. He has had an excellent recovery. They are blessed with nine grandchildren. Agnes Corry Murlagh and Ed moved to Dunedin, Florida, while recuperating from two hip replacement operations. Ed was cheered by the message that he received from Pope John Paul II, the Benemerenti Award. This is the first time the award has been presented in the Diocese of Rockville Centre. Elsa Harper McAvoy receives our prayers on the tragic death of her daughter, Sister Ruth McAvoy. Elsa has just returned from two weeks in the hospital due to two compressed vertebrae and pinched nerves. A quick return to health, Elsa! Catherine Hannon Hines spends her time between her home in Roslyn, and Florida and Santa Barbara. She, Grace O'Brien Martin and Rita McCaffrey spent an enjoyable time at the Alumni Luncheon. Mildred Vitale and Philomena Giorgio send their greetings to us. Roger and Roslyn Molesphini Schenone celebrated their Golden Anniversary at a party given by their sons. Margaret Roche Moore and Bert spent long weekends in Quogue with a Thanksgiving trip to visit relatives in Washington.

Margaret Roche Moore, 216 East 50 St., New York, N.Y. 10022, MU8-5126.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Barbara Eckles Catogglo on the death of her husband, Vincent, in September. Vincent, a Knight of the Holy Sepulchre, was a former United States Magistrate and Assistant District Attorney. Joe and Kay Kilgallen Rooney celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in an unusual way. Their five children hired a bus to transport guests and family to the University of Pennsylvania, where they attended the Penn-Cornell football game in which their grandson, Tommy, played center for Cornell. They had dinner at 1920 Commons, part of the campus. Then a tired but happy group returned to Sea Girt by bus. Kay writes that it can happen only once in fifty years! Mary Mirabella, invited to a family reunion in Oregon, found that it was a surprise birthday party for her, at her brother's home. Her family came from Seattle, Denver and Long Beach to celebrate. Back home again, Mary is enjoying concerts, opera and theater. Eleanor Dolan Reardon attended the Windows on the World luncheon with her daughter Joan Reardon Dillon '56 and Bernadette Garvey, Margaret Crowley and Helen Stewart Jameson. Bernadette Garvey's October birthday was celebrated with a luncheon with Margaret Crowley, Genevieve D'Albora Phillips and Julie McDonnell Kuehne. In November, Bernadette will leave for Boca Raton. In August, Peg and Bernadette were on a trip to Cape Cod. Anne Schneider Kager, still at Druid Hills, can no longer make the string rosaries with which she supplied thousands for the missions. For many years, Gen Phillips gave them to her CCD classes. Gladys Reardon Hughes phoned from Blairstown to say that although not too well, she is happy in New Jersey. She has 30 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Sister Dolores Maria (Margaret Kelly), busy at the Academy in Brentwood wants to be remembered to her classmates. During the summer, Mary Greene visited various relatives in Long Island. She takes part in many activities in Garden City. John and Agnes McShane Madden enjoy the rounds of visiting their three daughters and grandchildren. At Bernadettes' home in Mattituck I had the pleasure of meeting Mary and Helen Stewart Jameson. Mary Torchen, daughter of Agnes Daly Manifold, wrote that she and her sister, Anne, live in New Jersey, but Harry still lives in Flushing. Our Melissa Bopp was eleven years old in November. This summer she received her own sailboat as a gift, which she sails on Peconic Bay.

Greetings . . . Since the last writing, the Dundermans and the Myloids have celebrated their FIFTIETH Wedding Anniversaries. Each celebration started with a Liturgy at which sons and daughters acted as extraordinary ministers of the Blessed Sacrament, and grandchildren as lectors, giftbearers and altar boys. A beautiful way to commemorate Fifty Years of Golden Memories! On both occasions all the members of the families were present, and in the case of the Myloids, the immediate family numbered fifty-two! Margaret and Walter have been engaged in corporal works of mercy since then; driving and caring for sick members of the family. Alice Gallagher, our Pius X Medal winner, writes that she has been teaching C.C.D. ever since Freshman year in College—which must be a record and one to be proud of. Alice's cousin, Father Elliot, has just returned to the Foreign Missions. Marie Savino Dagnon is off again to California to visit her children. Her granddaughter, Maria, is a Junior at Montclair State and young Michael aged-ten is a "promising football player besides being a charming Irishman". Mary Cunningham Mulcahy and Dan attended a family reunion in Glens Falls which brought forty-two people together, some from as far away as Colorado. Dorothy Downs Rowland and John had a fine vacation in Sag Harbor and Montauk Point. Josephine Weiden McBride and Louis "lead a quiet life" but with 18 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren life could not be that quiet. Grandson Richard Barth, Jr. was graduated from Princeton with highest honors, including Senior prize in Biochemistry, election to Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, and is now at Harvard Medical School on a scholarship. Eileen McNamara writes that "living at the core of the big apple" is quiet for her but surrounded by outside activities. Irene McMahon called her year dull, and says that all the hot, humid weather of Florida makes her wish for a look at some New England foliage. Teresa Manning's summer postal was a picture of her nephew's cottage in Beach Lake, Pa. where she was visiting. She is an active participant in Delta Kappa Gamma events, where she meets many old friends. She met Grace Lewis Howard and Mary Cunningham Mulcahy. Teresa's family branches are still keeping her busy, too. Elva Rocketteller Ryan and Jim attended their granddaughter, Kathy's, wedding last spring. It was the occasion of a big reunion with all the California relatives. The bride's sister, Jeanne, was an exchange student in Germany last summer, and her brother, Richie, a college Junior, got his pilot's license recently. Elva's son Jim is a producer and song writer for Atlantic Records. He also writes music for commercials and he travels the country on concert tours. Miriam Cleary McNeil's niece, Sister Therese McGroddy is stationed at the Marymount International School in Rome, so when Sister Jean McLoughlin was in Rome last spring at a six-week convention at the Notre Dame Motherhouse, Miriam tried to arrange a meeting for the two nuns but without success as Sister Therese was, at the time, traveling in Egypt and the Near East. Teresa, Anne, Miriam, Bernadette and I will be at "Windows on the World". Our class will celebrate 55 years out of St. Joseph's in 1982. Let's join together at the Alumni Luncheon on April 24, 1982 in Douglaston for this milestone. Still on our lost list we have Eileen McLoughlin and Mary O'Meara McNell. Keep in touch and God bless you.

We wish to offer our sympathy to Claire Pleines on the sudden death of her sister and our beloved classmate, Emily Pleines, on October 10th in Lakewood, N.J. Helen Callahan Brink rejoices that she has made another birthday. Made especially happy, as she has been remembered with a card from Ellnor Woods Paul for the past 53 years. Regina Peppard Fitzpatrick and Jack spent a different summer, choosing the comforts of their air-conditioned apartment on Brooklyn Heights, although they did make some trips to Amityville and New Hope. They attended the installation ceremony of the Knights and Ladies of the Holy Sepulchre at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Evelyn Dotzler Felber and Joe were happy to see all the members of their family in July when their grandson was married in California. Rhoda Magnor Fitzpatrick and Ray had a joyous family reunion in July when they flew from Florida to son Tom's home on Long Island. Peggy Sullivan Fitzgerald attended the marriage of her granddaughter, Kathleen Sorley, at Potomac, Md. Kathleen and her husband will live near Yale University where Kathleen is pursuing a Master's Degree. The Kelly Girls, Mary Hoermann and Agnes Bryan attended a grand family reunion in October, when their sister, Sister Mary Naomi celebrated her 50th Jubilee as a Sister of Mercy. Sister is Assistant Principal at Mercy High School in Riverhead, L.I. Eighty three of the Kelly Clan attended. Mary Hoermann is assisting at Mercy Academy in the Library and Art History Department. Jeannette Farrell Amery and Ted had a small family reunion at their beach house in August. The Sean Amerys flew up from Coral Gables and were joined by the younger Ted Amerys and the Buckleys—Jeannette's sister Liz. Sean stopped in again to visit in November en route from Florida to Switzerland and France on business. Eileen McLoughlin Magilligan had a surprise visit from Ethel Perkins Lee who in College days lived on the opposite side of Third Street. A quote from letter from Evelyn Dotzler Felber. "It is always a happy day for me when the Alumnagram arrives. Aside from my interest in and enjoyment of the news of '28, I take pride in reading of the achievements and accomplishments of all the Alumnae. It gives me a real "gung-ho" feeling about our Alma Mater, and it brings forcefully to mind all that I missed during the years I was not in touch. I wish that you had found me sooner."

Sixteen members of our "metropolitan chapter" met for lunch in Baldwin on October 20th: Gen Archipoli Kelly, Mildred Bogan Walsh, Jo Coddington Hamilton, Margaret Cosgrove, Sarah Crowley, Mary Dalton Oberle, Isabelle Donohue FitzGerald, Marda Doyle Ticho, Mary Golden Meehan, Zita Hawkins Stoddart, Bernadette Hughes Carroll, Vera McNally, Ethne O'Leary Manz, Margaret Reilly Parker, Kay Wheeler Smith and Sister Ruth Willman. We were particularly glad to see Bernadette and Kay who came a considerable distance to join us. Dot Hanagan Griffin, Clare Stanton Sweeney, Marion Toshack and Gertrude Reynolds Smolnick sent regards and regrets. All of us were keenly aware of one of our most faithful and generous friends, Eileen Cox. Eileen, who died very suddenly at the end of the summer, never failed to give her whole-hearted enthusiastic support to any project of the college and of the class. We miss her. Sister Ruth completed fifty years as a member of the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary. Her golden jubilee was celebrated in many ways by the religious family and community groups of which she is a member. Congratulations, Ruth.

Members of our class enjoyed a number of get-togethers during the past months. In August, we visited Mary Whelan Phelan at her summer home in Breezy Point for a delightful luncheon and planning session for our fiftieth anniversary on Saturday, April 24, 1982. Save the date! Those from '32 who joined Mary were Margaret Cooney, Edna Dawkins McDonald, Katherine Kelly Carlin, Anne McCormack Fennessy, Josephine McKeon Broad, Winifred McMahon and Mary White Kearney. Mary Kearney and Kay Carlin volunteered to help plan the liturgy for our Jubilee Mass. Mary Phelan is the general chairperson. On September 28, we remembered our fourteen deceased members at a Mass at the Fort Hamilton Chapel, and then had lunch at the Hamilton House. It was a great joy to see Angela Deegan Purcell and Gladys Worthley again. Others present, in addition to those attending the August party, were Helen Coughlin Worthley, Kay Eppig Murphy, Mary Hopkins Engelklirger, Marge Kenny, Mildred Martin Donnelly, Catharine McShane, Irene Parker Parks and Claire Smith. The beautiful Alumni Luncheon at the Windows-on-the-World brought out Rosemary Kennelly Gwallner (and her lovely daughter), Anne McCormack Fennessy, Josephine McKeon Broad and Mary Whelan Phelan. We were seated with members of the classes of '31, '33, and '34 and there were many exchanges of memories. A super party! Despite their inability to be at our gatherings, we had responses and warm greetings from Kathlyn Ansbro Wurts Helen Curran Flynn, Sister Ann Loyola (Mary Dwyer), Kathryn Frey Lynch, Lucille Jacobson Augenstein, Madeline Kendall Friel and Marle Manno Mullins. Anne Burns Meehan had a joyful excuse for her absence from our Mass this year—she was mother of the bride that weekend in Atlanta. Sr. Ann Loyola who lives in Florida, read of the Medical Spanish textbook which Marla DiLorenzo Kearon '73 and her husband published last year. Mary taught in Lima, Peru, and appreciates the value of this text. She plans to give a copy to a sister who is returning to Bolivia. Eleanor Lagana Giovannetti works at the Carroll Park Senior Citizen Center for the Lutheran Community Service a few hours a day. Mildred Martin Donnelly had a memorable trip to Spain in May. She then topped off the summer with a surprise birthday celebration (we all know the number) planned by her three children who came from far away places to honor her. Gladys Worthley spends the winter in Fort Myers. She is listed in the telephone directory and is waiting for your call if you're in the neighborhood. Kay Eppig Murphy is a member of a steering committee developing a southwest Suffolk County chapter of St. Joseph's Alumni. Guess how many there are living in Babylon and Islip townships: close to 500! Irene Parker Parks leads an exciting life. She went on an art tour of Rome and Florence (with emphasis on Michelangelo) in February. In June she attended an Audubon convention in Colorado, toured the state, collecting rocks and adding eleven new birds to her life list. Unfortunately we must add some sad news. Our deep sympathy goes to three of our classmates whose husbands died in recent months: Frances Dieckert Rebele, Marle Manno Mullins and Josephine McKeon Broad. We are all diminished by their deaths. Mary Phelan will keep you posted about our Jubilee. We can all help to make it a success. Please let us know: 1) If you know the whereabouts of any of the following members: Virginia Engel, Mary Kalcher Warner, Catherine Keenan, Mary Quinn, Mary Sheehy 2) If you are coming from out-of-town and would like accommodations. 3) If you live in the metropolitan area and can provide accommodations for a visiting classmate at the time of our festivities (April 24, 1982). Please let us hear from you.

On September 24, thirteen of us from Queens, Nassau, and Suffolk enjoyed a Mini Reunion. Rose Brown Clarke, Peggy Clarke Keating, Irene Costarino Sarro, Mary Dolan, Mildred Donohue Fitzpatrick, Elizabeth Gegan Mattes, Joan Glambalvo Palazzo, Barbara Owens Miller, Rita Pollock Murphy, Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton, Kathleen Vaughan Fitzgerald, Jerrle Young Murphy, and Sister Ignatius Meany met for lunch in Baldwin. Conversations were continuous and simultaneous, with reminiscences of the past and current news of families and classmates. Marge Bannon Teaken lives in Paso Robles, California; her two daughters, Margaret and Elizabeth, live nearby and each has three children. Her son Frank, his wife and two sons, joined them this summer for a family reunion. Ray and Ethel Sullivan Deering also visited Marge, as did Sister Mary Elizabeth O'Connor, CSJ Treasurer of St. Joseph's College, and Sister Helen CSJ from St. Agnes Seminary. Other visitors were Don and Helen Newman Connors '31 and their son Cris, with his wife and baby daughter. Joe and Rita Bopp Mahoney are now living in Point Lookout, Long Island. Kay Carroll Whitely has been helped immensely by her physiotherapy, and Ceedie David reports that she is greatly improved. Kay is grateful to her St. Joe's classmates who kept in touch with her during her illness and welcomes news of '33. Sister Mary Germaine (Grace Finlay) was in touch with Ceedie David last summer, when she returned from Puerto Rico. Sister Germaine has gone back to her teaching post at Catholic U; she too welcomes news from her classmates. Catherine Gebelein Carlson loves the Southwest. She lives in Deming, New Mexico. Her older grandson, 23, is a graduate student in music at Las Vegas University, having received his degree last year from the New England Conservatory of Music. His instruments are the saxophone and the flute. The younger, now 21, is at Stanford, majoring in Business Economics. Catherine is looking forward to our 50th anniversary, and plans to be here "with bells on". Joan Glambalvo Palazzo and Frank enjoy a warm winter retreat in a mobile home in Paradise Village, Ft. Lauderdale from November to Christmas. Joan writes, "We will be with our 5 children and 17 grandchildren for a joyful holiday season from December 22 to January 4, then back to Florida until Easter time, when we fly up North with the robins." Rita Herzog Sturm a resident of Winchester, Virginia, had a visit during the summer from Evelyn Harris Martin, and her daughter, Doctor Lynn. They had a great time, although they sorely miss Mary Bernard McCarthy and Florence Hanrahan Cullen, both now deceased. Alex and Dorothy Harold McNeill lead a quiet life in Pompano Beach—no more long trips, on doctor's orders. Last year they took a cruise boat to Nova Scotia, one of several visits to Alex's former home. Making St. Andrews their base, they were able to explore lovely Antigonish County, and were especially impressed by Our Lady of Grace Shrine, in a beautiful wooded setting near an Augustinian Monastery. They feel the visit to the shrine helped them both spiritually and physically. Dorothy has kept up her music; she plays for the Vigil Mass at her parish church, St. Gabriel's. She has been teaching C.C.D. there since the parish was started twelve years ago. She and Alex will celebrate their 20th anniversary in November. Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton received the Regina Award from Bishop McGann. Liz, one of seven women to be awarded such recognition this year, has a varied and long record of service: she established the Golden Age Club in her community, is a charter member of FISH, co-chaired the establishment of the Good Samaritan Hospital Coffee Shop, is a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, a past Grand Regent of the Catholic Daughters, and a teacher in the religious education program for special children in her parish. Jerrle Young Murphy, who has three daughters living in Texas, tried ranching for ten days last year. It was a challenge, with long and busy days maneuvering the sheep so she wouldn't be knocked over. She writes, "Three weeks after one stepped on my foot, I found out it was broken, not bruised. Confinement to a boot didn't stop me from driving. It was the alfalfa in my hair that really got me. It's all great exercise for sleeping well."

Marie Dermody Brodbeck believes our class probably holds the record for twinning among all the classes graduated from St. Joe's. Marie recalls that Florence Hanrahan Cullen, Marie Norton Donlon, Kay Lavelle Burke, Muriel Hottenroth Magenheimer, Mary Fogarty Reilly, Katherine Reilly McHugh and she gave birth to twins. . . making seven sets in a class of 75 graduates. Marie Donlon, Kay Burke and Marie Brodbeck all had identical twins—boys. Katherine McHugh had a girl and a boy. It would be interesting to know whether the others are identical or fraternal. Marie lives in Florida near her three sons and their families. Her father, well and active at 93, lives nearby. Our sincere sympathy is extended to Catherine Lavelle Burke whose husband, Frank, died last June. Gina Lalorraca and her sister were south to Charleston and Savannah this spring and north to New England on trips this summer. Eucharla Mulligan was off again to Europe visiting the shrines at Knock, Lourdes and Rome. Jo Pisani Brown's son, John Francis, is a medical student, carrying on the Pisani family tradition. Jo is recuperating from surgery and doing well. Kay Sullivan Barton divides her time between Greenwood Lake, N.Y. and New Port Richey in Florida. Mary, Jerry and Catherine Cooke spent a month in California this summer. Guadalupe is not the same without Sister Eucharla and the loss of the Maryknoll sisters is still felt. Catherine's godchild is quite a young lady now, and will graduate from St. Joseph's high school next June. While in California, Catherine, her sister and brother-in-law enjoyed a delightful Champagne Brunch with Lee and Gertrude Roberts Delworth '23. Lee is a retired Naval Officer. The Delworths' Golden Anniversary Party was at Vanderberg Air Base. Gertrude sent love to all her friends, particularly Angela Donaldson. Anne Connolly Burns is doing well and deep in the adventure of learning to speak again. It is frustrating at times, but more often it is thrilling and rewarding. Catherine, with Mary and Jerry, enjoyed a lovely day with Sister Eucharla at Terryville, Connecticut, where she has been elected Coordinator for the senior sisters of the Eastern Region. She continues her catechetical and social work. Catherine telephoned Marie Schluter '33 who is at Crescent Beach and enjoyed a nice chat. Eleanor Lagattuta Murphy and John flew to the Eucharistic Congress in Lourdes in July. It was the 20th anniversary of their pilgrimage to Lourdes with the St. Jeannne Valois Guild in 1961. They offered one day of prayers and services for all their friends in the alumni who helped to make that pilgrimage a reality. Although it is about a year later we received a newspaper clipping too late for previous notes that Agnes Brown Drummond was honored by the Port Washington Community on the occasion of her retirement as Director of Adult Continuing Community Education at the Port Washington Public School, after 17 years of service. North Hempstead township presented her with a plaque commemorating her 15 years of service as a member of the Senior Citizens Commission. The Nassau Association for Continuing and Community Education also presented a plaque. Assemblywoman May Newburger gave her flowers and the Manorhaven School PTA made a donation to Cancer Care in Agnes Drummond's name. Employees and friends of the Port Washington School District gave her a color television. Agnes lives in East Northport.

We wish to offer condolences to Marie Keegan '29 on the death of her sister, and our beloved classmate, Rose Keegan Koebler. Rose was not feeling well in the spring and we missed her at the luncheon. She was hospitalized in the summer for tests but she never really regained her strength. Marie says she was very patient and cheerful throughout her illness, and knowing Rose, it's not surprising. Catherine Willa was pleased to read in "245" that the speaker for the Suffolk Campus Commencement, Paul Sauerland, was a former student of hers. Catherine is volunteer worker at Cabrini Hospital and at her local library, where she serves on the Executive Committee. On Monday afternoons, she is a receptionist at the New York Catholic Center on First Avenue. At the Catholic Home Bureau, Catherine helps put written dictation on tapes for a blind typist on the staff. She sees Anne Scannell Smith frequently in church. Anne's brother, a Jesuit, is helping out at the parish. Katherine Doyle Flanagan has a new granddaughter, Abigail, born in September. Matthew 4, and Thomas 2, are delighted. Leave it to St. Joseph's to find a delightful way to ease us into winter with that charming luncheon at "Windows of the World". Enjoying themselves were Marie Blaber, Edna Brennan Maloney, Florence Kemp Carberry, Mary Elizabeth Farrell and Anne Scannell Smith. The food was delicious, the view breathtaking and the ambience super! Kay Allen, Edna B. Maloney and yours truly had a delightful reunion in Connecticut with Betty Devlin Lockwood. Virginia Conran Cheasty couldn't join us. Her son Robert is now in San Francisco and her daughter Mary (a lawyer) lives in Manhattan and is an Assistant D.A. in Robert Morgenthau's office. 1935 also has a "Navy Family". Ed and Ceal Finn Fahy just returned from Northern Virginia, where they visited three of their five children. Libby is married to a retired Navy Commander who is now an executive with a management corporation; they have two daughters, one a sophomore at the University of Virginia, and the other is a senior in high school. Kathy's husband plans to retire from the Navy in February, while Toni is living in Coronado, awaiting the return of her husband, Commander R. F. Gaylord, from a tour of duty in the Indian Ocean. Ed, Jr. is a Lieutenant Commander and has returned from 7 months in the Mediterranean aboard the USS Forrestal. He is a jet pilot. Their daughter Bridget lives in Alexandria, Va. and her husband Jim is an attorney in Washington. They have two boys, 8 and 4. Florence Kemp Carberry welcomed the arrival of a second grandson, Peter, who was born to her son, Frank, and his wife, Sheryl. Had a great chat with Grace Flannery Morris who as a result of a nasty spill suffered a bad fracture of her right arm but she is coming along fine. Ed and I had the pleasure of a visit from Billy Metzler, our godchild, and oldest son of Bernadette Maroney & Jack Metzler. He was here on business from Omaha, Nebraska. We also journeyed out to Wading River for a great get-together with Jack, Jr. and his wife and three little boys. Isabel Tyler recently entertained Mary Wiest Hoxie, Marlon Musante and Mary O'Connell Steenken at luncheon in her newly renovated and elegant home in Garden City. At the luncheon, Mary Steenken brought news from Florida that Elvie Trimborm Mullaney, Marle Oliver Midwinter and Dorothy Kelly Schreiber are all well and enjoying life in the Sunshine State. We might add to this list of Floridians Ceal Finn Fahy, Catherine May, Grace Dutly Kearney and Mary Walsh Stelger. I (Ann Seitz Smlth) was returning on Amtrak last Saturday from Delaware where I attended the dedication of my grandfather's home as a landmark—a beautiful ceremony. I was thrilled to see the large and colorful ad for St. Joseph's College in Penn Station. It is worth a trip to see our name in lights! And now, as Dean Martin used to say, let's keep those letters coming.

Isabel Farrell was at the fall luncheon at Windows on the World and was joined by Dorothy Delay, Dot Pyne Dunleavy, Josephine Faulkner, Allce Hagen Finnerty, Kathleen Holland Jansen and Dorothea Sommer. At other tables were Madeline Larkin Hennessy, Loretta Lopez, Muriel McMahon Mulvey, Rose Marie O'Reilly and Virginia Beatty Trum. Betty Pyne Dunleavy's oldest granddaughter, Sharon, received her B.S. degree from St. Francis in June. She was married on August 15th.

Amalle (Molly) Morabito spent an interesting month in Nice on the French Riviera. She combined a refresher course in French, her major, with a very reasonable vacation. The idea came while on a trip with her Hiking Club. A fellow hiker told her about this combined vacation-educational course he had been to. She plans to go again. Her hiking club conducts jaunts to Tuxedo Park. Emily Billington Smlsek is a prime volunteer at Queen of the Most Holy Rosary, coordinating all activities at the parish office. Her husband, Charles, helps as a Jack-of-all-trades. Spotted Mary Michel Costas and her talented daughter and literally chased after them. Mary continues to work with the Brownstone Studio. She had just returned from a trip to Washington to set up another boutique there. Daughter Celia is the location manager for "Soapy's Choice" a Meryl Streep film based on Wm. Styron's novel. It is to be filmed in the Albemarle Road section of Brooklyn. Rita Wood Rague hopes to sell her house and head for Florida and warmth. Since her husband died last February, she finds nine rooms and three baths too much, especially with her children married and scattered. She says that Carol Denello moved to Venice, FL. She had a Christmas card from Ann Dolan Connolly who moved to Forest Hills. Mary McGrath Verville entertained her Irish relatives this summer. She has a part in a play being produced at Leisure Village, Lakewood. She and some other alumni had a surprise birthday cake for Betty McMahon Corrigan. Betty is planning a second month-long trip to Kuala Lumpur to spend Christmas with her son and family who will be there another year. She enjoyed caring for her other son's newest baby while his wife was away in the mid-west. Betty showed some of her beautiful custom-made lingerie, a very profitable business, which she has started from her own home. Kay Heffernan Steffany's youngest daughter was married this summer and her little granddaughter was flower girl. Kay and Tony plan to go to Bermuda. Clare Ruane is subbing a few times a week. She has recovered from a painful attack of sciatica. Margaret Laux O'Reilly, now in Lakewood, helped her daughter with her new baby before the family moved to Florida. Fran Young McCarthy is Chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Agnes Hospital in White Plains. She and Jim were on a cruise to the Maritime Provinces. They are planning Jim's daughter's wedding, at which Father McCarthy brother of the bride will officiate. Fran has spoken with Mary Twigg Connors in So. Carolina and Peggy English in Canada. Peggy retired from teaching but does volunteer work and is an active golfer. Margaret MacGillivray Seldel and Otto were in the British Isles this year. Their most recent grandchild is a girl, the first one. As for me (Marge Parker Smlth), husband Bill is recovering from an iron deficiency and we credit our son, Chris' skill in building back his muscle tone. Chris presented us with our first granddaughter, Christina Marie. Son Parker has a five year old son, Kevin and Brian, who jog, are contemplating running to work (Wall Street) every day. Again, this year, I was invited to exhibit my pair (a skating term) at Rockefeller Center for the United Hospital Fund. It went very well and it was a big thrill to perform there. . . in the heart of New York. I also help with comprehensive reading classes at our school. We wish to extend to Josephine Hogue Hogan and Rita Wood Rague our sincere sympathy on the death of their husbands. In 1982, it will be 45 years since our graduation from St. Joseph's. Plan now to celebrate together at the Alumni Luncheon on April 24, 1982, in Douglaston. More later. If you have any leads on our "lost" members, get in touch with us.

Margaret Neuhauser, a friend, phoned of the death of our beloved classmate, Josephine O'Connell Corrigan in June. Her husband, John, was killed in the war and Josephine had no living relatives. Josephine received a PhD in 1966 from NYU and was the Associate Dean and Director of the Graduate Division of St. John's College of Business Administration. She was an expert on wills and economics. We offer our sympathy to Kay Cotley Glasco on the death of her husband, Percy, last December. It was providential that he lived to see his first grandchild, Michael. In April, Kay and her daughter, Deborah, spent some time on Florida's sun coast. Steve and Kay Holmberg Shuster were also in Florida in April, but returned for the family reunion at Easter. Marita Egan McNeill retired after 38½ years as a senior high school math teacher and chairperson, and a junior high school counsellor. Friends, colleagues and relatives honored her at a party and gave her a gift of a trip to Hawaii and a cruise around the Islands. She and Neil had a reunion with Dot Lennon who lives in Honolulu. When Dot comes east for her 50th anniversary, Marita and Neil plan to reciprocate at their home in Smithtown. Eleanor Fanelle took early retirement two years ago and has her 94 year old father at home, "still in fine fettle". She enjoys the opera, the theatre and keeps occupied with sewing, needlepoint, reading and doing occasional consultant work for her office. Bill and Helen Harold Mulkeen were on a visit to shrines in Europe, Fatima and Lourdes and received the blessing of the Holy Father at his summer residence. Their next trip will be to Wisconsin to see their fifth grandchild. Dorothea Lennon after 36½ years of battling Connecticut weather, moved two years ago to a little cottage two blocks from the beach at Waikiki. She enjoys the symphony there and the yearly visits of the San Francisco Ballet but admits she misses Broadway theatre. Dot transferred her membership in Delta Kappa Gamma to Hawaii. She joined the Retired Teachers Association and has met some interesting people. Peggy Magee Buckley and Bill are enjoying country life and taking advantage of retirement to travel: Spring '79 to Ireland, '80 to Italy and last spring to Hawaii; next spring an extended tour of Ireland, Scotland and England. Their youngest daughter, Cate, was married in August '80 in Milwaukee where she was living for the last four years while attending the University of Wisconsin. Peggy's brother, George, performed the ceremony and they had a family reunion with Buck coming from California, Peggy, Bill and the rest from New York. Peggy and Bill are active in the parish as readers and Peggy is a Eucharistic minister. Eileen Maher Costerino is recovering from a severe automobile accident she had in June. Her oldest son, Tom, has been in the Pacific since June aboard the Kitty Hawk. He is a Lt. Commr. in Naval Intelligence and the father of a 6 month old girl. Eileen's husband, Frank, is joining the Kitty Hawk in Honolulu for the last leg of the journey to San Diego in November. The Costarinos have moved to Culchogue. Margaret Masterson Eifler and Nick enjoy retirement. They keep their house in College Point, but spend most of their time in Pennsylvania enjoying the lake and golf. A few weeks ago Ellen O'Toole Heckman and Ray spent a golf weekend with them. In Winter they join their son, Jim, in Deerfield Beach, Florida for February. There are 6 Eifler grandchildren. Win Meede Burke has retired after 26 years as a secretary in St. Raymond's parish; all the children are married and she has 7 grandchildren. She's met a few times for lunch with Helen Dolan and Fran McLoughlin Reilly. On a visit to her daughter's new home in Wayne, N.J., she stopped off at Frank and Norma Straus Slater's and had a most enjoyable afternoon. Win and Ed are in the process of selling their home and looking for an apartment. Sr. Kaleri Nicolaus, IHM, was assigned to St. Dominic H.S. in Oyster Bay in September. John and Pat Muller Ryan have been enjoying his retirement, both in Brightwaters and Venice, Florida. The entire family, minus a few of the 13 grandchildren came home in June for a surprise 40th wedding anniversary party. Heard from Jean O'Reilly Stone that Dick has retired—reluctantly—and she will retire from her teaching position at Carey H.S. in Franklin Square at the end of this semester. They plan to spend a month or more in Florida this winter. All their children are married and they have 5 grandchildren. Earlier this year Frank and Norma Straus Slater travelled to New Zealand. Frank's dad was born there and an aunt and several cousins are still there. Frank had visited New Zealand when he was a youngster and Norma was surprised how much he remembered. They visited the North Island where one cousin entertained them royally then toured the South Island, meeting a second cousin on one of their "tea stops". They visited Fiji on the way home. #3 son, Bill, and his family live in St. Louis; #2 son, Bob, took Kathe to Hawaii for their 15th anniversary and Frank and Norma took care of grandchildren, Nicole and Brian, at their home near Chicago. Norma says "This was fun because we rarely see them more than once a year and we had them all to ourselves. They are 11½ and 8." Norma gained some stature in the eyes of her son, Mark, because she knows the mother of James Conlon. Norma has retired from teaching. Frank, also retired, is doing part time work but can drop it when they want to travel or the children need them. Vi Tully Kane wrote that Ann Kane Nolting is slowly recovering from a stroke she suffered last July. All our prayers are with Ann for a complete recovery. Vi's daughter Mary Ellen left the business world and is enrolled as a first year student at the Univ. of Connecticut Law School; daughter Barbara, in Portland, Oregon, completed her graduate studies and internship in clinical psychology and is currently on the staff of a rehabilitation center for drug abuse. Ann Walsh King's husband is considering retirement. Their son, Adrian, an attorney, has 2 children; Denis at Children's Hospital, Columbus, Ohio (FACS) has 2 boys; John, a chemist with Wright-Pat A.I. and his wife, an attorney, have one child and another one coming; Pierce is a professor at the Naval Academy and has 3 children; Mary Ann, a master's candidate at Fordham in communications (Children's TV), also has 3 children; Brian is a Health Planning consultant and has 1 son; Brendan is a student and Mary Jean is in San Francisco, a physician's assistant in a fertility clinic. Ann and John are all alone in their big house and love it. They spend time at bridge, gardening and travelling—to visit the children. Ellen O'Toole Heckman's daughter, Patricia was married on November 7th to Gerard Regan. Angle Leibinger Conlon's daughter, Lorraine, left St. Louis Univ. Med School for six months to take elective courses in NYC hospitals. She will return to St. Louis in January and receive her medical degree in June. We are saddened by the news of the death of Frances McLoughlin Reilly's husband, Chet, on October 10th after his long illness. We extend our deepest sympathies to Frances and her children. In July and again in October, Rosalyn Manfredonia Manganaro and her husband, Dr. Joseph Manganaro, visited their son, Dr. Andrew Manganaro, and his family in Poland, Ohio. Edgar and Marie Cavagnaro Debany spent about two weeks in London in August, sight-seeing with their seminarian son, Edgar Joseph. At present, he is beginning his Theology studies with the Jesuits in Naples, Italy. Edgar's one hundred year old father died on October 9th. Helen and Mary Dolan and Marie got together for lunch in Southold, where their summer homes are. Grace Coscia writes from Jatai, Brazil that the food prices have risen to impossible heights and that many people, including the Coscias, are growing vegetables. Her brother is the Bishop of Jatai and Grace runs the Training Center for the Diocese.

We offer condolences to Eleanor Van Wagner Nace and family on the death of her son, Richard. He was killed last summer in New Orleans when he was struck by a car. He was buried in Woods Hole, Massachusetts, where the Naces had lived for many years and where they still have a home.

Merlin de Pauw likes the hot, dry climate of New Mexico. She, her sister Geraldine and their mother spent two weeks in Albuquerque, this summer, visiting Gerry's son Michael and his family. Lillian McCloskey had her yellow car repainted yellow, with racing stripes, on her vacation. What did you do? Those get-togethers are interesting, but who? and where?

I thought it was Christmas in July when a brightly wrapped surprise package arrived at my home. It contained a sterling silver initialed trinket box inscribed "SJC '41". Piecing together some clues, I found the trail led to Dee Mahon McCrystal who had acted as purchaser on behalf of all those at the 40th Reunion. I am so very grateful to all of you for this most unexpected gift which I shall treasure. Dee gave a luncheon in August at her home in Shoreham for about a dozen classmates from the L.I. area. They had a mini-reunion with Marjorie Andresen Breeds who was enroute to Fire Island for a vacation. Marjorie is Administrator of the Single Parent Department for Catholic Social Services, Philadelphia. Her daughter, Liz, was married in May. Mary Leahy Cleary was also at Dee's. She and Ed were enroute to New England to visit friends. Dot Dunn Young whom we have not seen for many years, was there. She and Jim became active in the Marriage Encounter Movement after making a weekend ten years ago. They live in Halesite and enjoy relaxing on their boat, moored in the Huntington area. Margaret Mary Stankevich Bolen's son, Bill, is an Optician, following in his Dad's footsteps. Claudia received B.S. in Public Health Care Management from St. John's U. Amy is majoring in Art Therapy at Trenton State and one of her art works, a batik, was on exhibit at the State Capitol in Trenton. In July Adele Mulligan Seymour entertained Margaret (Isha) Murphy Klefer from Palm Harbor, Florida and Margery Murphy Lynch from upstate Delmar. Adele's new home is in Shoreham near Dee's. Isha is a reading-language specialist in the public schools and teaches occasionally in the local Junior College evening session. Her husband, Christian, teaches at U. of South Florida at Tampa. They have three sons and two grandchildren. Their eldest is an Economics Professor at Cornell; the second owns a pub in Atlanta; and the youngest is at the U. of Georgia, considering a career in Veterinary Medicine. Isha had a heart attack at age 42. Her very active schedule notwithstanding, she manages to get to L.I. each summer to visit her mother in a nursing home in Woodbury. She has kept in touch through the years with Grace Dooling, Adele Mulligan Seymour, Mary Leahy Cleary, Marge Murphy Lynch and Irene Novak Bromka. Anne Hennessy did not attend our 40th because she and her two sisters were taking a vacation in Ireland. Muriel Pless was in Europe at the same time. Tom and Edna Shephard O'Gara have moved to a co-op in Monsey, N.Y. near two of their children and several grandchildren. Their fourth grandchild arrived in the back of his Daddy's car just outside the hospital entrance. Edna enclosed a picture of herself, Laura Millard and Ruth Dougherty McClure taken on Class Day '41. Charity Wilson Mathias of Wethersfield, Conn. made our 40th soon after she and Jim celebrated their 40th Wedding Anniversary. She had been planning to meet with Elizabeth Mulcahy Lauritano when she received news of Elizabeth's sudden death. Nancy Ruddy moved to an apartment condo in Aurora, Colo. and invites us to "come on out". Unable to be at the reunion Grace Dooling, who lives in Atlanta, sent best wishes to all. Joan Ghegan Moran sent news that she and Joe help prepare engaged couples for Matrimony with a six week course. Joe is a Eucharistic Minister at St. Andrew's in Brooklyn. Their son, Joe and his wife, Patricia, a nurse live in Connecticut with their two young children. Joseph and Helen Mahoney Kealing have lived in Garden City for three years. Her mother, 91, is also with them. Eileen Gallagher Ellis couldn't make the reunion because she and Lynn were busy with wedding plans for two of their children. One was married in Minneapolis in August and the other in Westport in October. Their youngest, Kathy, is a junior at Cornell. Our search for "lost" classmates turned up: Cecilia Kelly King living in Tucson; Eileen Conway Brown has moved to Delmar, N.Y.; Alice Walsh is in Long Beach, L.I. and still works at the High School there. Teresa Wilson Stewart lives on Staten Island

Olga Marzano moved to Everett, Washington in mid-December. Madge Cook Bortzfield is happy to be home from the hospital, recovering from a stroke. She looks forward to returning to work at the Library. Son, Paul, and his wife Therri have a new daughter, Erin Clare. Little Ben is now two. Daughter, Elaine, is expecting Madge's ninth grandchild. Madge was on her way out to her bike for her afternoon therapy. Best wishes for a complete recovery. Helen Fennelly Reilly's daughter, Kathleen, of the class of '78, was married to Daniel Masterson. In June, 1982, we will mark our fortieth year out of St. Joseph's. Let's get together at the Alumni Luncheon on April 24, 1982, in Douglaston and celebrate. We will send more on this later. If you know of the whereabouts of our lost, get in touch with us or the alumni office (622-4656).

Sylvia DeFine Covino is beginning to walk after an accident last Christmas when she broke her leg. Betty Eppig VanBourgonklen's daughter, Barbara, was married in July. Daughter, Mary Beth, has earned her PhD in Psychology. Rosemary Christmen Casey's two daughters, Brigid and Maura, have settled in Upstate New York near where Rosemary and Michael have their summer home. Grandson Liam is flourishing at seventeen months. Ruth Murray Hoffman, Mary Bennett Burke and Annette Nolan met at Monsignor Diviney's 50th Anniversary which was attended by so many Alumni and faculty. Mary Higgins Sizer's son John is on assignment in Saudi Arabia for Deloit, Haskins and Sells. Daughter Mary Louise has begun a career in Music Therapy after receiving her Master's degree. Elleen Mullen has a new post at Arthur Young & Company as Executive Search Consultant.

Lots of familiar faces were seen at the very successful Fall Luncheon at Windows on the World. It was good to see Dorothy Dolan Hartig after a long absence. Her daughter, Maureen, is a freshman at Salve Regina College in Newport RI. Margaret Jokiel Joyce, also there, is very involved in music. Besides being organist at St. Andrew's, Flushing, and their accompanist at productions, she is the Assistant Musical Director of Diocesan plays, the latest being "Fiddler on the Roof." Margaret joins Elleen McDermott Ott and me as a summer resident in the Catskills. Summer of 1982 should be an intervisitation one. Janet Blessing joined us too. Janet and Elleen visited Virginia Hughes Sweeney who is now housebound, but whose attitude is an inspiration to many. Joan Cory Erhardt and Mary Daniels Dee plan to visit Virginia to bring her up to date. Peggy Meagher Lundebjerg came from Connecticut and spent the weekend in the new Vista Hotel with husband, Jim. Betty Dudley and Pat Brown Schoen journeyed from Jersey. Pat has become a winter sojourner to Florida, having acquired some property in Melbourne. Anyone in that vicinity? Martha Leaver was unable to attend because she broke her leg. Hope you'll mend quickly, Martha! Barbara Keuhn wasn't feeling well that Saturday and we hope she's fine by now. S. Margaret Egan who left St. Joe's in her junior year to enter the Sisters of Mercy attended the luncheon with her sister Betty '48. Margaret teaches math at Mercy High School in Riverhead. Edith Voelker Piazza dropped us a note during the summer. She and her family visited relatives on Hilton Head, S.C., Cortland, N.Y. and Lake George. She had been to Jamaica, W.I. and Florida during the winter. Edith and many others think that our class should meet more frequently than every five years. Plans have been proposed to meet during the summer of '82—perhaps at the end of August. Pat Brown Schoen volunteered to use her home, with swimming pool, for the event. She lives in Cedar Knolls, New Jersey. Plan your vacation early so that you will be free at that time. More information will follow. You received word that Lillian Doohar Seaton died unexpectedly in April and there is an account of a memorial tribute to her in this issue. Lillian became a psychiatrist and gave up a private practice in order to join the Children's Unit at the Queens Psychiatric Center at Creedmore Hospital, where her work was outstanding. Her loss was keenly felt and her friends and co-workers have established a fund dedicated to her memory: The Lillian R. Doohar, M.D., Memorial Fund, Inc. which is committed to provide supplies/equipment for the Unit of the Early Childhood Program which has been named after her.

Editor's note: The notes which follow were readied for the Spring issue but somehow (gremlins again) never got into print. Fortunately, Marian's original is still on hand. The '81 Spring Luncheon marked our 35th anniversary and all those present and absent were remembered at the Liturgy celebrated by Rev. Francis Kilcoyne and Mons. Charles Divlney. The former was newly ordained and the latter was celebrating his fiftieth year in the priesthood. Two of our classmates are serving Alma Mater in Administrative capacities: S. Mary Florence Burns as Academic VP and Dean since 1977 and S. Virginia Therese Callahan, VP and Dean of the campus in Patchogue. Dorothy Strachan Fitzsimmons received two Master degrees, one in American History from St. John's and one in Administration from Pace. She has been a teacher in the NYC system for 24 years. Dot's four sons include two college graduates and one in Columbia, the fourth at Fordham Prep. Dot teaches CCD, enjoys travelling, gardening and needlepoint. Maureen Hastings Haber from Ramsey, N.J., has been professor of Psychology at Rockland Community College since 1959. She was made Chairman of the Social Science/Psychology Department. Her four children, Jack, Tobi, Beth and Geoffrey are grown. Geoffrey had the lead role in "Grease" in a road company. You will recall that Maureen wrote and directed our musical class production "Underneath the Weeping Willow". She was bound to have one musical thespian! Mary Fran Sullivan, retired, has been teacher, Administrator at Uniondale High School and Adjunct Professor at Adelphi. She is working with the Diocesan Human Life Coordinator, having attended the National Convention Meeting in Washington in 1980. Mary Fran has a Master's from Columbia. She is active in the Pro-Life movement in Rockville Centre. Gertrude Taussig Lalola of New Rochelle received a Master's in Social Sciences from Columbia in 1963 and a Master's in Administration from Fordham in 1979. One of her two sons graduated from Manhattan and the other from St. John's. William is a Mechanical Engineer and John, a professional photographer. Gert belongs to the New Rochelle Business and Professional Women's Club. Helen Kotch Leshkow often sees Gert Taussig Lalola. Dorothy Strachan Fitzsimmons and Key Hughes and they have yearly reunions with Marlan Harvey Higgins, Nancy Cook Schilling and Pat Cotter Erickson. Key Hughes is an executive Vice President for an advertising concern: Dancer, Fitzgerald and Sample. Helen Kotch Leshkow received her Master's in Ed from St. John's in '73 and has been teaching first grade for 15 years in P.S. 152Q. In 1976, Helen had the honor of bestowing St. Joseph's College hood on her daughter, Justine. Justine worked in the General Studies Office assisting the registrar. In May 1979, she graduated from L.I. Hospital School of Nursing and is on their staff. Daughter, Germaine, graduated from the Lab Institute of Merchandising, NYU in 1980 and is with Saks Fifth Avenue. S. Joseph Damien Hanlon, professor at the college, was inducted into Delta Epsilon Sigma, a prestigious national scholastic society for faculty and students of colleges and universities with a Catholic tradition. Sister has been 30 years on the college faculty. If you're travelling in western New England, look up Dorothea Drosch Szebo and the kite shop: World on A String, which she and her husband, Zoltan, opened up about a year ago. (See article on page 3.) Doris Blewett Allyn retired after twenty-two years of teaching first grade and substituting in Franklin Square. She and Robert "commute" back and forth every month from Freeport to their marina—Compass Point—in St. Thomas, V.I. Doris loves coming back for our reunion luncheons. Genevieve Kingman Lindner's children are now grown. Cathy is married and Michael is in his second year in NY Polytech on a scholarship grant. Genevieve is teaching Pre Kindergarten full time. She's proud of Herb's recent conversion to Catholicism. Joan McManus Fusco received a Master's in Math in 1950 from St. Johns. She taught in NYC Schools for 16 years but is now Chairman of the Math Department in Glen Cove Middle Schools Complex. Liberta Scotto Conforti, of Glen Head, is singing in Community Chorus and as a Cantor in Liturgical music. She has certification as an Antiques Dealer and gives and attends shows on Long Island. Sons are college age—Arnold is in Georgetown and daughter a sweet sixteen. Liberta has offered to gather news and her address is given below. I, Marian Quealy Zoll, have been class agent on and off since about 1967. John, my youngest of five, is studying Computer Science at Carnegie Mellon. Ellen earned an Electrical Engineer's degree there and married a fellow grad, Jeffrey Harp, who is studying medicine at Rochester U, where they are living. My children came from all points for the wedding. Son Peter is the father of a baby girl, Deidre, and I was present at the christening in California. A busy summer! We're glad to have Marian Harvey Higgins back on our mailing list. Send news to any of us below.

Mary Kapper Barry's daughter, Maureen, a French major and a Junior at Kent State University, is spending this semester at the University of Tours, France. Marlon Sullivan is again practicing law at Elizabeth Arden after successful recovery from surgery. Clark and Bobby Maguire Martin are settled in Pittsburgh. Virginia Klappen Flanagan's daughter, Ellen, a Special Education teacher in Brooklyn, has a Master's degree in Reading and is enrolled in a Professional Diploma program at St. John's University. She and Eileen Brophy Rossman are classmates in two Educational Administration courses. Eileen, on Sabbatical from John Jay High School, is a University Fellow in the Doctor of Education program. Eileen Jr., who completed a Fast Track program in Educational Administration at the Bank Street College of Education, is a Curriculum Specialist in Kotzebue, Alaska. Maura has been admitted to the Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse, Class of '85. Michael received a National Merit Letter of Commendation. Sr. Catherine Gee authored a textbook on Family Life. Marge Cogan Werd joined the growing number of grandmothers in the class of '47. Catherine Strelton and her sister took a six week trip in the South Pacific where they visited their brother (a religious brother) in American Samoa. They also stopped at Pago Pago, New Zealand, and other exotic spots. Anne McKenna McCormack's daughter Ann presented her parents with their 3rd grandchild, Kevin, whose sister Meaghan is 4 and brother James, 15 months. They live in Elmont. In June 1982, it will be thirty-five years since our graduation from St. Joe's. Let's celebrate together at the Alumni Luncheon on April 24, 1982, in Douglaston. You'll hear more later. Do you know where our "lost" are?

The arrival of Melissa Ellen Moran made Lawrence and Claire Althiser Moren grandparents for the first time. Can you believe that it will be thirty years next June since our graduation from St. Joseph's? Let's celebrate together at the Luncheon on April 24, 1982 at Douglaston. Meantime, if you know where our "lost" are, please get in touch with us or the alumni office (622-4656). You'll hear more from us.

Pat Finn McDonnell, Kathleen Casey, and Rosemary Corbett Hannon attended the 30th anniversary reunion of their graduation from Mary Louis Academy. Pat's son, Bryan, graduated from Georgetown U in June and is attending med school there. John Pat is nearby at Annapolis, while Larry is a soph at Fordham. Pat and daughter, Mary, a junior at Mary Louis, flew to Washington DC to celebrate Kevin's 21st birthday. Kevin is a senior at Georgetown. Kathleen Casey is enjoying two new hobbies, calligraphy and guitar. Her nephew, Mark, a sophomore at Brooklyn campus keeps her informed of SJC activities. Rosemary's daughter, Mary Hannon, was valedictorian of the SJC Class of '81. She is graduate assistant in the English Department at St. John's. Daughter, Maura, is a recreational therapist at a home for boys in Jamaica. Tim, her third son is a freshman at SUNY, Albany. Eileen O'Keefe Egan's oldest, Liam, is at the University of Massachusetts; Mary is at Nassau Community and Moira is a junior high school student, president of the student council. Deidre is a sixth grader at St. Joseph's. Eileen teaches Shakespeare and Creative Writing courses, full time, to sophomores and seniors at St. Agnes Cathedral HS in Rockville Centre. Also at Cathedral are Mary Brown '63 an English teacher and Eileen Blaber Maloney '59 who teaches science. Jeanne Cushing Clark, whose husband retired from government service lives in Mountain Lakes, NJ. Jeanne Mooney Lynch has moved back to Rhode Island, from Stamford, Conn. Mary Brennan Serene's oldest son is recuperating from a serious automobile accident. Mary is in parish and community activities and is a Eucharistic Minister, lector, basketball and Little League baseball coach. Mary's youngest, Terry, is in 3rd grade. The Serenes celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last summer with a party given by their children. Carmen Ortege Aquilone is a school social worker; husband Ed is Director of Personnel for the New York City Board of Ed. The Aquilones were involved with the Empire State Games held at Syracuse U last summer. Anne Marie Whitty, a long-time Brooklyn resident, enjoys teaching kindergarten at PS 107 in Park Slope. Priscilla Reuch Navarro is active in her building's tenant association. Daughter, Angela, attends Stuyvesant HS, Gabriella is a student at Bryant High and Elena, the youngest, is in an intermediate school in the neighborhood. Deidre MacVelgh Tighe teaches at St. John the Baptist Diocesan HS. Daughter, Eileen, attends St. Francis College in Loretta, PA. Maureen, Kevin and Thomas have all finished school and are working. The Tighe's 25th anniversary was commemorated with a Mass celebrated by Monsignor Leonard and afterwards a two-weeks vacation in California. Virginia Bradley Connelly's daughter married Patrick Connon on October 3rd. Elaine Durante Colotti's parents celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Many thanks to Daisy Bodon DeLara for the lovely informal gathering at her home in May. Daisy's son, Francisco, graduated from high school this June with top honors and entered Duke University this Fall to pursue a pre-Med program there. Her daughter, Melissa, will be in the tenth grade at Sacred Heart Academy, Hempstead, this year. Marie Lydon Heidelberger's oldest son, John, is a senior at Rutgers Engineering College majoring in Chemical Engineering. Gregory entered the University of Pennsylvania this fall on a full scholarship. He was named a National Merit Finalist and as a result was awarded the Thomas J. Watson Memorial Scholarship for National Merit Finalists. Mark is in the tenth grade at Bergen Catholic High School, Oradell, New Jersey. Marie teaches on a part time basis, with the special education program in the Dumont Schools.

Peggy Ansbro, who lives in Breezy Point, teaches in PS 102 in Brooklyn. Joan Selbert Sprague who lives in Bay Shore was at the Suffolk meeting. She is teaching kindergarten, taking courses and is active in the AAUW. Joan, Bob and Barbara spend part of their summers at Atlantique on Fire Island, where they see Teen Ryan Mulholland '55, Phil, and their family. Joan is in close touch with Anne Tartaglione Steiner, who lives in Astoria. Anne teaches kindergarten in the local Catholic School. Her oldest daughter is studying nursing at Hunter College. She also has two teen-age sons. Pat McCarthy Bradshaw is a Social Studies teacher in St. John of God in Central Islip. Alicia, her youngest daughter, is in the Fine Arts program in Southampton College. David is in his second year at the Merchant Marine Academy. He travelled to London, England and Malaga, Spain, last year. We extend our sympathy to Margaret Collins Heslin, whose husband, Eugene, died last April. They have five children, Eugene, a senior at Fordham, majoring in Chemistry is a pre-med student. An Eagle Scout and camp counselor, he is Captain of the Riding Team. He has spent two Junes building houses for the poor in Mexico. Marty, a junior in Cornell, majoring in microbiology, and a pre-med student is also an Eagle Scout and on the Varsity Wrestling team. Sheila spent last year in Yugoslavia as an AFS student, learning the language, Serpski, and attending school while living with a family. She plans to major in Government at Cornell. Jim is a high school senior at Mahopac and interested in computers and student government. He is a Life Scout and camp counselor. Peggy, a soph, is playing base drum in the Mahopac Marching Band. A catcher on the softball team she also plays basketball. Liisa, an exchange student from Finland, lived with the Heslins for a year. She was a pre-med student and excellent pianist. Although Peggy graduated in 1956 (she had accelerated) she feels closer to the class of '57. She returned to school, Mercy College, for a Certificate in Data Processing and expected to start a career as a programmer this fall. Rose Ann Connolly Hubbard married Dr. John T. Palmer this summer and lives in Garden City. She commutes to her school position in Brooklyn Tech. Her son, John who is 11, attends St. Joseph's in Garden City. Dr. Palmer has three children a daughter 14 and two sons, 16 and 11. 1982 will mark our twenty-fifth year out of college. We are silver jubilarians and will be honored at the Alumni Luncheon in Douglaston on April 24th. Mark the date and let's have a grand reunion! You will hear more later. Cathy Boemlo Ireland's daughter Mary Ann entered Brown University this Fall. In addition to her academic honors she is also a track star. John is a high school senior in the midst of college catalog reading. Marco, a J.H.S. student who creates designer bicycles out of spare parts. James, in the fourth grade is active in a variety of sports. With so many students in the family Cathy decided to return to school too. After receiving a Masters degree in Feb. '81 she has become an adjunct professor at Adelphi and teaches in the Chemistry Department. Cathy Martine Ribaud returned to teaching at Lafayette H.S. after a six month sabbatical. Frank and Cathy have two sons Frank Jr. 16 and Paul 13 and a daughter Lisa 11. Emilia Longobardo Govan was recently admitted to the Bar in Washington, D.C. after graduating from Georgetown with a J.D. cum laude. Son Michael attends Williams College, majoring in Fine Arts with plans to become an artist. Stephen, a high school student is sports editor of the school paper. Nuala McGinn Drescher, a new president of the United University Professors of SUNY chaired her first meeting on September 25th and 26th. We want to hear from the rest of you—please.

Dolores Martirano Lynch, who lives in Woodstock, N.Y. has formed an organization called Compassionate Friends Organization to help parents who have suffered the loss of a child to crib death. Dolores lost her baby 2 1/2 years ago. Her other children are Lisa 13, Chris 11, and Steven 5. Mariyou Sabatelle Thompson, Terri Brzeski Philipp '65 and Dolores watched their children graduate from the same grammar school in Woodstock. Dolores (who does all the baking) and husband, Chris, operate Christy's Restaurant in Woodstock and would love to see anyone who is travelling through. Acting as a tour guide, Dolores visited China with a group, for two weeks and found it a unique experience. Audrey Allen Robinson moved from Connecticut to Wynnewood, Pennsylvania. Bob and Audrey added Kelly Ann last March to their family of two other children. Son Bob attends Temple U and her daughter is at Franklin & Marshall, PA. Terry Treanor O'Rourke's oldest, Tracy, is in St. Elizabeth's Convent Station and JoAnn Bradley Milza's, Paul, is a freshman at Manhattan. JoAnn is now teaching full time—Social Studies to 5th and 6th grade at St. Charles. She finds 10 and 11 year olds quite a change from the high school students she taught while substituting, but quite delightful. Two of Ellen Curry Quinn's children attend college. Bob, 21, is at York College, PA and Beth, 18, is at Fairleigh Dickinson. Dave, 10, attends St. Francis in Metuchen. Ellen ran in last Spring's L'Eggs Mini-marathon in Central Park and placed 409 in a field of 4500 women, most of whom were half her age. She'll continue to run as long as legs and breath hold out. Husband, Bob, runs a construction business of which he is vice-president. Ellen would love to hear from anyone in or near her home town of Edison, New Jersey. Let's hear more news from you.

Roberta Silvestri Pentle lives in warm and sunny Anaheim, near Disneyland and invites alumnae who are in the area to come over for a visit (714-774-7095). Roberta is a local school district administrator in charge of instructional services, and a licensed real estate broker. Husband, John, is an airline executive and one of the fringe benefits has been opportunities for travel. They've visited Europe, the Orient, Tahiti and the Fiji Islands, but their favorite vacation spot is Hawaii. Daughter, Jennifer, 12, has a current interest in journalism, and John, 10, is an avid swimmer and interested in television producing. After teaching part time in local elementary schools for several years, Rosemary Volta Tamaro discovered that she enjoys assuming again the main role of housewife. However, with her oldest daughter a college sophomore, two others a senior and junior in high school, and one more in 8th grade, she may be driven back to the work force by tuition payments! I'm sure many of us can relate to that! Two summers ago the family (husband, George, is an engineer) enjoyed a three week vacation in France and Italy. They visited with relatives, but she found that her children enjoyed skiing in mid-July much more interesting than tracing their "roots". This summer Shella McCarthy Maher enjoyed out of town guests who were passing through Northeast Ohio: Jack and Barbara Maher McConville were enroute to deposit their daughter, Kate, at Notre Dame, Ind. for the start of her freshman year. Matt and Marie Leno Gilmore brought their daughter, Catherine, to Lewisburg, Pa., where she is a freshman at Bucknell University. We offer Marie our condolences on the death of her mother. Sheila's part time job is now full time. She is Assistant Director of Religious Education, Principal of High School CCD in her parish. She and another laywoman are on the parish pastoral staff, something of a rarity in the Cleveland Diocese. Sheila's son Mike was recently named a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Please write Sheila about what's going on in YOUR world. It would help offset the abundance of college mail that Mike's been receiving. Gail Madden Doherty lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She, Tom and the children, Suzanne 19, Michelle 17, Jennine 16, and Mark 12, would love to have company, should any alumni travel out that way. Tom is a Lt. Col/USAF Squadron Commander of the 1550th Technical Training Squadron. Gail is pursuing a Master's Degree in Library Science. Genevieve Tursi Leahy teaches gifted pre-school children under the Umbrella Bureau. With Professor Margaret Waters of Brooklyn College she is writing: "Curriculum for Gifted PreSchool Children". The Leahys have built from scratch, by hand, an 8-room, all year round house in Pennsylvania. Gen is also trying to be a really good artist and expects to show soon. Rosemary Murtha Todaro has been appointed full time kindergarten teacher at St. Ann's in Ossining. She had taught at Pinesbridge Pre-School, part time for 2 years. Al is now Vice-President at the Bank of New York. Gov. Carey appointed him to another term as Commissioner of the State Insurance Fund. Al is an usher in St. Augustine's and active in parish affairs, particularly the annual Italian Festival. Chris, a graduate of Stepinac High is now at LeMoyné, having received a partial grant from them. Teresa is a soph at Our Lady of Victory Academy, Dobbs Ferry. She is in the National Honor Society. An accomplished pianist, Terry has been the accompanist for her school's production as well as graduation. Peter is a frosh at Stepinac and achieved first honors (above 90% all grades) in the 3rd marking period. He had exemptions in Spanish, English, Social Studies and Science. Peter sings in the junior choir and is also proficient on the piano. The choir director wants him to play the organ. Peter is involved with baseball, playing on the local Babe Ruth League. Nancy is in the 4th grade and scored a 98 percentile in S.R.A.s. She also sings in the choir. Rosemary is a member of the senior choir and helps out with the juniors. Her girls are in their second year in jazz ballet and tap dancing. Rosemary is in her fourth. Last June they joined 90 other performers in a recital at Spellman Auditorium at Marymount, with the DiRocco School of Dance.

Judge Joan B. Carey was one of two judges who refused to participate in a three-day escorted tour of New York City's court system for a group of South African jurists. As a result, the South Africans were told that the courthouses would be open to them the same as to any member of the public.

At the close of the last school year, several classmates gathered at Nell Flaherty's in Bay Ridge to enjoy an evening with old friends, and to exchange our latest interests and endeavors. We were especially glad to welcome Pat Sweeney, "Casey" Travers Alcuri, and Jean Funke O'Brien to our group. The old reliables included Pat Jesinkey Palmer, Anne Byrnes Concannon, Noreen Doherty, Ginny O'Rourke McLaughlin, Eileen Fitzgerald Troy, Mary Ellnor Edwards McCarthy, Fran Sullivan Brennan, Rosemary McDonald Ahern and yours truly. Jean Funke O'Brien and Casey Travers Alcuri are relatively close neighbors in Rockville Centre. Jean works in a travel agency, and travels often. She loves visiting new places. In an effort to photograph her adventures better, Jean took a photography course given by Casey's husband, Matt. The O'Briens have just completed building a summer home on Fire Island to use as a weekend retreat for themselves and their three girls, from March through November. Jean sees (Sister) Margaret Hanley occasionally. Marge directs a C.C.D.

program at St. Patrick's in Glen Cove. Marge loves her work and looks just great! Casey Travers Alcuri is at Hofstra, studying for a Master's degree in teaching the learning disabled. In addition, Casey is working in the intensive care unit at St. Francis Hospital in Roslyn. Her husband, Matt, teaches photography workshops in Rockville Centre, and loves it. Their children are now sixteen, eleven and ten years old. All are involved in sports, and there is lots of soccer, baseball and basketball in Casey's life. Noreen Doherty heard from Dorothy Montuori Ryan. Dorothy and her two boys live in Florida, near Fort Lauderdale. Last Spring, Dorothy was named as one of the top ten teachers of the year in her county. Noreen mentioned that Mary Ann Weindler Horan moved last February to Malibu, California, and enjoys life on the West Coast. During the summer Hank and Diane Maffei Maturi vacationed in Cape Cod with their three children: Michael 14, Anne 13, and Jenine 12. All three are accomplished musicians, and with Diane, they make quite a band. Diane returned to full time teaching in September. Last year, in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of her husband's business association, Diane was asked to write a journal on the history of the Rendena Valley in the Northern Alps, from where Diane and Hank's grandfathers had emigrated, and both of whom were part of the formation of the company. Subsequently, Diane's journal was used for an ethnic course at Misericordia College. She is also assisting an Italian professor (trans-oceanic) with his work on the "Rendene" dialect in the United States and Great Britain. The Maturi family recently moved into a larger home in Granitville, Staten Island. Diane keeps in touch with Meg Williams Schroeder and Genevieve Orandelio Phillips. We'd love to hear from them too. As I finish these notes I am high above the clouds en route to New York, having accompanied my husband on a work related trip to New Orleans. New Orleans was great fun, but more and more I am convinced that there is no place like New York. Finally, may I remind you that 1982 marks our twentieth anniversary since graduation. Let's celebrate that anniversary in a big way by getting out in large numbers to the Spring Luncheon on April 24, 1982. Set the date aside NOW. Hope to see you ALL then. Rita Reilly Siebenaler was back in the U.S. this summer, visiting N.Y., VA and Texas. In November, Rita will present a paper on "Cross-Cultural Adjustment Reactions" to the Professional Symposium of the National Association of Social Workers in Philadelphia. Rita will be returning from Moscow to do so. Cathy Vesey and her husband Richard Reeves spent a month in the fall going around the world. They stopped in London, Paris, India, Bangkok, China, Japan and finally in Los Angeles where Richard spent some time in promoting his new book "Jet Lag." Cathy, Mary Brennan Mulvihill and Clara Rodriguez Olsen spent a scintillating afternoon in NYC discussing philosophy this summer. It was great to see Clara who looked terrific. Clara is practicing law in Iowa City. She has her own firm and specializes in civil rights law. Betty Groarke White who lives in Manhattan with her husband and two daughters is trying to decide on a career path to pursue, now that her children are in school. Peg Harrington was married on June 27th to Mel Hardin at Snug Harbor Cultural Center, S.I., in the 1831 original room. A Renaissance Collegium played for both the ceremony and reception and led the couple through the Rose Garden to the Governor's House where the reception was held. Vincent and Mary Morgan Tirole attended. Mel is Curator and Director of the Restoration Program. The couple travelled in the Peoples Republic of China during July. Peg was licensed as a Junior High School Principal and a Day High School Principal. Only 9 women qualified for the high school principalship out of the 55 who passed out of a potential field of about 500. Mary Rose Noberini Heller is Assistant Professor of Psychology at Manhattan College. She was elected vice-chairwoman of the community advisory board at the Hebrew Home for the Aged. She has taught a course in psychology to the residents as part of a Continuing Ed program, lectured on various topics in human relations and is now in a joint research project with Rachel Berman the director of volunteer and community affairs at the Home. John and Marie LeVergine Sias live in Hollis, N.H. with 10 cats and 3 dogs. Marie is studying ceramics at Boston U's Program in Artisanry. She is Chairperson of the Board of Directors of White Wing School, a nursery and kindergarden for approximately 100 children.

Cathleen Reynolds Gordon's mother recently signed up for Introduction to Philosophy under the new free program for Senior Citizens at Patchogue SJC. Her professor is Dr. Stanley Nevins who taught his first Philosophy course 20 years ago when we were freshman. Cathy who substitutes in her local school district has become hooked on aerobic dancing. Cathy and Carol Giurlando Corrigan were active in forming the new Suffolk Southwest Chapter. Jean Serpe Silvillo teaches first graders in her parish in Valley Stream. This past summer, Judy Jacobsen Corbellini and family vacationed at Hershey Park, PA. Philip and Joan Hinde-Stewart and Anna Faye and Justin will move to their new solar home in Durham NC. Joan, French Professor, is Assistant Department Head at North Carolina State U. Philip is Chairman of Romance Languages at Duke. Patty McCarthy Hale is Service Unit Administrator for Girl Scouting in Falmouth, Mass. and works in the Title I program at her elementary school. Patty and Chip with children, Sean, Christianne and Michael soaked up the tranquility of Vermont this summer. Toni Lombardo Moore, now settled in Baltimore, MD is a reading specialist. Toni ran in the Baltimore Marathon last November. The Moore and Flyntz (Evelyn Carney) families watched the Navy home-coming game together last fall. Evelyn teaches fourth grade. Daughter, Elizabeth, is a year old. Last July, Bill and Gerri Smith Lovejoy and family moved to Englewood, Colorado, following Bill's promotion to Ass't Regional Manager of the GMAC Denver Region. Gerrie misses the east and invites you to stop in for a visit. Belonging to the same Book Discussion Group, Marge Morrow Becht, Peggy McCartney Leder, Maureen McCartney Lorenz and Maureen O'Connor Mannix see each other every month. Ward Becht found out that he lived next door to Ann Cahalan and family for many years. Anne is a practicing psychologist. After four boys, Ken and Peggy McCartney Leder were delighted with the arrival of Margaret in July. Nora McGowan Haggerty added Mary Kate on June 15th to her family: Noreen 11, Howard 8 1/2 and Tom 6. She teaches CCD in Harrison. Kara was born in April to Maureen O'Connor Mannix who has Kevin 10 and Jim 8. Maureen is at Hofstra studying for a Master's. Joan Conway received her PhD in Nutritional Biochemistry in 1979 from MIT. This summer, Judith Collins was at St. John's College in Santa Fe, NM, working on her project. She had received a National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowship, which entitled her to round-trip air fare, tuition and matriculation fees, room and a stipend of $100 for books. She will be eligible for a similar scholarship next summer. Sister Elaine Roulet lives in Providence House on Church Avenue in Brooklyn, a convent which opens its doors for homeless women. She appeals for furniture and money, as well as volunteer help for this project. Kathy Mauceri Huff lives in Austin Texas, where she is chief psychologist with the Children's Psychiatric Unit of the State Hospital. She also has a private practice in Psychotherapy. Three years ago, Kathy built her own home in a natural wooded area which allows her to enjoy nature, since Wildlife Rescue has been a strong interest of hers. Other interests are transcendental meditation and holistic health. Dr. Ann Kenny Duenki used her work with the Swiss government and the Common Market Communication Research as a basis for her doctorate thesis in Computer Science, at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology. Ann is working for DOW Chemical, European Headquarters. Her 17 year old niece wanted to come to New York to strengthen her English and she is staying with Bill and Eileen Jones Lavin and their six children in Belle Harbor, working as an "au pair" or mother's helper. Ann was on a 3 weeks vacation in the United States in May. Her father died in September. Ann Rochford is back in the states and has a daughter, Jessie, born in October. Her father died recently. Kathleen Page Barabas ran into Sr. Margaret Louise, recently, at a Brooklyn College Workshop. Sister Margaret Louise's subject was Parenting and Kathleen's was Math Readiness. On March 2nd, Emily Kate arrived in the Barabas household, to join her three-year-old brother, James. Barbara is co-president of her son's nursery school.

A delightful reunion was held in September at Mary Anne Annucci Williams' home in Maplewood. News from those who were there: Phil and Priscilla O'Connell Franzese, with Philip 9, Mathias 5, and Paul 2, took a seven weeks' trip out west, visiting the highlight spots. Priscilla is den mother, corresponding secretary of Rosary Altar Society and recording secretary for AAUW. Thanks to Sigrid Brandt '73, we learned that Monica McEnroe McCabe is living in Ridgewood, N.J. Sigrid was Monica's teacher aide at Vacation Day Camp, P.S. 20, back in '69 and she had her address from a Christmas card. Ed and Monica McEnroe McCabe and children, Ed 11, Bill 10, Melissa 7, Brendan 3, live in New Jersey. The McCabes serve in Marriage Preparation in their parish and coach soccer and baseball. Monica is on the local School Board. She lives around the corner from Eileen Moran Gastich. Eileen and family spent two lovely weeks camping in Mt. Desert Island, Maine. Nancy Seiz Radday came from Connecticut. She, Gil, Karl 9, Adam 6 and Anne Claire 4, live in New Milford. She is President of the Women's Guild a newly formed social group. She and Gil coach sports programs. She is teaching high school religious ed programs and has completed counselor training for crisis intervention. Terry Perrone Bozza campaigned for Senator D'Amato who is an Island Park resident too. Visited Mystic, Conn. then spent a weekend visiting Anne Kenealy Logan on Staten Island. Terry is studying nutrition. Mary Anne Annucci Williams is a den mother for 8 year old David's cub pack and a brownie leader for 6 year old Laura's troop. The family visited Cape Cod this summer. MaryAnne is more involved in Richard's office management. Margaret Courtney Garguilo resumed a career this fall as a management trainee in a local bank. John and Margaret with John 13 and Gena 10 vacationed in Orlando, Florida. The Mennix family, Richard and Terry (Patella) and the four children enjoyed vacation in Hampton Bays. Although living in Roselle, NJ, for the past 5 years, Maureen Lynch Boyle continues to teach at PS 170 in Bay Ridge where Mary Lou Valetta Gladstone teaches 4th grade. The Boyles are thankful that Tony is well after the kidney transplant operation last December. Mary Ellen Dubiel Freeley is at St. John's full time, a doctoral student and graduate assistant in the Center for Learning and Teaching styles. Mary Ellen met Kathy McCaffery Sermergleff at St. John's. Kathy has a PhD in Chinese Literature and is studying for a Professional Diploma in Administration. Her husband, Christopher, an artist, had a show in Greenwich this fall. Kathy teaches in Elmont and is in touch with India Cesternino Podsen who recently had a baby boy, Blake. Joseph is about 9 or 10 years old. Tom and Alice Kubik Van Cott recently put an addition on their New Hyde Park Home. Nancy Lehane Pfefferling is chairman of the Language Department at Fontbonne. She gave a surprise 40th anniversary party for her parents this summer. Eileen Lowney Brennan, in Scarsdale, had a girl, Elizabeth, in March. Her sons, David and Andrew are 12 and 13 years old. Other news received: Marle Anderson Provanzana resides in Worthington, Ohio. Maria Zullo Rudy sent greetings from Kokomo, Indiana where John is a tenured professor at I.U. Their children are Elena Marie 6 1/2, and Daniel, 3. Maria helps in school and parish affairs. Kathy McCarten McCaffrey was in Florida where Neil had a Merchandise Show in Miami. She visited Jean Mirenda Landaker in Delray Beach. Jean is teaching 3 and 4 year olds. The McCaffrey children, Patrick 11, and Brian 6, are now in school full time. Judy Conlin Pickel, hosting a surprise 80th birthday party for her grandmother on the day of the reunion, sent news that her husband, Jim, was ordained a permanent deacon last May. The pre-school program she started in her parish is a success. JoAnn Basileo Ascutto's husband, Basil, has had great success with the Wall Street Charity Fund. Their son, Robert James, attended the Dillon Center with Barbara Barbleri Perino's son, David. Barbara moved recently to Glen Rock, N.J. with the four children, Nina 7, Marissa 5, David 4 and Ann, 6 months. Barbara taught science at FDR while living in Brooklyn and sold some real estate. She has a masters in Ed from SIC. Michael is with Merrill Lynch. Arlene Francis Palazzolo and Robert love playing with Erin now 21 months old. They live in Westchester. Because of commitments, Joyce Marchetta Bisso missed the reunion. She is with Project Child Growth, a community parenting group, CCD, and is newsletter editor for PTA and publicity director for the local soccer group. She works with kindergarten and pre-kindergarten children in her district Learning Center. She and Richie were on vacation in Bermuda in the spring and the whole family went to Lake George in August. Barbara Wall Bank has her Masters in Urban Ed from Boston and a Certificate of Advanced Studies in Reading from the Univ. of Chicago. Randy has a PhD from Harvard in Applied Math. Last year he was a visiting scientist in Yale but now is on the faculty of the Univ. of California at San Diego. Christopher 5, started kindergarten and Julia is two. Barbara loves opera and indulged in a season ticket to the San Diego opera. She is teaching CCD and substitute teaching in the Poway Schools. In June it will be fifteen years since we received our degrees. Let's celebrate together at the Alumni Luncheon next April 24, 1982 at Douglaston. We will write you again. Rosemary Behrens Hicks lives in Henrietta, N.Y. near Rochester. Her 3 children are Graham 8, Matthew 6 and Katie 2. Bill and Nancy Lee Miller

Page had their first child, Debra Lee. Nancy is on maternity leave from PS 205K where she taught for 10 1/2 years. She lives on Staten Island and would like to get together with other alumni there. On May 17th, Michael Anthony joined the Rossicone family, (Greg and Jo Nunziata) and four year old Robert. Robert was promoted to the four-year group in Wagner College Nursery School. Jo still teaches 7th & 8th grades at PS 104K. This year she will teach Math. She often sees Mary Buckley. Greg left Bishop Loughlin, where he had been Assistant Principal, for a position as Director of Academic Affairs in Bishop Kearney, Jo's Alma Mater. Greg is in final stages of doctorate study and will teach comps in the spring. Cathy Garone Dede '69, teaches with Jo at 104. Jo has seen Camille Galati Morese also. Fran Caruso Ruggiero's baby girl, Julie Ann is almost a year old. Son Edward's first grade teacher is Gail Colgan Brown '72. Fran is in charge of several programs in school and church activities and is in the church choir. Gene is accounting manager at Selectro in Mamaroneck. Fran, who lives in Yonkers, says to look her up if you're up that way. Barbara Ridzi Yovine moved into a larger home in Delmar to keep up with the needs of her growing family. Michael, 7, is in the 2nd grade and Brian is 16 months old. Pat Worsdale Malo and J.V., her six year old son, visited Barbara this summer. Pat is teaching again. J.V. is in 1st grade and Neil is still working in Huntington L.I. In June Patrick and Julie Reilly Kennedy and Julie Marie spent a weekend with the Yovines. They toured Stockbridge, Mass. together. Haven't heard in years from: Diane Rezin, Ariene Rosatti, Kathy Quinn Jappe, Maryann Jurgenson Hart, Eileen McNamara Hergen and Eileen Platz. Where are you? Ralph and Silva Colombo Daddona are happily living in Franklin Square with Michael 6, Claudine 6 and Christine 2 1/2. The two older children attend St. Catherine of Siena where Michael made his First Communion. In July they took a trip to Las Vegas. Bea Schneller Fennimore is teaching at Marymount College. Dorothy Buccio Marolla is living in Greenlawn on Long Island but will be moving next March. John and Phyllis Acquavella Lofreddo are living in Holtsville with Kristin, 10 and Suzanne 2 1/2.

While lunching at Mary Ann Augugliaro Krenn's apartment, Lola Caracciolo, Cathy Steinmann and Dianne Piwinski reminisced about hour quizzes, term papers, philosophic discussions at Eric's, and many other things. Many happy hours were spent in the company of good friends, we all agreed. Cathy and Diane toured Cape Cod, Maine, Massachusetts and northern regions . . . very picturesque and gastronomically enjoyable. Sr. Rose Maureen (Freshman Biology SJCHS) and Sr. Miriam were also on this trip. Mary Ellen Gaffney Kenny and family are painting their home in Wantagh and eager for helping hands. The only painting we did was in Miss Bellosso's course! Bibi Foyo Elssler is living in Venezuela with her husband and year old daughter. Life is very different, much slower. She does miss the states—especially snow. Cathy Holzman Stein, at NYU, will be glad when she finishes her education degree. In 1982, it will be ten years since our graduation from St. Joseph's. At the Spring Luncheon, we will be honored as an anniversary class. Let us all try to meet on this day, April 24, 1982, and celebrate together. We will write more about it early in the year. 1981 ARTS & SCIENCE SUFFOLK

Theresa Kane Donohue is teaching at St. William the Abbot while attending Hofstra in a Reading and Special Ed program. Michelle Grande finds teaching a class of 41 second grade students in St. John of God School and attending CWPost in Special Ed program leaves very little time. Pat Duffy Dickerson writes she will help on committees and with our Phonathon in Garden City. This summer Cindy Lou Swasey began studies at SUNY Albany under a full-time scholarship and will receive teacher certification and a Masters of Science in Special Ed & Reading May 1982. The program involves full time teaching and 30 credit hours. Palma Gulnane Adams sent us her new address from Redondo Beach, California. Keep in touch with us, Palma Jo-Ann Alchermann is a Counselor in TryAHostel. Patricia Berkery thanks the AA for her wallet size diploma. She's in the teaching profession. Continuing studies in Special Ed at CWPost is Linda Brust who also teaches. Virginia Ortenburger Carmichael is studying Sociology at SUNY Albany. Also in Postgrad study, at CWPost, is Michaelyn Davls whose subject is Counseling. Nicoletta Spani DiPietro is loaded with extra courses in Special Ed post graduate study as well as with teaching emotionally handicapped at Brentwood North Elementary School. Deidre Dully is Recreational Therapist at St. Johnland Nursing Home. She's studying Rehab Counseling at Hofstra. Karen Filz is doing post graduate study at CW Post in Special Ed. Kathleen Fleury is not presently employed, but is willing to help out on Social affairs at the college. Theresa McClendon Harris is employed by The Gap in Sales. A newswriter at Major Path Publications, Patricia Grimaldi, now married to Stephen Lutzky, is studying English Lit at Stony Brook. She just received a promotion to Assignment Editor. Diane Malone teaches second grade in Maria Regina, Seaford. Valarie Baskerville Penn is an outreach counselor at Alba Neck Halfway House. Joseph Reduto III is a Salesman for Carpet Unlimited. Regina Talluto is a registered nurse in Central Suffolk Hospital. Bonnie Waddell writes that she is currently unemployed and we'd like to hear more from Cory Tavano and all '81 grads. The glad word from Peggy Wolfe Baldwin is the arrival of Tracey Amanda on September 26, 1981. She moved from Hampton Bays to East Quogue.

FOR GLOBAL PEACE AND JUSTICE

In a world threatened by nuclear holocaust, hunger, and poverty, the role of the educator has emerged as vital and primary. Sister St. Francis Dilgen (chemistry) recently held a faculty seminar at which she and her colleagues explored their roles as individual educators and the role of the college as an institution in moving toward a world of peace and justice.

Reporting on a Symposium on Education for Peace and Justice held at Manhattan College Universities, Sister asked "Is it possible for us to make a difference?" "Is it too late?"

Two long standing goals of the College relate directly with the themes of peace and justice: to affirm the dignity, freedom, and ultimate value of the human person; and to educate students to the awareness of personal responsibility for an intelligent and critical participation in the local and worldwide community.

Sister St. Francis urged the faculty to study how these principles underline and interrelate with every area in the curriculum as well as with our institutional policies. She then formed a Task Force on campus which will aim at faculty awareness and involvement in these challenging areas of human history.

This Task Force met on December 14, 1981 for an initial planning meeting. Eleven representatives from Brooklyn Arts and Sciences, and General Studies were present. They briefly discussed these global threats and how to involve and enlist members of the entire college family to work in moving toward world peace and justice. The next meeting of the Education for Peace and Justice Task Force will take place at the end of the Faculty Planning day on Friday, January 22, 1982 at 3:00 P.M. in McEntegart Hall on Clinton Avenue.

Alumni are urgently requested to attend this meeting and join the task force to help plan and/or carry out activities for ourselves, our students, and our local communities, in order to increase our awareness of ways of fostering a more human and just world future. Will you become involved in this —and ultimately world peace? Please fill out the postcard on the back cover, or telephone the Alumni Office: (212) 622-4656.

LET'S COOK UP SOME SCHOLARSHIP MONEY

The Alumni Association is preparing a cookbook, featuring recipes submitted by members, whether a family treasure or a favorite picked up in travels around the world. It promises to be a fascinating blend of material to tempt our taste buds for years to come.

Proceeds from the sale of the cookbook will be used for the Alumni Scholarship Fund—which is available to sons and daughters of alumni, upon application to the Alumni Scholarship Committee.

Please share your secret of culinary success with us and help this cause so near and dear to our hearts. Send your recipes to the Alumni Office, St. Joseph's College, 245 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11205, by October 15th. Be sure to give your name, class, address and phone number.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Alumni Survey

St. Joseph's alumni are happy about the education they received at their Alma Mater. A recent survey of graduates of the last twenty years shows that four out of five are "pleased" or "very pleased" with their experience at the college, and would recommend it to their children or friends. Of our Arts and Sciences graduates, over 85% find their education "superior" or "good" when comparing themselves with their peers in graduate school, professions or business.

These are among the heartening conclusions of an alumni survey which was part of a self-study made by the college in preparation for evaluation by the Middle States Association.

In order to obtain a representative but manageable sample, a questionnaire was mailed to every fifth person on the alphabetical lists of graduates from 1960 through 1979. Of the 743 sent out, 426 (57%) were answered: 326 from the Brooklyn Arts and Sciences Division (67% of those mailed), 40 from Suffolk (47%) and 60 from the General Studies Division (35%).

This phenomenally high rate of response happily indicates a strong continuing identification with the College, not only on the part of those who spent four years as full-time students on the established Brooklyn campus, but also among the younger Suffolk alumni (first graduates 1974) and the General Studies graduates, mature and busy people who spent varying periods as part-time students at SJC.

Alumni Profile

The alumni profile that emerges is that of a varied and active group of people. Of the 426 (389 women, 37 men) who replied, 347 (82%) are employed in a field related to their major area of college study: 163 (39%) are educators, 63 (15%) in health services, 11 in the learned professions. 71 describe themselves as homemakers, the others are engaged in business, finance, civil service, social work, scientific research and other callings. 245 are married, 170 have children.

Beyond their daily jobs, 216 (51%) are active in professional organizations, 230 in religious organizations, 58 in political organizations. 151 do volunteer work, 106 have received honors or awards, 48 have published or exhibited their work. 321 (75%) have done some graduate work; 244 have earned advanced degrees, including 7 doctorates and 16 professional degrees.

Three out of five experience a "high" or "very high" degree of satisfaction in their careers; only 41 report a "low" or "very low" index of career satisfaction.

Most of the eighty survey questions were judgemental rather than factual. They were designed to probe attitudes and experience, and to provide an opportunity for the alumni to evaluate the college and its impact on themselves. For each of these questions there were five response options which can be categorized as: (1) very positive, (2) positive, (3) neutral, (4) negative, (5) very negative.

The College and Undergraduates

Among the factors in the choice of SJC as a college, highest in significance was the academic reputation of the College, 85% of the replies falling into the first two categories. This is followed by size, financial availability, majors offered and location. Least significant is the range of extra-curricular activities. 62% of the General Studies alumni gave maximum importance to the flexibility of the college in accommodating the needs of adult students.

In undergraduate life, the factors rated most highly for their significance were the atmosphere for learning (93% gave ratings of 1 or 2), the intellectual content of the courses (92%), the faculty (89%) and fellow-students (87%). Less highly rated, but positive were the library and religious environment, while extra-curricular activities were positively rated by less than half the replies.

With regard to personal development, alumni were asked to evaluate the impact of SJC in nine areas, as of "highest", "high", "some", "little", or "no" importance. First or second ratings were given to intellectual interests by 75% of the replies, professional skills by 66%, vocational aims 56%, understanding of self and others 57%, ethical and religious values 52%. 44% found the college important in developing their general life style, 39% in recognition of rights and responsibilities as citizens, 27% in community life, while hobbies and avocations seem for most to have been little influenced by the SJC experience.

Asked to rate their degree of satisfaction with the education received at the college, 222 (52%) were "very pleased", 118 (28%) "pleased". 75 were "satisfied", 9 "dissatisfied", one "very dissatisfied". Of the ten negatives, seven, including the "very dissatisfied," were from the Brooklyn campus, three from General Studies. 78% of the total said they would recommend the college to their children or friends, 37% "enthusiastically".

Aims and Goals

A key set of questions called for alumni rating of the fulfillment by the College of its aims and goals as: (1) excellent, (2) good, (3) satisfactory, (4) fair, (5) poor. A full statement of these aims and goals appears elsewhere in this alumnogram. (See page 6.)

Fulfillment of the aim of creating a free atmosphere was rated "excellent" by 108 respondents, "good" by 174, a total of 282, or 67% in the upper range. 87 gave a rating of "satisfactory" and 49 "fair" or "poor". 40 of the latter came from the Brooklyn campus, 9 from Suffolk, none from General Studies.

Closely correlated with the assessment of the first goal is that of the second: students and faculty together investigate . . . knowledge. 70% of the replies were positive, 11% negative, 19 on middle ground. Of the negatives, Brooklyn accounted for 33, Suffolk 3 and General Studies 11.

Less satisfactory, but still predominantly positive, was the rating of the goal: [as the basis for] a more effective participation in the modern world. 17% found SJC "excellent", 41% "good" (giving 58% positive), 27% "satisfactory", 13% "fair", 2% (ten) "poor".

Over three-quarters of the respondents gave ratings of "excellent" or "good" for the achievement by the college of four of its more specific objectives: to affirm human dignity, freedom and value (80%), to provide an atmosphere for open dialogue (76%), to inspire a spirit of inquiry and joy of learning (77%), and to prepare students for their life work (78%). The development of personal responsibility for . . . participation in the community was rated well by 66%. Participation in cooperative ventures with other institutions received positive ratings from 47%, while 23% judged the fulfillment of this goal as "fair" or "poor".

Concept of One College

Responses in the area of the "one college" concept show a consensus that the college should continue to seek some common identity among its divisions, but considerable uncertainty as to the means of accomplishing this unity. There is, however, a strong agreement that common goals and values should be maintained. Two thirds of those answering approved common alumni publications.

Coralie Seidler McGuire '63

Seven years ago, Coralie Seidler McGuire '63, could not find an interesting and good paying job in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she lives with her physicist husband and three children, so she created her own job as a Conference Consultant. She is President and Treasurer of Exposition Management, Inc. and does all the work of managing conferences, business meetings, conventions and trade shows. The Company's primary purpose is to attract qualified exhibitors to display their products and services and to get together qualified and interested audiences. This includes renting the convention center and taking care of publicity, printing, and special mailings. Coralie's interest in Conference Management began when she visited scientific conferences with her husband, Dr. Eugene McGuire, and noticed that often the meetings were poorly planned.

After graduating from St. Joseph's with a degree in History and Social Science, Coralie's first job was teaching. The principal of her school urged her to take graduate work in Chinese History at Cornell, and she did. The greatest thing she got out of this, besides half a degree in Chinese History was a devotion to Chinese cuisine. "Mine's the best," she says and she finds that cooking is a good way to let off frustrations and hostilities. Because of her love for cooking, she had thought of opening a restaurant.

Coralie has always felt the need to succeed and to be self supporting - to be completely independent. Today, she not only is successful, but has the luxury of working at home. Her two older children, Andrew, fifteen, and Rachel, eleven, are Secretary and Vice-President of the company. They also function as her office staff, answering phones, licking stamps and running errands. When papers of incorporation were set up, the attorney advised both children to take their roles seriously and to really work. Their salaries are being banked for them until they reach eighteen. Coralie spends most of her mornings on the phone, goes out to appointments in the early afternoons, and does the clerical work in the evenings while her children do their homework. Because she wanted to be on her own, her husband is not involved in the Corporation, although when she started out, she borrowed $250 from him. She promptly repaid him and for this credits her mother who taught her to "pay your bills as fast as you can."

It was her mother, too, who instilled in her the desire for financial independence and Coralie wants to do the same for her children, particularly her daughter. She feels that women must work together, not only to make society better, but to acquaint each other with some of the techniques which have been so useful for men in business. She'd like to see women making deals in their own version of the locker room.

One of the drawbacks of running her own business is that Coralie sometimes finds herself working sixty hours a week, but the results make it worthwhile. Last year was the most exciting of her professional life, but it was also very painful. It meant a tremendous change. She has become more mellow; petty things which often incensed her don't bother her any more, but it took a year to reach that control. Coralie makes no secret that she is 40 this year. A few years ago she had a bout with facial cancer, but she did not allow this to interfere with her business and today, she is a highly attractive independent business woman who declares that she has never felt so stimulated in all her life.

Arts and Sciences Supplement

Arts and Sciences alumni received a set of supplementary questions which called for rating of their SJC preparation in nine areas: critical thinking; technical skills in one's discipline; oral communication; written communications skills; working independently, appreciation of art, literature and music; understanding and applying mathematical and scientific principles; understanding of history and of the social and behavioral sciences; research skills and use of the library. Between 75 and 85 per cent of the replies rated the college as "superior" or "good" in eight of the nine categories. The weak area was that of the mathematical and scientific disciplines, for which 53% gave favorable responses.

Of those who attended graduate school, 85% considered their SJC education "superior" or "good" compared with that of other graduate students. Of those who have been employed comparing themselves with their peers in their professions of occupations, 92% have positive ratings, 57% being in the "superior" category.

The results of the studies are being carefully analyzed by the college administration with a view to overcoming weaknesses and building on the strengths revealed. The evidence is that the college, which has made many changes since 1970, still maintains its traditions, nurturing women and men capable of leading full and useful lives.

Two Faculty Members Retire

Rev. John Hession

Reverend John C. Hession joined the faculty September, 1944, as a member of the Philosophy Department. Although the faculty folder does not indicate his course assignment during the earlier years, I believe Father taught a course in Latin/Greek. This is not surprising since he graduated from Manhattan College summa cum laude with majors in Philosophy, Latin and Greek. Since a relative of mine graduated on the same day, I vividly recall one handsome young man, all unknown to me, who dashed back and forth to the podium receiving individual gold medals in Classical Languages, Philosophy, and Religion, as well as the Gold Medal for Excellence in all four years at Manhattan. He was in truth the "summa" of his class.

Father joined the faculty of St. Joseph's about the same time as Father D'Ecclesiis, Father Jerry Minogue and Father Gerard Murray. Together they created a vital intellectual and pedagogical environment on the St. Joseph campus and more than one gray hair to our then President and Professor of Philosophy Father William T. Dillon. Several of us in this room today, remember with more than a little nostalgia those halcyon days—the days of Joe Zilch, the Everyman of Father's philosophy lectures. I can recall seeing Father Hession carrying an ancient edition of St. Thomas' Summa to class. The glosses (in Latin) were so remarkable he was sure the students would enjoy the subtle distinctions!

Lest I leave Father's academic history unfinished—he studied under Kristeller at Columbia, from which he received his M.A. Years later I heard Kristeller quoted as remembering with great fondness—a brilliant young priest from Brooklyn. Father Hession also studied at Laval University—but let us concentrate only on his activities at St. Joseph's College.

He served as Chairman of the Evaluation committee for the 1962 Middle States Evaluation and chaired numerous faculty committees, the most recent of which was the Committee on Rank, Tenure and Faculty Interests. For many years Father Hession served as chairman of the Philosophy Department. He was moderator of the Mercier Circle, as our Philosophy Club was then called.

Father Hession was and remains one of the pilgrims to Patchogue and, before that, to Brentwood, where his love for Scholasticism and the Church has endeared him to a generation of students. The Suffolk contingent joins a long line of Brooklyn students whose minds were sharpened and whose appreciation of beauty was developed by their contact with this remarkable man.

While we feel a certain sense of loss today, we know that Father is continuing his ministry of teaching and service

S. Joseph Immaculate Schwartz

Sister Joseph Immaculate Schwartz' application for appointment to the faculty of St. Joseph's College, is deceptively simple. The degrees and dates: BA 1938 St. Joseph's College; MA 1939 Columbia University; PhD 1943 Yale University, almost conceal the remarkable achievement of completing graduate work in five years at two universities famed for their English Departments.

She returned to St. Joseph's filled with enthusiasm for her field, to an active career as Professor of English and for more than 25 years, Chairman of the Department.

During these years, she has been very much involved in such professional societies as the Modern Language Association, College English Association, National Council of Teachers of English, Catholic Renaissance Society, Conference on the Humanities; and has served as officer and member of the Board of Directors of several of them. Sr. Joseph constantly updated her own preparation in the field, partly through post-graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Michigan; more systematically through her constant reading and alertness both to trends and to underlying verities. But her real contribution has been, in Gerard Manley Hopkins' phrasing, in the "inscape" or "in-forming" of the English Department. Her own love of literature, her communication of its beauty, her sensitivity to language and expression, virtually formed a "mystique" which she shared with students and which made an indelible impression on generations of English majors.

It is no accident that John Milton is one of her favorite poets and that she has made Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained benchmarks of English literature for every student whom she has taught; the grandeur of vision, the magnificence of scale, the beauty of language, but most of all the awe and reverence for the wonder of man, the struggle inherent in humanity, and the possibilities always opening before us through the providence and mercy of God. These qualities, so well communicated, in turn give us just a glimpse of the values which she treasures. In synthesis of religion and literature she has found a teacher's lifetime of happiness. With Milton, she has convinced her students that "The world was all before them . . . and providence their guide."

Clare Trautfield Conk '43

NO ORDINARY LAWYER

Clare Trautfield Conk took the California Bar Exam in July 1981 and in November she received notice that she had passed. This would not be exceptional but for the fact that Clare's formal training was one year in a local law school. The rest was three years of self study—in her car, at the beach, or under the shade tree at the Community Golf Course. She continued all the while, the part-time volunteer paralegal work which she had been doing for some years, in a poverty law office. Also during that time, Clare had by-pass heart surgery which meant six months away from the books.

Clare was sworn in on December 26th, and her children who had come home for Christmas, shared the happy event. George, the oldest, is in private practice as an attorney in New Jersey. He is founder and co-chairman of Public Interest Lawyers of New Jersey. Nancy, who lives in Manhattan is a field producer for CBS news. Peter is in the Catholic Worker movement in San Jose, is married and has a three-year-old son. Kathryn, a nurse, is married, lives in Santa Barbara, and has a year-old daughter. Steven, an Accounts Receivable Manager for a software company in San Jose, is working on a second BA, hoping to start an MBA in the fall.

It was in July of 1972 that Clare and George moved the family and their stationery manufacturing business from Litchfield, Connecticut to Santa Barbara. And it was in 1979 that George sold the business and retired. Clare and George now found time to travel. That year they exchanged their home for one outside London for a month. Another couple was with them and they toured much of England. In 1980, they exchanged homes again, this time for a place on the Costa del Sol in Spain, for a month. They had a chance to live in the community, to get to know the people and to live the way they do.

Tiring of so much leisure, George did consultant work in business and marketing matters for small companies. This year he started out as sales representative for a new type-writing company, and covers Arizona, New Mexico and part of Texas. He is a Lector, Eucharistic Minister and Parish Treasurer, as well as City Recreation Commissioner.

Clare plans to use her talents and energy with the poor and oppressed, although she has taken a few private cases. She is one of three attorneys working on the defense of the Block-aders at Diablo Canyon Nuclear Power Plant and wrote a brief on a motion to have the jury hear evidence on the Defense of Necessity. Hearings on the motion started May 24th and she hoped to have national press coverage. Clare is also a Eucharistic Minister and still chairs the Parish Secular Concerns Committee. She is on the Board of the Legal Defense Center, a non-profit law office concentrating on landlord-tenant matters, discrimination etc. "George doesn't mind my not earning any money," says Clare, "He just wishes my practice didn't cost us so much!"

Clare reports the good news that her cardiologist was delighted with her recent two-year post-bypass checkup. This June, Clare and George will be coming to the Big Apple to celebrate his 40th anniversary of graduation from Fordham, and they will spend most of the month with family and friends in the New York area.

AIMS OF ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

St. Joseph's College, as an independent, liberal arts, coeducational college, seeks to create a free atmosphere in which students and faculty together can investigate the major areas of human knowledge as the bases for a more effective participation in the contemporary world.

The College attempts to realize this general philosophy by attaining a number of specific objectives. Among these are the following:

- to affirm the dignity, freedom, and ultimate value of the human person.

- to provide an atmosphere for open dialogue, individual attention, innovative teaching, and creative experimentation.

- to inspire in students a spirit of inquiry and the joy of learning as an on-going part of their lives.

- to prepare students for their life work by providing the necessary professional and preprofessional training.

- to provide effective academic programs to adults with diversified professional or educational backgrounds.

- to educate students to an awareness of personal responsibility for an intelligent and critical participation in the local and world-wide community.

- to utilize institutional resources effectively through cooperative ventures with other institutions of higher learning in the metropolitan and regional areas.

AWARD TO SISTER CLOTILDE

S. Marie Clotilde Falvey

The college family, the Congregation of St. Joseph's and her numerous friends rejoiced to hear that Sr. Marie Clotilde Falvey would receive the UBI CARITAS award on April 30th at the Bishop's Annual Charity Dinner. No one could deserve it more.

Sr. Marie Clotilde entered the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph in 1926, after having taught in the New York City public schools. In 1933, she received her BA from St. Joseph's College and in 1937, her M.A. from Columbia University. After serving as lab assistant Sister was appointed to the faculty of the college as a member of the Chemistry Department of which she subsequently became chairman.

During her many years of service to the College, Sr. Clotilde has been active on numerous committees, participated in numerous summer programs, workshops and independent field studies. A member of several professional chemical societies, she received citations from the American Chemical Society for her work in formulating published portions of the ASC Exam in Physical Chemistry, and for abstracting and translating many articles in English and German for Chemical Abstracts.

Besides this outstanding academic commitment, Sr. Clotilde's energy and generosity enabled her to be involved in local and diocesan groups that were very dear to her heart. It is impossible to estimate the number of individuals and families she served. Sister has actively participated in Clergy Concerned for a Better Fort Greene, the Pastoral Planning Project, the Dr. White Community Center, and the diocesan program for Voter Registration, among others.

Topping her list of interests would surely be the Jeanne Valois Guild for the Handicapped. An active member since its inception in March 1951 at St. Joseph's College, Sister Clotilde served the members faithfully and generously, even to the present day at monthly meetings, as aide during retreats and summer tours, as Editor of the Guild's Newsletter and as a stalwart supporter of Catholic Charities' Office for the Handicapped.

On Federal Aid to Students

Many alumni and students are being effected by cuts in Federal aid for students in this Administration's budget. We reproduce a letter, to President Reagan from the Third Supervisory District of the Board of Cooperative Education Services (BOCES) which might give you some thoughts should you wish to add your letter to the many being sent to him.

Dear President Reagan:

On behalf of this Board of Cooperative Educational Services I must convey to you our profound disappointment with the cuts contained within the administration's budget for Federal aid to students. This board shares in the broad public sentiment which calls for reduced Federal governmental expenditures. We do not advocate that programs which benefit other fields should be trimmed while education is left alone. It is our recommendation that cuts in Federal spending for education be realistic, be on a time table which is manageable, and be in the broad public interest. We find that the cuts in the Federal student aid program are unrealistic, are not on a manageable timetable, and are not in the broad public interest. Furthermore, we find that the additional proposed cuts in this program for fiscal year 1983-84 are indeed disastrous.

This Board is of the opinion that modifications in the Federal student aid program were needed. However, the eligibility requirements found in the administration's guaranteed student's loan program are too stringent. The phasing out of the benefits under the social security system is too rapid; the cuts in the Pell grants are too severe. If a stronger independent sector is to be built, then the changes, for which the independent sector was not prepared, should have come about much more slowly. If cuts were to be made in the student aid programs, they should not have been so severe, primarily because education, a labor intensive handicraft industry, is a field in which the legitimate costs are rising more rapidly than are costs in general.

The elementary, secondary, and higher educational institutions of this country have been striving to incorporate many more diverse sectors of the population into our schools. We have been striving to reduce stratification by institution. We have been striving to have students attend the college of their choice. We have been striving to have students admitted to institutions of higher education on the basis of merit. This Board finds that the administration's budget will significantly reduce the probability of having this Nation achieve these goals. Therefore, we find that the administration's Federal student aid program is counter-productive, excessive in the size of its cuts, and on a timetable which is unmanageable.

This Board, therefore, urges you to have the administration's Federal student aid program redesigned so that it is on a workable timetable, less severe, manageable and consistent with our national goals. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Elizabeth Ann VanBourgonien

APPOINTED PRINCIPAL OF JAMAICA HIGH SCHOOL

Innovative, attractive, vivacious, compassionate, go-getter are some descriptive words one might use to adequately refer to the newly appointed principal of Jamaica High School. Who might this wonder woman be? None other than Eileen Guerra Petruzillo, Class of '53!

It didn't take Eileen long after graduation to enter the secondary level of education, for in November 1953, she started her career as a Math teacher in William Cullen Bryant High School, Long Island City. She received her regular appointment there in 1956 and also completed her Master's degree at Brooklyn College that same year. '56 seems to be her year, because she married Michael Petruzillo in July. Michael continued in dental school and Eileen made her place at Bryant by gradually becoming a grade advisor, Chairman of Grade Advisors and in 1971 Assistant Principal of Guidance. Her family grew also as she became the mother of Michael, Jr. now 24, a St. John's grad and currently employed with Merrill-Lynch; and Eileen, 17, a June graduate of Manhasset High School who will matriculate at Fairfield University at Boston.

Eileen thoroughly enjoyed her tenure at Bryant and her stay was interrupted when in February 1980 she became the Executive Assistant of Superintendent of Queens High Schools, Aaron Maloff. Her responsibility was to create remediation programs in English and Mathematics. Her innovativeness was demonstrated when a Competency Fair was held in June '80 as a first. She became responsible for security in the Borough of Queens (High School level), curriculum, budget for the Queens Office and liaison for her "boss" to the Assistant Principals-Administration. In effect, she was a "trouble shooter." Because of the lack of appropriate material, she added authorship to her accomplishments and helped produce "Fundamentals of Mathematics"—a text.

She returned to Bryant once again in September '81, this time as Acting Interim Principal. The school had some problems to be solved and Eileen worked on the principle of "raising the self esteem" of the students. She wanted to change the attitude of the students so that they would regard coming to school as a privilege. She opened school athletics to spectators and reintroduced the school play. She encouraged the development of a foreign language enrichment program because of the existence of at least 20 different ethnic groups represented in the student body. Included in her program was the total effort of the faculty working together. However, change was in the forecast once again. On March 22, 1982 Eileen was appointed the first woman principal of Jamaica High School. Coming to Jamaica presented a challenge to her, and also a void because of her attachment to Bryant. Here she was faced with a superior academic school. She has already made provision for the introduction of a Math-Science Computer Research Institute this summer as part of the the summer school program.

This will help to advise students of their talents and desires. It will be opened to Sophomores and Juniors, city-wide, for three hours daily for work in computer labs. By February 1983 she will have completed the modernization of her science labs and shop areas and will have in operation three micro computer labs. She foresees computerizing the school records to make for better communication with the community. She hopes to encourage parochial students to attend because of the strong academic base the school offers.

To do all that she has accomplished, she readily admits that she has sacrificed her leisure. During vacation periods she and her family travel and she actively participates in bridge and tennis. She and her daughter play in competition. Her daughter is first player on the singles team at school and Eileen is very proud. She is an exciting person who, as a plaque awarded to her stated, "she shared, she cared, and she dared to do".

A Couple Apostolate

Our apostolate started for us in 1973. I was finishing my senior year at St. Joseph's and Frank and I planned to be married in October. I had my student loan to pay off and Frank and I wanted to "grow" into our married lives together—we didn't want to start to raise a family immediately. The theology courses with Fr. Ferris, my talks with Fr. Cantley, and the example and teachings of my parents led me to look for a Catholic way for me and Frank to plan our family.

We sought help from doctors and clergy and discovered that rhythm works only if a woman has regular cycles. This did not apply to me. After almost a year of searching, we finally found a simple three page pamphlet on Natural Family Planning and about sessions being given by couples who were using the method and who volunteered their time to teach other couples. We made the long drive out to Long Island, to a lecture hall. There, with twelve other couples we began the first of two sessions, three hours long, with Carman and Jean Fallace. They taught us how to use natural signs of fertility to plan or postpone conception. This was the answer to our prayers and during the months that followed, we thought of the many couples who had never heard of the plan or that it was available. We entered the teacher-training program in 1974 and started to teach with other more experienced couples out on Long Island. In 1978, we started teaching in two centers, one in Brooklyn—St. Edmund's Parish and the other in Queens—St. John's Hospital. Today, the New York Archdiocese, the Brooklyn Diocese and the Rockville Center diocese have Natural Family Planning sessions available to couples wanting to learn about it. There are about fifty teaching couples trained to teach the method and they are all volunteers wanting to share what they have learned.

Frank and I have found that this fertility awareness has helped us to learn about each other and share new things between us. I learned to be aware of and cope with moodiness due to hormonal changes and also that irregularity was normal for me. We know that our children will never be exposed to possible side effects of artificial birth control methods, that we can plan our family with "God as the author of life as it is and comes to be" (Humanae Vitae). It is marvelous that God has given each woman this special time of fertility and so to co-create with Him. We have accepted God's plan, our natural fertility and infertility, and are happy.

Natural Family Planning is as reliable as the pill and sterilization, and more reliable than most of the other methods that are available as alternatives. We have used the method to postpone, and then to plan and then to postpone and then to plan again. Frankie is five years old, and John Paul is one and a half. When we go out to teach on Friday nights, Frankie often asks us "Are you going to talk about Natural Family Planning. Are you going to tell them God's way to have a family?" We know that this is what Pope Paul VI meant when he spoke about "... a remarkable kind of apostolate... by which equals place themselves in the service of equals."

The Husband's View:

When we were planning our wedding and starting to think about children, I remember thinking that it was Linda's job to handle the spacing of the children. I would tell her when I wanted the children and she would take care of it in whatever way she thought best. I wasn't naive. I didn't expect that because I said I wanted a boy at a given time, she would necessarily have a boy. When we first attended the sessions for Natural Family Planning (she made me come), it suddenly dawned on me that planning our family was a joint responsibility.

We have been involved with Natural Family Planning for eight years, volunteering our time to teach other couples and growing together as a couple. When Humanae Vitae was first published, I remember thinking how ridiculous it was that married couples were supposed to use natural methods to plan their families. Everyone knew that rhythm didn't work, and too, who wants to abstain? When we first attended the sessions and learned that Natural Family Planning is not rhythm, I started to listen. I learned that the man is always fertile and the woman is fertile only when she ovulates and there are reliable signs that she can see. I also learned that abstinence is not as bad or as hard as I thought it would be. Linda and I have found that when we are postponing conception and abstaining during the fertile part of the cycle, we are much more aware of each other and more attentive to each others feelings and needs. I think this abstinence helped us to get through some of the hard times because it helped us to sacrifice for each other out of love for each other. Natural Family Planning has become more than a method of planning a family for us. It has become a way for us to show our love for each other.

Linda and Frank are certified teachers of Natural Family Planning and the Chaircouple of the Board of Directors for Family Life Promotion of New York. For more information write or phone Family Life Promotion of New York: P.O. Box 489, Smithtown, N.Y. 11787 (516-929-6044) or P.O. Box 619, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11215 (212-499-7209).

Teaches Prison Inmates

Jean Rafenski Reynolds '67

Since 1979 I've been teaching basic education skills to inmates in a Florida prison. My students are men who have been convicted of murder, rape, burglary, forgery, and similar crimes. Our present enrollment is close to 150, not including inmates enrolled in vocational and college classes. Last year thirty-six inmates earned diplomas by passing a standardized high-school equivalency examination.

When I started out as the first teacher here, we had only twenty-five students. For most of that first year I taught alone in a makeshift classroom in the prison's visiting room. We had tables and chairs, two portable chalkboards, and some used textbooks that had been discarded by the local school district. Since then our staff has grown to six teachers, and we now have a modern school building (constructed with inmate labor).

Although some of our students have excellent academic backgrounds, for others even the alphabet is a mystery. All of our students are volunteers, and most are grateful for the help we give them. I especially enjoy teaching English to a group of Hispanic inmates. (Incidentally, our prison is one of the first in Florida to have special classes for inmates who don't speak English.)

People often ask me about prison security. Am I searched when I come into the compound every morning? Is a guard posted in our school building? Do I carry a gun? The answer to all three questions is no. There were a few routine friskings the first year I worked here, but that procedure has changed. We handle most discipline problems without involving the security personnel, and no one on the compound is armed. But I was taught how to fire a .38 Smith Weston revolver and a Remington shotgun in my orientation course, and I also studied types of tear gas and riot-control procedures. (Incidentally, I outshot some of the men in my class—and my friend Gaye and I, the only women in our group, scored the top grades in our written final examination!)

Besides teaching my regular classes, I've given training in transactional analysis and communication skills to both officers and inmates here. In January I conducted training workshops for teachers in two other Florida prisons.

Our classes are probably very much like adult education classes anywhere. We show educational films frequently and occasionally have outside speakers come in. Holidays are celebrated with candy and cupcakes. My favorite technique for livening things up is to find an excuse to wear a costume to work. So far I've been a gypsy, an Indian princess, and an angel for Halloween. At Christmas I wear a Mrs. Santa Claus outfit that I made from a red flannel nightgown. One year I celebrated Scott Joplin's birthday by dressing up like a ragtime pianist and giving a piano recital. I suspect that our moments of unbending keep morale up and help the inmates remember that we're all human.

Everyone on our staff believes that education is vital for inmates who want to succeed after they leave here, and we all wish that more inmates would volunteer for school. Occasionally we hear from paroled students who want to let us know how much their schooling has meant to them. Of course some inmates are too immature to apply themselves and benefit from our program—but that's a problem that teachers everywhere have to face from time to time.

It's hard to describe how rewarding it is to teach here. Our inmates come to class with a long string of failures behind them. Many of them have never had a positive school experience—and we watch them learn and grow right before our eyes. One inmate started out in my elementary class, earned his equivalency diploma, and then enrolled in a college course I taught at the prison. Very few teachers have had the opportunity to see the fruits of their labors that way! Although there are always frustrations, it's gratifying to know that we're helping both our students and society by educating our inmate volunteers.

Charlie and I have been living in Florida since 1974, having been attracted by the climate. For the first four years we lived in a mobile home near a lake and this experience changed us for life. The assortment of wild animals that can be seen here is amazing - alligators, otters, raccoons, armadillos and birds, like anhingas, herons, and ospreys. We occasionally spot an eagle and enjoy temporary migrations of pelicans and wood storks. We've become avid nature photographers and have joined the Sierra Club.

Before we moved to Florida, I taught English at Taylor Business Institute in Manhattan. After we moved here I was hired to teach English to Vietnamese refugees and eventually I had students from Cuba, Hungary, the Dominican Republic, Germany and Iran and many other places. Central Florida is much more cosmopolitan than I had expected! I arranged newspaper publicity, recruited American volunteers from service clubs to help us, and trained aides to work with me. Since some of my students couldn't afford baby-sitters, we kept toys in the classroom for their children to play with. I thoroughly enjoyed that teaching experience.

Another job I really enjoyed was working as a vet's assistant. Charlie and I are deeply interested in humane work, and we eventually turned our porch into an informal animal shelter. Over several years we have gave away over fifty dogs, cats, puppies and kittens. I spent so much time at the vet's office that he finally offered me a job! We ended up keeping some of the animals that came to us as strays—our permanent menagerie is ten cats and a dog.

Charlie works as a meat processor for a local sausage company. His usual work schedule is Monday through Thursday, so we take three-day weekend camping trips whenever we can. His great interests are tropical fish, landscape gardening and freshwater fishing. A few months ago, he enrolled in a horticulture program, part-time, at a local community college. We both enjoy writing. He's sold articles to several tropical-fish and outdoor magazines. I've been published in the Anglo-Welsh Review (a research article about a Welsh-born essayist, James Howell) and Lady's Circle Magazine (a humorous article about dieting).

Josephine O'Connell Corrigan

A close friend, Margaret Newhauser, phoned about the death of Josephine O'Connell Corrigan '38, on June 6th, 1981. Though Jo had no living relatives, she had many friends. Early this year we received from one of her Woodrow Wilson associates, this tribute to Jo which was written by her former chairman, Jack Raphael and who, with all her associates at Woodrow Wilson, loved and admired her.

The untimely passing of Jo Corrigan brings back some poignant memories. I clearly recall the day when Jo, a green substitute teacher of Economics, reported for service at the "95" annex of Woodrow Wilson. As the teacher next door, I undertook to orient the new licensee. After explaining the mysteries of the rollbook and some other similarly fascinating details of pedagogic life, I tried to alert Jo, as subtly as I could, to the fact that some of our boys were not particularly noted either for cultured language or gentlemanly conduct. They might give a new substitute the "works". Jo interrupted me with a broad grin and the memorable comment: "Don't you worry about me, Mr. Raphael. I'll tame them!" And she did! With charm, toughness, grace, alertness, patience, intelligence, humor, intensive preparation for each day's work, and some choice language of her own. "Don't fool around with Wrong-Way Corrigan!" became a password at "95".

And I recall, too, the day when Joe was utterly crushed by the news that her beloved husband had fallen on the beachhead at Anzio. Her face bathed in tears, Jo resolutely refused all offers of help, and rushed home, driving her own car.

To Jo teaching was not a job but a sacred mission. School was serious business and she felt committed to the goals and ideals she had absorbed as an undergraduate of St. Joseph's College. She was a no-nonsense teacher. She sought to maximize every day as a learning opportunity. She held herself and her students to high standards. She drove and coaxed and motivated and guided them not only in matters of knowledge but even more in matters of values, ideals, emotions, and relationships. She was sometimes stern but she always loved her boys and girls and they respected and loved her. Not surprisingly, one year the senior class, by secret ballot, chose Jo Corrigan and another teacher as the faculty member to whom they would dedicate their Senior Year Book, Columns. It was a tie vote. Jo had two of the senior officers in her class and she persuaded them to have the executive committee of the class choose the other teacher who was considerably older and nearing retirement.

Jo left Wilson for graduate study and gained her doctorate at New York University in 1966. She taught Economics at St. John's University and advanced to the rank of Professor.

In the Christmas cards which she sent me each year, Jo would insert a sentence or two about her college teaching but she never lost the zeal and warmth and the devotion to Wilson which she had always treasured as her professional home.

As the end neared, Jo could well repeat, with pride and with humility, the message from Scripture:

"I have fought the good fight.

I have finished the course.

I have kept the faith."

May the Great Teacher deal gently with the sweet, kindly soul of Josephine Corrigan.

I'm a charter member of a Dollhouse Club here—love miniatures and have been involved in some wonderful projects. At my prodding, the Jaycee Chapter at the prison has become involved with dollhouses. Two years ago the inmates built and furnished sixteen dollhouses to give away in a Toys for Tots project. We also gave a party (and a dollhouse!) for a girl in foster care. This year the Jaycees and my Dollhouse Club are building dollhouses that will be donated to a social-service agency and a Ronald McDonald House. Of course I'm working on a dollhouse for myself, too. Mine has electric lights, and the bedroom wallpaper is a replica of paper from Theodore Roosevelt's Sagamore Hill—scaled down, I should add. My animal and dollhouse enthusiasms have helped me find some great friends here, and for that alone, I am very grateful.

I just learned that my paper "Incarcerated Students—Change and Conflict" has been accepted for publication by the Correctional Education Association. In July, I'll be going to Baltimore to present the paper at their International Conference of Correctional Education.

QUEENS CHAPTER

Queens Chapter's last meeting was held on May 19th with a talk on You and the Investment World by Mr. John Murphy of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. followed by a question and answer session. From the attendance, this topic is a strong drawing attraction. A new chairman, Pat Finn McDonnell '54, was elected chairman. Ellen O'Toole Heckman '38 and Catherine Butler Muzzio '48 will continue as Secretary and Treasurer. The Queens Chapter annual luncheon was held on February 6th at Triangle Four Brothers Restaurant in Richmond Hill.

One Woman Business

Florence Bockus Datig '51

Greenlawn is a peaceful, sedate town with a feeling of the Thirties. No one is in a hurry and an assortment of people amble past the town's stores along Broadway. It is at 38 Broadway that Florence Bockus Datig '51 opened up her Picture Frame Shop—a one-woman business. She also sells paintings and other works of art. Recently, she made a buying trip to Florence, Milan and Rome to purchase more tapestries for herself, other art dealers and galleries.

When she left St. Joseph's College, Florence Bockus took a job with Sperry, in their Engineering Department. The job was short-lived and she started working in real estate. Soon after she received her Real Estate broker's license (as well as an insurance broker's). Florence opened her own office in Jamaica. Changing fields again, Florence's life-time interest and love of art led her to open an art gallery in East Northport. She had two floors and conducted art shows as well. Of necessity, she became active in the framing of art works and over the years became adept and discriminating. With more and more customers asking for this service, Florence opened the Greenlawn shop in 1978 and has prospered.

Of greater importance and pride than her own venture, is the achievement of her son, Billy, who graduated in May with highest honors from Pratt, as a Mechanical Engineer. Billy left last week for a fine job with International Paper, in Alabama.

Available for Purchase:

Durable tote bag: White, washable canvas with waterproof lining, brown trim and college seal in brown on both sides. 12" X 12" X 4". $7.00 plus $1.36 postage.

MERRY ENGLAND

London Tower

Once again, an alumni tour group faced a crisis at the last minute. The Laker flight to England was cancelled due to bankruptcy! But as our poet-laureate of the trip, Marie O'Connor '31, quipped:

What matter if Laker has our fare,
 To Pan Am, we shall repair.

Pan Am not only took up our flight plans, but provided us with a special VIP waiting room at Kennedy Airport. This bit of luck was the result of the prompt and frantic efforts (to understate) of Sr. Joseph Damien and Sr. Margaret Jennings, our tour guides. But it augured the phenomenally good weather, the high spirits and smooth functioning of our entire trip.

Cherwell Center, in Oxford, was our base for five days, and the Sisters there provided warm hospitality, spotless accommodations and all meals, including box lunches for the daily safaries to the four points of the compass. We celebrated Mass on Easter morn in Blackfriars, where flowers and colored candles and the baroque orchestration and choir proclaimed the joy of the day. At breakfast our thoughts flew home when we saw that each of us had our own Easter basket full of chocolate eggs!

Among the many sights seen were Churchill's home—Chartwell, Blenheim Castle, Compton Wynates, the picturesque Cotswolds and town of Burford where we stopped for elevenses and a shopping spree. We toured the Oxford Universities, visited Gloucester Cathedral and—unbelievable until you're actually there

Stones will never seem the same
 After viewing those of Stone Henge fame.

On Thursday, with much picture-taking and farewells our leave-taking of Cherwell launched us on to London and a bus tour of the city before debarkation at the Grosvenor Hotel. For the rest of our stay in London, we were on our own, but soon found out that

Our limbs we place in jeopardy
 When we challenge the London traffic sea
 We should look right instead of left
 Or of our lives, we'll be bereft.
 When we look left, we should look right
 And concentrate with all our might.

Scattering, each to his own pursuit, some to St. Paul's, to tea at Harrod's, to London Tower, others to the Tate, the National Gallery, a sail down the Thames—all found that Sunday came too soon. Our delayed return flight (wheel trouble) gave us time to realize

How glad we are
 To have these memories
 Of British culture
 Through the centuries.

New Year's Eve IN MOTHER RUSSIA

CLASS NOTES

1924

As you see below, Mildred Hayes Donohue is our class agent. Notes and bits of information can be sent to her. Rita Fearon Bryan has moved to North Palm Beach. We were delighted to have Angela Donaldson with us at our last reunion. Christine Gibson Dougherty has been visiting with her daughter in northern New York State. Alice McGrane Feeley volunteers as librarian at St. Francis Xavier School. Theresa Dolan Janton is now a Eucharistic Minister. Regina Munz Meyer and her three daughters recently toured Germany and Austria. Mary St. John Murphy received an award for her fifteen years of teaching in CCD. This past year, our class has had three luncheon reunions.

We were saddened by the death of Loretta Colborne an outstanding leader in her Long Beach parish, St. Ignatius Martyr, and a loved and respected school principal. We extend sympathy to her family. Irene Lent wishes to extend heartfelt thanks to classmates and friends who expressed sympathy when her beloved sister, Edith, died in December. Irene attended the wedding of Rita Bopp ('33) Mahoney's Patricia in May and met Bertram and Margaret Roche Moore '25 there. Mary Mirabella visited her friend, Sylvia, in Downingtown, Pennsylvania for a family reunion. They spent a week with Sylvia's talented niece in Abbingdon. In spite of the rugged winter, Mary attended the opera and theater frequently. Agnes McShane Madden visited daughters Mary and Agnes in Albany at Easter. John enjoys retirement and is active in the St. James parish, as a lector. Sister Dolores Maria (Margaret Kelly) sends love to all and keeps you in her prayers always. Joe and Kay Kilgallen Rooney enjoy watching the sun rise over the Atlantic in Sea Girt. Eileen Murray Heaney is recovering from surgery and looks forward to a good summer. Granddaughter, Eileen, will enter college in September and Carolyn is captain of her track team and a candy striper at Nassau Hospital. Megan is president of her class and Kate is on the soccer team. Mary Greene enjoys many of the events at the Community Club in Garden City. Bernadette Garvey had a happy, active winter in Boca Raton where Margaret Crowley visited her for a month. They will be going to Italy in June. Bernadette entertained Gertrude Dilworth Rossworn '25, Marie O'Shea '28 and Mary Mirabella's sister-in-law, Irene Mirabella, and others, at lunch. At Christmas, when Bernadette came up from Florida, Margaret Crowley had a luncheon in Floral Park. Also present were Helen Stewart Jameson, Barbara Eckels Catogglo, Genevieve D'Albora Phillips, Mary Greene and Edna Crowley. Had a pleasant note from Doris Leavy who has not been well. Keep her in your prayers, as well as Anna Schneider Kager who is in the Druid Hills Nursing Home. Helen Straub Hillman, who is in touch with Helen Stewart Jameson, was unable to attend the alumni luncheon because she works at Camp Hilltop, but she sent her love. Those who attended the luncheon are Agnes McShane Madden, Marita Rockefeller Ryan, Bernadette Garvey, Margaret Crowley, Helen Stewart Jameson and Mary Greene. Various consulting Engineering meetings took Hal and Merita Rockefeller Ryan to Chicago, Cincinnati and Houston. On these trips they found time to visit daughter Barbara and her four in Colorado, and Roberts and her five in Michigan. Other short trips are made to see son, Philip and his five in Port Washington, Patricia and her three boys in Trenton and her sister Elva Rockefeller Ryan '27 in Lakehurst, NJ. They are often down in East Islip to celebrate the various milestones of the seven children of Merita Ryan Mulholland '55. On a recent trip to Denver, Hal and Marita had lunch with Josy Schrelen Eyre '54 who asked to be remembered to classmates and to Mary Camper McGinnis '25, one of her teachers at New Dorp. Last June the Ryans attended Alumni Day in Cambridge on the occasion of Hal's 55th M.I.T. class reunion.

55 years! Margaret Dunderman, Dorothy Rowland, Teresa Manning, Anne Schrage and yours truly were present to celebrate at Mass and luncheon—the 55th Anniversary of our entry into the real world. Only five of us could be there but we heard from Mary Mulcahey, Mary Schilfe and Elva Ryan. They all sent messages describing very active and rewarding lives. Elva and Jim spent Easter with daughter, Marilyn and son, Jim. They will see the rest of their families in California in June. They also attended a reunion of the Ryan brothers at Marita's. Elva is a member of the local Cancer Society, Deborah, and Caritas. She adds "life is never dull for us." Anne Schrage was in the throes of domestic transition, but got to the Luncheon in time to celebrate with us. Teresa Manning made lovely mementos for us, little blue crosses with medals of St. Joseph the Worker, lovely and thoughtful and a perfect complement for a beautiful day. Please send more news items. Remember, the things you are doing make interesting reading for us. May God bless you.

Good news has come from California. Evelyn Dotzler Felber, whose husband was seriously ill last winter, reports full recovery. Now they are able to enjoy their new great-grandson, Thomas Joseph Veling. In December they expect the arrival of another great-grandchild, a Felber. Mary Manning Doherty's sister, Margaret Manning '41, visited her in January and helped Mary who was recovering from hip surgery. Dorothy Thompson Purcell is well and happy in her new home in Juno Beach, Florida. Merge Hertel Cassidy's daughter, Norinne, and family vacationed on a houseboat in Shuswap Lake, British Columbia. Marge's oldest grandson, Danny, a graduate of British Columbia Institute of Technology, is associated with the Alberta Energy and Resources Board. Jeannette Farrell Amery and Ted gathered the Brooklyn members of the family together when her son, Sean, came on a visit from his home in Coral Gables, Florida. Helen Callahan Brink's grandson, John, will be a Junior at Franklin and Marshall College in the Fall. His sister Carolyn will start College at Hamilton, N.Y. Nine year old Suzanne keeps her parents busy at home. Agnes Kelly Bryan and John left their native Brooklyn and are now involved in suburban life in Matawan, N.J. Mary Keller Lawler celebrated Christmas at the scene of the first Christmas in Israel. In June she plans to attend the wedding of one of her grandsons in Winnetka, Ill. and July will see her on a trip to Germany. Mary Lawler and Marie O'Shea attended the Alumni Luncheon in May. Get ready now and make plans to attend our 55th next year. We hope to see YOUR names in the Class Notes next issue.

Allene Frisse Newlins returned from a delightful winter in Florida. In the Fall of '81, she and her husband and another couple had a month's trip to India, Nepal, Bangkok, Hong Kong and Taiwan, where she found it very interesting, especially contrasting some of the same places seen twelve years ago.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Amy Fraas Rogers last December. Amy, you may recall, received the Fordham University's School of Social Work Bene Merenti Medal for 28 years as a professor of Social Work. Her professional career included Supervisor, Brooklyn Catholic Charities, Assistant Director, Childrens Division, Dept. of Welfare, NYC and Division Supervisor, Bureau of Attendance, Board of Education, NYC. Arthur and Amy Rogers had retired to Florida in 1979. For Marie Duffy Quinn, retirement in Columbia, South Carolina, is very enjoyable. She is closer to her son and his two daughters who live in Charlotte NC. Virginia and her five children live in Monmouth County, New Jersey. She has one college graduate and three in college and the youngest in sixth grade. Marie lives with her daughter, Roseanne and family: twins—a boy and girl—who will make their First Communion this spring. Her youngest is in Kindergarten. "After twenty-six years with young children, as an elementary school teacher, I'm very happy to be with young people," Marie writes. Jack and Edith Stanley Smith, Marie O'Connor and Janet Prendergast Vickrey were part of the alumni group that toured England during Easter vacation. Except for a few sprinkles the first day, the weather was clear! Marie Ward is almost completely recovered from a broken hip. At the Luncheon on the 24th were Margaret Murphy Johnson, Eleanor McLoughlin, Marie O'Connor and Janet Vickrey.

April 24, 1982 will always glow in the memories of the Class of 1932. As guests of our Alma Mater we participated in a most beautiful liturgy, toasted each other with champagne in a sanctum set aside for us jubilarians and then joined the Alumni for a delightful luncheon. We received as a memento a gleaming brass paperweight with the college seal. As a class we thank Sister George Aquin, President of St. Josephs, and the two chairmen of the event for their great interest and thoughtfulness. Mary White Kearney and Katherine Kelly Carlin planned the inspiring liturgy. We were proud and happy to have Reverend Francis P. Kilcoyne, who remembered all of us (he did!) from Sociology classes back in the thirties, as the celebrant of our mass. Father Kilcoyne gave a provocative homily on the life of St. Joseph. We were also pleased to have on the altar, Kelth Fennessey, a second-year seminarian at St. Joseph's Seminary, Dunwoodie, son of Anne McCormack Fennessey. Those attending were Anne Burns Meehan, Helen Coughlan Worthley, Edna Dawkins McDonald, Frances Dieckert Rebele, Catherine Eppig Murphy, Mildred Hinea Ryan, Mary Hopkins Engelakirger, Katherine Kelly Carlin, Margaret Kenny, Mildred Martin Donnelly, Anne McCormack Fennessey, Josephine McKeon Broad, Catherine McShane, Irene Parker Parka, Clare Smith, Mary Whelan Phelan, Mary White Kearney and Gladys Worthley. We were looking forward to seeing Helen Curran Flynn, but at the last minute, her health intervened. We were happy to have as guests Marie Berry, a close friend of many of us through the years and Marjorie Gustafson, sister of Gladys Worthley. We had regrets from Margaret Cooney, Kathryn Frey Lynch, Sara Gannon St. Pierre, Winifred McMahon and Gertrude Unser. We talked with Kathleen Murphy Bemegger '62 and her brother, Fr. Dan Murphy, who were at the luncheon, honoring their mother and our deceased classmate, Kathryn Driscoll Murphy. Katherine Krebs is comfortably settled in a residence in Palm Beach. She is near a nursing home where her cousin lives and she goes there often to help her and other residents with their correspondence and such needs. There were a number of get-togethers in Florida this winter. Buddy and Mary Whelan Phelan and John and Mary White Kearney had lunch in Palm Beach in February. The Phelans were included in another party with Ray and Mildred Hines Ryan, Charles and Margaret Oliver Kalsen, Ed and Kathlyn Ansbro Wurts, Gladys Worthley and Marie Berry. On Florida west coast, reunions were arranged in Sarasota where Anne McCormack Fennessey spends the winter. Gladys Worthley came from Ft. Meyers to be with the Phelans, Marie Beery and the Fennesseys. Later when Jo McKeon Broad was visiting Anne, a get-together luncheon included Bob and Sara Gannon St. Pierre as well as Laure Brennen Loughlin '31. There is something magical about sharing retirement days with good friends in a balmy clime. In April the Phelans joined the St. Joseph's nine-day trip to England which was led by S. Joseph Dahlen, History Dept., and S. Margaret Jennings, English Dept. On July 18th, Kay McShane will be off on a three-week trip to Ireland and Rome. She'll make a detour on her own to visit a friend who teaches at the University of Glasgow. We are all set for our Fall reunion and Mass will be celebrated at Ft. Hamilton Chapel on Monday, September 29th at noon. We always feel especially blessed in sharing this day. Even if you've never come before, set aside September 29 to join in this warm reunion. We'll be in touch with you again but circle the date now.

Rose Brown Clarke, Elizabeth Schaefer Dalton, Mary Dolan, Anne White Jones, and Geraldine Young Murphy enjoyed a beautiful day at the Spring Luncheon honoring the class of 1932 as Golden Jubilarians. Next year . . . Alex and Dorothy Harold McNeill celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary last November. They are living in Pompano Beach, Florida. Josephine Ford Scanlon, living close to her daughter, enjoys watching her grandchild grow. Marie McGrath Browne will never have to worry about doctors making house calls. Her husband and three sons are in that profession. Margaret Kilboy moved to Wantagh where she is nearer her family. Rose Renda lives in Hampton Bays where most New Yorkers would like to spend their vacations. She was chipper and gracious while recuperating from eye surgery. Rita Pollock Murphy is preparing for the boating season. You know what that means! Arlene Maguire has been teaching in Blessed Sacrament School in Cypress Hills for 42 years as a sixth grade teacher. She has worked under ten principals and five pastors. Although she has thought of retiring she's always been asked to stay on. "When I find that I can't give the children everything that they need, then I'll leave," she said. If you have the address for any one listed below, please let Mary or Rita know.

We were sorry to learn that Rita Griffith's sister, Helen, died last December. Helen did not attend St. Joseph's but was well known to us. We extend our sympathy to Rita. Marie Norton Donlon was chosen to be in charge of operating a branch library of the Henderson County Library System, which her community of Etowah opened on April 20th. It is staffed by volunteers from the community. For the past four years, Marie served one day a week in the Henderson Library. In addition to Red Cross Bloodmobile work, Marie devotes time to her favorite hobby, golf, usually playing three rounds a week. She's looking forward to the arrival of a fifth grandchild in July. Mary Fogarty Reilly writes "You can add my name to the list of those who had identical twins."—her boys are now 35 years old. She wonders if the class qualifies for the Guinness book. Gina Latorraca, her sister Mary and Rita Griffith who are going on a trip to Tennessee and Kentucky plan a get-together with Dorothy Dempsey Savarese who lives in Berry, KY. Marie Lilly had a great time in England on the Alumni Easter Week trip. Michael and Kathleen Flynn Murphy spent part of the winter in Florida escaping the cold, as did Al and Dolores Ansbro Gerathy and Margaret Langan McDermott. When talking to Margaret Bler, I learned that among her travels, she accompanied her sister Anna on a business trip to England. Anna Bler '46 was made Editor-in-Chief of Children's Books at Harcourt, Brace and Jovanovich in March, 1981. Eucharla Mulligan and Marie Lilly are finishing their 8th year as Monday volunteers at Xavier Society for the Blind and Gina Latorraca is volunteering at the Lighthouse. It gives you a good feeling to help this way. Sister Eucharla was representative of the senior sisters of the eastern seaboard at a Maryknoll Chapter in California but time did not permit her to visit her friends in Guadalupe. However, Catherine Cook's godchild, Catalina, and her family had a reunion with her at Monrovia. Catalina will graduate from St. Joseph's HS in June and Catherine, Mary and Jerry plan to be there. Catherine, Mary and Jerry enjoyed the phonathon and Catherine was thrilled to talk to so many classmates: to Marie Norton Donlon, who is sold on the Carolinas, Marie Balocchi, Marge McCormack Donoghue, Mardelle Harrington Schlegel, Josephine Pisan! Brown and Mary Doyle whose mother will be 100 on October 15th. Ann Connolly Burns stays in touch by phone, letter and occasional visits. Angela Mazzoli Rosa flew to Rome on May 10th where she will be visiting relatives until the end of June. We were twelve strong at the Luncheon: Marie Lilly, Rita Griffith, Alice O'Reilly, Mardelle Harrington Schlegel, Eucharla Mulligan, Kay Flynn Murphy, Angela Mazzoli Rosa, Marge McCormack Donoghue, Dorothy Harrison Harrington, Fran McGovern Delaney, Catherine Cooke and her sister, Mary

Ed and I were enjoying a Bermuda vacation celebrating our 40th wedding anniversary, when I recalled reading in Alumnagram about Annette DeSalvo Di Rocco '68, a U.S. Customs Officer on this beautiful island. I called her from the hotel and we had a great visit with her at the airport. She is now Annette Boyle and just loves Bermuda! Betty Eckhoff Rhatigan still spends about 4 months a year in Hawaii visiting her family. Coming a little closer to home, Bernadette Moroney Metzler flew from Florida for the First Holy Communion of one of her grandsons on Long Island. She weathered our Spring Blizzard and spent a few days with us in Brooklyn where she and I had a reunion with Florence Kemp Carberry, who was minding her 7 month old grandson, Peter. Speaking of grandsons, Mary Elizabeth Farrell greeted a new one, Peter, courtesy of her son, Jim and his wife, who reside in Washington, D.C. Mary West Hoxie's oldest daughter, who lives in San Francisco, has three boys, and her daughter Beth, also in California has a new son, Stephen. Both girls teach CCD classes out there, and to top all this off, Mary's two daughters who live on Long Island, also teach CCD classes. Grace Flannery Morris' daughter Meg, is a legal secretary, while her husband Ed, when not working, is studying advanced financial planning at Adelphia in New York City. Anne Scannell Smith's brother, Rt. Rev. Thomas Scannell, is celebrating his 45th year in the priesthood. Anne looks forward to attending the graduation of her nephew, Jack, from medical school in St. Louis. Jack is the son of Marge Scannell McAuliffe '37. Sylvia Goerlitz Myers enjoyed a memorable evening with her husband and Jane McLoughlin O'Connor and Rod, celebrating their 32nd wedding anniversaries. Sylvia and Stephen had a marvelous season in Florida but were happy to be back for our beautiful spring-summer weather. On the Bay Ridge front, we are delighted that Marie Blaber is over her siege which kept her hospitalized and then in traction. She was as chipper as ever at the Spring luncheon joining Marlon Musante, Bella Robertson O'Connor, Helen Brown, Isabel Tyler, Mary Elizabeth Farrell, and Edna Brennan Maloney who is currently off on another of her travel "salaris". I met Annette VanderPutten the other day and she looked smashing in a lovely bright red coat. She said that some of her verve is due to visits to the local Elaine Powers Salon where she enjoys the popular aerobic exercises! Kay Loftus had a luncheon reunion with Kay Doyle Flanagan and Marie Coffey, sister of our dear Blanche. Kay's nephew, Peter, an artist (another Californian) had an exhibit of seascapes and landscapes at the Redding Museum, and at the William Sawyer Gallery in San Francisco. He hopes to display his paintings at a New York Gallery soon. Peter's brother, Dr. Ronald Loftus, teaches Asian studies at West Washington State University. Of special interest to Kay was the visit last month of her nephew Kevin who manages an apartment building in Los Angeles, and is caretaker of the estate of Cecil B. De Mille's daughter, in Hollywood. Kay is secretary of the parish division of the Nocturnal Adoration Society, and continues to "lead" a Rosary for peace. Sometimes when I am in our parish church, St. Anselm's, I think we should call an Alumnae meeting . . . with Janet Prendergast Vickery '31 in back of me, Marie Lilly '34 in front of me, and Helen Fennelly Reilly '42 our Lector . . . not to mention Virginia Kehoe Lopez '43 and Marie Blaber and Annette Vanderputten in the side pews! Anne Hennessy O'Rourke decided she would like a larger apartment and bought one in Boynton Beach, Florida, and she extends an invitation to classmates to call her if they come down her way. After last winter, who knows . . . Marie Oliver Midwinter moved a little south early this year: from Sherborn, Massachusetts to Southold, New York! Catherine Willis, though retired, has a busy week: helping out each week at Catholic Home Bureau (1 day), at Cabrini Medical Center (half a day) and on the Fish Program in her parish (half a day) where she answers calls for people who need someone to take them to the doctor, dentist, etc., or to go shopping for them. At Fordham Awards night, Catherine will introduce a former student of hers, Paul Sauerlane, (he gave the Commencement address at Patchogue campus last June) who will receive the Fordham Alumni Award. Keep in touch. We need you and your news.

Isabel Farrell, Dot Delay, Madeline Larkin Hennessy, and Betty Pyne Dunleavy attended the Spring Luncheon on April 24th. They wish more classmates would join them in the future—for a truly wonderful time. Dot Delay plans a trip to the Northwest shortly with some friends. Madeline Larkin Hennessy has a new baby granddaughter, Morgan, whose father is Madeline's son, John Jr. John is the godson of Kay Holland Jansen! Madeline is treasurer of our Suffolk Chapter.

Bernard and Kathlyn Haigney Hemmer were invested as Papal Knight and Lady of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem at St. Michael's Church, Houston, Texas. The Hemmers have been very involved in their parish church, St. Theresa's, Houston, for 28 years. Both have taught CCD at the parish. Bernard is Senior vice-President of Rotan Moshe—helped found the Credit Union at St. Theresa's and is still its chairman. Kathlyn now a homemaker, taught in the Spring Independent School District for 23 years. Rita Wood Rague sent us Carol Denello's address in Venice, Florida. Let's hear from you, Carol! Does anyone have Nora Sullivan Marshall's new address? Joseph and Frances Oliveri Balcich retired from teaching three years ago and enjoy it. They were in Florida enjoying the warm beautiful weather while New York was struggling with a snow storm. They have two delightful grandchildren and are expecting another in July. Their two married children live in Virginia so they see them frequently . . . quite a treat, since their oldest daughter was in Texas for six years before transferring to Newport News, VA. where her husband is a Colonel in the Army. Their youngest is a registered dietitian. "It is good to see the children settled and doing well. It makes it so much easier for us to take off whenever we wish. Last fall we spent six weeks in Italy and Yugoslavia. Our son, wife and baby daughter joined us for two weeks and we showed him around. We especially wanted him to visit St. Peter's Basilica in Rome, where he was baptized, and the area in Trastevere where he grew up as a child. We were living there at the time he was born. It brought back many memories." Margie Parker Smith had a full page spread in January 10th Sunday News entitled "Topsy-turvy OK for Her". The photos showed her upside-down on the trapeze bar and the article told of her gymnastic routine. Aside from the physical fitness classes, Marjorie, once an amateur figure skater of national acclaim, skates on Wednesday afternoons. She also teaches comprehensive reading at nearby St. Saviour's School. This Spring, her husband, Bill, had a serious operation, but she says, he's planning to return to work shortly. Rita Griffin Bjornson's daughter, Ann Bjornson Reilly, will be publishing her 6th book this June. She has been most successful in the field of Horticulture. Her newest book will be on Miniature Roses. Muriel Camplon Semple makes Florida her permanent home although she still has two houses up north, one in Huntington and one in East Hampton.

Edgar and Marie Cavagnaro Debany spent the month of February in Siesta Key, Sarasota. Helen and Mary Dolan were in Bradentown, Florida, in the same area, and had Frances McLoughlin Reilly as a guest. The three of them visited Pat Mueller Ryan and John in Venice. Marie and Edgar met Helen, Mary, and Fran at one of the popular restaurants in St. Armand's, Sarasota and invited them to be guests for lunch at their condo. On their drive back north, Marie and Edgar had a short visit with Frank and Mary Twigg Connors '37 at their beautiful home on Hilton Head, S.C. Angie Leibinger Conlon's youngest, Lorraine, received her M.D. in May from St. Louis University Medical School and will do three years of Residency at Staten Island Hospital. Son, James, will conduct "Boris Gudonov" at the Met—performances beginning in September '82 through January '83. He is Music Director of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra's May Festival and will be Music Director of the Rotterdam Philharmonic, beginning in 1983. At the Annual Luncheon this year we were fewer in number when it came to '38. The June half represented by Fran McLoughlin Reilly, Angie Leibinger Conlon, Helen Dolan, and last, but far from the least, Anne Kane Nolting, who has made fine progress since her severe stroke last year, due to God's grace and her determination to conquer this setback. Marie Cavagnaro Debany was the lone rep. for the January half. Let us hear from you during the year about the activities in your life. Also, if you have any suggestions, send them along.

Joanna Venezia Zinno moved from Roslyn Heights to Jericho N.Y. and Connie Glampietro Annucci moved from Brooklyn to Maplewood, N.J. Both were at the luncheon with Margaret Bolton Barsin, Pauline Cavagnaro, Jane Walsh DiPaola, Grace Selma Fennell, Roseanna Fity, Mary Haesloop, Estelle Webb Gelshenen, Mary Kane Gillen, Virginia Hagan, Ruth McManus Honerkamp, Marge Gillen Hurley, Marge Berkery, Valerie Berry, Aurora Das Jorgensen, Florence Kennedy, Carmela Napoli Lolizzo, Frances Carroll McAnulla, Eleanor Van Wagner Nace, and Eileen Daly O'Shea. Dr. Geraldine Chapoy received the Distinguished Service Award from the National Council of Administrative Women in Education in April. Estelle Webb Gelshenen retired as school librarian last year and is a volunteer in her parochial school library one day a week. She volunteers at Mercy Hospital two days a week. Joe is going to retire this year and perhaps they'll move to the sunny south. Grace Brennan Lawton of Hollywood, Florida and Fran Carroll McAnulla of Dennisport, Massachusetts, visited Betty Manning Krivlan at her home in Winter Park, Florida at the end of January for a thoroughly enjoyable time.

On February 26, 1982, our classmate, S. Joan Ancilla Blake died after a long illness. Please remember her in your prayers. S. Joan who was appointed to the faculty in 1967 served the college and community in varied ways and was a popular personality on campus. Elizabeth Connolly retired after 40 years service with the government. In 1967 she became librarian at Stewart Air Force Base and in 1969 she was assigned to the West Point Military Academy. On January 13th, a formal ceremony was held in the West Point library to honor the occasion and Ruth Drucker attended. Liz took a bus trip to Florida this spring. Anne Sullivan joined the alumni group trip to England and heard the Easter Mass in Oxford. She will be working with Dr. Ursula Gerty under Bishop Valero to revise the educational norms for the diocese of Brooklyn. Cathleen Farrell Walsh's daughter, Kathy, is in Paris doing research for her PhD, while Ellen is a Speech Therapist here. Jack and Evelyn Winter Sexton and MaryAnn vacationed in Florida. Daughter Hannah, was married in October. Both are graduates of Fairfield U and are working and living in Connecticut. Isabella Knight Foster stayed with relatives in Tampa for two months. Bill and Marcella Canale Reid travelled to Paraguay to visit son, Paul, and family. Nathan and Margaret Conlon Neal moved to an apartment in Laguna Hills, CA. Last June they sailed on the Sagafjord to Ft. Lauderdale, Cartagena, through the Panama Canal, Acapulco and finally to San Francisco. They spent a week with Margaret's niece, Pat, who extolled the virtues of California as a place to live and showed them possibilities. "We returned home and flew back two weeks later and bought this apartment facing a golf course. Laguna Beach is 10 minutes away." Eunice Kilboy Graziano's daughter, who lives in Denmark, visited them for Christmas. Eunice has two daughters who live in Manhattan brownstones (the only place to live!) and a son just back from a Mediterranean cruise, courtesy of Uncle Sam. Eunice teaches in the Baldwin School District. Her husband Michael, is a builder. '40 was represented at the Luncheon by Virginia Mannebach Cleary, Ethyl Mascheck Comerford, Elizabeth Connolly, Irene McDonald Corgan, Ruth Drucker, Ursula Gerty, Isabella Knight Foster, Martha McGann McGulrk, Helen Byrne McCabe, Anna R. Sullivan, Cathleen Farrell Walsh, and Dorothy H. White. Irene's 92 year old mother is living with her. They look forward to a visit from her sister from Boca Raton. Sr. Mary Regina RSG (Janice Ahearn) works at SJJ library on Saturdays.

Anne Hennessy was one of the four hundred plus alumni at the W.O.W. luncheon. "Let's repeat it", she says. We welcome Alice Walsh, who matriculated with us in 1937, as a member of the alumni association. Alice is secretary in a school in Long Beach. Wintering in Florida, Gerald and Peg McDerby Shea witnessed the lift-off of Spacecraft, Columbia, but it was even more thrilling to see the 747 Piggyback overhead on its return to Cape Kennedy. The Sheas with daughter, Mary Ellen, were returning from the beach when Gerry spotted the craft in the sky above Cocoa Beach. After our reunion last year, Ed and Eleanor Sullivan Smith visited several of their children on the East Coast before returning to Arizona. Their son, a Naval Officer who received several decorations for service in Vietnam, is now U.S. Naval Attache at our Embassy in Paris. His wife, Marie Franz, is very happy to be "home" for this assignment. Bette Whalen Bonsall spent February school break in Italy, and was a personal guide for two younger teachers from St. Mary's who benefitted from Bette's extensive knowledge and contagious love of Italy. Last summer Bette, Gene and grandchildren had a long stay at their home on Bass Lake, Wisconsin. Enroute, they spent a few days with Terry Gough de Tar and Jack at Torch Lake, Michigan. Margaret Murphy Klefer sent a current address for Irene Novak Bromka who now lives in Syracuse.

Happy to hear that Madge Cook Bortzfeld went back to work on November 30th at Sayville Library. Her daughter Mary and son Christopher each became engaged between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Two granddaughters arrived, one in August and one in October—making a total of nine grandchildren. Olga Marzano moved to Everett Washington last December, but has now gotten a place of her own. She had been with her sister.

Rosemary Glynn Lamoureux who lives in West Melbourne, Florida was excited to read that Pat Brown Schoen '45 has bought property in Melbourne, and hopes to get in touch with her. Charlie and Rosemary moved to Melbourne in September, 1974 after their youngest (of five) graduated from high school. After many years as Guidance Counselor in Vermont public schools, and five wonderful years as GC at the Catholic H.S. in Melbourne, Rosemary has retired. Her time is spent as a volunteer dispatcher for the ambulance squad, caring for her disabled husband and as a Eucharistic Minister and Lector at Patrick Air Force Base Catholic Chapel. She just became editor of the retirement community's monthly newspaper. Of course, she's also hosting snowbirds—relatives and friends—from the north. Rosemary hopes to make it to our 40th Reunion in '83!

Joyce McDonald Newton's last 3 boys of 7 children in college. Has 5 grandchildren. She is active in St. Philip Neri Parish in Northport and St. Vincent de Paul Conference. Husband, Lew, is in carnival business on L.I. Enjoys tennis, swimming in L.I. Sound from her Asharoken home. It's not too soon to think of our 40th anniversary in 1984. All suggestions for ways to celebrate are welcome. Do you know where these classmates are? The college has no address for them: Loretta Azzaretti, Joan Byrne Gibilaro, Faith Carey, Jeannette Cook Clausen, Catherine Dolan, Carol Harrison Werner, Miriam McDonough Keefe, Emilia Malzone Hill, Vincene Pace Ippolito, Joan Riordan Grohegan and Jeanne Wilson Seldel. Let me know if you are in contact with them.

Not too much to report since I haven't heard from too many of you. Jean Urbanek now resides in Suffolk County, in Medford to be exact. Jean again was our "guardian angel" and arranged for our very successful phonathon in April. She has been a very busy lady. In the midst of her moving, she lost her sister, Dorothy Dunne, whom she was caring for. Our sincere condolences! Martha Leaver is once more "back on her feet" having recovered from her broken leg. It has been a slow mending process. Pat Brown Schoen, Betty Dudley and Peggy Meagher Lundebjerg had a reunion in April on the occasion of a memorial mass for Peggy's mother, which was celebrated in Jersey. By this reading you should be making your plans for our "interim reunion". Our 40th will be in '85 but following through on Edith Voelker Piazza's suggestion to have a get-together more often, we are meeting this August at Pat Brown Schoen's home in Cedar Knolls, New Jersey. If you forgot to reserve, it's not too late. Call or drop me a line and I'll give you particulars. Mary Rita Roche O'Brien and husband, Bill are practicing togetherness. They are studying Spanish to facilitate Bill's frequent business transactions in Mexico. Mary Rita's presence is an added asset. Marle Maddock Turner is definitely "reliable". She volunteers to assist yearly at the Phonathon. Joe and Cay Phillips Haffey moved from Rockville Centre to Ledyard, Connecticut early this year. It is just west of Mystic where Joe works, and "a stone's throw from the Rhode Island line." Their daughter, Maureen, who graduated from Suffolk campus in 1980 took a job in Rhinebeck, New York. Cathy Glynn Lovell's oldest girl, Malia, was married on December 23rd. See you all in August! Don't forget to come!

Marian Quealy Zoll attended the 1981 NCEA Convention in New York and heard renowned speakers, including Fr. Andrew Greeley, Archbishop Camera, and Rev. Raymond Brown. With hundreds of teachers and CCD Catechists, she participated in the Commissioning Ceremony in St. Patrick's Cathedral. Marian has been active in the parish CCD program for 18 years, teaching first graders. She is part of a team that originated a Sunday morning Pre-School program—now in its seventh year. Marian is looking forward to a summer visit from her new granddaughter, Deirdre, from California. May Calhoun Dunn writes from San Francisco that, as always, she enjoys the news column. Having travelled last spring to France, Italy, Germany and "the real highlight" Israel, made you wish that every Christian could have the privilege of visiting the Holy Land. Last June, May was invested as a Dame of Malta in St. Mary's Cathedral. It is the oldest Order of Chivalry in existence and the Third oldest religious order in the Church, working with the sick and poor all over the world. Each year, during the first week in May, Knights and Dames from every nation bring sick to Lourdes. It is a great honor to be allowed to care for them in that magnificent place. Thanks to Dot Huckle, Virginia Ryan Klaus is back on our mailing list. After 34 years in service, Ginny's husband, Vince, retired as a Colonel and they moved back to the DC area in 1980 because of a house with a low interest rate mortgage and they are near three grandchildren whose mother, Naomi, (oldest daughter) is Deputy Commissioner of Revenue for Arlington County. Son, Bob is a Lt. Comdr. in the Navy, engineer on nuclear sub. Andrea works in George Washington University's Law Library and Nick, the Rugby player, is a junior at the University of Missouri. Geoffrey is at home, but will be a Soph at the University of Wyoming in the fall. Since she left St. Joseph's, Ginny has taught in 17 different colleges; coordinated two different federal research projects, been advisor to pre-school teachers in a confederation of 28 private schools in St. Louis, and is currently volunteering her time with the Child Development Associate National Credentialing Commission. The Klausens are building a retirement home on an acreage near Fellowville, West Virginia and would love visitors either there or in Washington D.C. Ginny is looking forward to our 40th reunion! Grace Le Roy has sold her New Jersey condominium and is now in Riverhead, Long Island. Grace was a Long Island commuter in our school days. We're glad to find one of our long lost classmates, Ellen Rensing, who now lives in Jacksonville, Florida. Helen Lynch lives in Glen Ridge, New Jersey and commutes to 50th and Lex. She is taking a course in quilting to keep out of trouble. Pat Mallon Joyce's husband, Alfred, retired from the NYC Transit Authority. Daughter Ellen, is married and lives in Portsmouth, New Hampshire and attends the graduate school of the U. of N.H. David is married and graduated Cum Laude from Fordham Law School in '81. Robert is a first year student at Fordham Law and Peter is in his senior year at Stonehill College, Mass. Denis, son of Rosemary Thompson Keane, is a sophomore at Harvard College majoring in Physics. Rosemary's cousin, Margaret Collins O'Connor's daughter, Roberta, is majoring in Animal Sciences at the University of RI. Her second daughter, Margaret is a freshman at St. Agnes HS, College Point. Eleanor Wagner Burnham's daughter, Victoria, is in first year at the Dominican Academy. A foursome from '46 attended the Douglaston Luncheon: Sister Florence Burns (who delivered the comments in Sr. George's absence), Liberta Scotto Conforti, Marian Quealy Zoll and Mary Fucella. Mary has been logging some summer travel to sunny Spain in 1980 and '81 and will go again this summer, often travelling with her sister. They may see the Shrine of Our Lady of Fatima in Portugal. For many years Mary taught homebound children in the Bay Ridge area. She attended professional classes from September to May at the New School and a weekly Meditation group as well. She admits to practicing vocal music every day and enjoys creative cooking as well. Liberta surprised us all by introducing her daughter, Marie, a freshman at St. John's, at the end of the luncheon. Liberta keeps her voice in tune by singing in Church groups and liturgies and she sang Panis Angelicus at our reunion Mass. Mary Kapper Barry '47, showed us pictures of ourselves back in the Forties when we were at St. Joe's. Anne M. Blar was promoted to Editor-in-Chief of the Children's Book Department at Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich, and was in New Orleans at a conference at the time of the '81 Luncheon when we celebrated our 35th anniversary. She also made a business trip to England and her sister, Margaret, accompanied her. Dorothea Drosch Szabo writes that people are still buying kites to fly, to present as gifts or to use as decoration. World on a String received a plaque from Muscular Dystrophy Association for their assistance in conducting a kite festival to raise money for their Association. Cathy Szabo and her French Horn will be travelling to D.C. where the Western Massachusetts Youth Symphony under the direction of Robert Gutter will perform in a Music Festival on May 29th. Dorothea expects everyone to make it home for Cathy's high school graduation the following week. It will be the first time in about ten years that everyone will be home at the same time.

Marion Sullivan returned from a vacation in Ireland just in time to celebrate our anniversary at the Alumnae luncheon. Margaret Wilson Sullivan recently returned to AT&T since her husband had retired from his position as a New York City Police Lieutenant. The Sullivans live in Hartsdale so Peg finds her position in the Data Processing and Accounting Department in White Plains very convenient. John and Peg's oldest, Maureen, was graduated in June from the Westchester Archdiocesan High School. Patrick will be a senior there in September while Eileen will be a sophomore. The three Sullivans each won both the Police Holy Name and Emerald Society scholarships when they graduated from grammar school. Up in Kotzebue, Alaska, Eileen Brophy Rossman's daughter, Eileen, is now Assistant Director of Bicultural Education for the Northwest Arctic School District. Susan is Scheduling Director of Bergdorf Goodman's Advertising Department. Regina, an Anchorage resident, had Kristen Rose this spring and is spending the summer in Brooklyn where Eileen and Joe are enjoying their first grandchild. Michael was graduated from Stuyvesant High School in June and will enter the Georgetown School of Foreign Service in September. Margie Lauro Perretta retired last September from a teaching career that spanned thirty-five years. She and her attorney husband spend mid-weeks in their Bay Ridge apartment and long weekends on their farm in upstate New York. The luncheon was Margie's first social activity after a three month convalescence from a heart attack. She plans to visit a niece in Italy. Tom and Rita Gelling O'Rourke vacationed in Ireland last year. Two of the five O'Rourke children are married and Rita has two grandchildren. John and Rosemary are employed and Madeline is a student at St. John's University. Rita has returned to the classroom and is a Special education teacher. Nancy Rogan Perri added to her distinction of having the most grandchildren when Anthony's wife had a daughter in March. That makes eight grandchildren for Nancy and Ralph Bobby Maguire Martin '48 visited daughter Barbie in Germany. Grace Devoy Lee teaches on Long Island. Theresa Martin Jurek's son graduated from the University of Baltimore in May. He had attended that school on a lacrosse scholarship. Elaine Burns Eilenberg is President of the Mental Health Association in Spartanburg SC. She will attend the National Conference in November in Dearborn, Michigan and wonders if any other St. Josephites will be there. The Eilenbergs love living in the South and note that many Yankees have joined them in the last 20 years. More kudos for the W.O.W. luncheon last Fall with the hope that we'll have it here again. Mary Flanagan Rigaut is involved with Birthright and Fish (For I Shall Help) a non-sectarian volunteer organization. Her husband, Gene, is still with the Port Authority at the World Trade Center. Son, Eugene is with Mortgage Banking Department of the Metropolitan Savings Bank. Michael is with an Energy Conservation Company in N.J. John, now a professional engineer, is with Kemper Insurance Co., Philadelphia. Kathy, an alumna of the Dillon Center is a freshman at Rumson-Fair Haven H.S. and loves tennis. Sr. Katherine Gee finished her second term as chairman of Sociology and Anthropology SWK at Molloy College. She is directing development of a new program in International Peace and Justice Studies. In 1980, she wrote a textbook: The Family: Basic Sociological Concepts. In 1982 she received her doctorate in Education Administration at Hofstra University. She is in the 6th edition of World's Who's Who of Women. Bee Tarsia Savine's grandson, Thomas is the son of her son Peter. Daughter, Constance married Capt. Thomas Evans USA and lives in Fort Bliss, Texas. Rosetta will be married this year. Marie Mallon McCormack lives and teaches in Seaford. Six of her children have graduated from college and are on their own. Maura is an RN works in Social Service at NYU Medical Center. Megan is in the Credit Marketing Dept. of Saks Fifth Avenue. Christopher works for Grumman in Houston. Brian is a helicopter pilot on the Constellation. Patrick is waiting to go to Law School and Colin is in the training program at Marriott Hotels in Washington. Monica is a freshman in Henniker College and Brendan is a ninth grader in Seaford Junior HS. He plays football and la crosse. Marie's husband, George, works for Grumman and still does a bit of sailboat racing. Marie is on the Parish Council and pursues her interest in Antiques. Jeanne Mullen who works for AT&T is President of the Gifford Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America. Grace White Rohe is secretary to the Vice President of a bank in Malverne. Vic retired from the NYC Police Department. Her eight children are now scattered throughout the country. Two daughters live in San Francisco, one a nurse and the other a medical secretary. Tom, is in San Clemente, California working in a Nuclear Power Plant. Bill is an Assistant Professor at Chapel Hill, NC. Vic followed his father's footsteps into the NYC Police Department. He has two children and lives in Oceanside. John is a fourth year Pharmacy student at St. John's. Madeleine is a sophomore at St. John's and Sue is at Baldwin Senior High. Richard, son of Arlene Brown Scaglione, a recent graduate of the University of Scranton, is a reporter for Catholic New York, the weekly paper of the Archdiocese of New York. Gloria Ortolani Amorosi's daughter, Janet, presented her with a second grandchild, a girl. Her daughter Elise is Account Executive to ITT for Honeywell. Catherine Stretton, enjoying retirement from AT&T plans a Cape Cod sojourn for a couple of weeks in July. She will visit her niece in Idaho in the Fall. Brigida Tarsia Savine greeted a grandson, child of son Peter. Anne McKenna McCormack's Regina will be married in July.

Mary Hoffman Sheppard teaches in elementary school in Baldwin. Bob is a professor of speech at St. John's University and a P.A. announcer for the New York Yankees and Giants. Christopher is a graduate of Marquette University and a pilot for Eastern Air Lines. A note from Catherine Coveney, J.D., who lives in Santa Barbara says that she is finishing out her fourth year as house counsel for an Insurance Company, doing only Workers Compensation. "In another year," she says, "I will 'retire' to take a year off to see what I really want to do." We were surprised to learn, during the Spring Phonathon, that our classmate, Angela Geraci Impastato, had died several years ago. Please remember her in your prayers. Last summer Barney and Alice Gorman Brandon travelled to Portugal, Spain and France with a group from their church, St. Lawrence O'Toole, Brewster, N.Y. They visited the shrines of Fatima, Zaragosa, Guadalupe and Lourdes. Their last stop was the "delightful city" of Paris. This summer they plan again to travel with the "St. Lawrence Globe Trotters" to Holland, Belgium and Denmark. The Brandon's new granddaughter, Annie, was born to their daughter Anne. Grandson, Jess, is 6 years old. Daughter, Alice, is deputy Commissioner of Finance of Putnam County. She will receive her law degree from Pace in May '82. Connie and Theresa will receive bachelor degrees from Western Connecticut State College also in May. Kathleen, the eldest, is a 2nd year law student at Catholic U in Washington DC. Bernadette, youngest, is a 2nd year student at Cornell University, Ithaca. Alice's mother, Alice Gorman is living with them in Brewster. Her father, George, passed away a year ago. Alice's brother, Frank Gorman, a silver medalist in the 1964 Olympics (Tokyo) in the 3 meter springboard diving, will be judging that event in the world games in South America this summer. This is Alice's fourth year as representative from Putnam County on the Pastoral Council of the Archdiocese of New York. She meets Theresa Duffy Best '60 at those meetings. Both also are representatives on the Vicariate Council of Northern Westchester & Putnam. At the Dixie Council of Authors and Journalists, held July 1981 at Jekyll Island, Georgia, Mary O'Keefe McGahan an English major received Third Prize for Non-Fiction entry. She moved to Atlanta, Georgia a little over a year ago and is in touch with Eleanor Miller O'Connor and Katherine Conlon Conboy, both in Atlanta. Bobby Maguire Martin visited daughter Barbie in Germany.

We received a letter from Herbert L. Schimoler informing us of the death of his wife and our classmate, Miriam Boyle Schimoler on October 20, 1981. Please remember her in your prayers. Mary left six children, Kathleen, Carol, Peter, James, Patricia and John, her sister Joan Morris and aunt, Sarah Moran. We extend our sympathy to them. The family lives in Holtsville, New York. Adele Mikalauskas Fullam and Gene can see an end to tuitions. Anne, a journalist with the New York Times, earned a Masters at Missouri State. Gene, an analyst with Standard & Poors, is working on an MBA. Kristin obtains her MA in August. Peter is a senior at Manhattan and Karen a junior at Boston U.

Joyce Harter Scavullo, up from Augusta, Georgia for the Alumni luncheon in November, spent a few days with her friends, Florence Bockus Dalg and Terry Duenzl. She and Charles also had dinner with "Bubbles" Foley Donohue and Bob. They went to a Chinese Restaurant as Bubbles is an expert on Chinese cooking—teaches the subject, in fact! Joyce also reports that she flew in August to Phoenix, Arizona and visited with Joan Doherty Gesswein '48. Joan and George have a lovely home and family, and Arizona is beautiful. Joyce and Charlie were in London in January for the Hotel Exposition at the Olympia.

Joe and Dorothy Harte McKenna are now grandparents, thanks to Kathy who became the mother of John in November 1980. Dorothy had to miss the luncheon this year—an anniversary for '52—because she and Joe had already planned to go to Paris and from there to the Chateau Country along the Loire. Vivian Blacato Barnhard's son, David is at Syracuse University Law School, Linda is at Bridgeport University and Lisa attends Clarkstown North High School. Rise and Georgianna Clifford Khatib spent President's weekend in Washington DC visiting her godchild who is Judy Bennet Lavelle's first grandchild. Judy joined them there. Judy's daughter is studying Law and her son-in-law is in a Psychiatric Residency program. Judy Sr is in her second year of Law School. Rise and Georgianna are beginning to attend more medical meetings. In July '81 they were in Munich—the 30th anniversary of Georgianna's trip there as a St. Joseph's NFCCS student. In April they went to Hawaii for the American Association of Neurological Surgeons Congress. We extend our sympathy to Martha Perrotta DiCamillo on the death of her beloved father, Joseph. Marie Kavanagh Pollock will complete a three year program for advanced training for certificate in Psychotherapy at Long Island Institute for Mental Health in May 1983. Marie holds a Master's degree in Elementary Ed and a M.S.W. from Adelphi. Nineteen of our members were at the Spring Luncheon for our 30th reunion, catching up with much happy news and a few sad notes. We were sorry to learn that Mary Gallopini died last July. She is remembered with great fondness. We were also sorry to hear of the death in 1979 of Margot Ryan Cassani's husband. Margot has 3 children in college—Ann at Oneonta; Peter and Paul at Nassau Community. Andrew is a junior at Holy Trinity High and Margaret and James are in grade school. Frances De Meo Russo played the organ at the Mass, as she does at St. Columba's Church on Sundays. Frances' two adopted children, Dominic and Frances, are pre-schoolers. Pat Egan Englehart's Anne has completed her first year at Fairfield U. Mary Ann Nagle Hurley's son graduated from Cathedral College this spring and was tending bar at the luncheon. Mary Ann teaches Mathematics at St. Francis Prep. S. Margaret Cilnes is Dean of Students at Queen of Rosary Academy where she teaches Religion. Virginia Cilnes is Coordinator of the Cooperative Education Program at Grover Cleveland HS. She is a Lector, Eucharistic Minister and choir member in St. Michael's, East New York and is on the Liturgy Committee. Joan O'Malley is Facilitator for Parish Renewal at Holy Name. Rosemary Darmstadt is a research scientist at Lever Bros. and also serves in St. Pancras parish as Lector, Leader of Song and CYO treasurer. Paul and Fran Kurdziel Raeder were guests at a reception for Queen Beatrix and Prince Klaus of the Netherlands. Pat Sheridan enjoyed a trip to Australia last year. Elaire Smythe teaches kindergarten and spends time on her hobby, photography. She is President of the New York Color Slide Club. Rose Marie Armetta, on sabbatical from Lehman High, is working on her PhD in Educational Administration and Supervision. In January, she chaired a panel discussion during the Middle Atlantic Regional conference in Social Studies at the New York Hilton. John and Mary O'Shea Keelen moved from Red Bank NJ to Kingwood, Texas, this June. She had enjoyed being part of the Monmouth County Chapter and wonders about alumni in Texas in the Houston area.

Josepha Schretlen Eyre and other parents were instrumental in starting a non-denominational elementary school, which opened in September 1981 with an enrollment of 150—K-8. The thrust is holistic, addressing the education needs of the children, using the I.G.E. (Individually Guided Education) method. The curriculum includes courses like spiritual awareness, meditation, centering and relaxation techniques. The children also grow into an awareness of social responsibility—they visit a nursing home on a regular basis, as well as perform chores at a local Children's Hospital. They learn non-violent means of conflict resolutions. Josepha's daughter, Tina, was chosen to enter her science project on Acid Rain at the city and state Science Fair this spring. Academically, the students performed very well on the SCAT tests. "For me, it has been a challenging and growing experience. Am currently involved with the Center for dispute resolution and I'm planning to expand my energies in this area." Richard, oldest son, is a soph at Central Catholic HS; Andrea, a freshman at St. Mary's Academy enjoyed her mini-course in hot air ballooning. Tina and Judith are 7th and 5th graders at St. John's Academy and are active in Gymnastics and in the Childrens' Chorale. Tina just won a scholarship to pursue her interests in Drama. Richard and Josepha are busy with the family and church—both are Eucharistic Ministers and Lectors at St. Elizabeth's. This summer they plan a family retreat at the Benedictine Abbey in Pecos, NM. They live in Denver.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Carole Hoag Chlaupke and extend sympathy to her family. Please remember her in your prayers. Ann Smith Coates is doing something she has wanted to do for a long time—attending Law school at Adelphi U. Her daughter, Marie is a student at Mercyhurst College in Erie, PA. Catherine Scorcio Kana received her Medical Degree from State University of New York Downstate Medical Center in 1959. She was an intern at Kings County Hospital and a resident in Pediatrics at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York City and at Kings County Hospital. She is now the Director of Medical-Psychiatric Services at Angel Guardian Home. The college had never received this information. Pat Freel Champeau asks "Is there any alumna out here in the Cleveland area? Maybe we could form an Alumna Chapter." Pat and family have been in Ohio for 13 years. Their seven children range in age from 25 to 9. Oldest, Mary Pat is just back from the Peace Corps in West Africa after a 2 year stint. She received a full tuition award from NYU to work on her Master's in Creative Writing, based on her talents and abilities. Julie is a graduate of St. Francis, Loretto, Pa. and works for AT&T as customer relations trainee. Chris is a St. Bonaventure junior and Brian a St. B. freshman. Tim, "our resident musician" is a junior in H.S., Dan a sixth grader and Kerry a fourth grader at St. Christophers. Bud is with Anaconda American Brass Co as Sales Manager, is active in the community and parish and keeps up with all the interests of his family. Pat has been using all she learned in her child study classes and is also active in church and parish. If you're out her way—call Pat 331-3945.

The luncheon in Douglaston brought together Anna Costello Stellwag, Regina Miller, Connie Gibilisco, Ann Bauch and Mary Engelskirger Seery. Mary's mother was one of the Golden Jubilarians being honored. During Easter vacation, Ann Bauch and Anne Porter Molanphy were in Merry Old England on the alumni trip. Anne was accompanied by her daughter, Jane, a Fairfield U freshman, who celebrated her 19th birthday while in Oxford. Anne took copious notes and bought numerous slides of the English cathedrals and castles. Sister Miriam Lucille Montella celebrated her silver jubilee as a sister of St. Joseph in Brentwood in October 1981 and with a grand party at Bishop Kearney auditorium attended by a number of her former teachers at St. Joe's including Sr. Joan DeLourdes. Mary Emilio Heslin, Marlene Mac Gregor and Betty Savino Acerra were also guests. Sister Lucille is in the English Department of Sacred Heart Academy in Hempstead. Betty Savino Acerra, a history major, is Supervisor of Guidance for the Borough of Manhattan. She was Assistant Principal and Guidance Counselor at Truman High and before that she taught at Erasmus. Her husband is principal of John Adams High School. Betty Dennen Mossa' daughter, Tricia, is 20 and a sophomore at the State College in Geneseo majoring in Special Ed. David, 17, is a junior in the local HS and works in a restaurant on weekends. He is full of life and "one of the reasons I'm totally grey-haired!" Susan, 16, is on the track team and someday will be a doctor—her dream for 8 years now. Len has been with Hazeltene Corporation for 25 years. "Besides the job and family we spend most of our time working with teenagers in our parish and with engaged couples. We receive private kinds of honors—ones that come in notes from kids we've worked with or people we're involved with in various things. One of the parish teenagers is a freshman at SJC Patchogue and has Father Hession for Logic! Our best friend who finished an AA degree at Suffolk has been given a Presidential full tuition scholarship at St. Joe's in Patchogue!" Mayor William Gill of New Hyde Park appointed Marlyn Forte Obert-Thorn to be Chairman of the Village Board of Zoning and Appeals. Marilyn has been a village resident for 22 years and is also a teacher.

Twenty five members of '57 attended the luncheon on April 24. Some of us hadn't seen one another for 25 years and we all agreed that no one changed a bit. Present were Peggy Anabro, Edna Gibbons Andreassi, Pat McCarthy Bradshaw, Peggy Kearney Coughlin, Kerry Sullivan Courtols, Joan Costa Davis, Peggy Cooney Darraugh, Bernadette Hoermann Donohue, Fran Higgins, Pat Higgins, Connie Runkle Lockwood, Geraldine Quigley Lo Stocco, Judy Martin Lucas, Dolores Bryan Maguire, Barbara Morrison Marlborough, Anne Buckley McAssey, Mary Pat Peyton McGrover, Elleen Blaber Maloney, Ginny Mosca, RoseAnne Connolly Palmer, Lee Ragusa Pirrotti, Joan Siebert Sprague, Gloria Johnson Talty, Ruth Grennan Tsuk, Marle Marchesini Zarouni. We extended the afternoon by retiring to Patrick's Pub. Elleen Blaber Maloney teaches science at St. Agnes, Rockville Center. The Maloneys and their four children live in Floral Park, spend summers at Candlewood Lake. Jean Anne is a Math Major at Albany State; Christopher will be a senior in H.S.; Patricia is a junior and Matthew will be a HS freshman in the Fall. Don and Dolores Bryan Maguire and family live in Flanders, NJ. Kevin is studying Chemical Engineering, Univ of PA; Jeanne heads for Villanova in the Fall (and Dolores hopes to visit Anne Buckley McAssey who lives nearby); Joanne is a HS freshman and Andrew is now eleven. Anne Buckley McAssey resigned from her technical proof reading job to concentrate on graduate study in English. Husband, Ed teaches at Villanova. Son, Ed, works in Philly for a public accounting firm; Mary will receive an Electrical Engineering degree this May from Villanova; Jim is a freshman at Villanova and Kathy finishes her first year at Archbishop Carroll HS. Arthur and Bernadette Hoermann Donohue have a twenty fifth anniversary this year, and plan to go to Ireland. Bernadette Jr graduated from Mt. St. Vincent in 1981, works for GEO magazine; Arthur graduates from Fordham this year and will attend Chiropractic School; Kathleen is in elementary school. Marle Marchesini Zarouni has been working at Bell Labs for three years, mostly doing software support and data administration. Anne is a junior at Lehigh U and is top chemical engineer in her class. When she graduated from HS she received a $2500 scholarship from the township Board of Ed; Jane is a freshman at Princeton studying electrical engineering and was chosen as one of 120 Presidential Scholars for 1981; Kenneth is in high school and Alicia in junior high. Judy Martin Lucas took a Bermuda vacation with Diana and Amanda. Amanda's love is horses. Diana is in an advanced studies course in Hillsdale, NJ studying ballet. Both girls are studying French privately. Kerry Sullivan Courtols works at Saks Fifth Ave. as a department manager, and is the mother of a very athletic family. She's the only one who hasn't won a trophy! Fran Higgins works for Grumman Aerospace as Administrator of the quality Circle Program in the Personnel Department. She lives in Garden City. Gloria Johnson Talty returned to work this year as teacher of Special Ed in a private school in Jamaica. Peggy Cooney Darraugh and John were on vacation in Montego Bay, Jamaica. John opened a Staten Island branch of Nell Flaherty's Restaurant. Peggy Anabro, a Breezy Point resident, visited her sister in Clearwater, FL. Joan Costa Davis finished a course in Supervision at the Bank Street School. The Davises live in Park Slope section, Brooklyn. Lee Ragusa Pirrotti opened an Art Studio in Hastings, N.Y. Lee paints abstracts in oils and acrylics. Last year two of her paintings were selected by the Mamaroneck Artists Guild for the annual show. Daughter Denise is studying Psychology at Barnard; Nina is studying drama at Wesleyan;

Anthony plans to attend Oswego in the fall, specializing in Technology and Industrial Arts; Andrea is the family musician. She plays the violin, trumpet and piano. Husband, Tony, practices law in Dobbs Ferry. The Pirrotti family have vacationed in Italy several times. Connie Runkle Lockwood read the Responsorial Psalm at the Mass preceding the luncheon. She is an Administrator in the NYC School System, in the Bronx. Florence Pisklak Marino sent regards from Georgia, where she, Bernie and the children, Mary Florence, Bernard, Beth Stacy and Stephanie have lived for ten years. Yes, April 24th was a beautiful day and we went home grateful for the friendships made at SJC.

Barbara Lediger Carroll is on sabbatical from her job as a Hearing Resource Teacher at P.S. 204 in Brooklyn. Husband Joe (a partner in the law firm of Mudge, Rose, Guthrie and Alexander) and she have been spending this time traveling. The most thrilling trip so far was a safari in Kenya. Several days were spent in a tented camp on the Masai Mara. Here they photographed giraffes, wildebeests, zebras etc. A lioness and her cubs were only a few hundred yards from the tent. In March the Carrolls were off to Japan and China. They are now planning a trip to Egypt. When at home, the Carrolls are active in Queen of the Most Holy Rosary parish and work in the Baptism Preparation Program. Joe is an extraordinary minister. Daughter Barbie, a senior at Molloy College hopes to enter medical school. An "A" student, she was recently elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities". She is Vice-President of the Glee Club and President of the Science Club. She was elected to Omicron Alpha Zeta, Delta Epsilon Sigma and Chi Beta Phi. Barbie is an active member of Campus Ministry and works as a Respiratory Therapy Assistant in Mercy Hospital. In addition, she serves as lector, cantor and guitarist in their parish.

Helen Kraljic Ilijic is now teaching at Friends Academy, Locust Valley, N.Y. After all these years, Pat Farley Muldoon is putting the hours of experience in St. Joe's Nursery School to use by teaching in a nursery school in Chappaqua two days a week. "It's like riding a bike," she says. "It came back to me so quickly. I've found so many other things to do since we moved here two and a half years ago—Parish Council, teaching CCD, participating in a book club and playing lots of tennis." In February, Pat was able to get away and accompany Tom on a trip to London and Ireland. "I don't get to see many of our classmates, but Joan Maher and I still keep in touch via Ma Bell." Now living in Silvermine, Connecticut, is Cathy Kendrick Rehnborg, with Jack and their five children. Three will be in college in September. Cathy will be "re-entering" in September to teach first grade at St. Joseph's School, after twenty years! "Really looking forward to it." Nicholas Joseph was born on March 12th to Paula Ryan Ceccavo, and joins Tara, now nine years old. Joan Karp Friedman finished a Master's degree in Art History from the City College of New York. She's at home writing—doing research in Art History and raising three children: Jennifer, 12, Stephen 10½ and Billy 6½. Joan received her PhD in Psychology in 1969 from Yeshiva. Joan sees and hears from Peggy Brennan Harkins who "looks great." There were two big events in Pat O'Neill Burns' family: Patti graduated from St. John's in Jamaica and Jaime from Kindergarten! Pat spent Easter week cruising around Mexico and Florida. Loved Key West—but best of all the great April weather in New Hyde Park! Jaime's kindergarten teacher Sr. Shamus (a sister of Audrey Wyder Beatty '58) stayed here to care for her and Steven. "The older children loved her so much they said I could stay away another week," wrote Pat.

We won't even mention the phenomenal winter we've all experienced. No matter where you lived, there was no escaping it. However, Sheila McCarthy Maher reports that in her 20 years in Northeast Ohio it was the first time they had a "snow day" on April 6 because of a blizzard! Diana Potenzano Fellows shares a common interest with Sheila in cross-country skiing. Diana says it helps keep life in Rutland, Vt. enjoyable in winter, while sailing on lakes and hiking in mountains do the job in spring, summer and fall. Two years ago, the Fellows and three other families sponsored an extended family of 13 from Northern Laos. During their 1½ year stay, the family learned English and how to adjust to life in our society. In return, the American families learned much about hope, trust, friendship and love. Last August the Laotians moved on to Minnesota to join others from their country. Diana's son, Paul, is a freshman engineering student at the University of Notre Dame and plays the saxophone in the marching band. Last summer he spent several weeks touring Europe with the United States Collegiate Wind Band. Barbara Maher McConville wrote a delightful letter during her two week trip with Jack to five European cities. "Our first stop was London, where I met with Ellen McLean MacRorie who lives in Brighton. We began with Mass in Westminster Cathedral. She then guided me through the maze of the London subway, chatting all the while in her lilting British accent and using expressions like, 'grotty'. We visited the Tate Gallery, gabbed all the way, and as we descended the stairs to the restaurant, a woman turned around and I was looking at Mary McCabe Duggan! You can imagine our surprise and the amount of catching up we did over lunch. Mary was also on a business trip with Bill, one of several trips abroad which have made her a knowledgeable traveler. London is exciting and comfortable because language is no problem. But I realized the Europeans understand English whether they speak it well or not. Brussels is attractive, compact and quite modern with a sprinkling of centuries old buildings here and there. Paris was overwhelming with gilt and silk all over the famous palaces and cream and butter all over the food. I'm glad to be back home to recover." Sheila thinks it's time we heard more from Margaret Duffy Gorman whom she last saw in 1980 on an overnight stay at her home in Colonie, N.Y. near Albany. At that time, Midge was ruefully involved with the Census, and teaching Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation at a nearby industrial plant. She and husband, Don, were very active in local politics, managed to start a third party (Your Village Party) and elected their own mayoral candidate. Sheila also enjoyed a trip to Detroit last Oct. to visit a high school friend, Irene Mulligan Sovel (for the benefit of you Bishop's Alumnae). She has three sons, and continues her nursing career part-time at a Detroit hospital. While in Detroit, Sheila's son, Terry, aged 10, an avid comic book collector, checked out several large comic book stores and was able to bargain for some prize editions. Marie Leno Gilmore's splendid trip to Ireland last spring launched Sheila on a collection of Irish Belleek Parian China, a tangible reminder of her ancestry. Several years ago Sheila began to trace her roots, and using the address from a letter dated 1941, wrote to and received an answer from the husband of a second cousin living in Belfast—a live "missing link" in her mother's family. We hope to hear more from some of you missing links. You have until October to write us and let us know what is happening in your lives. Dr. Geraldine Keating Powell is still in Texas, teaching and doing research in the Department of Pediatrics (Texas Medical Board). Her boys are now 16 and 14. Gerry is in the American Association—Professors of Pediatrics, is Director of Gastroenterology and President of North American Society Pediatric Gastroenterology. Carol Ann Miller Mullaney's husband, Paul, died on April 8th after his second liver transplant failed. Please remember them both in your prayers. A note from Ellen McLean MacRorie, who lives in England: "Please accept this donation in grateful thanks for all the Lord, St. Joseph, and the college have meant in my life. Someday I intend to make it back 'home' for an Alumni Luncheon." Kate Cusack is now living in Denver.

This year's Spring Luncheon was a lovely event, with twenty five classmates present to celebrate our 20th anniversary. To make the occasion even more colorful, Peggy LaSalle Nicora brought corsages all the way from Colonia, NJ for each of us. Joan Johnson Serner also from NJ was recently elected a member of her local Board of Education, beating the incumbent. We enjoyed meeting Joan's husband and their three daughters. Give credit to Pat Sweeney who convinced Joan Tagliaferro Zangre to come to her first reunion—after 20 years. Pat teaches in the New York City school system and says she would retire, but the system couldn't do without her. Joan teaches in St. Patrick's, Smithtown. Looking trim was Kay Murphy Bernegger who came from Massachusetts. Cathy Davis McKeon and Marge Kelly McLoughlin caught up on news during their drive to the luncheon together. George (McLoughlin) recently retired from the Service and the family moved to New Jersey last December. Marge is happy to be home again and Patrick 17, Kerry 16, Katie 13 and Matthew 11 are adjusting well. Cathy and Bob, and Robert 7, and Karen 5, vacationed in Florida during Easter week. It was good to see Claire Lavln O'Regan. Tim and Claire and their three children live in Pelham, NY. Claire teaches at the College of New Rochelle and will be giving a workshop on Consultation Skills at Trinity College in Dublin, in May. Jeannie Foley Edwards flew from Florida for the celebration. She teaches mentally retarded adults. Jeannie, Fran Sullivan Brennan, and Ginny O'Rourke McLaughlin found much to talk about and catch up on. Francine McCann teaches Computer Science at St. John's. she is co-author of a text published last September. Fran will be married on July 17th. I enjoyed sitting with Mary Ann Egan McDonough who teaches still at Bushwick High and loves it after almost twenty years! Mary Ann is Executive Director of, and is acting in, a radio show, Chinatown U.S.A. to be aired on a local New York Station starting in July. Joanne Collins Hafke, Miriam Dooley Ross and Joan Corcoran Fordham were also on hand. Joan lives in Millville, NJ and brought greetings from Dorothy Montouri Ryan who wanted to be at the luncheon but found it impossible to travel from Florida. Then there were the ever-faithfuls: Ann Byrnes Concannon, Alice Sheridan D'Anna, Margaret Cahill Colome, Noreen Doherty, Pat Jesinkey Palmer, Mary Elinor Edwards McCarthy, Eileen Fitzgerald Troy and Rosemary McDonald Ahem. Rosemary teaches pre-kindergarten at PS 217 Brooklyn. Her second child, Joan will start SJC in September. Carmen Perez had hoped to make the luncheon but couldn't get a flight from Albany that morning. Liz Rasilcot Sparer had a prior commitment but sent love to all. Liz, her husband and pre-school son have an apartment in Manhattan and a home in the Hamptons. Liz works for the NY Telephone Company and about a year ago ran into Regina Lang Goutevenier on the job. Thanks to Maureen Maguire Sullivan, we now have addresses from Joan Patrone Albertella, who is in Colorado Springs, Barbara Burghardt Geary, in Brooklyn, Martha Fitzpatrick Dixon in Delaware and Elaine Zisk Declerck with an APO listing. Let's hear from you all! That's all for now, but KEEP THE LETTERS COMING.

Lauren Sikorowicz Cavallaro returned to work recently as a part-time librarian in Middle Island Library, L.I. Early this year Pat Corrigan Koppinger moved to a new house in Rockville Centre. She teaches 5th grade in St. Benedict Joseph in Richmond Hill. Tom received his MBA from St. John's. Son Thomas is a senior at Molloy HS; Michael is a sophomore. Working at the same school with Pat are Mickey Andretta Gannon, in Kindergarten, and Gerry Haggerty Jenulis, in 2nd grade. Deirdre Carlin Ruis works for Con Ed in Community Relations. Ron and Helen Craig Hoetner and family live in Holy Child parish in Richmond Hill where Msgr. Leonard is pastor and S. Mary Joel is principal. Her three girls are in school, son Thomas still at home. Mary Hannon Eagan lives in Rockville Center, teaching nursery school part-time. Cathy Busby teaches in Valley Stream. Dick and Cathy Gressert Moran and family now live in Houston, Texas. The family visited New York last summer. Bill and Dolores Dunn Dorkowski and children are Florida residents. Dolores works in a bank there. Rose Marie Mannino Lundy enrolled in a PhD program at Fordham. She received her MA in Counseling from CW Post in August '81. Her son is 7 and Theresa was born in January 1982. Bob and Eileen Stutsky Shigo welcomed baby Lori last November. Barbara and Kathy are juniors in HS where Carol also attends and son Bobby will start Junior high. Eileen had a surprise visit from Margie Fitzgerald Mihaló who was in from Michigan. Margie works with learning disabled children. She and Bob anticipate a move to Texas in the near future. Michele Priscandaro Gallagher and Jimmy had a busy month travelling on their own in Italy . . . came back with great slides (especially of Ravenna Mosaics) and adventures. Michele teaches in the English Department of Iona College. Mary Darroch McBride reports from Wyoming that she has started teaching again in a special program for the gifted. Daughters, Shawna and Kelly, are in 4th and 1st grades, respectively, while Bobby has started pre-school. As part of her program, Mary drives 100 miles each way once a week to a rural school. Elizabeth Williams' (PhD) daughter Laura (13) is at Hunter College High. DeEtta Shields Bretwieser's children are Helen 13, George 12, DeEtta 8, and Julie 6, so she's involved in the Sandy Hook Elementary School PTA Executive Board and is a Brownie Troop (#23) Leader. DeEtta also is a Leader in Great Books Discussions. Nancy Meskinnis Ehrhard will serve as class agent for one more year. Will another class member volunteer to take her place? Please write to the alumni office for further details.

Peg Harrington Hardin added to her already world-traveler status by visiting China in July and Nova Scotia in August. Peg and Mel recently became parents of Jessica Ann. Mary Brennan Mulvihill thrilled St. Joseph's students with a great talk, as guest speaker for the Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society Chapter at the college. Mary talked on "How to Start Your Own Business" but her charm, personality and expertise went far beyond her prepared talk in stimulating and awakening the present students. Men and women loved it. Cathleen Erin, born in July, joined her sisters Colleen 16, Christine 13, Jennifer 8 and a recently adopted brother, Joseph 5, in Elisabeth Vecsey Gembeck's household. In addition to running this household of seven, Elizabeth is involved in Girl Scouts, teaching CCD, is on the board of three PTA's and recently took a 13 week training course at the Police Academy to help form an Auxiliary Police Department in Stewart Manor. She saw Fran Van Ardoy Qualler who still teaches in NYC. Tommy and she are building a new house in Southampton. Fran's twin Catherine Van Ardoy works in Blood Research Department at Long Island Jewish Hospital. Liz also saw Joan Young Nagle and Mike. Joan completed her second Master's (in Special Ed) and teaches emotionally handicapped (10-12 yr olds). The Gembecks go camping in Vermont with the Nagles and their children Jeanne, Michael, Jimmy and Mark. The boys are involved in Lacrosse. Michael 16 plays for Ward Melville J.V. Jeanne, 17, is starting to look at colleges for '83. Joan has met many new friends from SJC Brentwood in her new job. Cathy Vesey O'Neill returned from a fact-finding mission to the Cambodian Refugee Camps on the Cambodian-Thailand border. She was there with Bayard Rustin on behalf of the International Rescue Committee which is trying to get U.S. Gov't support appropriations for air and boat patrols of Thai waters to prevent pirate attacks on refugee boats. On behalf of IRC, Cathy testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Washington. She was also a guest on WOR Sherrye Henry Show and the Today Show.

We are happy to announce that Cathleen Reynolds Gordon recently volunteered to serve as class agent. A resident of Lake Ronkonkoma LI, she will be glad to get news from you, especially you classmates in Nassau and Suffolk. At an April Luncheon at the Milleridge Inn, Judy Jacobsen Corbeilni, Gerry Russello Cusamano, Ruth Koehler Flumaro, Kathy Schaefer Mongno and Cathleen Reynolds Gordon exchanged news. During the meal in the midst of all the talking, Kathy was asked by one of the models at the Inn to share the secret of her lovely complexion. Kathy admitted to no special technique. The model asked her to become a representative of a national cosmetics company. Kathy said she was flattered but would have to decline because she was involved in real estate, selling condominiums. Gerry Russeffo Cusumano is starting a Master's in Reading. Judy Jacobsen Corbellini also returned to school at the Seminary in Huntington for a Master's in Theology. Judy, Al and the boys are planning a Bermuda vacation this summer. For their vacation, Harry and Ruth Koehler Flumaro will be heading for a favorite spot in the Poconos. Carol Giurlando Corrigan enrolled in CW Post Graduate School. She teaches one day a week at a neighborhood school in a program of Social Studies enrichment for fourth graders. Her two daughters are involved in entertainment: BethAnn is in the Kids for Kids Theater Group in Stony Brook and 11-year old Roseann has won her grade level storytelling competition for the third year in a row. Jim and Jeanne Rice Harvey visited Carol last Summer when the Harveys were on their way from San Francisco to England where they will be staying for approximately two years. Jeanne hopes to continue her work toward a degree in Fine Arts with a concentration in Interior Design. Rose Marie Colicchio Dunphy forgot to share the news that Christine joined three other Dunphy children two years ago and is a source of joy to all. RoseMarie and Jim are very active in their parish in Holbrook, in the Home Retreat movement which follows the guidelines of St. Ignatius. Rose Marie is currently writing a novel. A science major in college, she recently switched to writing, and took writing courses at St. Joseph's, Patchogue and at Southampton College. Gerry Franco Rom, whose home is in Northport LI has taught there for several years. She married architect, John Rom, eleven years ago. Gerry earned a Master's in Special Ed and travelled extensively before having her children, who are now six and seven years old. In April Cathleen Reynolds Gordon attended the Renaissance Faire at Patchogue campus with Maureen, 11, and twins Kevin and Nancy, 8. They all enjoyed the mimes, magicians, maypole, mirth and merriment and look forward to the picnic to be held there on May 22nd. Cathleen is substituting in all grade levels but hopes for something permanent. She asks those involved in track in the Long Island area to keep an eye out for her at the meets. Her 6th grader, Maureen, is on the team from St. Joseph's, Ronkonkoma. Terry Brzeski Philipp teaches Math full time at Ulster County B.O.C.E.S. in Port Ewen, New York. In June 1981 she received her M.S. in Secondary Ed. - Mathematics. Both her children, Christina and Kenny, are in Onteora Junior High and play in the J.H. Band -flute and trumpet. In Winter alumnogram, we mentioned Terry's horsemanship and her riding for R & R. "... unlike Reagan I do not own my own horse, though I sure wish I did." Another correction in Winter's Alumnogram notes: re: husband of Maryann Finnerty Zacchea—Donald is a Marine Biologist, now heading N.Y.S. Tidal Wetlands Acquisition Program. He previously served as technical advisor to the Commissioner of NYS Conservation Dept. on national and international fisheries management. He is not now, nor ever has been, Suffolk County Agricultural agent. Joe and Elaine Glarusso DeSilva finished building a home in Hebron, Connecticut, about 20 miles from Hartford. Elaine works as a sales representative for a card company and also in a department store. She spends much time with Little League and Scouts for her boys, Paul, 10, and Michael, 5. Rosalie Corlito Henderson is learning the ins and outs of the oil business. Husband, James, is an independent geologist with his own company in Dallas. John, 9, spends his free time on a relative's cattle and grain farm. Laura, 4, attends a Montessori Pre-school. In June, the Hendersons traveled to Calgary, Alberta to attend a business convention. Rosemary Collins Zink is a Girl Scout Leader, carpooler and distributor for a cosmetic firm. Son, Robbie, 13, will enter high school in the fall and is in his school's dramatic productions. Kristin, 11, and Kathleen, 10, play on traveling soccer teams, but Brian, 5, still enjoys good, old-fashioned play. Last Fall, Sr. Helen Ciborski '65 and Sr. Joseph Damien attended the Medieval Seminar on Medieval Women, at Fordham, where they heard Alumna, Dr. Christine McArdle Reno '65, give an excellent paper. Chris teaches French at Vassar College and is active in the Mid-Hudson Medieval circle. Christine is the mother of three children. Altho retired from full-time teaching, Gerry Franco Rom teaches Exercises Classes at the YMCA, is Vice President of PTA and will teach CCD Communion Class in September. Her Christopher is 7 and Stephanie is 6. Drop us a line over the summer and bring us up to date on you.

Frances Stavola Daly, though a history major at St. Joseph's, ended up working in the field of Therapeutic Recreation first with handicapped children, then with senior citizens. By the time Frances left full-time work to have her first child, she was Director of the State Recreation for the Elderly Grants Program at the NYC Department for the Aging. Frances also taught part-time at Kingsborough Community College. Frances now has two boys and still teaches part-time at Kingsborough and does consultant work for the city. Frances' husband, Bill, works for the office of the mayor. He is Deputy Director of a division working on improving midtown Manhattan. Frances is also active in the Westerleigh Staten Island Improvement Society. She is on the Board of Directors of this community organization which goes back to the early 1900's. Fran's sister-in-law, Margaret Daly Bombara, also a history major, is married and has two children. She does substitute teaching at a local Catholic grammar school. "I've been receiving both 245 and the Alumnagram faithfully and it is nice to be able to keep in touch with St. Joe's—especially since we are living in West Germany" writes Maryanne Bradley Schoultz, whose son, Bradley Vincent, was born last November. The Schoultzes will be leaving Germany in June. Mary Anne Keane Mulroy went back to teaching two years ago and has a fourth grade class at P.S. 47, Broad Channel. Her son James is in 3rd grade and Jeanne Marie in Kindergarten in St. Raymond's School in East Rockaway. Jim and Mary Anne celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary on April 3rd. Patrick Gerard was born to Jullana Uvino Notaro and joins Michelle 8, John 6 and Jennifer 4. Juliana has had to cut down on her substitute teaching since his arrival because it is so hard to find a babysitter for four children. Judi Kuhn Pregot's husband, Michael, has been appointed Principal of Fallsburg Central High School in Fallsburg, New York and the Pregots will move there soon from their Holden, Massachusetts, home. Pat Nolan Synan visited Barbara Ridzi Yovine during the fall, at her home in Delmar, N.Y. Letters were sent to Diane Rezin, Arlene Rosatti and Eileen McNamara Hergen asking for news but have not heard from them yet. Patrick and Julie Reilly Kennedy moved to Oceanside. Their latest arrival is Rita Louise. Last fall the Brolly family, John, Kathy (Flanagan) and Kathy, 4, and Johnny, 2, enjoyed a week's vacation at Disney world. Bz Schneller Fennimore finished her M.Ed. from Teachers College, Columbia in January 1982 and is in the Doctoral Program—planning to finish in the next 2-3 years. Bz teaches her favorite subject, Child Advocacy, at Marymount Manhattan College. Sharon is in the 2nd grade and Maryann in nursery school. Bz is a dedicated runner and finished the last 3 New York City Marathons. Husband, Chris, loves working for Channel 13 (WNET). Bee has two other Masters.

We are happy to hear from Kathleen Nichols who tells us a lot we didn't know: Kathleen was married to Alexander Fasano in November 1974 and they lived in Brooklyn. In June 1975 she received a MS in Ed from Queens College. The Fasanos moved to Baldwin L.I. in 1978 and Janet Kathleen was born May 28, 1980. Mary Zini and Columba Furlo visited Scotland together last summer. With her Alumni Fund gift comes news that Jack and Kathleen Wels Gillespie moved to the Rochester suburb of Pittsford. "If anyone is visiting Niagara Falls or the Finger Lake Region, please stop by." Linda Salamy Szabo attended a St. Joseph's Chapter Luncheon for residents of Monmouth and Middlesex counties, New Jersey on March 20th and met 15 graduates who shared information about themselves. "I made some new friends, too. I have been living in Matawan for 5 years now and was glad to meet these alumni." Son, Matthew, will be 3 years old in July and will start preschool in September. Her husband, Joseph, was promoted last August to Supervisory Underwriter. Linda hopes to go back to school in September for certification in Teacher of the Handicapped. Rosemary Pesce who teaches at St. Rita's in Long Island City, is enrolled in Legal Studies Program at Queens College. Christina Boltano Antonello, who moved to North Arlington NJ, taught 3rd and 4th grades in Astoria for five years and is looking for a position in the Garden State. Joe is an accounting supervisor for a large NJ firm. Both are very involved in the town's voluntary emergency squad. Ann Marie Pirretti Needelman works at Mystic Valley Mental Health Center in Arlington, MA as a specialist in Mental Retardation Services. She and Barry enjoyed a trip to Paris, the Riviera and Greece. They are currently restoring their 1872 brownstone in Boston. Fred and Annamarie Hidalgo Bartone live in Bay Ridge. Annamarie ended her teaching career at Our Lady of Refuge so that she can spend all her time with little Diane. She teaches CCD at St. Francis Cabrini, Bensonhurst, "to keep her hand in teaching." John and Rita Ramondetta Rondello and their three children are living in Marine Park. Rita Bartolome had a tenth year reunion at her sister Toni's ('69) house in Hemlock Farms last summer. Ellen McMorrow Janowski, Eileen McNulty, Linda Salamy Szabo and Mary Meegan Byrnes had a good time there. Rita just bought her own home in Marion Park. John and Ellen McMorrow Janowski live in New Hyde Park with Lorene and baby John, born last October. Jack and Eileen Mone Fleming's new arrival, Michael Thomas, joins his sister and brother. Sol and Carole Palumbo Anelli have just finished building their own home on Staten Island. Tom and Joanne DiFalco Saldarelli have been living in Yorktown Heights for four years with son Matthew, 3, and Kristin who was born last December. After 10 years at Equitable, in Internal Audit/Operations Review, Elaine Thoelen Mastraspasqua feels at a dead end. Her husband, Stephen, is on the auxiliary police list and is starting training while keeping his job at Yale-New Haven Hospital. Both have a passion for hockey, but the local team was eliminated from the playoffs so they'll get busy on their gardening and home improvements. I'd be happy to hear from more of the class for our next news column. Please send your latest news.

"A super enjoyable time" was the comment from the ten members of our class who celebrated our 10th anniversary on May 8th at a cocktail party. Many thanks to Christine Guardia Kopyt who handled the responses and money for me while I was in the U.K. with the alumni group. For those who didn't make it—anniversaries only come once in every five years! Cathy Steinman and Margaret Larkin and I (Diane Piwinski), with 28 others ranging from the Class of 1931 to 1981 made the trip to England. With Srs. Joseph Damlén and Margaret Jennings, the group saw much of what tourists will never see. Especially notable was Compton Wyngates, formerly open to the public, now the home of an Earl. Through the wiles of S. Margaret's cousin, we were able to tour the magnificent house and gardens. Despite the Laker troubles the trip was a pleasure with fair weather all the way. Many thanks to Srs. Joseph and Margaret for a great time and more than great company. Sheila Delaney Hanley, husband and two daughters now live on E. 32nd St. Brooklyn. Elizabeth Tracy O'Brien proudly announces the arrival of Bernadette Helen. Diane Kelty O'Connor moved to a new address but is still in Mt. Arlington, New Jersey. Ann Gregory and pal Miriam McMahon, both teachers, spent their summer vacation in the Canadian Rockies at Lake Louise, Banff and Jasper. Rita Verri Scalzo lives in Marlboro, New Jersey and is the proud mother of three daughters, Christie, 6, Jaclyn 3 and Danielle 6 months. Rita keeps up with Barbara Woods Traola, Barbara Hurley Camporeale, Effie Piccini Maldari and Gilda Piccini King. Rita and Charlie celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary last August. Barbara Brinkmann still works as a Systems Analyst for J.C. Penny but she requested a transfer to the Dallas office in November—and received it. Barbara bought a home in Garland, Texas and loves the lifestyle there. "If anyone else is thinking of moving to Texas or just visiting the Dallas area, let me know and I'll gladly show you around." Rosemarie LaGrand Walsh and Tom bought a two family home in December and enjoy being homeowners. Rosemarie is Guidance Director at Bishop Loughlin High School—her third year. Elise Imperatrice Anderson also sent us her new address—in Martinsburg, West Virginia. After graduation, Elise taught 5th grade at St. Theresa's on Staten Island. In April '74 she married Tom, a supervisor for the Chessie RR and they moved to Belford NJ. Elise continued to teach at St. Theresa's and two of JoAnn Bradley Milza's ('59) children, Paul and Kathleen, were her students. In November 1975, the Andersons moved back to Staten Island and Kerri Lynn was born 7/76. In June 1978, Tom was transferred to Wilmington, Delaware where they lived for two years and where Kristy Leigh was born. In May 1980 Tom was transferred to Grafton, W. Va. and there Kimberly Lynn joined her sisters. Transferred again, this time to Hagerstown, the Andersons decided to live in Martinsburg where they bought a home. With daughters 5½, 22 months and 4 months old, "at least my B.A. in Elementary Education is being put to good use." Elise read the Winter Alumnagram while she was visiting her mother in SI and was "sorry not to have kept in touch". They settled into their new home in February.

Karen Macri Truncellito's husband, Nick, received his PhD in May 1981. Karen has opened a very successful tutoring business in her own home. She is also in charge of a teenage CYO Organization and recently helped them to produce Godspell, which was a big success. Mary Lou Hiller fulfilled a long-time ambition last summer by going to Alaska. Mary Lou added an MBA to her MA in History this year. After teaching for five years, Donna Marcotriglano decided to change professions and is presently Assistant Editor, Language Arts for Harper & Row, Publishers, in NYC. Donna is attending Parson's School of Design as an A.A.S. Degree student in Photography with the hope of turning a hobby into a profit-making skill. Mary Ann Scavullo has wedding plans for July 10th and will be living in Fairfield, New Jersey. Dr. Christine Lang, after starting Medical School at the University of Rome in Italy, transferred to Ohio State University from which she received her M.D. in 1980. Christine is now a second-year resident at Albany Medical Center Hospital, and lives in Latham. Vito and Barbara Ortnor Punci became parents of Kathryn Anne last December 29th, their first child. Jeannette Wiese Schuler who lives in Chesapeake, Virginia with Paul and one year old Erica Janetta, teaches the gifted and talented of the 6th grade at Crestwood Elementary School and is chairperson for the program at her school. Paul and Jeannette are active participants in the theater groups around the Tidewater area. "If anyone from SJC is in the Virginia Beach area, please look us up—we love visitors from home." Maryanne Carrino Besheer and 22 month old Regina, Dorothy Enny Michels and Christopher recently had lunch with Maureen Woods Blesty and 12 month old Sean. They had great fun comparing motherly experiences with what they learned in Child Study courses. Christopher is a very alert little fellow. Sean and Regina are great little pals, and Regina takes time to show Sean all the little things to do. In June 1980, Joanna Perrotta graduated from New York University with a Diploma in Paralegal Training. The course was one year with a specialization in Estates and Trusts. Joanna has also completed courses at NYU in Federal Income Taxes and Real Estate and is now senior Estates and Trusts Paralegal at McHugh Leonard and O'Connor, a Wall Street law firm. Sigrd Brandt's wedding date is August 28th and she will be living in Leonia, New Jersey. Teresa Kennelly received her PhD in Chemistry in 1980 and is starting a new job as Research Chemist at Engelhard Minerals and Chemicals in Menlo Park, New Jersey. Teresa is married to Thomas Witherup but goes under her own name. Edie Dayes Carter, lost since 1980, turned up in Tampa, Florida. Last August, Richard and Linda Wojaszilow Rothamel moved into their new home with three-year old Tommy. Debbie was born on September 12th. Richard is studying for a Master's in Business Administration at NYU.

Annette Dubief had a grand trip to Scotland and the Jersey Isles with her mother last summer, visiting her brother and family in Scotland. Annette also attended the jubilee of the Jesuit Reservation School in South Dakota where she had spent several happy years as a volunteer teacher. Janet Labuda entertained for several weeks at her home, friends she had met on her first trip to England while a student at St. Joe's. She showed them a royal time, taking them to Washington D.C., Virginia, Philadelphia, Valley Forge, Boston, not to mention the glories of our own NYC. Among their visits was a memorable one to Alma Mater. We hope we compared favorably with their own Oxford University!! Tina Parchin is on a doctoral internship program this year at an in-patient psychiatric hospital for children in Middletown, Connecticut. Dolores Costello went to Spain and Portugal this past summer to see all the alluring places she learned of in her history courses: Madrid, the Prado, El Escorial, the Valley of the Fallen, Toledo and El Greco's house, Cordoba, Gravola and Seville. Kathleen Cooney Flynn is practicing nursing in Peninsula Hospital, Far Rockaway. Erin Christin was born in March 1981 and Kathleen expects her second child this June. For the past three years, Joan Drayfuss has been working for Coopers & Lybrand, one of the big eight CPA firms, developing audit software for the microcomputer. Rosemary Mazloom Shabouk received her Master's degree in Education from Fordham, specializing in Reading, in 1978. 1980 SUFFOLK

Fran Terranova is enrolled at CW Post studying School Counseling. Her sister Nan is enrolled as a recruit in the New York City Police Dept. She will graduate from the Academy in June. Maria Shehi was chosen by Ross Labs to attend a Head Nurse-Supervisor Managerial Seminar at Woodstock, Vermont—one of sixteen chosen from East coast hospitals. Maria extends best wishes to her assistant Head Nurse Carol Kearns who graduates from St. Joseph's in June. Ricky Rubenstein has been employed for two years with Middle Island Central School District as a Special Education teacher of a self-contained class. Ricky was married on February 13, 1982 and lives in Lindenhurst. His wife is an Engineering Analyst with Fairchild Republic. Ricky also works after school in the Therapeutic Recreation Club, Middle Island District and tutors for Special Education. He is still employed part time with the Town of Islip Therapeutic Recreation program. Ricky will resume graduate education this summer. Andrea Clancy is still involved as a volunteer at Mercy Hospice in Rockville Centre, when not running a mail order business for art supplies. Andrea travels throughout the country promoting and selling her husband's art work (Sumi-e). In Winter Alumna-gram, we wrote news of Maureen Haffay in the BROOKLYN column! Maureen lives in Rhinebeck, N.Y. pursuing studies at New Paltz. Her parents recently moved from Rockville Centre to Connecticut.

Gene Panissidi is working at his MBA at Pace University while continuing in the International Banking Department of Morgan Guarantee Trust Co. Mary Anne O'Callaghan and Lisa Kern '81 travelled to Europe together last summer to take in the sights of Switzerland, Germany, Austria and Holland. They used Mary Anne's aunt's home in Switzerland as headquarters. Her aunt is Mary Harron Hupcyc of the class of '34. Mary Anne found all that East European history she learned from S. Helene Ciborski '65 at SJC truly came alive, especially Vienna! Mary Anne is on an assistantship at St. John's University for an M.A. in history and will finish June 1982. Christine Munnally and her sister, Noreen a senior at SJC had a trip through the British Isles last summer and were in London the day Charles and Di had their stupendous wedding! Jane Franco teaches at Our Lady of Guadalupe in Brooklyn—3 and 4 year olds in the Preschool Program. Jane has wedding plans for July. (Be sure to send us your new address.) Dianne Hayden Cafazzo teaches third grade at Our Lady Help of Christians. Teddy Ericson will be married in the fall. He is working with cases of Child Abuse.

1981 GENERAL STUDIES SUFFOLK

Deana Carpio is enrolled in the Medical Records Administration Program at Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, and will graduate from this program in August. She will be taking the national exam in October to be a Registered Records Administrator.

1981 GENERAL STUDIES BROOKLYN

As an outcome of our assignment in Community Health—taught by Jim Aidas—"Plan a Community Health Center"—well, we did! Frances Fallon Ewen, RN, Angela Rawdon RN and Veronica B. McCarthy RN initiated the need for a Community Health Center in their community of Breezy Point, Queens, and now it is opened and in operation. In the April 18th Sunday N.Y. Times Magazine, Frances was grist for columnist, William Safire's mill (weekly column). He noted that she took issue with Estee Lauder's ad which claims that her mask "sluffs, softens and smooths . . ." and a facial that "facilitates sluffing from within." "The correct word" wrote Frances, "is slough . . . to separate from the living tissue." Mr. Safire then launched into his usual inane humor . . . Barbara Campbell RN has a new assignment as Nurse Epidemiologist at Goldwater Memorial Hospital. Angela Rawdon is a Supervisor Nurse at Sunnyside Home Care Project.

1981 SUFFOLK

1981 BROOKLYN

Bonnie Waddell teaches a four-year-old class in a Day Care Nursery School. She also coordinates an after-school program for children in grades 1-4, and is in charge of a mixed group of children ranging in age from 2½ to 10 years. She finds this quite a challenge. Cathy Huffman is working as a Developmental Specialist at Addison House which is a hostel for profoundly and severely retarded children. She helps to design and run activities for Adult Daily Living and pre-vocational and language programs. She visits their school programs as a parent representative and evaluates the children's fine motor skills. Cathy hopes to go to graduate school part-time next year. Lucille Kollmer Iannone, now married, has moved to St. Louis Missouri, where she is teaching Learning Disabled children (elementary age). Lucille is taking courses in Learning Disabilities at a local State Teachers College. Karen Gander was married in February to Brian Gerdtz. She is employed by the LTI Consulting Service, Inc. They live in Glendale. Elena Governale is a Science Resource Teacher—5th grade Intellectually Gifted Children—in all 21 schools in District 22. Elena is attending Brooklyn College for her Master's in Learning Disabled.
